UNCLE SAM'S FLEET

First Stage of Round the World Tour Completed.

REACHES SAN FRANCISCO

An Imposing Pageant—Illuminations, Dinners, Balls and Receptions—Ten Days of Festivities—To Be Reviewed by the Secretary of the Navy — A Cordial Welcome Extended to the Sailors.

San Francisco, Cal., May 7.—Into the world-famed harbor of San Francisco, to be reviewed by the Secretary of the Navy in honor of the first great stage of their tour around the world, and to be entertained for ten days or more in the most elaborate and picturesque fashion that the residents of the city, with an immense fund at their disposal, have been able to devise, the 16 battleships of the Atlantic fleet, accompanied by the six hardy little black-hulled destroyers and a squadron of auxiliary and despatch boats, sailed into the presence of a multitude unnumbered that covered all the high hills, coast and precipices, tall buildings, army reservations, wharves and park spaces that surround the Golden Gate and the shores of the spacious bay.

Thirty vessels were in the imposing line, stretching far out toward the dimly distant Farallones that swept within the gateway.

Fourteen vessels of the Pacific fleet, eight of them heavily armored cruisers and rivalling the greatest of the visiting battleships in displacement and weight of gunfire, joined the line inside the entrance and then followed the greatest parade of ships of war the navy has ever seen.

On the top of Telegraph Hill, a huge "Welcome" sign, spelled of letters 50 feet high, was visible from every incoming ship and constituted the first expression of the cordiality with which the fleet is to be received.

The city was gay with merrymaking and the long program of entertainments planned in honor of the fleet is under way. Streets and buildings were illuminated for the first time in the history of the new city.

Official dinners, band concerts and a reception and ball at the Fairmount Hotel, with five thousand invited guests, were features of the first evening of the fleet's stay.

Cataract Co. Makes Offer.

Hamilton, May 7.—The Cataract Power Co., at an informal conference last night, offered to supply power for civic plants at ten per cent. less than the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, or at $16 a horse-power, which they guaranteed to be ten per cent. lower than the commission's price for power in Hamilton. It also offered to sell the street lighting plant, exclusive of poles, at for $50,000 cash with a yearly rental of $6.50 per each lamp, for the use of the poles. The company also agreed to stand by its offer to supply the new waterworks pumps. No decision was reached by the aldermen. Those friendly to the company regard it as a solar plexus for the commission but the hydro aldermen say it would pay the company to supply power for nothing for the civic plants if they could shut out competition by so doing. They also point out that the city wants an underground system of street lighting and that the company's plant would not meet the needs of the city.

Cotton Operatives Strike.

Montreal, May 7.—Fifteen hundred cotton operatives of the Dominion Textil, merger, employed at the St. Henri mills, went out yesterday, declaring that they will do no more work under the cut of 10 per cent. in the wage scale. This closes up the St. Henri mill.

THE ELECTION BILL

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth's Measure Further Discussed.

SEVERE CRITICISM OF BILL

Mr. Boyce Attacks, Mr. Conmee Defends—Latter Says the Ontario Elections Cannot All Be Held the Same Day—Retirement of Col. Gourdeau From the Marine Department—Posteffice Bill.

Ottawa, May 7.—The Aylesworth election bill occupied yesterday afternoon in the Commons, Duncan Bole (Winnipeg) resuming the debate. He said that as Mr. Borden had called for the names of persons left off the Manitoba voters' list he would supply the information. He then proceeded to read a couple of affidavits made by Galicians alleging that 400 names were put on the Manitoba lists in one constituency by fraud, perjury and impersonation.

Mr. Borden remarked that the proceedings complained of were under the nationalization act enacted by this Parliament.

Mr. Boyce (Algoma) answered the affidavit scandal, pointing out that although the election referred to was held over a year ago and a session of the Manitoba Legislature had been held in the interval, not a word had been heard before of the alleged fraud, either in the Legislature or in the press.

The Aylesworth bill would promote corruption and ballot thieving and he dealt at length with the operation of the act in the unorganized portion of Ontario, where the system was in force last election. Hundreds of bogus names were sworn to and put on the list in Algoma, and the Government candidate made every effort to prevent appeal proceedings.

Mr. Boyce described the Aylesworth bill as an "engine of tyranny and oppression," and in accepting it the Prime Minister had sacrificed his loftiest ideals and principles for the retention of power.

Mr. Conmee argued that the condition of affairs warranted such a bill, and diverted to a discussion of the impending elections in Ontario. It would be physically impossible for the enumerators in northern Ontario to complete their lists and give opportunity for appeal before June 8. It was not the intention of the Ontario Government, Mr. Whitney to the contrary notwithstanding, to hold all the elections on the same day. Mr. Conmee will have the floor again today.

R. L. Borden asked if the resignation of Col. Gourdeau, Deputy Minister of Marine, had been accepted, and the Minister replied that he had asked for leave of absence and superannuation. The leave had been granted and the latter was still under consideration.

Mr. Lavergne (Montmagny) was told by the Prime Minister that the Government did not intend to proclaim any legal holidays during the celebration of the Quebec tercentenary. The use of French and English on the souvenir postage stamps to be issued for the tercentenary is still under consideration.

Mr. Lavergne was informed that it would be time to consider the appointment of Hon. Adelard Turgeon to the next vacancy in the Senate when such vacancy arises. His question as to whether Turgeon had been accused of graft in the administration of his department of Crown Lands in Quebec was out of order.

Amending Posteffice Act.

Mr. Lemieux yesterday afternoon introduced his promised bill to amend the Postoffice Act. It proposes to restore the one-cent drop letter in cities and towns where there is free delivery and also provides that postal officers may be promoted to the office of superintendent after five years' service, instead of ten, as at present.

A financial superintendent will be appointed to audit books of postoffices of the Dominion, thus relieving inspectors of this part of their work.

Mr. Henderson asked for a half-cent drop letter rate in towns and villages where there is no delivery system. Mr. Lemieux said the new rate in cities would help the Department to give better facilities in rural districts.

Mr. Porter asked if the Minister had considered conditions at Belleville, where there are two postoffices. If a letter bearing a one-cent stamp is dropped in the central postoffice for delivery at the station postoffice, the person to whom it is addressed is required to pay two cents additional postage.

Houghton Lennox asked that the free delivery system be extended to Allandale, which had become a part of the town of Barrie.

Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King's report on his mission to Great Britain to confer with the authorities on the subject of immigration from the east was presented to Parliament. It has been found that emigration to Canada under the Indian Immigration Act is not permitted.

The Senate Gets to Work Again.

Ottawa, May 7.—The Senators returned to their labors yesterday.

The Secretary of State said 52,000 bayonets had been contracted for from the Ross Rifle Co. at $5.25 each.

Senator Casgrain gave notice of an amendment to the Railway Act to make operating expenses a first charge on earnings, as was the act before 1903, and to have bond mortgage the first charge on the property.

Senator Cloran resumed the Georgian Bay canal debate.

Everett May, a young man from Blenheim, Ont., was going up the river on a prospecting tour in a canoe with a companion when the canoe was caught and swamped, and May was drowned.

Messina, May 7.—Mount Etna is pouring out large quantities of stones and ashes. A new crater has been opened at a height of 7,000 feet. Earthquake shocks herald a more extensive eruption.

SLOW TO INVEST

MR. FIELDING IN NEW YORK

Underwriters Want Route Changed—Think It Should Pass Through Montreal—Government Unwilling to Change Route—Cost of Eastern Section—The Finance Minister and Mr. Davis Confer.

New York, May 7.—Finance Minister Fielding of Canada is in New York and it is said by financial men he is here in connection with the floating of the bonds of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

The underwriters, Speyer & Co. and the Rothschilds, who are handling the financial end of the big enterprise, are meeting unusual obstacles in their efforts to dispose of the bonds, and not long ago a small fraction of the amount required for the construction of the railway was known to be taken up.

The underwriters have called Mr. Fielding and one of the contractors, M. P. Davis, to New York to discuss the situation.

It is understood that the investing public do not take kindly to the proposition owing to the great length of the unprofitable section of the railway upon which the Grand Trunk Pacific Co. will have to pay interest after ten years.

The cost of the eastern or Government section of the railway is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $115,000,000, the interest on which would be three and a half million dollars a year, with meagre returns owing to the barrenness of the country which is to be traversed between Quebec and Winnipeg. So that, realizing the impossibility of finding money for the construction, the underwriters are strongly urging upon the Government the absolute necessity of abandoning the present route and diverting the line through Montreal and the populous centres nearer Lake Superior.

The Government is said to be extremely unwilling to make the change, though strong pressure is being brought to bear on the Ministry at Ottawa.

Wholesale Murder by a Boy.

New York, May 7.—A 16-year-old boy known as Carmello and employed in a barber shop in Brooklyn early yesterday cut the throats of his employer, Antonio Peraso, Mrs. Peraso and three barbers, while they lay asleep. The wounds of Peraso and his wife were believed to be mortal, while those of the barbers were serious. The boy escaped.

Th police have a theory that the boy was an agent of a Black Hand gang which had been demanding money of Peraso.

Carmello used a pair of scissors and a razor upon the barber and his employes.

Peraso was awakened by a stab wound in his neck and engaged the boy in a desperate struggle. He was unarmed and the boy, clutching a razor in his hand, slashed his employer several times about the face, neck and hands. His three assistants staggered into the room and attacked the boy and drove him from the room.

The Opposition Leader's Opponent.

Owen Sound, May 7.—W. S. Middleboro, barrister and ex-mayor of Owen Sound, will be the Conservative candidate for the Commons and Geo. M. Boyd, ex-M.P.P., will carry the banner again in the fight for the seat in the Legislature for North Grey against his old-time opponent, Hon. Mr. MacKay.

This was the decision of the largest convention ever held in this constituency. The other names which came before the convention were: T. I. Thompson, ex-M.P., for the Commons, and George B. Carnahan of Meaford, both gentlemen moving the resolutions to make the selection of the choice of the majority unanimous.

HOW TO GROW TOBACCO.

Government to Secure Another Expert Instructor From France.

Ottawa, May 7.—Two years ago a tobacco expert, Felix Charleau, was brought from France to look into the possibilities of Canadian tobacco. He has been conducting experiments with selection, raising and curing of tobacco in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia, and has found that a high grade tobacco can be produced, but that the methods of production and curing followed in the past have been defective.

Now the Government is going to undertake a campaign of education for the benefit of the producer. M. Chevallier, an expert in the growing and curing of tobacco, has been secured, and will soon arrive from France to assist Mr. Charleau in the work. An English-speaking expert is to be hired for Ontario, and it is expected that next year there will be a man for British Columbia.

Last summer the Department leased a number of lots from tobacco producers and had them planted with the proper sort of seed, and attended to in the most scientific way. Remarkable results were obtained.

There will be many more of these plots this year and demonstrations and lectures on the way to cure tobacco will be continued.

Attempted to Escape.

Alexandrovsk, Russia, May 7.—A group of important political prisoners made an attempt to regain liberty here. Some of them were killed and in turn they succeeded in striking down some of the prison guards, but ten got away.

The prisoners were led by Illinsky, the man who assassinated General Count Alexasis P. Ignatieff at Tver, Dec. 22, 1906.

Three, including Illinsky, were recaptured. Two were killed and four wounded. Illinsky was serving a sentence of 11 years imprisonment for the murder of Ignatieff.

"A good way to learn the language and American ways is to attend Sunday school," said Wu.

PORTUGAL'S BOY SOVEREIGN.

King Manuel Proclaimed With Much Ceremony.

Lisbon, May 7.—Manuel, the boy King of Portugal, yesterday solemnly took the oath of allegiance to his people and, with all the traditional observance, was proclaimed the ruler of the nation.

The day was observed as a holiday and the city was aglow in a brilliant sunshine and a myriad flags and flowers. Through the streets, which were lined with troops, and filled with throngs of people, King Manuel, accompanied by the high dignitaries, drove in the state coach to the Parliament House.

King Manuel, who presented a striking figure in his cloak of velvet and ermine and who was followed by heralds and pages, was ceremoniously escorted to the throne. On His Majesty's right, resting on a credence table, was the royal crown, which, according to tradition, King Manuel does not wear and which is consecrated to the Virgin Mary, the patroness of Portugal. With the crown were the real standards, the sword and the crucifix and the famous missal of Concalves, the Portuguese missionary. Holding the royal sceptre in his left hand the King placed his right hand on the sacred book of the gospels and swore to maintain the Catholic religion and the integrity of the realm and to observe the constitution and laws of Portugal. After the oath had been taken, King Manuel read the following discourse:

"My ideal is the nation's prosperity, and my ambition is the winning of the people's love."

From the balcony of the Parliament building King Manuel was formally proclaimed King by the grand standard-bearer of the realm, whereupon the shouts of the heralds of "Long live the King" rose up, and the booming of guns carried the news throughout the city.

A 2,400 Mile Journey by Canoe.

Ottawa, May 7.—During the present season the authority of the Northwest Mounted Police will be extended to a part of the Canadian Northwest of whose resources and conditions very little is at the present time known. This will carry the police patrols as far north as a line drawn from Great Slave Lake to Chesterfield Inlet, on Hudson Bay, and as a preliminary step in the matter Inspector A. Pelletier will set out from Edmonton this season on a trip of 2,400 miles, the greater part of which will have to be made by canoe.

NEW EXPERIMENTAL FARMS.

Army and Navy Veterans May Go to Quebec—Mr. Borden Discovers a Discrepancy — Col. Sam Hughes Thinks the Ross Rifle a Good Weapon—The Senate Takes Up the Pulpwood Question.

Ottawa, May 8.—In the Commons yesterday Sir Frederick Borden, replying to a question said he was in communication with the Quebec tercentenary commission as to the participation of the army and navy veterans in the celebration. Although the veterans had paraded before the Prince of Wales in Toronto, it involved no expenditure so far as the Government was concerned. Nothing had been settled as to the regiments that would take part. It was not desirable that a question as to what regiments had intimated their willingness to go to Quebec should be answered at present.

The Minister of Agriculture said the Government was negotiating with Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia for the establishment of new experimental farms for which $40,000 is asked in the estimates. The Government is also considering applications from Quebec, Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

Mr. Graham was not able to tell G. W. Fowler whether the Peter Lyall, who presided at the banquet to Hon. William Pugsley in Montreal, was the same man whose firm some days later secured the contract for the G.T.P. terminals at Winnipeg. It was not within the purview of his Department he said.

R. L. Borden called attention to a discrepancy between two replies given by Mr. Brodeur. On April 1st Mr. Brodeur told the House that Deputy Minister Gourdeau had twice been asked for his resignation. On Wednesday Mr. Borden asked if the resignation had been accepted and the reply of the Minister was that Mr. Gourdeau had not resigned, but had asked for leave of absence and superannuation. The Prime Minister said he would ask the Minister.

Commissioner C. A. Young, of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission, was examined before the public accounts committee, in reference to the purchase of land in St. Boniface for terminals. Eventually he had made the purchase by taking options from John Henry Kern, a Winnipeg hotelkeeper.

Mr. Barker asked: "You knew that Kern paid $99,000 for the land and within a year sold it to you for $226,000. How did the country profit then?"

It came out that a portion of the lands had been obtained by Kern from the Arctic Ice Co. In this company were interested Messrs Mackintosh and McLaughlin, who are second cousins of Mr. Young.

Dr. Roche, Conservative member for Marquette, Man., continuing the debate on the Aylesworth Election Bill, gave a description of the Galician Rudneski, whose affidavit Mr. Bole had read on Wednesday, alleging that the Conservatives had put a large number of names improperly on the voters' lists. Rudneski, said Dr. Roche, had been in jail and to-day was a criminal who had been obliged to flee the country. Moreover, it was stated that he had killed his wife in the old country.

In a four hours' speech Dr. Roche pointed the way to an honorable withdrawal on the part of the Government. He suggested the Government accept the provincial lists and hand them to the judges, their own appointees, to distribute the voters among the various polling sub-divisions. This would meet the main objection as stated by Mr. Aylesworth. Rather than submit to the measure in its present form, Dr. Roche thought the Conservatives would be justified in refusing to vote a dollar of supply. The Opposition applauded this suggestion vigorously.

He concluded by moving an amendment which in effect affirms the necessity of legislation with the object of insuring clean elections, but contemns the first clause of the bill as invidious and unjustifiable discrimination against the Provinces of Manitoba and British Columbia.

Mr. Crawford (Portage La Prairie) adjourned the debate at 11.30.

The impression prevails that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will withdraw the objectionable feature of the Aylesworth bill. As already intimated, overtures of peace have been made by the Government and rejected by the Conservatives, the proposal being to make the bill apply to Manitoba alone.

Ottawa, May 8.—The depletion of Canada's pulp wood forests was the subject of a debate in the Senate.

Senator Baird proposed a resolution declaring it advisable to appoint a commission of representatives of the Provincial Legislatures and other persons concerned with the crown lands of Canada to report on the best means for the preservation of forests in view of the large amount of logs and pulp wood annually exported from Canada.

Senator Domville called attention to the desirability of giving financial assistance to shipbuilders. Sir Richard Cartwright said the question would receive the attention of the Government. However, it was not one that would be rashly undertaken, but that the Government would have to be persuaded that the benefits hoped for would follow and that the bonus could establish a successful industry. The disadvantage of Canadian shipbuilders in having to pay duties on the parts they now brought into Canada for the construction of ships constituted something which might well be dealt with, though he did not pledge the Government on this point. Owing to custom regulations the shipbuilders did not always feel that they got the full benefit the present drawback allowed on these parts.

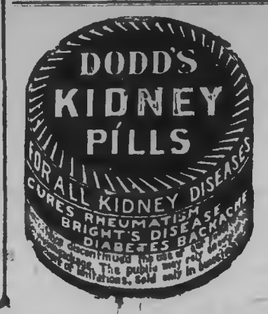
A bill granting divorce to Edith May Gillmore was read the third time.

The banking committee of the Senate resumed the consideration of Senator Campbell's bill to prevent steamship companies using bills of lading, by the terms of which they contract themselves out of liability for damage to goods in their possession while in transit.

D. A. Watt of the Allan line, declared that on flour Canadian shippers were charged a cent a hundred less, and on package goods two cents a hundred less, than was charged on shipments of American goods. He expressed the opinion that the Canadian millers had started on a punitive expedition against the Canadian steamship companies.

It looks as if there had been omitted from a return recently brought down in the Commons a report upon the Ross rifle, made by the British War Office experts. But that a test of the rifle was made and a report upon it sent to the Militia Department is shown by a return submitted to the Senate.

From the official correspondence it appears that in October, 1908, Lord Strathcona forwarded a report to the Minister of Militia enclosing that of the British War Office together with a copy of the report by the chief superintendent of ordnance factories, royal arsenal, Woolwich, referred to therein. The chief superintendent's conclusions were on the whole unfavorable. On the other hand, a report by Col. Sam Hughes, a member of the board of experts, which passed upon the Ross rifle in 1901, countersigned by Col. Otter as president of the board, speaks well of the arm. He says: "It is the strongest rifle I have seen, it is least likely to get out of order and is the simplest to dismount and to put together."



Ceiling Collapsed.

London, Ont., May 8.—Great excitement prevailed in the northern part of the city yesterday from a report that part of the roof of St. Patrick's school, on Waterloo street, had fallen, and that many children had been caught in the wreck. Happily the first reports were greatly exaggerated. It was the matchboard ceiling in the upper floor that fell, and, fortunately, it came down en masse, resting on the tops of the seats. The children, between fifty and sixty in number, had time to crouch down on the floor, and in this way all escaped serious injuries, some fourteen or fifteen receiving slight scratches and bruises. One of the teachers was also slightly hurt.

Old-Age Pensions.

Ottawa, May 8.—The special committee of the House of Commons to consider the introduction in Canada of a system of old-age pensions met yesterday morning, with Hon. Mr. Lemieux as chairman, and decided to call Prof. Adam Shortt of Queen's University, Prof. Mayor of Toronto University and J. D. O'Donoghue, legal adviser to the organized labor bodies of the country, to appear before the committee and present their views on this matter.

Must Build or Forfeit Charter.

Ottawa, May 8.—The Railway Committee has adopted a bill extending for two years the charter rights of the Manitoulin and North Shore Railway Co., to build from Sudbury to Manitoulin Island. It was stipulated that if the company is to hold its charter rights, it must expend $25,000 in construction work on the Manitoulin end of the line before the middle of July.

Mrs. Dowie's Share.

Chicago, May 8.—Mrs. John Alexander Dowie was awarded $400 by the appraisers of the personal property of the late founder of Zion City. Instead of the great wealth supposed to have been held by Dowie, the total amount was $1,200. Mrs. Dowie received the widow's share, one-third. She still has a claim on the real estate.

The Chelsea Fire.

Boston, May 8.—After several weeks' work by the state police two men were arrested, charged with being responsible in part for the great conflagration at Chelsea on April 12. The two men under arrest are Jacob Lewitzky, 23 years old, of Boston, and Abraham Wolnitz, aged 30, of Chelsea.

Mortally Wounded by Afghans.

London, May 8.—A despatch received from Landi-Khotal says that it is reported that Major Copesmith, commanding the 50th Camel Corps, while seeking with a mounted escort to recover stolen animals, was mortally wounded by snipers, and died before reaching camp.

THE BRITISH BUDGET PRESENTED

REDUCTION IN SUGAR DUTIES

Handsome Surplus—Will Be Applied to Reduction of National Debt—Revenue $788,850,000; Expenditure $764,345,000—Depression of Trade Referred to—The Good Results of Liberal Control.

London, May 8.—The new budget presented to the House of Commons yesterday, reduces the duty on sugar from 4s. 2d. to 1s. 10d. per hundred weight. The reduction will become effective May 18 on raw and refined sugar, and on July 1 on articles manufactured with sugar.

The budget was presented by the Premier, Mr. Asquith, instead of by the Chancellor of the Exchequer. This departure from precedent is a result of the recent changes in the Cabinet.

Mr. Asquith, after commenting briefly on the present slackening of trade throughout the world following the boom year of 1907, announced that Great Britain's realized surplus for the year 1907-08 amounted to $23,630,000, which he said would be largely applied to the reduction of the national debt, which had already been reduced by approximately $90,000,000 during the past year.

Mr. Asquith estimated the total expenditure for 1908-09 at $764,345,000, and the revenue on the existing basis of taxation at $788,850,000.

THE LIBERAL LEADER.

Renominated For His Old Constituency, North Grey.

Owen Sound, May 8.—Hon. A. G. MacKay, as was expected, will be the Liberal candidate in North Grey at the coming general elections. This was decided at the convention held here Thursday. The weather was wet, but the attendance large. There was considerable enthusiasm manifested, and the leader of the Opposition was assured that his interests would be well cared for during his absence on campaign work throughout the province. Mr. MacKay opened his campaign in the constituency at Shallow Lake, the cement centre, last night.

Propose to Raise Rates.

New York, May 8.—Presidents of practically all the leading railway systems east of the Mississippi River were in conference at the Trunk Line Association offices yesterday, considering the question of a general advance in freight rates.

The scale now prevailing, with New York to Chicago as basis, divides rates into six classes at from 75c. to 25c. per ton. No conclusion was reached, but the advance most favored calls for an increase to 85c. as the maximum and 27c. as the minimum.

The entire matter will be left to the traffic officials of the roads interested for solution. They are likely to submit their reports by July 1, but such advances which may be recommended will hardly go into effect before Nov. 1.

The importance of yesterday's meeting may be judged from the fact that those in attendance included E. H. Harriman, President McCrea of the Pennsylvania road, President Newman of the New York Central and other Vanderbilt lines, President Underwood of the Erie, President Murray of the Baltimore & Ohio, and President Thomas of the Lehigh Valley.

Body Found In the Woods.

Brockville, May 8.—Going over the trail to a lumber camp between Ogdensburg and Gouverneur, two men discovered the body of Natulk Carl lying between two logs close to the trail. It had apparently been there all winter, as the clothing was light and the leaves beneath the body dry. The head was pillowed on a checked overshirt and standing on one of the logs was a quart bottle two-thirds filled with whisky, which told the story of the tragedy.

Costly Invitation Cards.

Vancouver, May 8.—En route to Ottawa to visit Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Earl Grey, thence to Washington where President Roosevelt will be interviewed, Harry J. Landahl of Dawson City is awaiting the arrival of three specially prepared invitations which will be presented personally, inviting them to visit the Klondyke at the close of the Alaska Yukon exposition to be held in Seattle next year. These "invitation cards" will cost $300 each.

English Children For Canada.

London, May 8.—J. T. Middlemore, M.P., at a meeting of the Children's Emigration Homes at Birmingham, said that during the past 35 years 4,000 children had been sent to Canada. He had been asked in Canada: "Where do the children come from?" He had always replied: "You leave their past alone, and I will leave your past alone; we all have our secrets."

Undesirables Barred.

Vancouver, May 8.—As a result of the extensive boundary inspection system inaugurated by the Dominion Government between Vancouver and the great lakes, further action has been taken by the Ottawa authorities and step taken to preclude all undesirables from Prince Rupert.

Crookedness Respecting Contract.

The contract involved the expenditure of about $25,000. The Lyth Co. was approached by persons interested and told that it had secured a losing contract, its agent having not taken duty and other expenditures into consideration in figuring on the contract. It is said that the company was also told that it would be made worth its while to refuse the contract. The Lyth Co. informed the water commissioners and Manager Hackney of the waterworks went to Buffalo and had the contract signed. He brought home with him a telegram sent the Lyth Co., it is said, by parties interested in another of the tendering companies, that contains information of an incriminating nature against the parties concerned.

FIERCE MAY STORM IN TORONTO

Gales and High Water Do Much Damage on the Lakes.

GREAT DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

Lake Ontario In a Rage—Great Damage Done at Toronto Island and the Beaches—Wharves Flooded on Bay of Quinte—Port Dalhousie Elevator Put Out of Business —Wires Down In Chicago.

Toronto, May 8.—Lake Ontario again raged yesterday and hurled its waves against the Island, the Beaches and the wests hore and more damage was done. Much work done by the city has been spoiled. The water from the lake forced its way along Clandeboye avenue across into the bay. Fillings that have been made to save the sidewalks on the lake shores were washed out and further encroaches made upon the land. The storm was from the east and is fully as violent as that of a few weeks ago. Much damage was also done along the lake shore road west of the city and at Mimico.

Kingston, May 8.—Edwin Horsey, general manager of the Bay of Quinte and Lake Ontario Navigation Co., has issued notices to the effect that the company, in view of the extremely high water and flooding of low wharves, will guarantee safe landing only at Kingston, Picton, Deseronto and Belleville. The company will not be liable for any damage sustained by landing passengers, freight and cattle at other places along the Bay of Quinte.

Port Dalhousie, May 8.—An easterly gale with rain prevailed here all yesterday. The lake is running high, and has caused much damage, putting the elevator out of business. The water is so high that it has reached the bins in which the grain is kept. The steamer Rosemount got her lighterage all right but the Fairmount is still at the elevator unable to get loaded on account of the high water. The electric lights in the village were put out of business on the same account.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., May 8.—One of the severest storms in many years raged here all Thursday, and much damage has been done along the waterfront. The unusually high water in the Niagara River and Lake Ontario lashed by a high easterly wind played havoc with the boathouses and other property along the beach. The Queen's Royal bathing houses were completely washed out, the garage nearby is nearly all gone, while the boathouse went out several days ago.

Chicago, Ill., May 8.—One man was killed and many pedestrians were put in peril by falling live wires, and others were blown down and injured during a terrific wind and rain storm which prevailed on Thursday.

Abolish Opium.

London, May 8.—The House of Commons unanimously adopted a resolution urging that steps be taken for the speedy abolition of the system of licensing opium dens in the colonies, particularly in Hong Kong, the Straits Settlements and Ceylon.

During the course of the debate J. E. B. Seeley, the newly-appointed Under-Secretary for the Colonies, said that measures would be taken to comply with the terms of the resolution, in which the Government acquieced readily because it considered that the time was ripe to take a decisive step forward in this matter, as an example and aid to China as well as in behalf of the welfare of his own fellow subjects.

Railway Tunnels Into New York.

New York, May 8.—Sixteen and-a half miles of tunnel work, composing the Pennsylvania Railroad's underground system of approaches to the centre of New York City, were completed yesterday when the second of the two tunnels through the Bergen Hill in Jersey City was holed through. The two single track tunnels under Bergen Hill are each more than a mile long and portions were driven through very hard trap rock necessitating the use of 340 tons of dynamite and three years of work.

Assaulted Wife With Pitchfork.

Brockville, May 8.—Andrew Johnston, an Augusta farmer, was found guilty of having assaulted his wife on two different occasions. Fines and costs aggregated about $50, and in default Johnston went up for six months. He must also secure two sureties of $400 each that he will then keep the peace or go back to jail for another year. The evidence showed that Johnston attacked his wife with a pitchfork.

Sailor Slashed With a Knife.

Kingston, May 8.—The second fierce fight within a week took place at "Beefsteak Jack's" restaurant yesterday. Robert Berde, a Norwegian, was slashed about the head with a knife, and George Anderson, a Dane, is locked up on a charge of assault with attempt at murder. Anderson does not belong to the sailors' union, and when Berde called him a scab he attacked him.

Thaw Enjoys Himself.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., May 8.—Harry K. Thaw, occupying Sheriff Chandler's big bedroom on the top floor of the Dutchess Court House, has everything he wants except his liberty and his automobile. He requested the privilege of a ride in an automobile with a keeper, but the request was refused. A waiter from the Nelson House serves his meals.

Case of Glanders.

Brockville, May 7.—A case of glanders on the farm of Joseph Whitley of Roebuck was reported to the veterinary director-general at Ottawa, who sent an inspector. The horses were destroyed and two others placed under quarantine. Whitley will receive from the Government two-thirds of the value of the animals, which were appraised at $300.

Exporters.

Not many export steers were offered, but some of those were bought for butcher purposes at as high prices as the best shipping cattle. Export steers, $5.50 to $6; export bulls, $4 to $5.25 per cwt.; export cows, $4.75 to $5.25 per cwt.

Butchers.

Butchers—Prime picked lots of butchers' cattle were scarce and sold at $5.75 to $6.12½; loads of good, $5.60 to $5.70; medium loads, $5.25 to $5.50; common, $4.75 to $5.15; good cows, $4.75 to $5; fair to good cows, $4 to $4.50; common cows, $3.50 to $3.80; canners and rough cows, $2.50 to $3.

Feeders and Stockers.

H. & W. Murby report a fair trade during the week, having made a good clearance of all their purchases of the week, which amounted to over 300 cattle. The Messrs. Murby report prices as follows: Good steers, 1000 to 1100 lbs. each, at $4.75 to $5 per cwt.; good steers, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, at $4.35 to $4.75; good steers, 200 to 900 lbs. each, at $3.90 to $4.25; good steers, 600 to 800 lbs. each, at $3.25 to $3.60; light stockers, 400 to 600 lbs. each, at $3 to $3.25.

Milkers and Springers.

There was a fairly good market for good to choice milkers and springers, but the common light cows were hard to dispose of at any price. One drover who brought in four cows of the common kind that cost him $130 in the country, was only offered $100 for them on the market. Prices were reported at $25 to $60 each, and one extra choice heavy cow at $70. The bulk of the best cows sold from $40 to $55 each.

The run of veal calves was very large, which caused the market to be easy. The bulk sold at $3 to $5.50 with a very few at $6 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were light. Export ewes sold at $4.50 to $5.50; rams, $4 to $4.50; yearlings, $6.50 to $7.50; spring lambs, $3.50 to $7 each.

River on Rampage.

Ottawa, May 8.—The dams retaining the waters of the Snake Lake have broken and millions of gallons of water are pouring down the Joseph River to the Gatineau River and thence to the already swollen Ottawa. Maniwaki is suffering from the floods and it is expected much damage will ensue. The dams were used to keep the Snake Lake at a high level.

Japs Attack French Factory.

Tokio, May 8.—An official report from Miyasaki prefecture states that a mob of 80 persons attacked a timber factory owned by Frenchmen in the village of Lino, doing considerable damage. The motive for the attack has not yet been reported. The damage done is estimated at about $50,000.

Train Robbers Kill Messenger.

Denver, Colo., May 8.—Train robbers who boarded Denver and Rio Grande train No. 4 at Castle Rock early yesterday, shot and killed the express messenger and robbed the safe of less than $100.

ICE-BREAKER DAMAGED.

C. P. R. Steamship Milwaukee and Montcalm In Collision.

Quebec, May 8.—Shortly after nine o'clock last night, as the Dominion Government ice-breaker Montcalm was turning in the river, making for the Allan wharf, she was run into by the C. P. R. line steamer Milwaukee, which was on her way to Montreal.

The Milwaukee struck the Montcalm on the starboard side about 50 feet from the bow, cutting a very bad hole from eight to ten feet wide. The Montcalm, which immediately began to fill, was headed for her mooring at the Point Carey wharf.

Her after watertight compartments were immediately closed, but she began to settle forward. The Montcalm has been in dry dock all winter undergoing extensive repairs, and had just arrived from Gaspe, where she was engaged in breaking up the ice at the entrance to that harbor.

Men In the Majority.

Ottawa, May 8.—Of the total immigration of 204,157 into Canada in the fiscal year ending March 31, the reports show that 122,293 were males, over 12 years of age; 43,541 were females, and 38,323 were children.

Died In the Woods.

Honolulu, May 8.—Mrs. L. Snow Miller, who, it is stated, is a sister of Lord Roberts' wife, was found dead on a forest trail at Kona, Hawaii. It is believed she lost her way while walking and died of exposure.

Smallpox Patient In Irons.

Edmonton, May 8.—A smallpox patient who broke quarantine here was recaptured and placed in irons to teach him to respect the laws of public health.

Just Like Rich Folks.

"Marshall Field, Jay Gould and Potter Palmer habitually carried only small amounts in their pockets," said the man who has a taste for the odd.

"Well," responded his friend, "when I am gone you can truthfully say the same about me."

The Lesser Evil.

"Of course," the tragedian was saying, "in the theatrical business a short run is bad"—

"An Easy Going Fellow."

Some Things to Remember.

The fact that a parrot is green is no sure sign that he is not a bird of ripe experience.

The great drawback about yellow journalism is not that it is yellow, but that it is read.

There is nothing so wonderful but that it might be more so. Niagara, for instance, would be far more marvelous if the water flowed the other way.

Many a man is modesty itself until his children are born. It is then that he begins to put on heirs.

It may be true that money talks, but it is so frequently tight that its conversation is hardly worth repeating.

There is nothing that so destroys one's pride of ownership as the early morning call from the tax collector.—Success Magazine.

A Gentle Reminder.

"There," growled Mr. Suburbanite as he stored the snow shovel in the farthest corner of the basement, "ding you, I won't have to wrestle with you for a few months anyway!"

Turning suddenly around in the dark, he fell over something that gave forth a nerve tearing rattle and click. With a wild shriek he fled up the cellar stairs before the lawn mower could catch him.—Judge.

The Successful Loafer.

"What's a fact?" queried the party with the interrogation habit.

Spiral Springs vs. Woven Wire

A woven wire bed cannot be comfortable, and, at the same time, hold its shape. If the wires are hard enough to prevent the mattress from "sagging" like a hammock, the bed is too hard to be restful. If the wires are soft enough to be easy and springy, they will soon stretch out of shape.

"Banner" Spring Bed

won't sag—won't stretch—won't pull out of shape—won't lose its springiness. First of all, because the spirals are made of steel, which is oil tempered like a sword blade. This steel never loses its springiness. Then the full size "BANNER" is made up of 100 of these steel spirals supported on metal strips, and connected by patented coil steel rope.

The "BANNER" Spring Bed will outwear a dozen woven wire springs, and insure you against uncomfortable, sagging beds for a lifetime.

Woven Wire Beds, that cost $3 or $4 will last only a few years at the most—and pull out of shape so quickly that they are really never comfortable.

The "BANNER" costs $6—lasts a lifetime and gives a lifetime of service and satisfaction.

Surely you can see the economy of the "BANNER" at $6? Look for this trademark whenever you buy. 11

REV. D. C. HOSSACK'S LETTER ON WHITNEY RULE

the departments. Be that as it may, Mr. Whitney has supplied a standard for himself. At Ingersoll January 8, 1905, he said:—"The question for the electors to decide to-day is whether or not improper acts can be done now without punishment being meted out."

Mr. Ross came into office with a small majority and a party which has been too long in power. Mr. Whitney came in under different auspices. There was no occasion for him to yield to political exigencies for on account of non-partisan and Liberal support he had been made independent of any unfair political or corporate influence.

The Present Duty

What is the present duty? It seems clear. Had the Opposition been stronger and the supporters of the Government in the House more independent the Government would not have been so autocratic, and some things would not have occurred which have brought discredit upon the Province.

It is the duty of all, Liberals and Conservatives, to elect independent representatives and to return a really strong and capable Opposition. It will be a calamity should the Opposition not be able to make the Government move with caution and give the fullest information upon every matter which it brings to the attention of the House. The close of the session witnessed a rapid degeneration in the Government. Their acts have been suspicious, and the Province should be on the watch.

Appeal to Independent Conservatives

Mr. Whitney appealed during the last campaign for Liberal aid and received it. There is as good reason now to appeal to independent Conservatives to strengthen the Opposition. To do so will be in the true interest of the Conservative party and of all the people. Mr. Whitney believes in independence. It is a pleasure to quote him on this subject. The Mail and Empire, reporting his Ingersoll meeting of January 8, 1905, says: "In an eloquent plea for the shaking off of party shackles and the assertion of the people's right to vote independently of party ties when the occasion demanded, Mr. Whitney stated that in Great Britain forty-five or fifty per cent. of the entire electorate refused to be dragged at the chariot wheels of a party leader who had forfeited their confidence. There the downfall of a Government once convicted of wrong-doing or maladministration was swift and sure, thanks to the independent attitude of a great mass of the electors. There it was that the atmosphere of British politics was kept always pure and clear and undefiled. And it was this undue partisanship in Ontario which accounted for the fact that the political atmosphere here was not kept pure and clear and undefiled."

When Mr. Whitney denounces partisanship everyone knows that he is right. Partisanship must not obscure the true interests of the Province. The party system cannot succeed without a vigorous Opposition. In 1896 and on other occasions many Conservatives were true to duty. They will not fail now. Every Liberal—and there are many—who from a sense of duty supported in the last campaign the party now in power, when he considers the present situation will perceive that the same sense of duty will compel him to labour for a strong and able Opposition, that in this Province, which we all love so well, there may be the best administration of public affairs which the system of government by party can provide.

D. C. HOSSACK.

THE CITY'S HEALTH

An Opinion of One Whose Advice is Worth Taking.

This is the season of the year when a great many people require a building-up tonic. On account of the large number of worthless preparations on the market, it is always advisable to ask the advice of your druggist.

Most of the Ontario druggists, it is said, are commending Dr. Norvall's Syrup of Hypophosphites, as it appears to be giving the best results, and all druggists are furnished with the formula.

Some Hints For The Care Of The Flower Gardens

The Kind of Plants Suitable for Various Classes of Soil—Plans Should be Made in Advance.

IDEAS OF SOME EXPERTS

Canadian Dairyman

Thinking of your flower gardens these first spring days? Perhaps you have a few treasured seed catalogs tucked away in a corner of your sewing box, and pull them forth for a passing thought about summer, although you know it's many weeks yet before the flower beds of your imagination will blossom.

Why not try something really new this year for your garden? If your geraniums, or asters, or whatever else it is that you have had for years, didn't turn out well, it's possible that the soil is getting too poor for them. That particular kind of plant may have used all the nourishment that your little plot held for it.

One enthusiastic woman, who dearly loves her own back yard, had a most wonderful assortment of flower beds last year, by planning months beforehand just where everything was to go. It is so disappointing to find that the rosebed you had planned takes about twice the space that your yard affords, or that your splendid asters are quite hidden by the garden clothes reel.

So this woman had her husband draw a plan of the garden for her, with the spaces taken up by the house, ash barrel, closet and clothesline, marked off, and the dimensions carefully reckoned. She took this map and drew in it diagrams of the flower beds that she intended to make. Of course the map was marked with the points of the compass, and she took into consideration the shadow cast by the back fence, the wind, and all the rest that the flower lover must count on.

The seed catalogs told her just where each flower would grow best, and the whole arrangement was much simpler than experimenting, and being disappointed, as many women are with their gardening. So many people complain that gardening is expensive, but this woman hasn't found it so, though she has a yard that is known far and near for its beauty.

"I go in for shrubs," said she, "because they last from year to year. They cost more in the beginning, but one good shrub will last a lifetime, and needs very little care. Exotics and rare specimens, are what cost so much in gardening. It is all nonsense to say that a garden is expensive, if one is willing to put a little labor into it. I do much of my own clipping and weeding, and think it is good for me.

"Next to shrubs, I find vines most satisfactory. I have them about the cellar walls, though I never let them grow up on to the house, as they make the wood decay. My whole back fence is covered with a woodbine. I like it better than the sunflowers and hollyhocks, which many people use to conceal fences, because it lasts from early spring till late fall.

"Cannas, too, are very satisfactory, and I keep my bulbs in the cellar from season to season. Any one who wants a good showing of green this summer, with very little expense or trouble should go in for cannas. Another good plant, especially in a border among other plants, is the asparagus fern. When warm weather comes just put your house fern out of doors and watch it grow."

One secret of this woman's success in having a home garden is that she plans far enough ahead so that she can carry out any original idea which occurs to her when arranging her plants. That's the beauty of thinking about your garden now. A famous garden expert has said, you know, that the greatest fault with gardens, is that they lack originality. People forget all about gardens till planting time is about over, and then they rush to the florist, and buy the same things that the Jones and Browns are having. It's not too early now to make your map, and decide just what is to grow in each corner.

MR. BIRDSALL LIKES THE TELEPHONE

A Great Saving of Time and of Horse Flesh.

Canadian Dairyman

An evidence of the great benefit derived through having a telephone in the house was given us recently by Mr. F. Birdsall, of Birdsall, Ont., President of the Norwood Agricultural Society, Peterborough County, Ont. "I have a telephone in my house," said Mr. Birdsall, "and I find that it is a great saver of time as well as of horse flesh. For instance, formerly, when I wanted to ship any stock or grain, I used to have to drive to Hastings to see the agent to find when I could get a car. Sometimes, it was necessary to wait around for several hours before I could secure the information that I desired. I thus lost not only my own time but, the time of the horse as well. Now all I have to do is to call up the agent over the telephone. Thus, I am able to do in a few minutes what used to necessitate a loss of several hours' time.

"One man in our section saved $45 on a sale of cattle by having a telephone. A buyer called at his farm and offered him a certain price for the stock. He felt disposed to take it as he had not received a better offer. He asked for a little time, however, and called up a buyer in Peterborough over the telephone with the result that he succeeded in selling his cattle for $45 more than he had been offered by the first drover. This saving was sufficient to pay for the cost of his telephone for several years. What we farmers want is Rural Free Delivery, farm telephones and electric power."

KILLING OF VERMIN ON CURRANT BUSHES

How They Should be Sprayed—Work in Strawberry Patches.

Canadian Dairyman.

Spray the leaves of your currant bushes for currant worm when the leaves are half open. Use one ounce of Paris green to about ten quarts of water. Dusting with hellebore also will do the trick.

If there are no small fruit bushes in the garden, start a few this spring. They will grow almost anywhere but good attention and care gives best results.

Keep the old strawberry patch as clear of weeds as possible but this is not so important, as during the first year of its growth. If you are starting a new patch this spring, do not allow the plants to blossom. Cut out the flower stalks and allow the plants to give all their attention to the production of runners and new plants rather than to produce fruit.

When digging soil for the vegetable garden, work in an application of well-rotted manure. A few wood ashes are useful.

Plant or sow hardy vegetables as soon as the ground is fit for them. These include onions, peas, spinach, radish, lettuce, carrots, beets and parsnips. Sow the seed in freshly-stirred soil.

A delicious plant for home growing is salsify or vegetable oyster. Sow the seed as early as possible. Handle the crop the same as parsnips. Sandwich Islands is a good variety.

85 Trains Are Booked In One Day At Orillia

Orillia is at present a veritable hive of activity in G.T.R. circles. From Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock to Thursday at the same time it is stated that there were eighty-five trains booked at the pretty northern lake town. This included freight and passenger trains. The real extent of this business may be better understood by making comparison with Peterborough. The average booking at the local station is about thirty trains per day. From the above there is no doubt that the G.T.R. is experiencing heavy traffic along its route.

Grain Freights Not Travelling On Local Line

About this time last year it was a noticable fact that the G. T. R. line through Peterborough was very busy handling freight trains of grain. This year the business has fallen off on the line through this city, and a prominent grain man stated what he believed was the reason therefor. The grain route last year was from Midland via Orillia, Lindsay and Peterborough to Belleville, where it met the main line. Now, he says, the route has been changed, the grain freights going by way of Orillia, Allandale and Toronto, where it meets the main line and is taken on to the coast. The grain traffic is reported very brisk, the spring shipments being made.

CIGARS FOR THE BEST BATTER

Most Practical Manner in Which Mr Malbot's Gift May Be Contested.

The box of cigars which Mr. A. L. Talbot has promised the Intermediate City League, to be donated to the best batter, at the close of the season, should be an incentive to swat harder at the ball. There is, however, one slight objection or hindrance, which arises, but does not offer material interference. It is next to impossible to obtain official scores for the games that will be played, but if the cigars were offered to the man who makes the most home runs, three baggers or two baggers the matter would be much simplified. The executive will consider this at the meeting on Monday night. The members of the league are grateful for the interest Mr. Talbot has shown and consider it an incentive, which if other business men see their way clear to follow, will be greatly appreciated and will tend to maintain live interest in the game.

WANTS DUST NUISANCE LOOKED AFTER

Street Watering Should be Looked After, Says "Anti-Dust."

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir.—I was pleased to see your excellent article upon the unpreparedness and lack of system of "our round dozen of officials" in dealing with our streets. You omitted mention, however, of their most glaring dereliction of duty, i. e., street watering. This, I hope, will elicit another article from your able pen. Had this not been a late spring their unpreparedness would have been more manifest than ever. It is a matter fraught with serious consequences to every one, even to the doctors, only in an inverse ratio.

Yours truly,

ANTI-DUST.

DOUBLY CHARGED SHOT GUN RECOILS, BREAKING ARM OF HUNTER IN QUEST OF GAME

Norwood, May 8. — (Special.) — The "kick" of a muzzle-loading shotgun has been responsible here for the fracture of an arm and a cut in the lip of Mr. Andrew Young, a recent arrival in this country from England. Mr. Young, who is employed on the farm of Miss O'Shea, in Asphodel township, went out hunting, taking a muzzle-loading shotgun, which was in the house, and not knowing that the weapon was loaded, put in another charge. At the sight of some game he put the gun to his shoulder and fired. The sudden rebound of the weapon caused by the heavy charge broke his arm and cut his lip, and threw him to the ground with a considerable force, and he lay in an unconscious condition for some time.

The gun was not damaged. Dr. Ford of this village reduced the fracture and attended to his injuries.

The Capital Politicians Are Out For "Clean, Straight Fight"

Both Parties Unite in Agreement to Conduct Election in Accord With the Law—Hired Vehicles Eliminated.

ILLEGAL DEVICES VETOED

Yesterday the Examiner printed a brief special despatch from Ottawa stating that the two political parties had come to an agreement to conduct the coming provincial election in strict accordance with the election law. From the Ottawa Free Press the following more detailed reference is taken. It will be read with particular interest in Peterborough, where the Liberal Candidate, Mr. Gillespie, made an abortive attempt to get the Conservative candidate to enter into a similar agreement:—

Representatives of the two political parties in Ottawa met this morning in the office of Mr. John T C Thompson, barrister, and entered into a compact to conduct the Provincial campaign in a strictly clean and legal manner. All devices such as hired canvassers, committee room clerks, paid drivers on polling day and such like will be eliminated. Liberals and Conservatives have joined heartily in the scheme to elevate the political warfare in the Capital and they are both determined to make the experiment a success.

The conference at which the agreement was consummated comprised: F M Journeaux, president; Charles H Higgerty, secretary; and Andrew Haydon, treasurer, Ottawa Reform Association, and Dr. R H Parent, Stewart McClenaghan and John T C Thompson of the executive committee of the Conservative Association.

The pure election proposition had been mooted some weeks ago. The Conservative Association then appointed their delegates and notified the Liberal executive.

This morning President Journeaux notified the Conservative side that he was ready to go ahead, and the meeting was at once arranged.

The discussion was of an informal character. All the participants were well versed in campaign tactics and very soon were possessed of each other's views.

The first thing was a decision to cut out the hired cab, which has been in evidence in many elections in the past. It was agreed that it the proper spirit were encouraged on each side the full force could be got out to vote without drawing electors to the polls. Of course the expenditure of hired vehicles is illegal, and the scheme is a step in the direction of a legal election.

All the legitimate organization, it was urged, could be done by one committee room in each ward, so it was decided that neither side should exceed that number. Before an additional room can be opened the opponents have to be notified.

According to the policy approved by both sides, no drinking will be tolerated in the rooms, and the whole fight will be carried on in a clean upright manner.

WHEN FARMERS AND LABOURERS SHOULD CALL

The Examiner has this year placed more than 25 men on farms in the vicinity of Peterborough. To-morrow being Saturday, there will in all probability be a large number of farmers in the city looking for labourers, and the Examiner requests that they, as well as the men who are looking for work, call at the office at 4 o'clock sharp in the afternoon. They will be brought into contact and will be able to close their bargains easily.

LONGBOAT ELIGIBLE FOR THE OLYMPIC

So Decides C. A. A. U.—The Indian for The Marathon.

Ottawa, May 7.—"The C.A.A.U. has concluded its investigations into Longboat's standing, and pronounced him eligible, which report will be accepted by the Olympic Committee,' said a member of that committee to The Star to-day.

"I think that as far as Canadians are concerned in the Olympic games, they will have to pin their faith to the rowing, tennis, lawn bowling, athletic, and lacrosse teams," he continued. "The athletic, rowing, tennis, bowling, and lacrosse contingents are the only ones that are certain to be sent across the water." The committee has yet to deal with the proposition to send football, Rugby and Association, shooting, and boxing teams to England. Association football, as played by the first division amateur teams in England is too fast, and it would not be surprising if the committee were to decide not to send the kickers at all. As for rugby, Canada has a better chance of being represented, but a definite decision has also to be reached on this point.

Tennis and lawn bowling are certain to go.

"Only those whom we know to have good chances of winning the honours will be sent; that has been settled," went on the Olympic committee man. "The committee's funds are limited, and we would rather have a small number of first prizes than any number of good showings."

The committee has practically abandoned hope of getting a grant from the Quebec Government.

THE WEATHER

The heavy rainfall of the last few days has been of a general character, much of the older portion of Ontario having received a generous soaking. The rainfall on the level in this city amounted to 1 inch and .66. An unusual occurrence was the very small range of temperature yesterday, there being but one degree between the highest and the lowest of the day. The figures were: 43 and 42.

FROM SHOP TO FARM

Young Man Leaves Departmental Store in Old Country to Learn Farming in Canada—Refuses Other Positions.

HE HAS COMMENCED WORK

Among the immigrants who are at present arriving in Canada there is a spirit which is vastly different from that which was in evidence about this time last year. As an example of this, a young man who has been recently hired on the Walton farm in Smith is a striking case. At home in the Old Country he was engaged as a clerk in a large departmental store. He had worked earnestly for four years, but had made slow advancement owing to the few changes in the staff, due to the large number who were ahead of him. Realizing his position, he decided to come to Canada to learn farming, and arrived in Peterborough not long ago. He was offered a position in one of the leading dry goods stores, and also in one of the manufacturing establishments.

He was determined, however, to pursue the course he had chosen, and to that end searched for a place where he could learn the best methods of agriculture. He stated that he wanted to hire with a man who would teach him all the work connected with a farm, and he made no pretence of his being acquainted with the science of agriculture. Dominated by this spirit, he should make a good farmer in the course of a few years' good experience.

FEMALE BLUEBEARD LURED MEN TO DEATH

PERSONAL—Comely widow, who owns large farm in one of the finest districts in Laporte County, Indiana, desires to make the acquaintance of gentleman, unusually well provided, with view of joining fortunes. No reply by letter considered unless sender is willing to follow answer with personal visit.—Mrs. Guinness matrimonial advertisement which lured her victims to death.

Laporte, Ind., May 8.—(Special) — The grisly story of the private graveyard at the farm of Mrs. Belle Guinness, a mile north of Laporte, is still in its early chapters. To-day the estimates of the number of persons murdered at the place through the lure of a matrimonial bureau run all the way from twelve to twenty.

The exhumation yesterday of four dismembered bodies wrapped in burlap, brings the total of victims known to have been murdered to nine. Including the bodies supposed to be those of Mrs. Guinness and her three children, discovered after the fire, which burned the farmhouse on April 28, the total of deaths to be investigated and accounted for is thirteen.

There was scant doubt that Sheriff Smutzer to-day would discover evidence of murder in two more suspected graves as yet unopened. All suspicious parts of the premises are to be dug up, with especial attention to the "soft" spots beneath rubbish heaps, which so far invariably have been found to conceal bodies.

Lamphore Asserts Innocence

Ray Lamphere, who is in jail here, still asserts his innocence. Prosecuting Attorney Smith, however, says he has positive proof that Lamphere had guilty knowledge of the Guinness murders, if he had not, indeed, participated in them.

The prosecutor is in possession of letters written in Norwegian, which he is carefully guarding. These letters, written to Andrew Helgelien by Mrs. Guinness, are said to contain references which indicate Lamphere's guilt. That he killed Mrs. Guinness and her children and set fire to the house in order to prevent any revelation that might involve him is the theory of the prosecution.

The Room of Death

In his cell, Lamphere was asked concerning a secret room in the Guinness country mansion, to which no one was ever admitted except Mrs. Guinness herself. She had the key and kept the door locked constantly. In the night hours no one in the household was ever near that room. That, the authorities believe, was the chamber of horrors, whose walls must have been spattered with the blood of the ill-fated victims of the woman's greed for gold and passion for blood.

"I never was in that room," said Lamphere. "I know that there was a room in the house that was always kept locked, and there was also a room in the basement, a sort of ice-box, that no one ever knew much about. It was a big place, capable of accommodating several persons."

This place, near a door, which led out to the barnyard, is believed to have been the temporary morgue for the victims. So many bodies have been found that the authorities believed that the woman saved her victims and disarticulated the bodies in groups and buried them that way, sewed up in gunny sacks, adding chloride of lime to the earth to aid disintegration.

Additional light on the methods by which Mrs. Belle Guinness caused the deaths of persons who are supposed to have fallen victims to her lust for money was shed early to-day by Ask. K. Helgelien, brother of Andrew Helgelien, of Mansfield, S.D., whose dismembered corpse is among the nine thus far found. Helgelien told the coroner that not only had his brother been in communication with the woman, but also that she had written to him after Andrew's disappearance in an attempt to induce him to this city.

"Sell your brother's stock and come here, and we will hunt your brother together," was the gist of the epistle written in Norwegian, and as yet only partially translated. The letters are zealously guarded by Helgelien under orders of Ralph N. Smith, prosecuting attorney, but enough has been revealed to show that the woman had attempted to gain a hold over the nearest relative of her latest victim.

Cellar to be Excavated

Mrs. Guinness was a handsome, fascinating woman. She enticed men to her by advertising that she would marry "a gentleman of means." Once having enthralled them by her charms she robbed and murdered them. Three of the bodies found in her proprietary graveyard are those of men: one has been positively identified as that of Andrew Helgelien of Aberdeen, S.D., who was worth between $40,000 and $50,000.

Two bodies are those of women. Of them, one, Jennie Olson Guinness, the adopted daughter, certainly knew too much for the safety of this bluebearded lady.

The cellar of her home where she lived for four years, which is now in ashes, will be excavated. She had the cellar paved with cement two years ago, and she jealously guarded the cellar when this improvement was being made.

A Dante could not describe, a Dore could not picture the horrors this woman must have endured to save her children and herself from the fate which overtook them. She was devoted to her children; that she was widely praised as "a good mother" tended to divert some of the suspicions that have arisen since her residence here.

WEARY WILLIE LOSES HIS MIDDAY MEAL IN BOARDING FAST EAST BOUND FREIGHT

It was a case of "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip" with the tramp who lost his "handout" in boarding a meat train in the C. P. R. yards at noon to-day.

Two hoboes had been seen about the yard all morning, evidently waiting for a train going east. About noon they started away into the residential section, evidently to beg for food. Towards one o'clock they reappeared, one with a parcel in his pocket, and the other had a bundle, wrapped with new paper, under his coat. As there were no buttons on it he had to hold it together to keep the package of food from falling out. The regular beef train arrived at one o'clock and the first man had no difficulty in obtaining his position between two cars. His pal got on using only one hand, but in doing so the package of food fell from his coat in spite of his efforts to keep it in his possession.

The freight was going too fast for him to get off and anyway the bundle had broken, scattering the bread, etc., in the sand. He heaved a weary sigh and was heard to say something that sounded like jam.

Salvation Army Band Will Likely Make Visit To Montreal

Itinerary of Tour This Year—Will Be More Extensive Than Last—Kingston and Montreal on Their List.

BAND IS BETTER THAN EVER

The arrangements which the Salvation Army Band is making for the second annual tour have almost been completed and the itinerary will likely include concerts at Kingston and Montreal. The success of their trip last year was manifest, and the receptions they received at the various towns were most satisfactory, and the band achieved an enviable reputation for themselves and the city. This year it will be even stronger, particularly the bass section, which has received several strong additions recently, and it will be even more strengthened in the near future.

HOUSE OF WORSHIP FOR A GOOD MANY YEARS

The anniversary services of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church will be held on Sunday. The church celebrates the 73rd anniversary of the founding of the first edifice. The present house of worship was erected 23 years ago, so that the celebration will be one of double interest to the congregation. Rev. W D Drummond, of Hamilton, will be the special preacher on Sunday.

Lively Session Of Poultry Men Held Last Night

The Peterborough Poultry Association held a splendid meeting last night in the Labour Hall, Simcoe street. In spite of the disagreeable weather there were more than thirty members present. A lively and interesting discussion took place on the Black Hamburg birds, specimens of which were brought to the meeting. Artificial incubation was also discussed, and questions and answers on live poultry subjects formed an instructive part of the meeting.

Next month's meeting promises to be a good one. Orpingtons and Houdans will be the birds on the list, and every member is asked to be present with a specimen.

The chair was occupied last night by Mr. Geo. Paxman, vice-president, while Mr. J T C Lang acted as secretary.

Flagman At G.T.R. Crossing On Lock Street

Mr. Thomas Horner, Assistant General Roadmaster of the G.T.R., Allandale, and Mr. Chas. Mitchell, Roadmaster, of Lindsay, were in the city yesterday afternoon on special business. The interlocking arrangement at the G.T.R. crossing on Lock street, has been reported in not a very satisfactory condition of late and the company decided to place a flagman at that point until the Radial Railway has repaired the interlocking mechanism. Mr. Smith is on duty at this work.

Kennedy Is Now In The General Hospital

German Wrestler Painfully Injured in Match With Hurtubise

That Frank Kennedy, who was defeated by Gene Hurtubise in the handicap wrestling bout here on Wednesday night, was badly hurt, is shown by the fact that the big German is now in Toronto General Hospital. The Globe to-day says: Frank Kennedy, the wrestler, who was defeated by Hurtubise, at Peterborough Wednesday night, is in the General Hospital here with a dislocated shoulder.

Jack Connors Was Up Against Hard Proposition

Was Up Against Eastern and American League Players.

In a letter to a friend here, Harry Burridge says that Jack Connors was up against a hard proposition to catch a place on the Youngstown outfield. The other competitors for positions were Jack McAleese, who has played in the Eastern League; Bill Thomas, a former member of the Boston American League, team; Kerr, who has been the leading fielder in the Pennsylvania—Ohio League for four or five years, and Wagner, a cousin of the famous Hans. It will be seen that Connors was in pretty fast company.

TEACHERS TO CONVENE

In Y. M. C. A. Hall on Thursday, May 21st and on Friday—President Falconer To Give An Address.

TRUSTEES ARE WELCOME

The annual convention of the County of Peterborough Teachers' Association will be held in Y.M.C.A. hall, Peterborough, commencing at 10.30 on Thursday, May 21, and continuing till Friday afternoon. The afternoon and evening sessions on Thursday will be joint meetings with the city association. The evening meeting will be held in the Conservatory Music Hall and will be open to the public. At this meeting an address will be given by President Falconer of the University of Toronto. The president will also address the teachers at the Thursday afternoon session. At all the sessions, trustees and others interested in education will be welcome. It is hoped the citizens will show their interest and encourage the teachers by greeting President Falconer with a full house at the evening meeting.

Muskrat Skins Must Go Before May 10 Arrives

According to section 40, clause 18 of the Act, "Skins of moose, deer, cariboo and fur-bearing animals may be had in possession during close season under the authority of a license issued not later than ten days after the end of the open season, and specifying the number and description of such skins."

From the above it will be seen that unless a man has special authority to the contrary, he cannot lawfully retain muskrat skins in his possession after May 10. Those having pelts should take a note of this and make provision before the 10th to prevent running counter to the law.

Rain A Set-Back To Spring Work On The Farm

The farmers are by no means elated over the rain which has fallen steadily during the past three days. It has abruptly interrupted the seeding operations. Although on some small dry farms this work had been finished, the majority of farmers were by no means all done, and the rain has caused a cessation of their work. On some property there will be a setback of several weeks, and on others probably for a longer period. The ground is over-supplied with water, and in low-lying parts is now flooded.

The High Water Makes Driving On Creeks Easy

No trouble is anticipated this year with the run of the drives down the northern creeks and through the Kawartha Lakes, on account of the high water, caused by the large amount of snow. The lumbermen all statet hat the driving this year will be faster than for many in the past, and they are looking forward to making some record trips.

In other years the boys usually were delayed by sticking in shallow water, and the change this year is one very much appreciated by the lumbermen.

CATTLE ARE RUNNING AT LARGE

East City Resident Complained to the Police About the Matter.

A complaint reached the police station this morning from a well-known East City resident to the effect that a number of cows were running at large and might do damage to his property. He asked the Chief what he should do, remarking that "he would shoot the Bovril raw material." The Chief informed him that such conduct would not be permitted, and advised the East City man to lay an information against the owner of the herd.

WHAT DOES REFUSAL MEAN?

In Mr. Bradburn's reply to Mr. Gillespie's proposal that Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Gillespie, as candidates, should enter into an agreement with a view of securing a clearly-conducted election, in strict accordance with the the requirements of the election law, and which Mr. Bradburn flatly refused to do, that latter said: "I am unaware that such extraordinary methods as you propose for accomplishing that end (a clean election) have ever been adopted anywhere." This seemed to be an evasion. It was well known that in the bye-election in 1906, in Kingston, a similar arrangement to that proposed by Mr. Gillespie was made between the Conservative and Liberal candidates. The arrangement in brief was this: Each side selected 150 of its opponents — recognized workers — who pledged themselves, in writing, against any act possible of being construed into undue solicitation. It was provided that there could be no driving of voters for registration or to the polls—even in one's own vehicle; no giving of bribes—not even cigars—no breach of the election Act. A failure to live up to this agreement involved the resignation of the successful candidate. Three judges were selected, and both candidates were pledged to abide by their decision as to complaints of illegality. No complaints were made, and a practically pure election contest was conducted on both sides. Another precedent is the case of Ottawa, as detailed in another column, where the two parties have arranged a similar compact to secure a clean election. It is said that the arrangement was suggested by the Conservatives.

The Conservatives in Peterborough and elsewhere have made a good deal of howling about corrupt elections. There have doubtless been questionable methods practised more or less by both parties. Human nature is weak, and the temptations, in the strenuosity of a political fight, are so great, that a compact to refrain from corrupt, or even questionable, methods, would operate as an effective restraint on both parties. No political worker on either side would acknowledge his intention to do crooked work. If such a person on either side had yielded to temptation in that way, and wished to refrain in the future, he would not hesitate to sign an agreement, especially when his opponents would be similarly bound. A political worker on either side who would refuse to sign or enter into an agreement not to practise questionable methods would expose himself to the suspicion that he desired to be left free to take what measures he felt were necessary to secure political success. The public can place their own interpretation upon Mr. Bradburn's refusal to enter into a mutual agreement with his opponent to conduct, on both sides, a clean straight election contest in strict conformity with the requirements of the election law.

CANADA'S ADVANCEMENT.

The wonderful advance Canada has made in the realm of national achievement, under Liberal rule, is not less marked than her advance in national status, under the same governing auspices. Without any impairment of the assured position Canada holds and is determined on holding in the Imperial economy, this country has achieved a recognized condition of nationhood, enabling her to assert and enjoy her rights as an autonomous portion of the British Empire. The Home Government has recognized, as a corollary of Canadian self-government, that international alliances and the integrity of imperial connection, place no restriction upon the rights of the Dominion to legislate according to its own interests in matters of immigration, especially in excluding races which would be incompatible in compounding a homogeneous Canadian citizenship. The report of Mr. W L Mackenzie King, Minister of Labour on his mission to England in connection with the matter of Oriental immigration shows that an understanding has been arrived at between the Imperial Government and the Government of Canada, which will solve, in a manner satisfactory to this country, the problem of dealing with the exclusion of Hindus from Canada. Thus is afforded evidence of another triumph of peaceful negotiation and conciliation which is but a repetition on a broader basis, of similar triumphs of similar principles, achieved by the labour disputes legislation of Hon. Mr. Lemieux, and in the successful issue of the negotiations conducted by him in connection with Japanese immigration as demonstrated by the testimony of Japanese Consort General Shimizu, who insists upon the satisfactory manner in which the agreement is working in both the interests of Japan and Canada.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Ottawa Citizen remarks that the Whitney Government will go down in history as the "square deal" government. In regard to gaining and holding power on false pretenses it might be called the square steal government without any violence to fact.

The granting by Hon. G P Graham, Minister of Railways, of a ten per cent increase of wages to the telegraph operators on the Intercolonial Railway, shows that the Liberal Government is not in favour of achieving a surplus at the expense of the employees of the national railway.

The Examiner has received the Quebec Tercentenary number of "onward," an illustrated weekly published by William Briggs, Toronto. It is a number of great present interest, containing as it does, five beautifully illustrated articles on the founding and five seiges and conquests of Quebec. This number of "Onward" is of special interest as it gives a concise and popular account of the incidents attending an event, whose three-hundredth anniversary is recognized, with enthusiasm both in Canada and the British Isles. The public interested are invited to send for a free sample copy.

Lindsay is sometimes called slow, but the Scugog town shows itself terribly ambitious upon the highest plane of achievement, that is to say, journalism. It will soon be asked to read three daily papers. The Evening Post was first in the field; then came the Daily Warder and next Monday the Daily Free Press will enter the arena, as an independent, the other two representing the old parties. Lindsay will have to waken up a good deal to supply news to three daily journals. It may not be long before the principle of the survival of the fittest will receive illustrations. Meantime, the Examiner welcomes the new comer and wishes all of them a prosperous future.

MAY

Flowery May, the whitest and pinkest and greenest month of all the year, has not yet garlanded herself with the early beauties of nature, and the happy, balmy days which cheer the heart and gladden the senses have failed to appear. She has been as sour and crabbed as a maiden disappointed in love, and the birds, the buds and the blossoms have not sounded their magic sounds that delight the sympathies of poetic nature.

Browning boasts of her charms in the following lines, but the people cannot go into ecstasy over the thought from the first part of May:

And after April, when May follows,
And the whitethroat builds, and all the swallows!
Hark, where my blossomed pear tree in the hedge
Leans to the field and scatters on the clover
Blossoms and dewdrops—at the bent spray's edge—
That's the wise thrush; he sings each song twice over,
Lest you should think he never would recapture
The first fine careless rapture!
And though the fields look rough with hoary dew,
All will be gay when noontide wakes anew
The buttercups, the little children's dower—
Far brighter than this gaudy melon flower.

NEW GROCERY BUSINESS

—M. J. Crowley wishes to announce to the residents of East City particularly, and to this side of the river as well, that he has opened out a first-class cash grocery store in Hennessey's old stand, Hunter street east, where he will keep a fresh stock of groceries and canned goods. Telephone orders from any part of the city promptly attended to be delivery.

LESSON ON THE CARE OF ONIONS

Need to be Weeded and Thinned When Two Inches High.

Canadian Dairyman.

When onions are about two inches high, they should be weeded and thinned. If the seed is not sown too thickly, they do not require thinning. I generally weed them about twice in a season, and wheel-hoe them once every week, until they commence to form buttons, then I go through them with the ordinary hand hoe.

By the time that the tops commence to die off, I roll a barrel over them, two rows at a time, to break down all the tops. When they are fairly well dried-off, the onions should be pulled, and topped into boxes and taken to the barn floor to dry.

Should it rain before they can be topped and taken in, it is best to wait a day or two so as to give them a chance to dry again. The rain does not hurt them; in fact, two or three showers will do them good. They can stand also about three degrees of frost.

They should be left in the barn as late in the fall as possible. Before cold weather sets in, they should be taken to a dry cellar or root house and stored in a temperature as near the freezing point as possible.

THE FEED SITUATION IN ONTARIO

Reported Scarce in Many Localities Throughout the Country.

Canadian Dairyman.

In our last week's issue, we gave some space to reports upon the feed situation throughout the country. The following is more of the situation as sized up by our correspondents;

Feed is very scarce here and farmers have had to buy more than last year.—James S. Miller, Parry Sound Co., Ont.

Farmers will not need to buy any more feed this spring than usual.—J. B. Aylesworth, Lennox and Addington Co., Ont.

Feed is higher in price and farmers will need to buy more of it this spring than last.—Wm. Corning, Yarmouth Co., N. S.

There will be little or no feed bought this spring.—Geo. Binnie, South Grey, Ont.

Feed is scarce and farmers will have to buy much more than usual.—F. A. Comerford, Hastings Co., Ont.

Farmers are feeding very sparingly. I don't see or hear of much feed moving. There is some enquiry now and then.—N. S. Palmerton, Norfolk Co., Ont.

The feed position will depend somewhat upon the spring. Not often is hay advertised for sale as much as it is this season in the local paper.—C. F. V., Grey Co., Ont.

Farmers have feed to sell and are selling it at good prices.—W. M. Macadam, Prescott Co., Ont.

Farmers will have to buy more feed his spring than a year ago.—Geo. Wright, Wellington Co., Ont.

Most farmers have sufficient feed. They are feeding with more care than usual. Live stock are coming through the winter in fair condition. A few are short of feed, but there will be little loss for want of it. There is not much grain marketed here. High prices last fall induced some to market more than they would otherwise have done which leaves feed scarcer than it otherwise would be.—Wm. Thurston, Victoria Co., Ont.

Farmers have to buy a lot more feed than a year ago. They are buying chiefly grain, bran and corn.—Chas. Van Blaricom, Hastings Co., Ont.

As a rule there is plenty of rough feed in this section. Farmers are not buying so largely of mill feeds and coarse grains as usual.—F. W. Heacock, York Co., Ont.

I do not think farmers will have to buy any more feed than usual.—R. Cullis.

Farmers will have to buy more feed than a year ago.—Chas. O'Reilly, Peterboro Co., Ont.

There is a marked scarcity of both grain and fodder in this section. Many farmers are buying hay and straw at top prices. Hay is selling at $5 a ton more than a year ago at this time and straw is double the ordinary price. Most granaries are nearly empty and the majority are depending on mill feed.—W. R. Carroll, Oxford Co., Ont.

I think feed will hold out here pretty well, owing to the careful feeding practised during the winter. Farmers will not have to buy any more or very litle more than a year ago.—Wm. Collins, Peterboro Co.

Feed is very scarce here but not nearly as short as anticipated. Most farmers have enough to pull through on. About 10 per cent. more farmers are buying feed this year than last.—Wm. Pratt, Simcoe Co., Ont.

Feed is scarce as we have never imported any hay or straw; farmers are making what they have, do, or are buying from neighbors who have a little to spare. As to grain feed, so many sows were sold off last fall, and so few pigs wintered that the demand for grain will not be so great as a year ago.—E. C. McGrachy, Kent Co.

Buy Casey Mountain Shares

IN THE

CASEY MOUNTAIN COBALT MINING AND DEVELOPING COMPANY, Limited

Chartered by the Ontario Government

Authorized Capital - - - - - $250,000.00

Par Value of Shares (fully paid-up and non-assessable): $1.00.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS—President: R. C. WILLIAMSON, Toronto, formerly of Peterborough; Vice-President: JAMES THOMPSON, Havelock, Ont.; Secretary-Treasurer: DR. H. A. WOOD, Peterborough, Ont.; Superintendent: B. WILLIAMSON, Haileybury, Ont.; D. A. REID, Brandon, Man.

HEAD OFFICE: MANNING CHAMBERS, TORONTO, ONT.

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares:

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which is a regular net-work of silver bearing veins that will go down for thousands of feet.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered twelve to date, varying in width from 16 ins. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining Proposition (not a Stock Speculation) and has been developed continuously during the past ten months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the district, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situate on the adjoining lot that according to good authority, was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a mining company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent to Casey Mountain Shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

DIVIDENDS PAID BY COBALT MINING COMPANIES

The Coniagas Mines, Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907	200,000.00

McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	45,000.00

(These shares could have been had at 50c, and have sold as high as $190.00).

APPLICATION

THE CASEY MOUNTAIN COBALT MINING AND DEVELOPMENT CO., Limited.

Manning Chambers, Toronto.—

Sirs:—Please deliver to me.....shares (fully paid up and non-assessable) of the par value of $1.00 each of the Capital Stock of The Casey Mountain Cobalt Mining and Development Company, Limited, in full payment of which I hand you herewith:

$..... I agree that this application may be refused, and to accept pro rata allotment in the event of over subscription.

Name.....

Full Address.....

Occupation.....

Cobalt Camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $69,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Tredwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton and is paying big dividends.

CASEY MOUNTAIN MINING CO., Limited has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will sum $20 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would mean a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically a close corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at one dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Additional information can be had from the Secretary-Treasurer, DR. H. A. WOOD, 408½ George Street, Peterborough.

Harry Burridge Has Made Good As Catcher For Youngstown

The following clipping from a Youngstown paper will be read with interest by local baseball fans:

Manager Sam Wright has started to weed out his surplus material and Thursday morning he handed out releases to three members of his squad. Those who have been let out are Pitchers John Moore and Frank Cook and Catcher Feist. Moore is a good pitcher and hails from Newark, O. He has been suffering from a sore arm all through the training season and has not been able to demonstrate to the management his true worth. When his arm "gets right" he should be able to land a berth with any good team on the circuit.

Cook is a Youngstown boy and also has a good future ahead of him. He too has been troubled with a sore arm and has hardly been able to throw a swift ball this spring. Feist is the catcher Manager Wright obtained from Wheeling of the Central League. He is a comer and is already a rattling good backstop.

As Wright had one too many in this department someone had to go. Burridge, the Canadian backstop, who played with Peterborough last year, is showing up better each day and it is probable that he will now land the soft pedal job. He is becoming better acquainted with the other members of the regulars and is expected to make an excellent addition to the team. Then, too, he's an important product, b'gosh.

MUTINY AT SPITHEAD.

Cruiser Sends Marines to Secure Order on Russian Ship.

On board a Russian sailing vessel, recently lying at Spithead Roads, Eng., there had been a mutiny of so serious a character that the aid of British marines has been invoked to preserve order and to secure the safety of the officers of the ship.

The vessel is the Truro, an English-built bark, now belonging to Russian owners. She was on her way from London to the West Indies, sailing light, to bring back a cargo of logwood.

In the voyage round the coast she grounded off Worthing, and this appears to have made the crew nervous for their own safety and dissatisfied with the conditions prevailing aboard. On arriving at Spithead they found that the vessel was not to be taken into dock for survey to ascertain the nature of the damage arising from the mishap.

They then flatly refused to perform further work, and threats, it is stated, were levelled at the captain. The [illegible] of Swedes, and numbers fourteen in all [illegible] and on the captain, the mate, and the steward adopted a policy of masterly inactivity, and refused to assist in navigating the ship.

The captain, fearful that the situation might become more serious, signalled to the captain of H.M.S. Berwick, a cruiser lying at Spithead, and asked for assistance. In response to this appeal a guard of Royal Marines from the ship, consisting of a lieutenant, corporal, lance-corporal, and nine privates, went aboard, and the insubordination on the part of the men ceased.

But they continued to be resentful, and refused duty. Two ringleaders were removed from Truro, and with their departure the remainder of the crew resumed work. The British marines then returned to their ship. The matter has been placed in the hands of the Russian vice-consul at Portsmouth.

FOUGHT WITH THEIR FISTS.

Titled Men Adopt Old Method of Settling Dispute.

Sporting judges are always advocating the settling of disputes in "the good old way," with fisticuffs, and apparently our public men are taking them at their word. Following close upon an angry scene in the law courts, when two well known K.C.'s nearly came to blows, we have news of an exciting scene at a meeting of the governors of Newcastle infirmary, when Sir Walter Runciman father of the Financial Secretary of the Treasury, and a nonconformist, was observed to be in heated altercation with Sir Walter Plummer, Conservative churchman, and late member for Newcastle.

The altercation culminated in Sir W. Runciman squaring up to Sir Walter Plummer, but the combatants were dragged apart by the spectators before blows actually took place.

Sir Walter comes of a race of seafaring north countrymen. Both his grandfathers fought as midshipmen at Trafalgar, and the medals they won under Nelson's flag are heirlooms of the family still. He himself went to sea when he was 12 years old, and eventually founded a steamship line—the Moor line—which, with twenty-nine freighters, most of them 6,000 tons, carries his flag to-day all over the world, and has made for him a fortune.

An amusing trick was played upon him ten or eleven years ago, when he sailed to Gravesend in his yacht to help his son, the present Financial Secretary to the Treasury, in an unsuccessful attempt to capture the seat [illegible] We dammed another in the Thames just opposite the town one evening and came ashore. The next morning, to his horror, he discovered that some wicked tory had plastered his yacht from stem to stern with Conservative posters.

Although a Scotsman, Lord Linlithgow usually attended the St. Patrick's Day demonstration in Melbourne. At one of these gatherings he related how, as a very young man, he had set out on a tour of Ireland. A Dublin horse-keeper, who fitted him out for the expedition, slyly remarked that perhaps his eye would linger on some pretty colleen who would make him happy for life. "It did," remarked His Excellency, amid general laughter, in which Lady Linlithgow, who is the daughter of an Irish peer, heartily joined. Lady Linlithgow, by the way, was as popular in the colonies as her husband. She is a splendid shot, and at the rifle range her numerous "bull's-eyes" often drew forth the eulogium, "Isn't she a nailer?"

Pitiable.

"Dreadful!" moaned the opera singer who had been robbed of $1,000. "Why, it takes me nearly ten minutes of hard work to earn that much!"

GROWS COOKED POTATOES ON VINES LIKE TOMATOES

Waterbury, Conn., May 8.—(Special.)—Dwight Wheeler of Middlebury, who has experimented for years on Irish potatoes, has at last solved the problem of the potato in a variety which requires no cooking and grows on vines like the tomato. His efforts are declared to be certain to revolutionize potato culture and reduce the strain on the housewife, who now finds it difficult in all temperatures to keep the cooked potato constantly on hand.

Fortunes have been dissipated in an attempt to can or preserve successfully the cooked Irish potato. Mr. Wheeler has invited farmers all over the State to an exhibit of his growing vines, which will be in blossom soon.

Tramps Are Numerous And Houses Should Be Locked

Householders may take a quiet tip these days and take extra precautions in locking up their residences against tramps. The "wandering Willies" are more numerous at present than they have been for many years, and some of the citizens have already given more than one free lunch to the homeless wayfarers. The neighbourhood of the C.P.R. yards has suffered most in this respect, as the tramps enter and leave the city at their "union station," the junction of the three railways, and loaf around in that vicinity between trains. Yesterday there were six who spent the day near the Shovel factory, except during the time spent in a few excursions to secure food.

Chief Reizel states that he does not intend that they will find Peterborough an easy town, and says he will give the force keep a watchful eye on the "Willies" in order to keep them on the move and teach them to shun Peterborough.

QUEBEC BATTLEFIELDS COMMISSION

What Subscriptions Are For—Redeeming of Battlefields of Plains of Abraham

In connection with the work which has been undertaken by the National Battlefields Commission and which includes the making of the necessary arrangements for the Champlain Tercentenary Celebration, the following statement is officially authorized:

All subscriptions given either by private individuals or by public bodies other than the Dominion Government, will be applied strictly and solely to the work of redeeming and beautifying the Battlefields and not in connection with the Champlain Tercentenary Fetes.

That at present the aim of the Commission is to purchase the land necessary to redeem the Battlefields of the Plains of Abraham and of Ste. Foy, and not to expropriate such buildings as the Jail and the Ross Rifle Factory. The Commission desire, through the various subscriptions, to obtain before the arrival of the Prince of Wales, about $500,000 in order that the announcement may be made at that time, that the fields have been redeemed as far as title to the lands not at present vested in the Crown, is concerned.

Arrangements are about to be made for the systematic collection of subscriptions throughout Canada under the supervision of a central committee at Ottawa.

OBITUARY

REV. ALEXANDER STIRLING

The Rev. James A. G. Stirling, of Havelock, Ont., has sustained a severe loss by the sudden death of his esteemed father, the Rev. Alexander Stirling, of Chapel Hill Free Church, Rothesay, Buteshire, Scotland.

The deceased minister was born at Kirkintilloch, Dumbartonshire, Scotland, and educated at Glasgow University and the F. C. College, Glasgow. He was, for some time, assistant in Free St. Matthew's, Glasgow, and his first charge was that of Moncton and Prestwick, in Ayrshire, where he laboured with much success for many years. Thence he accepted a call to John Knox Church, Stepney, London, England, where he laboured with success for a number of years. He then accepted a call to Priory Street Presbyterian Church, York, where he laboured with indefatigable energy and success for twenty years. In addition to his ordinary ministerial duties he was Her Majesty's Chaplain to the Presbyterian troops at York, and especially to the Black Watch Regiment of Scottish Highlanders, which attended his church at York for several years. The regiment was commanded by General Wauchope, a Presbyterian elder, who fell with nearly all his regiment at Magersfontein. Mr. Stirling rendered splendid service to his church at York, and did a great deal of good among the Presbyterian troops stationed there. Having received a call to the pastorate of Chapel Hill Free Church, Rothesay, Buteshire, Scotland, he resolved to return to his native land, and was, therefore, inducted into his Rothesay pastorate in 1905. He laboured there with much acceptance and success until the end came, on the 22nd of April, 1908. The cause of death was pneumonia, to which he succumbed after a short illness, and in the seventieth year of his age. He was twice married, and is survived by his widow and most of his family by his first wife. He was beloved by all the four congregations to which he successfully ministered, and was a most kind and loveable man. He was a man of untiring energy, an earnest, evangelical preacher possessing pulpit gifts much above the average, and a faithful pastor.

The remains of this faithful preacher of the Gospel were interred in Rothesay cemetery after a public service in the church, on Saturday afternoon, 25th April. The funeral was largely attended; the flag on the town hall was lowered to half mast; and all classes of the community evinced their sorrow at the departure from their midst of this honoured servant of Christ, who had for so many years preached so faithfully and so persistently the everlasting Gospel. He finished his course with joy; he kept the faith; and he has now entered into the presence of the Saviour, whom he served so faithfully. —Com.

INFORMATION ABOUT A RELIABLE MEDICINE

We want the people of Peterborough to know that we believe the most valuable cod liver preparation—the best tonic reconstructor, health restorer and strength creator known to medicine to-day—is Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine, as everything it contains is named on the label of every bottle. We guarantee Vinol contains, besides tonic iron, all of the medicinal, curative and body-building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of the useless oil to clog the system, upset the stomach and retard its work. This is why Vinol is so far superior to old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions.

Vinol is guaranteed by over five thousand leading druggists of the United States to create health and strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness, and for hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and throat and lung troubles.

Try Vinol on our guarantee. McDermid & Jury, druggists; also the Market Drug Store, Peterborough.

FIREMEN CALLED OUT LAST NIGHT

A Bunco Alarm Sent in From Box Number "23."

An alarm was sounded about 11 o'clock last night from box No. 23 at the corner of Hunter and George streets, and the brigade made a hurried response. Someone said smoke was seen issuing from the windows of the Roy studio. The firemen made an investigation, but someone must have had a pipe dream for there was nothing doing.

THE SUDDEN DEATH OF GALWAY RESIDENT

Mr. John Cain Passes Away—Little Seeding Being Done.

Examiner Special

Galway, May 8.—This locality was suddenly shocked by the sudden death of John Cain, who died on Saturday last after a very brief illness. There was a large funeral on Monday at 9 o'clock to Immaculate Conception church, Galway.

The farmers have done very little seeding as the ground is cold and wet.

The atmosphere is very dry since May 1, the date on which local option came into force.

Miss Julia Leahy, who came here to visit a friend, has again returned to her home. Having made many friends here, it is to be hoped she will soon return.

Mr. Edward Allen, Sr., sold a team of horses for the West, and received the neat sum of $295. He has since procured a team, which he pronounces as good as the former team, for $136. He has sold a thoroughbred cow to Mrs. Mansfield, and it is now on its way to the West. Edward says it pays to keep the best.

Mr. Andrew Reid is proceeding rapidly with his new house. His brother is helping with the carpenter work.

The only subject now around here is politics, and no doubt we will soon hear of the good and harm that has been done by both parties.

EFFECT OF WEATHER ON HAY CROP

Farmer Says That Price Will be High Again Next Winter

"Hay will be twenty dollars a ton next winter," a prominent farmer was heard to say this morning, "and I would not be surprised to see it at even a higher figure." The farmers state that the past three days' rain will be a great setback to the hay crop, as there was already sufficient moisture in the ground which, with warmth, would have brought the growth along at a good rate. Now the prospects are not very encouraging, and, as the farmer said, there is no knowing what the result will be.

AN UMBRELLA MISSING FROM THE VERANDAH

Young Lady Loses Borrowed Umbrella While Visiting

The umbrella thief gets in his mean work in many ways, but one of the worst is that of taking them from verandahs. Last night a young lady borrowed her friend's umbrella to make a call on Dublin street. She left it open on the verandah, but when she was about to go home she found that someone had walked away with it. This is only one of numerous cases, and is one of the channels by which umbrellas mysteriously disappear.

CROP PROSPECTS FROM ACROSS THE SEA

Weather Improving in Some Parts—Outlook Poor in Places

(J. R. Heintz & Co. Special.)

Liverpool, May 8. — Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary says:
United Kingdom—The weather is improving and the outlook is more satisfactory.
France—The weather has been unseasonably cold, and many complaints are heard regarding the thinness of the plant and the backward growth, as a result of unfavourable local conditions. Sellers continue reserved in their views and offerings are light.
Germany—The weather has improved during the past week and complaints are less numerous.
Hungary—An official report states that the crop outlook is unfavourable. The plant has a healthy appearance, but the growth continues small. The weather has improved during the past week.
Roumania — In our last report Broomhall were beneficial but more was wanted. To-day's statement reports copious rains, which are very beneficial to wheat already seeded. The outlook for which is excellent. Supplies are very light.
Bulgaria, Servia, Turkey, Spain Italy—The outlook for the crop is favourable.
Russia—The outlook for the winter crop has shown no improvement during the week, and it is estimated that the acreage will have to be re-plowed. The outlook for the spring crops is favourable. Supplies continue light.
North Africa — Reports are very variable with some complaints.
Argentine—On April 24th there were four steamers sailed from Argentine to St. Petersburg direct, with full cargoes of wheat.

BIRTH MONTH OF YOUR AFFINITY

If one would be happy when married, it will be necessary to consult the birth month of the future husband or wife, according to the latest theory.
By deductions taken from the planets astrologers have made a table of those months which are not in accord.
January cannot agree with one born in July.
February cannot agree with one born in August.
March cannot agree with one born in September.
April cannot agree with one born in October.
May cannot agree with one born in November.
June cannot agree with one born in December.
For the encouragement of those who need to be cheered there is another table of correct affinities:

Those born in	will agree with those born in
January	March and May.
February	April and June
March	May and July.
April	June and August.
May	July and September.
June	August and October.
July	September and Novembr.
August	October and December
September	November and January
October	December and February.
November	January and March.
December	February and April.

A word to the wise is sufficient.

Yannigans vs. T. A. S. Regulars, and Karnots vs. Strathconas are local games to-morrow. The West End Y. M. C. A. White Sox, Toronto, want a game with a local team on May 25th.

WALKING — George Stevens will be manager and referee of a six day walk at St. Catharines, from May 18th to 23rd. Harrison, Hartley and Stevens, of Peterborough, will compete. The limit is 120 miles in twenty-four hours. The Y. M. C. A. will put on a walking race for juniors, commencing May 21st.

BOXING AND WRESTLING—The Ottawa Police Commissioners refuse to allow bouts between Giroux, of Montreal, and Allan, of Ottawa. Yankee Rogers in Ottawa to arrange match with Hurtubise. Kennedy, has to go to Toronto hospitals for repairs. Artie Edmunds is "right" for his match in Toronto with Young Muldoon.

ATHLETICS — The Olympic Committee will declare Longboat eligible to compete in Marathon trials. It is not likely that an association football team will be sent. The Y. M. C. A. Physical Committee will meet to-night to take up important business.

IN GENERAL—The Intermediate series of the Midland Football League will consist of ten clubs. Geo. Cairns' score of 220 is still high in the Examiner competition at the P. B. C. alleys. No games are to take place at Nicholls Oval until permission is given.

FAMOUS OLD BALL PLAYER WHO IS NOW A GROUNDS KEEPER; LIFE SKETCH OF C. MADDOCK

Interesting Account of the Father of Short-Stop Maddock of the Peterboros—One of the Famous Guelph Team—Has Been Ground Keeper at Cleveland and Toronto

IS NOW LIVING IN TOLEDO

From the Toledo Blade is taken the following breezy account of the life of Charlie Maddock, one of the best known figures in baseball history, who is well known in Peterborough. The story is of additional interest owing to the fact that he is the father of Charlie Maddock, the speedy infielder, who will play short-stop for Manager Johnston's Peterborough team this season. The Peterborough short fielder was with his father last year at Cleveland, and saw the Napoleons play every home American League game last season.

Concerning Mr. Maddock, Sr., the Toledo Blade says:

Who among the thousands of fans that will gather at Armory Park, Toledo, this summer will recognize in the quiet, gentlemanly, unassuming groundkeeper a once famous ball player and one whose name ranks with Goldsmith, Al. Spalding, and Harry Wright?

No history of the great national game will ever be complete without the name of Charlie Maddock, whose name is familiar to the older fans of Guelph as one of the original Maple Leafs, champions of the world in the days when baseball was little known.

Thirty-five years ago he was the most famous catcher in America.

When Jim McGuire, Jake Beckley, Cy Young and the remainder of the "old brigade," whom we now regard as veterans, were wearing little plaid dresses and getting their food from a spoon, Charlie Maddock was the Roger Bresnahan of baseball.

To-day he is a groundkeeper in the employ of Manager Armour, but in the early 70's his was a name to conjure with.

Now he has nothing to remind him of his past glories but a pair of gnarled hands.

Such is fame—baseball fame.

When the fans swarmed over to Armory Park the other day to see the first game of the season — the exhibition contest with the Boston Americans — they beheld a green sward that looked to be in mid-season condition. The infield and outfield had been raked, seeded and rolled. The whitewash brush had been applied on the foul lines, and everything was in readiness for the gladiators to do battle.

Over near third base, with his rake in his hands, stood old Charlie Maddock, the dean of baseball. The green diamond and verdant outfield were the work of his hands.

Dubbie Shea, who is playing with the Toronto Night Owls, and who will be seen with the Athletics in the Midland League this year.

Found Recollection

Time was when the appearance of Maddock before a multitude of fans was the signal for an outburst of cheers. In those days he never thought he would ever be a ground-keeper, for the mayors of cities, lieutenant-governors and cabinet ministers paid him homage.

Others prepared the grounds on which Maddock cavorted. He was banqueted and lionized for his great work behind the bat, his mighty swats and his lightning throws to the bases.

But at that, old Charlie is not the man to disdain an honest occupation. He is happier as a groundkeeper than he would be in a more exalted position in any other field of human endeavour, for he loves baseball so well he simply can't stay away from the field.

Charlie in Guelph

Charlie Maddock made his great reputation in Canada from 1870 to 1875. It was as a member of the Guelph Maple Leafs, who no one year won the championship of the world, that the great catcher earned his fame. Those who are conversant with the early history of baseball and have followed it in its evolution from the old game of rounders, will remember the Maple Leafs of Guelph, Ontario.

The club took its name from the national emblem of Canada and for a number of years it made baseball history.

So famous did the team become that though the town of Guelph is scarcely on the map and contains but 10,000 inhabitants it was not infrequent to see 15,000 and 20,000 people at a game. When Harry Wright and the Boston team would come to town the mayor would declare a half holiday, every shop keeper would close his store and the people would move en masse to the game. To swell the multitude the farmers would drive in for miles around and the railroads would bring in a dozen excursion trains from a radius of 100 miles.

Big Crowds Then

This was in the days when Anson was playing on the sand lots and Al Spaulding was at the head of the Chicago Club. Spaulding and his Windy City aggregation drew as big crowds as the Beaneaters and Mike Lynch and the old Metropolitans of New York never failed when they landed in Guelph to bring out thousands of fans.

In these days Maddock caught with bare hands and without a pad, for the present day catching paraphernalia had not been invented, and he had to handle speed, too. Goldsmith and Billy Smith had as much "smoke" as big Jim Wiggs or Ned Crane and when a foul tip put old Charlie to the bad the fans just waited till he came to, for he had no assistant. Cold water was thrown into his face and when he recovered he got up, shook himself like a gridiron warrior and began to catch again.

Maddock was to the Maple Leafs what Silver Flint was to Chicago — the backbone of the team. He had the courage of a lion and the gameness of a bulldog. With hands swollen and bleeding from the battering of the pitchers he hung on, even if the game went fifteen or more innings and never once did he show the white feather.

Big Doings

When the Maple Leafs won the championship there were great doings in Guelph. The municipal council "resolved," the citizens turned out in parades with half a dozen bands, and Maddock was offered everything within the corporation limits.

In the early 80's he slowed down and quit playing the game. He couldn't remain away from the grounds and so he became groundkeeper for the Toronto club in the Eastern League. After filling similar positions in several other cities he went to Cleveland five years ago and remained there till this summer when Somers sent him to Toledo.

Bunk Congalton

Maddock has always been loyal to the Canadian ball players who break into the big leagues in the United States. He brought out "Bunk" Congalton, a Guelph boy, last year with the Boston Americans and now with Columbus; and years ago he placed Dan O'Connor with the Louisville club in the old American Association. O'Connor was also a Guelph product and would have developed into a great first baseman had it not been for his habits. The original "Tip" O'Neil, the famous outfielder of the St. Louis Browns in the days of Comiskey, was another Canadian product.

"I am 59 years of age," said old Charlie the other day, as he plied the rake between second and third base to keep Jap Barbeau from putting the boots in to grounders with runners on third, "and I can do as big a day's work as I ever could. I am getting a little stiff in the joints and my eyesight is not as keen as it once was, but otherwise I am as good a man as I was back in '75."

Just then Fred Abbott, who was hitting fungo to the outfield, met the ball a little too high and sent a hot grounder in the direction of Maddock. Charlie dropped the rake and scooped the ball in with his bare hands, and did it with more grace and agility than many of the young gaters who are earning their bread in the American Association.

Coming to the Reunion

"There's going to be an old boys' reunion in Guelph this summer," continued the veteran, and they are sending invitations all over America to find what's left of the old Maple Leaf champions. They intend to have a game and are figuring on me to do the catching. I will go if the Toledo team is on the road that week."

As Maddock talked of the old days a dreamy look came into his eyes, and he spoke affectionately of his old opponents, most of whom have passed away.

"There were no spiking, bulldozing nor rowdyism in those days," he continued. "We fought every inch of the way, but we played the game squarely. How time flies. It seems but yesterday, and yet it was before these chaps were born," and he pointed toward a bunch of Armour's recruits.

Reveries of the Past

Maddock is perhaps the greatest baseball fan in the United States. He loves the game so well that in the five years he was in Cleveland he never missed a single contest, and he would go without a meal to see a game. As he stands quietly in the background, pushed there by younger men, visions of the old days come back to him. The mad yelling of the fans is but an echo of other scenes. The pictures of Jimmy Galvin, of Fred Dyson, of Charlie Radbourne come back to him and he hears his name coming in a mighty chorus from 20,000 throats. His two-bagger in the eighth has just sent two runners scampering across the pan and the score is now 3 to 2 in his team's favour. As he pulls up at second base the din is terrific, and he is compelled to doff his cap to the wildly enthusiastic multitude. What does it matter if Smoot made the hit and the scene has shifted from Guelph to Toledo? The game is the same, the noise is the same and the result is the same.

Can you blame old Charlie if he allows himself occasionally to lapse into a reverie?

MR. GEO. STEVENS TO MANAGE SIX-DAY GRIND IN ST. KITTS; LOCAL WALKERS TO START

Arrangements have been completed for a big six-day walking race at St. Catharines, Ont., commencing May 18th and ending up on Saturday, May 23rd. Mr. George Stevens, who managed the remarkably successful grind held here recently, will be manager and referee of the affair, which should insure the success of the meet and give the St. Catharines people the best week's sport they have ever seen there.

The race will be held in the skating rink, and the walkers will have to go three hours each night for the first five nights and finish with a nine-hour grind on Saturday. The limit has been fixed at 120 miles for the twenty-four hours, which means that the men will have to travel at a five mile per hour clip all the way, which will make an even better race than the one held here, where the limit was but four and a half per hour and two ten hour periods, had the effect of slowing up the pace considerably. The money division will also be better. The walkers get fifty per cent of the gate receipts as in the local walk, but their shares will be divided up as follows: first 40 per cent, second 25 per cent, third 15 per cent, fourth 12 per cent, and fifth 8 per cent.

Mr. Stevens, who visited St. Catharines yesterday, says that the St. Kitts people have the walking fever badly and that there will be a dozen St. Catharines men start. Peterborough will be well represented in the race as Charles A. Stevens, the eighteen-year-old boy, who made such a wonderful showing in the Peterborough race, getting fourth in the most classic field which ever started in Canada; Dave Hartley, the holder of the record from Port Hope to Toronto and return, will also start at St. Catharines. They will go into training at once, and as all are in good shape, they should make a fine showing at St. Catharines, although some of the St. Kitts men, who will start, are said to be splendid pedestrians.

With Mr. Stevens as referee there is no doubt of the success of the meeting.

NEW YORK HOD-CARRIER WANTS PLACE ON OLYMPIC TEAM

New York, May 8.—Colleges do not produce all the good athletes of the country.

Nor do gymnasiums or turn vereins.

Witness the success of the Celts A. C., of this city, who do their training on the streets, in the parks and on vacant lots.

Witness the wonderful performances of Jim Crowley, of this city, who bids fair to become a champion runner, now that he has learned a few training rules.

Crowley is a hodcarrier by profession. One day, while hoisting a choice sample of home made mortar to the top of a building he spilled half his load watching a crowd of college boys in baggy linen knee-pants trotting by.

He decided to do that sort of thing himself, and the next Sunday found him in a pair of abbreviated trousers making dizzy whirls around a tennis field, keeping up the gait for a full hour.

He was told to try for membership in the Irish-American Athletic Club, and in their first meet he entered the mile run, winning by such a great margin that it was a shame to take the money.

Crowley's next feat of note was his race in the national cross-country championship last fall. In this race the unknown hod-carrier trudged along on the heels of Bullairs, Eisele, Collins all the way, finishing ahead of the invincible Bonhag and John Joyce, the 1903 hill and dale champion. On the morning of the race Crowley carried the hod as usual and did not "knock off" work until noon. Despite this he came only four—Bullairs, Eisele, Daly and Collins—out of a field of fifty, could outrun the gritty new-comer.

He lost the Yonkers Marathon race because he stopped to drink ice water on the way—and promptly had cramps. Now he's carrying the hod down in Alabama, taking off an hour every day to train for the Olympic game trials in Philadelphia in June.

POLICE TO PROHIBIT BOXING BOUTS IN OTTAWA ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Ottawa, May 8.—Some of the boxing bouts held here lately have been rougher than they should have been, with the result that the Police Commissioners had before them yesterday the advisability, or non-advisability of allowing a bout that is scheduled for Saturday night at the C.A.A.C. here, between Giroux, of Montreal, and Billy Allen, of Ottawa. Just what the result will be is not clear, as the Commission are decided to leave the matter in the Chief's hands, but as he is opposed to rough work, the bouts will, at least, have to be on a gentler scale than former ones, or they will not be allowed.

Yankee Rogers, the well known American wrestler, and his manager W B Naylor, were here lately to see the manager of Hurtubise, the well known Peterborough football player, who, it is said, has decided to turn "pro" in the wrestling game. He will likely meet Rogers in the near future.

Ottawa, May 8.—Later.—The bout between Giroux and Allen will not be permitted by the authorities.

Y.M.C.A. WILL PUT ON FOUR-DAY WALKING RACE FOR JUNIORS

The boys of the junior department will participate in a big four-days walking race, commencing on May 21st. They will walk on the tennis court next the Y M C A building. Five suitable prizes are being offered to the winners, consisting of association watch fobs and pins. The race is open to all boys under 16 years of age. They will walk as follows:

May 21st—After school one hour.
May 22nd—After school one hour.
May 23rd—Saturday morning two hours.
May 25th—Monday morning two hours.

Many boys are already in training and some of them show remarkable speed. The entry fee has been placed at 15 cents. For full particulars see the physical director.

SCHEDULE POSTPONED UNTIL MONDAY

Junior Church League Will Then Draft List of Games

The schedule for the Junior Church Baseball League was to have been drafted last night at a meeting held in the Y.M.C.A., but owing to the absence of several of the officers it was impossible to go ahead with the business. It was decided to postpone the drawing up of the schedule until Monday night. The League will consist of seven teams, St. John's, Knox, All Saints', St. Andrew's, Y.M.C.A. Chieftains, St. Luke's and George street churches.

PORT HOPE SIGNS NEW TWIRLER

Have Secured Jack Wilson, a London Box Artist

Port Hope is evidently determined to repeat its exploit of last year by winning the Midland League championship. Wilson, pitcher, of London, Ont., has been signed. The Free Press has the following to say:—Wee Jack Wilson, the clever local twirler, has signed with the Port Hope team of the Midland League, and leaves to-day for the scene of hostilities. Jack is there with the stuff, and if he gets any show at all will make good. There was a time when John was known as the hoodoo kid—but then that was long ago.

TEN INTERMEDIATES IN SERIES

The Midland League Will Have Four Groups

It is likely the Midland Football League intermediate series will be composed of ten clubs this year, and the schedule will be drawn up to-morrow night. The teams will be: Bowmanville, Oshawa, Cobourg, Peterborough Quakers, Warkworth, Hastings, Keene, Norwood, Havelock, and Campbellford. The series will likely be divided into four groups, two composed of the western teams and two of the eastern the latter three in a group.

THE BASEBALL GAME IS POSTPONED

The Alerts Will Not be Here To-morrow Owing to Wet Grounds

The continuous rain of the past few days has made it necessary to call off the ball game between the Alerts of Toronto and Manager Johnston's Midland Leaguers, which was to have taken place to-morrow afternoon at Riverside Park. The fans will no doubt be disappointed, but there is no help for it as it would be impossible to use the grounds to-morrow. With fine, dry weather all week the park would have been in condition to play on, but the rain has spoiled things, and it will take another week to get the grounds in shape for use. The Alerts will be here a week from Saturday instead of to-morrow, when it is hoped that everything will be ready.

IRISH CANADIANS IN TRAINING FOR MARATHON

Peterborough Indian Mentioned Among The Irishmen in the Despatch.

Toronto, May 8.—The Irish-Canadians who are in training for the Marathon are Tom Longboat, George Adams, Hilton Green, Fred Simpson, the Peterborough Indian; Percy Sellen, Frank Murphy, Will Thomas, Ernie Woods, Claude Pearce, Ray Price and Jim Corkery. The Irish-Canadians will hold another series of handicaps on Saturday afternoon. There will be several new men on hand and any unattached men will be made welcome. The long distance men will run the 6 3-4 mile course. In all about twenty men are expected to take part.

Of course the above despatch is wrong in one particular. Fred Simpson belongs to the Y. M. C. A. Harrier Club, and never was and is not now in any way connected with the I. C. A. C.

MR. RYERSON RITCHIE TO LEAVE FOR BOSTON

Ryerson Ritchie, wise counsellor in a work of well-doing with a large scope, has resigned as secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce and will assume the duties of an office of kindred nature in the city of Boston.

Mr. Ritchie is a specialist in a branch of effort much affected in American cities at the present time and a branch, too, of demonstrated importance and benefit. During a period that is practically coterminous with his incumbency of one of the most conspicuous of unofficial positions in the city, the division, lack of harmony and of united action, the working at cross purposes that formerly hampered effort for Detroit's upbuilding commercially have practically disappeared. Such qualities still have exemplification in some departments of activity, particularly in politics, but harmony and effective combination in effort are now a marked feature of the business life of the town.

This happy change is to be attributed in no small degree to Mr. Ritchie and his experienced and effective leadership in several branches of progressive work for public improvement and a higher civic evolution. Judged by results his Detroit career has been one of large usefulness. He will leave a well organized work to be continued with every prospect of success in other hands, but his departure is to be regretted.—Detroit Free Press.

STRIKES AND SPARES

Geo. Cairns' score of 220 is still high in the competition for the Examiner Trophy at the Peterborough Bowling Club's alleys. Other bowlers are getting good scores. Hematade's 214 being the nearest to the high mark.

Diamond Dustings

Sam Crawford, of the Detroit Tigers, gives a good reason for the continued success of Cy Young, who is now in his nineteenth year as a pitcher. "Young has lasted so long, I think," says Sam, "because he seldom uses a curve ball, and when he does pitch one it is just a little twister. The curve wears a man's arm out more quickly than does speed. Young depends almost solely on his speed and control. If he had used a curve ball the way the average pitcher does, I don't think he would be up there to-day the way he is."

A full practice of the T.A.S. baseball team is called for Saturday afternoon at 2.30 at their field. The following scrub teams will play a practice game and any other members of the club who are there will be given a chance of a workout as well:

Regulars—Doherty 3b, Cahill ss, Derocher lf, O Giroux c, C Lacombe 2b, H O'Brien 1b, V Corkery rf, J O'Brien cf, C Hayes p.

Yannigans—Callaghan 2b, A Quirk 3b, G McFadden c, J Davis 1b, M Quirk lf, C Giroux ss, J Devlin rf, F Whaley or F Hickey cf, H Quisland p.

• • • •

Weather permitting, the Strathconas and Karnots will play an exhibition game at Nicholls Oval to-morrow, commencing at 2.30 o'clock.

• • • •

There were no games in the big leagues yesterday owing to wet grounds on all the circuits.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

That Art Edmunds, Toronto, the Pocket Hercules, is in grand shape for his go with young Muldoon of New York in the Labour Temple here Saturday night, was proven by the ease with which he threw Jack Wilson, of Peterborough, a welter weight, in Peterborough last night. Edmunds was to throw Wilson in 15 minutes or forfeit $25. He toyed with him for eight minutes, wriggling out of every hold Wilson could get, and then slammed him down for the fall. Edmunds was in grand form, and his speed electrified everybody.—Toronto Star.

WILL OPEN THE SEASON PROPERLY

Peterborough Ball Club Intend to Have a Procession on Opening Day.

Manager Johnston of the Peterboroughs is contemplating opening the Midland Baseball League in Peterborough on May 25 in regulation "big league" fashion. Although no arrangements have as yet been made, the Peterboroughs are planning to have a procession consisting of the Peterborough and Port Hope players, headed by the band. This would be a fitting "send-off" to the season, which promises to be the most successful in the history of the city, and should prove an interesting feature, seeing that the opening takes place on a holiday. Some of the prominent public men will be asked to take a hand in the opening ceremonies.

BRITISH DIPLOMACY, 1820-1903.

By N. A. Howard Moore.

In 1854, when the generation of the children of the revolutionary times had almost passed away, a generation imbued with the national characteristic of bargaining and bartering, held sway. Lord Elgin and Sir Francis Hincks initiated a "give and take," or Reciprocity Treaty, to continue in force for ten years and further, until one year's notice to terminate it should be given by either party. Many concessions were given on each side and enjoyed, but during the Civil War of 1861-65, the sympathy of very limited portions of the British and Canadian communities with the South was assumed by the Northern States to be universal, and the escape of the "Alabama" and a few other privateers from British waters rekindled the almost forgotten embittered relations of the earlier years of the century; and in a spirit of retaliation, the United States gave the notice which put an end to this treaty. The Washington Treaty of 1871 admitted Great Britain's liability for "Alabama" claims, and provided for an Arbitration to settle the damages, subsequently awarded and paid. Among the several items which the United States assumed to concede was the right of free navigation of the Yukon, Porcupine and Stikeine Rivers in Alaska—which Great Britain already then possessed, under a treaty with Russia of 1825. Sections of this treaty were abrogated by the United States in 1885.

When the above treaty was about to be negotiated, the British Government was urged by Canada to press her claim for compensation for the "negligence and want of due diligence" on the part of the United States in not preventing the Fenian invasion in 1866 and 1870, which cost the Dominion of Canada $1,605,000. The High Commissioner for the United States said that "the claims did not commend themselves to their favour." To this denial of international justice to Canada, the British Commissioners submitted, and the final ruling, in the words of the Colonial Secretary, was equally curt: "Canada could not reasonably expect that this country should, for an indefinite period, incur the constant risk of serious misunderstanding with the United States."

The unfriendly feeling towards Canada, manifested by the United States in the carrying out of the treaty, was illustrated by the numerous evasions in the workings of the officers whose duty it was to see the treaty honourably fulfilled. The cases in which fish was contained were taxed, although they could not be used again.

In 1874, another treaty to promote friendly and reciprocal trade relations was arranged by the late Sir E. Thornton, and the late Hon. George Brown, on behalf of Canada, and the late Hon. Hamilton Fish on the part of the United States. The navigation of the canals, rivers and lakes adjacent to each other, fishing privileges, reciprocal registry of each other's shipping, and the provision of a Joint Commission for the carrying out of the provisions of this treaty. The draft treaty was accepted by Great Britain and Canada, but rejected by the Senate of the United States.

Another effort was made in 1888 to settle the Fishery and other disputes, by the agreement of another treaty, arranged by the High Commissioners of Great Britain, Canada and the United States, but again the Senate of the Republic declined to ratify it.

By the Ashburton Treaty of 1842, about 4,489,600 acres of Canadian territory was transferred to the United States, which the "Franklin's Red Line Map" of 1782 would have sustained Great Britain's claim to. By the same treaty, the boundary line described in the treaties of 1782, 1783 and 1814 was abandoned, and a strip of Canadian territory was handed over to the United States, varying from one mile to one mile and a half and over 150 miles long, between the Connecticut and the St. Lawrence Rivers, because the United States desired to retain Rouse's Point, on Lake Champlain. Owing to the incompleteness in the Joint Commissioners' description of the boundary line of 1822, "A large island in dispute in the passage between Lake Huron and Lake Superior, known as St George's, or Sugar Island, was given to the United States" by the same treaty.

In 1846 several million acres of territory in Oregon, along with the British settlers and traders, and a sea coast of about six degrees of latitude on the Pacific Ocean, with good harbours for naval Stations, was given away in the same way. And by Great Britain limiting the scope of the reference to the German Emperor in 1871, to only two of the Vancouver Channels, Canada was arbitrated out of the Island of San Juan.

In the original negotiation in 1782 and 1783 a set of maps known as "Mitchell's Map" and these were supplemented by copies made by Franklin and others with "a red line," drawn across the maps, where the proposed boundaries were to be, and everyone of these has disappeared from the departments at Washington, and even the copies, which were deposited in the Archives des Affaires Etrangeres at Paris, in 1782 and 1783. In 1852 these maps were found there by Dr. Jared Spark, of Harvard University. Still when these maps were wanted in later years everyone of them had disappeared. In 1840 the British Commissioners reported to the Foreign Office as follows: "It has apparently been the policy of the American official agents to substitute fancy for reality, and to endeavour to boldly put forward as fact, a state of things which was for the most part hypothetical and conjectural, in order to draw attention from the real British claim."—N. A.—Boundary papers, pp. 42-45.

In the negotiations re the Alaskan Boundary the United States, in 1893, brought forward some falsified and interpolated translations of Russian documents and of the British-Russian treaty of 1825, and when the British protested they quietly withdrew them. Canada has received several "Baptisms of Blood" through filibustering raids, organised by citizens of the United States, not from any international enmity which might exist between Canada and the Republic but solely because of the colonial relations which existed between the motherland and Canada. The American invasion of 1775-76, 1812-14, 1837-38, as well as the Fenian Raids of 1866-70-71, were undertaken in the hope of striking an effective blow at the most vulnerable part of the British Empire. Has anyone ever heard of compensation to Canada for these invasions of her territory? Nay! When, in the Fenian Raid, the ring-leaders were caught redhanded and brought up for trial, Congress requested their release and pardon, which was at once done.

In later years (1887) some American statesmen have arisen, who are afraid to speak out boldly what the feeling between the two countries should be. The Hon. T. F. Bayard wrote to Sir Charles Tupper, 31st May, 1887, reciprocating the feeling of amity and peaceful neighbourliness and nearly thirty years previous. Hon. J. H. Grey said, "Captious objections, fancied violations and insults, should be discountenanced; and above all there should be an abstinence from attributing to either nation, or people, as a national feeling, the spirit of aggression. Every friend of humanity would regret further misunderstanding between Great Britain and the United States. The march of improvement which is to bring the broad regions of North America, between the Atlantic and the Pacific within the pale of civilization, is committed, by Providence to their direction. Fearful will be the responsibility of that nation which mars so noble a heritage."

It will take too long to dwell on the Alaskan Boundary dispute, but as all your readers are aware, Canada suffered again, and even in this enlightened age, when the diplomats of England must have known the existence of certain maps and Treaties. Our Commissioners, Hon. Messrs. Jette and Aylesworth, returned on the 19th October, 1903, to sign the award. Their own words are: "We urged our views as strongly as we were able, but we have been compelled to witness the sacrifice of the interests of Canada. We were powerless to prevent it, though satisfied that the course which the majority was determined to pursue in respect to the matters above specially referred to ignored the just rights of Canada." Since that award has been given Great Britain has conceded to Canada the right to negotiate treaties, the interests of which lie altogether within Canadian rights. One writer has put it in these words: "The modern Imperialism which is sowing the seeds of a greater United Britain, will, it is hoped hereafter bring forth Empire—fruit not to be repented of. May it also produce a beneficent harvest of peaceful and neighbourly international relations between Great Britain, Canada and the United States. But that Canada's share therein shall be assured and real, it should be an essential condition in any Empire—compact for the more complete consolidation of our Greater United Britain, that in all diplomatic negotiations, and treaty-adjustments with the Government of the United Canada, as the only nation-community of Greater Britain most affected by the international policy of her neighbour nation, shall have an advisory and, in matters affecting Canadian interests, a controlling diplomatic influence.' I cannot close without saying that British and American Statesmen have conceded that Canada is a colony not to be ignored and that the forest-axe, the plough-share and the sowing and reaping machines, are Canada's indigenous and cherished weapons; and armed with them and skilled in their use, she challenges her neighbour nation, and in fact, the world, to a strenuous and scientific warfare for supremacy on the farm — battle fields of nature. Nor has Canada's daughter-love been weakened by the former indifference, diplomatically, of the Motherland. Canada is the most loyal branch of the grand old oak whose roots are well anchored in good old England and branching out to all the corners of the earth and compose "a greater Empire than has ever been."

SOFT GLOSSY HAIR

It can Only be had Where There is no Dandruff

Any man or woman who wants soft, glossy hair must be free of dandruff, which causes falling hair. Since it has become known that dandruff is a germ disease, the old hair preparations, that were mostly scalp irritants, have been abandoned, and the public, barbers and doctors included, have taken to using Newbro's Herpicide, the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ. E. Dodd, Dickinson, N. D., says: "Herpicide not only cleanses the scalp from dandruff and prevents the hair falling out, but promotes a new growth. Herpicide keeps my hair very glossy. METHODIST POINT OF VIEW.

Conference Expresses Opinion on Present Day Questions.

Nelson, B.C., May 9.—The District Methodist Conference unanimously passed the following resolution after a long and animated debate:

That, having regard to social and political conditions, we believe there is a great need for a very emphatic statement concerning the relations of the Methodist Church and the people the church represents to these great and fundamental questions.

(a) In relation to political life and conditions, we believe the laxness and the indifference of the majority of Christian people to the great political issues is most serious. It is a question whether the responsibility for much of the political corruption should not be placed upon those who seem most to deplore their existence, because of their failure to bring upon the political representatives the influence of their personal interest and activity.

(b) In relation to social questions, we believe that very much of the social unrest that prevails to-day is alien to the Church of God and is serious in its tendencies. Further, that social and economic movements are largely out of sympathy with the church's activity. We believe that much of this might be corrected would the church at large and the Christian people in general take a more active and intelligent interest in these questions.

"SPRING FEVER"

The need of a spring medicine seems to be universal. This is due to the fact that during the winter the blood becomes impure on account of the hearty food eaten. This causes that tired, weary, all-gone, don't-care-to-work feeling which is so prevalent at this time of year.

Mr. H. Langley, Hamilton, Ont. writes:—"I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a spring tonic, and I find it the best thing I can take. It builds me right up and I use it every spring. It is excellent for the blood."

By REX E. BEACH.

Copyright, 1905, by Rex E. Beach.

This is a story of that great north country of which it has been said, "There's never a law of God or man runs north of fifty-three;" a tale of impetuous emotion, of brute strength and courage, of swift and passionate love and hate; a tale vigorous, forceful and absorbing, which tells itself without fine words; a story of the hunger for gold and the hunger of man for woman, brooking no interference or rivalry, going straight for its object, as did the primitive man before the time of laws and conventionalities; of civilized man turned back to savagery and losing no manhood in the turning. Tarry awhile, O reader, with these rugged men of Nome, and you shall be refreshed and strengthened in their company.

CHAPTER I.

GLENISTER gazed out over the harbor agleam with the lights of anchored ships, then up at the crenelated mountains, black against the sky. He drank the cool air burdened with its taints of the sea, while the blood of his boyhood leaped within him.

"Oh, it's fine—fine," he murmured, "and this is my country—my country, after all, Dex. It's in my veins, this hunger for the north. I grow. I expand."

"Careful you don't bust," warned Dextry. "I've seen men get plumb drunk on mountain air. Don't expand too strong in one spot." He went back abruptly to his pipe, its villainous fumes promptly averting any danger of the air's too tonic quality.

"Gad, what a smudge!" sniffed the younger man. "You ought to be in quarantine."

"I'd ruther smell like a man than talk like a kid. You desecrate the hour of meditation with rhapsodies on nature when your aesthetics ain't honed up to the beauties of good tobacco."

The other laughed, inflating his deep chest. In the gloom he stretched his muscles restlessly, as though an excess of vigor filled him.

They were lounging upon the dock, while before them lay the Santa Maria ready for her midnight sailing. Behind slept Unalaska, quaint, antique and Russian, resting amid the fogs of Bering sea. Where a week before mild eyed natives had dried their cod among the old bronze cannon now a frenzied horde of gold seekers paused in their rush to the new El Dorado. They had come like a locust cloud, thousands strong, settling on the edge of the Smoky sea, waiting the going of the ice that barred them from their golden fleece—from Nome the new, where men found fortune in a night.

The mossy hills back of the village were ridged with graves of those who had died on the out trip the fall before, when a plague had gripped the land, but what of that? Gold glittered in the sands, so said the survivors. Therefore men came in armies. Glenister and Dextry had left Nome the autumn previous, the young man raving with fever. Now they returned to their own land.

"This air whets every animal instinct in me," Glenister broke out again. "Away from the cities I turn savage. I feel the old primitive passions, the fret for fighting."

"Mebbe you'll have a chance."

"How so?"

"Well, it's this way. I met Mexico Mullins this mornin'. You mind old Mexico, don't you—the feller that relocated Discovery claim on Anvil creek last summer?"

"You don't mean that 'tinhorn' the boys were going to lynch for claim jumping?"

"Identical! Remember me tellin' you about a good turn I done him once down Guadalupe way?"

"Greaser shooting scrape, wasn't it?"

"Yep. Well, I noticed first off that he's gettin' fat—high livin' fat, too, all in one spot, like he was playin' both ends agin the center. Also he wore di'mon's fit to handle with ice tongs.

"Says I, lookin' at his side elevation, 'What's accented your middle syllable so strong, Mexico?'

"'Prosperity, politics an' the Waldorf-Astorier,' says he. It seems Mex hadn't forgot old days. He claws me into a corner an' says, 'Bill, I'm goin' to pay you back for that Moralez deal.'

"'It ain't comin' to me,' says I. 'That's a bygone.'

"'Listen here,' says he, an', seein' he was in earnest, I let him run on.

"'How much do you value that claim o' yourn at?'

"'Hard tellin',' says I. 'If she holds out like she run last fall, there'd ought to be a million clear in her.'

"'How much 'll you clean up this summer?'

"'Bout four hundred thousand, with luck.'

"'Bill,' says he, 'there's hell a-poppin', an' you've got to watch that ground like you'd watch a rattlesnake. Don't never leave 'em get a grip on it or you're down an' out.'

"He was so plumb in earnest it scared me up, 'cause Mexico ain't a gabby man.

"'What do you mean?' says I.

"'I can't tell you nothin' more. I'm puttin' a string on my own neck sayin' this much. You're a square man, Bill, an' I'm a gambler, but you saved my life once, an' I wouldn't steer you wrong. For God's sake, don't let 'em jump your ground, that's all.'

"'Let who jump it? Congress has give us judges an' courts an' marshals'—I begins.

"'That's just it. How you goin' to buck that hand? Them's the best cards in the deck. There's a man comin' by the name of McNamara. Watch him close. I can't tell you no more. But don't never let 'em get a grip on your ground.' That's all he'd say."

"Bah! He's crazy! I wish somebody would try to jump the Midas. We'd enjoy the exercise."

"We'll have to get aboard," said Dextry.

"Sh-h! What's that?" the other whispered.

At first the only sound they heard was a stir from the deck of the steamer. Then from the water below them came the rattle of rowlocks and a voice cautiously muffled.

"Stop! Stop there!"

A skiff burst from the darkness, grounding on the beach beneath. A figure scrambled out and up the ladder leading to the wharf. Immediately a second boat, plainly in pursuit of the first one, struck on the beach behind it.

As the escaping figure mounted to their level the watchers perceived with amazement that it was a young woman. Breath sobbed from her lungs, and, stumbling, she would have fallen but for Glenister, who ran forward and helped her to her feet.

"Don't let them get me," she panted.

He turned to his partner in puzzled inquiry, but found that the old man had crossed to the head of the landing ladder up which the pursuers were climbing.

"Just a minute, you there! Back up or I'll kick your face in!" Dextry's voice was sharp and unexpected, and in the darkness he loomed tall and menacing to those below.

"Get out of the way. That woman's a runaway," came from the one highest on the ladder.

"So I jedge."

"Sh broke qu"—

"Shut up!" broke in another. "Do you want to advertise it? Get out of the way, there, yo blame fool! Climb up, Thorsen." He spoke like a bucko mate, and his words stirred the bile of Dextry.

"This way! Follow me!" shouted the mate, making up the bank for the shore end of the wharf.

"You'd better pull your freight, miss," Dextry remarked. "They'll be here in a minute."

"Yes, yes! Let us go! I must get aboard the Santa Maria. She's leaving now. Come, come!"

Glenister laughed as though there were a humorous touch in her remark, but did not stir.

"I'm gettin' awful old an' stiff to run," said Dextry, removing his mackinaw, "but I allow I ain't too old for a little diversion in the way of a rough house when it comes nosin' around." He moved lightly, though the girl could see in the half darkness that his hair was silvery.

"What do you mean?" she questioned sharply.

"You hurry along, miss. We'll toy with 'em till you're aboard." They stepped across to the dockhouse, backing against it. The girl followed.

Again came the warning blast from the steamer and the voice of an officer:

"Clear away that stern line!"

"Oh, we'll be left!" she breathed, and somehow it struck Glenister that she feared this more than the men whose approaching feet he heard.

"You can make it all right," he urged her roughly. "You'll get hurt if you stay here. Run along and don't mind us. We've been thirty days on shipboard and were praying for something to happen." His voice was boyishly glad, as if he exulted in the fray that was to come, and no sooner had he spoken than the sailors came out of the darkness upon them.

During the space of a few heartbeats there was only a tangle of whirling forms with the sound of fist on flesh, then the blot split up, and forms plunged outward, falling heavily. Again the sailors rushed, attempting to clinch. They massed upon Dextry, only to grasp empty air, for he shifted with remarkable agility, striking bitterly, as an old wolf snaps. It was baffling work, however, for in the darkness his blows fell short or overreached.

Glenister, on the other hand, stood carelessly, beating the men off as they came to him. He laughed gloatingly, deep in his throat, as though the encounter were merely some rough sport. The girl shuddered, for the desperate silence of the attacking men terrified her more than a din, and yet she stayed, crouched against the wall.

Dextry swung at a dim target and, missing it, was whirled off his balance. Instantly his antagonist grappled with him, and they fell to the floor, while a third man shuffled about them. The girl throttled a scream.

"I'm goin' to kick 'im, Bill," the man panted hoarsely. "Le' me fix 'im." He swung his heavy shoe, and Bill cursed with stirring eloquence.

"Ow! You're kickin' me! I've got 'im safe enough. Tackle the big un."

Bill's ally then started toward the others, his body bent, his arms flexed, yet hanging loosely. He crouched beside the girl, ignoring her, while she heard the breath wheezing from his lungs; then silently he leaped. Glenister had hurled a man from him, then stepped back to avoid the others, when he was seized from behind and felt the man's arms wrapped about his neck, the sailor's legs locked about his thighs. Now came the girl's first knowledge of real fighting. The two spun back and forth so closely intwined as to be indistinguishable, the others holding off. For what seemed many minutes they struggled, the young man striving to reach his adversary, till they crashed against the wall near her and she heard her champion's breath coughing in his throat at the tightening grip of the sailor. Fright held her paralyzed, for she had never seen men thus. A moment and Glenister would be down beneath their stamping feet—they would kick his life out with their heavy shoes. At thought of it the necessity of action smote her like a blow in the face. Her terror fell away, her shaking muscles stiffened, and before realizing what she did she had acted.

The seaman's back was to her. She reached out and gripped him by the hair, while her fingers, tense as talons, sought his eyes. Then the first loud sound of the battle arose. The man yelled in sudden terror, and the others as suddenly fell back. The next instant she felt a hand upon her shoulder and heard Dextry's voice.

"Are ye hurt? No? Come on, then, or we'll get left." He spoke quietly, though his breath was loud, and, glancing down, she saw the huddled form of the sailor whom he had fought.

"That's all right. He ain't hurt. It's a Jap trick I learned. Hurry up!"

They ran swiftly down the wharf, followed by Glenister and by the groans of the sailors in whom the lust for combat had been quenched. As they scrambled up the Santa Maria's gangplank a strip of water widened between the boat and the pier.

"Close shave, that," panted Glenister, feeling his throat gingerly, "but I wouldn't have missed it for a spotted pup."

"I've been through b'iler explosions and snowslides, not to mention a trifflin' jail delivery, but for real sprightly diversions I don't recall nothin' more pleasin' than this." Dextry's enthusiasm was boylike.

"What kind of men are you?" the girl laughed nervously, but got no answer.

They led her to their deck cabin, where they switched on the electric light, blinking at each other and at their unknown guest.

They saw a graceful and altogether attractive figure in a trim short skirt and long tan boots. But what Glenister first saw was her eyes, large and gray, almost brown under the electric light. They were active eyes, he thought, and they flashed swift, comprehensive glances at the two men. Her hair had fallen loose and crinkled to her waist, all agleam. Otherwise she showed no sign of her recent ordeal.

Glenister had been prepared for the type of beauty that follows the frontier—beauty that may stun, but that has the polish and chill of a new ground bowie. Instead this girl with the calm, reposeful face struck a note almost painfully different from her surroundings, suggesting countless pleasant things that had been strange to him for the past few years.

Pure admiration alone was patent in the older man's gaze.

"I make oration," said he, "that you're the gamest little chap I ever fought over, Mexikin, Injun or white. What's the trouble?"

"I suppose you think I've done something dreadful, don't you?" she said. "But I haven't. I had to get away from the Ohio tonight for—certain reasons. I'll tell you all about it tomorrow. I haven't stolen anything, nor poisoned the crew—really I haven't." She smiled at them, and Glenister found it impossible not to smile with her, though dismayed by her feeble explanation.

"Well, I'll wake up the steward and find a place for you to go," he said at length. "You'll have to double up with some of the women, though. It's awfully crowded aboard."

She laid a detaining hand on his arm. He thought he felt her tremble.

A MAN'S POCKETS.

What on Earth Does He Want With Eighteen of Them?

The great fundamental difference between the modern woman and the modern man is this—that whereas the raiment of the modern woman has no pockets at all the raiment of the modern man has nothing else.

Indeed, a man may be defined as an animal with a passion for pockets. If you were asked to say offhand how many pockets you possess at a given moment, you would be stumped.

It would be necessary to make out an inventory. In the first place, there are at least five in your overcoat. There are at least five more in your lounge jacket, four in your waistcoat and four in your trousers. You have therefore at least eighteen pockets.

Now, it is absurd to say that any man needs eighteen pockets. Why, it is almost a set of pigeonholes! They ought to be numbered or lettered. Often a man loses his railway ticket, and after paying excess fare he finds it hidden in one of his dozen and a half pockets. It takes some time to search carefully in eighteen little bags.

Men carry a great deal of rubbish in their pockets. There are few of us who do not suffer from accumulations of old letters, paid and unpaid bills, bus and tram tickets, theater vouchers and miscellaneous odds and ends.

We change our flotsam and jetsam from one suit of clothes to another, for we are not happy without unnecessary fragments of paper.

I once knew a man who carried an amazing assortment of useless things in his pockets. He always had a lump of chalk, a piece of string, a small ivory inch rule, a penknife, a pencil and a pair of compasses.

In his pocketbook he carried stamps, sticking plaster, telegraph forms and pins. Another man I know always carries half a dozen silver cigar cases shaped like torpedoes with one cigar in each.

Some men have a mania for carrying enormous bunches of keys. They do not use more than two of them every day, but they are not happy unless they have a key for everything they have ever owned. When they lose their keys, it is a tragedy.

I sometimes wonder why the chancellor of the exchequer does not impose a pocket tax. It would bring in enough revenue to pay for old age pensions. It would be much more profitable than the ancient window tax, for men could live without windows, but they could not possibly exist without pockets.

A pocketless man would be miserable. Try to imagine yourself in clothes without pockets. The imagination boggles at the thought. A coat without pockets would be a monstrosity, before which a man would recoil in terror.

I suspect that the tailor is the first cause of pocketitis. He it is who forces us to submit to the plague of pockets. I appeal to my fellow men to revolt against this sartorial tyranny. Let us establish a pocket limit. Fourteen pockets ought to be enough for any sane man.—James Douglas in London M. A. P.

A "Tin" Wedding.

"What is going on here?" he asked.

"Wedding," whispered the little foreigner in French boots.

"What kind of a wedding?"

"Tin."

"Tin?"

"Yes, monsieur. My brother, Count de Lazam, is marrying ze daughter of ze rich pickle maker. He'll get ze tin. Does monsieur understand?"

And, lighting a silk tipped cigarette, the little man vanished in the crush of society.—Chicago News.

What the Boy Thought.

Dressed in the latest and most approved motor cycling costume, with goggles all complete, the motor cyclist gayly toot-tooted his way by Regent's park toward the zoo. Suddenly he slackened, dismounted and said to a small, grubby urchin, "I say, my boy, am I right for the zoo?" The boy gasped at so strange a sight and thought it must be some new animal for the gardens. "You may be all right if they have a spare cage," he said when he could find his tongue, "but you'd ha' stood a far better chance if you'd 'ad a tail."

EXPLOSIVES.

Dangerous Substances That Are In Almost Constant Use.

Among the many things in almost constant use are some that are more or less dangerous from their explosive properties, properties often entirely unknown to their users.

For examples, chloride of potash lozenges if accidentally brought in contact with an unlighted phosphorous match are dangerous. Bicarbonate of potash if mixed with subnitrate of bismuth, the latter a remedy for indigestion, will explode.

Iodide of nitrogen is highly explosive and is often combined with other drugs. Its use by those ignorant of its danger is a menace.

Sal volatile and chloral hydrate are, under certain conditions, as dangerous as dynamite.

Tincture of iron and dilute aqua regia when mixed, as they often are in medicine, throw off a highly explosive gas, which has frequently shattered the bottle in which the mixture was kept.

One often finds bottles of medicine in which the cork has not been tightly pushed minus the latter or has had a cork pop out of a bottle while held in one's hands without any attempt to remove it on the part of the holder. This always shows that gas is forcing the cork out.

Danger in combs.

Every now and then one reads of celluloid articles, from fancy hair coiffure combs down, catching fire and serious burns or accidents resulting.

It would seem that every one should by this time know that celluloid contains in its composition gun cotton and also camphor, both highly inflammable. No woman wearing celluloid combs or hair ornaments should place her head near an uncovered gas jet or other unprotected light, as celluloid catches fire so quickly and burns so rapidly that it would hardly be possible to avoid serious burns.

TRAVELERS ABROAD.

A Document That Should Be Carried In One's Pocketbook.

Replying to an inquiry about the disposition of the body of an American dying in London, our consul general offers some advice to citizens of this country traveling abroad. He says: "If a citizen of the United States be traveling abroad unaccompanied it would be well for him to carry in his satchel or pocketbook written instructions as to what he desires should be done in the event of anything happening to him. The envelope containing such instructions should be headed, 'Instructions in the event of my death.' Inclosed he should give his home address or the address of a friend in the United States, so that communication could be made, or the address of any friend or business connection on this side could be mentioned with the same object and for the purpose of obtaining necessary funds. I have been informed on credible authority that a person has no legal right to control the disposition of his remains, although I have no doubt relatives or friends would respect the wishes of the deceased. In the event of the death in this country of a person domiciled in the United States at any of the hotels an undertaker is at once called in and the remains removed therefrom, provided always the deceased has had proper medical attendance and that the doctor attending gives a certificate of death. If the death is sudden, the coroner of the district is at once notified and an inquest is held, the body in the meantime being removed to a public mortuary pending result of the inquest. If the verdict of death from natural causes be rendered, the coroner signs an order and gives it to the representative of the deceased, who instructs the undertaker what to do. The transportation of the remains is in the hands of the friends or the representative of the deceased and is not controlled by any local or government authority."

Heat and Cold.

The greatest heat is never found on the equator, but some ten degrees to the north, while more severe cold has been registered in northern Siberia than has been found near the pole.

The First Pawnshop.

The first pawnbroking establishment was that of Freisingen, in Bavaria, opened in 1198. In 1350 there was one at Salins, in Franche-Comte, and in 1361 one was opened in London. None of these was, however, successful. The present Paris Mont de Piete was established in 1777 in the same street where the head office now is.

The Race Horse.

Soap Bubbles.

To make bubbles that can be blown big and will last, take a piece of pure white soap about the size of a walnut and cut it up in a cupful of warm water. Then add a teaspoonful of glycerin. Stir well and blow from a small pipe. Strawberry juice will make pink bubbles and orange juice will make yellow ones.

THE SIMPLE LIFE.

Are We Returning to the Walnut Furniture Age?

We have been told of late that we should presently be afflicted with a revival of the walnut furniture of fifty years ago. There seem really to be no indications that this calamity is to befall us; hence one is inclined to conclude that the rumor is merely the fanciful fruit of a recent reminiscent fondness evinced by certain of our literary men for that period in American life which coincided with the vogue of black walnut. Mr. Howells has for some time made no bones of an apparent conviction that those were the halcyon days of America—the truly representative, honestly American days. In the pages of Scribner's Magazine Henry Fuller has imagined a rich and cultivated western woman who reverts to type after years of travel and sophistication and discards her artistic refinements, one and all, in favor of the monstrous carpets and the "boiled dinners" of the earlier life of the country.

One fancies that Mr. Fuller has made a slight mistake in giving this lady's age as forty. The reversion, if reversion there be, is apt to occur somewhat later. But in hinting that her case is not singular, that by seeking one might find a good many like her, it is quite probable that he is not so far from the mark. The psychology of such instances, however, is likely not to be just what the subjects may think. It may seem to them that what they wish is to go back to a simpler life. Was American life in the walnut period really simpler? That depends on our understanding of the term. Many foolish things have been said about the simple life. There is only one simple life, and that is the unified life, the life set toward and in one purpose and letting the nonessentials go. That sort of life may be possible when one washes one's own dishes, but no one will deny that it was equally possible to Marcus Aurelius. In point of fact, it is possibly more apt to be realized in its perfection in a high and tense state of civilization than not. There are theories and theorists to the contrary, but the practical demonstration of history points to a number of philosophers and also of saints who lived without bondage to the world while making no fuss about wanting to do away with its superfluities.

Australia.

The first civilized settlement in Australia was made at Botany bay in 1788 by some 1,030 persons, mostly convicts. In 1825 Moreton bay, New South Wales, was settled. The settlement of Western Australia dates from 1829. Explorations of Australia began in 1815 and have been kept up at intervals ever since. The greater part of the interior of the continent is little better than desert, being either sand or dense shrub or porcupine bush. In 1875 Giles traversed a territory 2,500 miles in extent which was declared "unfit for human habitation." And yet the artesian well may yet make Australia bloom like a garden.

A Queer Joke.

A resident of Vevey, Switzerland, died some years ago and left a will, in which he bequeathed the whole of his property, of which he was supposed to possess a large amount, to the "local hospital of the town." There being two local medical charities—the town hospital and the Hospice de Samaritan—a suit at law was entered by the former in order to decide its right to the legacy. After considerable expenses had been incurred the dispute was abruptly brought to a close by the discovery that the deceased had indulged in a most unseasonable jest and, in fact, did not possess a penny to bequeath.

Australia's Army and Navy.

Speaking recently at Sydney Mr. Deakin, the Prime Minister of the Commonwealth, said that, as a consequence of the extension of foreign settlement in the Pacific, Australia's isolated position had disappeared. She would lie open to the first comer but for the supremacy of the British navy on the high seass.

It was proposed to expend £430,000 a year on the maintenance of harbor and coast defence, and £230,000 a year on the construction of a local flotilla. The Australian land defence scheme merely meant three weeks' open-air training yearly. The Government expected to enroll 30,000 men annually, so that in three years they would have 80,000 men undergoing training, and in eight years 200,000 men would be available for service. Officers would be chosen according to merit only.

The total naval and military expenditure would not exceed in three years' time £1,800,000 annually. This was an increase of £500,000, as compared with the estimates for the present year, but it meant the establishment of an army of 200,000 men and a flotilla of fifteen harbor and coast defence vessels.

Myra's Sign.

By LULU JOHNSON.

Copyrighted, 1908, by the Associated Literary Press.

Myra came to the doorway of the sod house and looked wistfully across the fields. Far to the southeast a faint plume of smoke showed a bit of rolling ground, and presently she was able to discern a toy train making its progress toward the west. Three puffs of white steam sprang from in front of the cab, and presently there were borne to her ear three faint blasts of the whistle in fit proportion to the absurdly diminutive appearance of the locomotive.

She slipped the big white apron from her trim waist and waved it above her head. Then a single short blast of the whistle announced that her signal had been seen.

Presently the train vanished into another cut in the rolling prairie, but Myra did not return to her work. She remained leaning against the rough hewn doorpost, looking out across the dreary waste of land.

When summer came and the waving grain covered with its velvet pile the gentle undulations, Myra liked to pretend that it was an ocean across which her ship would presently come sailing to its haven of good hope. Dimly against the southern horizon a line of purple against the blue of the sky marked the commencement of the foothills, but to the north, east and west as far as the eye could see there was only the rolling prairie.

Myra hated the low, flat surface even in the summer, when the ocean of grain concealed its nakedness and gave the suggestion of a mystic ocean, and in the early spring, with its broken surface and the brown grass of the fallow fields, her soul revolted at the very sight of the ground. Yet now she leaned against the doorpost and looked across the brown earth to where she knew the single line of the railroad ran.

In the long summer days she had two visits from Jim Purdy, for then it was still light enough when he came past at 6 to wave a signal and to receive the answering toot that was to be heard only when the wind was from the south. At other times only the puff of steam from the whistle told of the signal.

These were about the only visits Myra received. Robert Sackett was a close grained, self contained egotist, and young men were not made welcome at the Sackett quarter section. Purdy had come in spite of the surly reception he had received from the father of the girl he loved. There had been long calls on pleasant summer nights and plans for what they would do when Jim should have completed his probation as engineer and should be given a regular run.

Myra had promised to marry him when all this should come to pass. They would live at the end of the division, where they was a town of 10,000 inhabitants and where the dreary monotony of the plains was broken by the close proximity of the mountains. Yet when Jim had come to claim her hand, aglow with joy over his promotion, she had drawn back.

"I can't leave dad," she explained simply. "Mother told me to take care of him, and I promised her that I would. Promises to the dead can't be broken, Jim."

"But she didn't mean that you must spend your whole life and give up your own happiness just to make Mr. Sackett comfortable," the man denied. "She didn't mean that, Myra. She only meant you were to look after him in a way. Your pa would be just as well satisfied with a hired cook."

Myra shook her head in negation even while she knew that what Jim said was true. In the summer when the crops were in there were half a dozen men to cook for, and from morning until late in the night she toiled in the hot kitchen. In the winter Sackett spent much of his time in the nearest town, some eighteen miles away, leaving Myra alone in the homestead.

It was of these things she thought as she looked out across the billows of unlovely earth and wondered if perhaps the sacrifice was not in vain. It was much as Jim had said—Robert Sackett would be as happy and as comfortable under the ministrations of a hired housewife.

Day after day she had stood in the doorway after Jim's train had passed, wondering if perhaps she had not made more than the sacrifice that her mother had demanded and seeking some sign by which she might be guided. No sign came, however, and there was only the dreary prospect of an unending round of drudgery, with no compensating words of thanks and affection.

Her hands clinched as she thought of the last two years, those years in which she might have been Purdy's wife, when she might have exchanged the dreary round of the quarter section for a cozy home in a town where the Rockies towered above them and all was not flat and deadly monotonous of outline.

She still stood there as the familiar team attached to the heavy farm wagon crept over the edge of the nearest billow of earth. Sackett, in the driver's seat, gave no heed to Myra's signaling, but drove stolidly on until at last he had turned into the home inclosure and lumbered down from the seat, tossing to Myra a couple of letters addressed in Purdy's familiar handwriting.

"It was late when I got through last night," he said sheepishly as he removed with care a demijohn from the wagon box and took it into the barn.

Myra nodded understandingly. It always was late when her father concluded his simple business errands, too late to make it worth while to get back to the homestead that night. He salved his conscience with this time worn fiction and spent a roisterous night at the Eagle hotel. She left him to put up the tired horses, while she hurried into the house to read her letters and prepare dinner.

Her soul stirred at the thought of the drudgery before her young life for the sake of a man who left her alone in the sod house while he spent the night dissipating in town. Jim's pleadings were hard to resist, and as she tucked the letters into her workbox she prayed for a sign for her guidance.

When Sackett came in dinner was smoking on the table, and he pulled up his chair with a grunt of satisfaction. The meal was enlivened by no gossip of the town. Sackett ate in stony silence, now and then regarding his daughter from beneath his bushy eyebrows. Myra's hands clinched under the tablecloth as she noted the sign.

It was a certain indication that he had to confess some indiscretion which he knew he could not conceal from her. The last time it had been the loss of the market money in an effort to beat a card sharper at three card monte.

Sackett carefully finished off a second helping of pie, but he did not push back his chair as a sign that he was through. The wrinkled cheeks reddened under the tan, and his eyes grew small and cunning.

"I got to go to town again tomorrow," he announced. "I met the Widow Lusk, and she says she'll marry me. She don't think it right that you should be left alone so much with no mother to look after you."

"Are you marrying the widow on my account?" asked Myra coldly.

"The widow is a fine woman," declared Sackett, a twinkle of appreciation in his beady eyes. "Of course I'll admit that I kinder like her, but she's right when she says you're left too much alone. I'll drive in tomorrow and bring her out."

"I'll go in with you," announced Myra as she gathered up the plates before her and rose from the table. "I was praying for a sign, but I didn't think that the Widow Lusk would be the sign."

"Sign for what?" asked Sackett curiously.

"A sign that it would be right for me to marry Jim," explained Myra. "He wrote the other day that any time I decided to say 'yes' I only had to build two bonfires where he could see them and be in town the next night when he pulled the eastbound overland over the division. I'm going out to fix the fires now so he'll be expecting me tomorrow."

That night the passengers on the eastbound overland sprang from their seats in alarm as the whistle shrieked demoniacally, and then they braced themselves for the shock of the collision which never came. They could not know that the young engineer had received a sign from Myra and that he knew that her slavery was at an end.

Twain Wasn't Well.

At a dinner to which Mark Twain was invited his name was associated with the toast of "Literature" by an orator, who referred with great eloquence to Homer, Shakespeare, Milton and—Mark Twain. In response the humorist thanked the speaker for his kindly references and excused himself from making a longer speech by saying, "Homer is dead, Shakespeare and Milton are no more, and I—I don't feel very well myself!"

Nan and the Bucket.

There is one particular fever of nonsense which the Princeton Tiger claims the credit of having originated, for in the November issue, 1902, appeared the following verse:

There once was a man from Nantucket
Who kept all his cash in a bucket,
But his daughter, named Nan,
Ran away with a man,
And as for the bucket—Nantucket.

For the next few months Nan, her father and her newly acquired husband encountered a series of the most astonishing adventures in every known hamlet in the country which could be converted into limerick form by the brains of newspaper and magazine writers from sea to sea. By the time Nan came back with a dozen or so additional verses tacked on to her there is reason to wonder in the face of the ordeals to which she had been subjected whether the pecuniary advantage gained by absconding with that bucket repaid her for all that she had been through.—Roy S. Durstine in Bohemian Magazine.

How He Saved Money.

A country politician in Pennsylvania managed to get elected to the legislature at Harrisburg for one term. When he came back he built himself a fine house, costing about $20,000. His old neighbors, who knew he had no money before he went to Harrisburg and who knew the salary of a Pennsylvania legislator, were curious to discover where the returned statesman got means to build the house. So one day a committee waited on the man who built the house, and the spokesman said:

"Jim, it may be none of our business to your thinking, but we think you owe it to us who sent you to the legislature to explain where you got the money with which you built this house. You didn't have a cent before you went to Harrisburg and owed everybody in the place. How about it?"

"Why," said the builder, "it's simple enough. You see, when we were in Harrisburg we didn't keep a hired girl."—Argonaut.

Freaks of the Sea.

The freaks of the sea are the anglers and bat fishes. The people of North Carolina have aptly named the angler the allmouth, for the tail begins where the mouth ends. Inhabiting the north Atlantic, the angler has been given a variety of names. On the Massachusetts coast it is known as goosefish. Rhode Island terms it bellowfish, and Connecticut gives it the cognomen of molligut. Jamaica bay calls it the carpetbagger. England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales all have their local names. The names of the English give to this one fish are expressive of its habits, to say the least. They call it toadfish, frog, fishing frog, devilfish, sea devil, nassfish, monkfish, pocketfish, widegut, kettlemaw and widegap. Thomas Pennant, who in 1776 wrote his "British Zoology," did not like the name of fishing frog, then applied to the fish, so he "changed the old name of fishing frog for the more simple one of angler."

The Way of Humanity.

Human nature is kind and generous, but it is narrow and blind and can only with difficulty conceive anything but what it immediately sees and feels. People would instantly care for others as well as themselves if only they could imagine others as well as themselves. Let a child fall into a river before the roughest man's eyes—he will usually do what he can to get it out, even at some risk to himself, and all the town will triumph in the saving of one little life. Let the same man be shown that hundreds of children are dying of fever for want of some sanitary measures which it will cost him trouble to urge, and he will make no effort, and probably all the town would resist him if he did.—Ruskin.

At the Opera.

"What was the matter with Signor Fenori? He sang the drinking song wretchedly."

"Yes. I think he had been drinking."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:
"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

ALL RUN DOWN
Weak---Nervous---Unstrung.

Thousands get run down and become invalids before they realize anything is wrong. By permitting low vitality to develop, the way is paved for fevers, pneumonia and diphtheria. To put off makes it all the harder to get well. The time to repair the system is right now, before the damage gets any worse. The remedy is Ferrozone; it revitalizes, renews, builds up vitality that outlasts old age.

FERROZONE is a genuine invigorator that banishes weakness, and instils surplus force and vigor into every organ of the body. Ferrozone sharpens the appetite, produces rich nutritious blood, and thereby contributes that sense of buoyancy that adds so enormously to one's pleasure and usefulness in life.

For all forms of debility, weakness, lack of blood or nerve tone, sleeplessness, tiredness and exhaustion, there is no medicine so vitalizing and potent as Ferrozone. Even one trial demonstrates its rapidly and certainty of action.

To restore the energy of youth, to get back your vital stamina and reserve force, there is positively no treatment so certain as Ferrozone. You have only to try Ferrozone to know the enormous benefit it invariably brings to all in poor health.

FERROZONE

Miss Dorothy E. Leduc of Chester gives the following convincing evidence of Ferrozone's power:—"My work compels me to rise early in the morning and work ten hours daily as a saleslady. Last Spring I was run down, lost my color, and fell off in weight. I seemed to lack ambition and the life was out of me. A friend recommended Ferrozone, and I took one tablet after meals with wonderful results. Ferrozone brought back my complexion, and has given me new strength and abundance of energy and spirits. I would advise all young ladies to use Ferrozone."

Mrs. H. G. Wilder of Dexter says:—"My daughter was not very well last Winter, and lost her strength completely when the Spring came. I gave her Ferrozone, and am glad to say it did wonders. After six boxes were used my daughter was strong, and looked the picture of health."

Gave New Strength

FERROZONE
It makes the weak strong, the sick well, and assures lasting good health.

THE CITY'S HEALTH

SKIN ERUPTIONS AND PIMPLES

Disappear Under a Treatment With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There can be health and vigour only when the blood is rich and red. There are thousands of young men just approaching manhood who need the rich, red blood that only Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can make. They have no energy; tire out at the least exertion, and who feel by the time they have done their day's work, as though the day was a week long. In some cases there is a further sign of danger in the pimples and disfiguring eruptions which break out on the face. These are certain signs that blood is out of order and that a complete breakdown may result. In this emergency Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the medicine these young men should take. These pills actually make rich, red blood. They clear the skin of pimples and eruptions and bring health, strength and energy.

Here is the experience of Adolphe Reiland, of St. Jerome, Que., a young man 19 years of age, who says: "For more than a year I suffered from general weakness, and I gradually grew so weak that I was forced to abandon my work as a clerk. My appetite failed me, I had occasional violent headaches and I began to suffer from indigestion. I was failing so rapidly that I began to fear that consumption was fastening itself upon me. Our family doctor treated me but I did not gain under his care. I was in a very discouraged state when a friend from Montreal came to see me. He strongly advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so and inside of three weeks I began to feel better, my appetite began to improve and I seemed to have a feeling of new courage. I continued the pills till I had taken ten boxes and I am now enjoying the best health I ever had. My cure surprised many of my friends who began to regard me as incurable, and I strongly advise other young men who are weak to follow my example and give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial." Bad blood is the cause of all common diseases like anaemia, headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, indigestion, all nervous troubles, general weakness and the special ailments that only women talk know. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the one cure, because they go right to the root of the trouble in the blood. They change the bad blood into good blood, and thus bring health, strength and energy. You can get these pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Having Children's Eyes Examined

People suffer through life with the disadvantage of impared vision as a result of neglect of the eyes in childhood. Children considered dull or effected with brain trouble.

It's a familiar fact that the acuteness of vision varies extremely among adults, and that certain defects of the eye—such as shortsightedness — can be as completely remedied as to restore to the individual almost perfect sight. Now, there exists among children just such differences in the acuteness of vision as is observed in adults, and many of the defects of the eye originate in the failure of parents to appreciate these differences.

It's a pity to put glasses upon a child, but a greater pity to neglect such when the future well-being of the eyes depends upon their help. It's safer to do as many are doing now—having the children's eyes examined to know whether or not glasses are necessary.

Prospects For Peterboro' District Crops This Year On The Whole Are Bright

In order to give its readers some information on the crop conditions in the agricultural districts surrounding the city, the Examiner has made inquiries in the principal centres of the districts, and the results are given below. On the whole, the outlook is reassuring. The fall wheat seems to have wintered well, and nearly all the sections report that the crop will be good, and the same applies to the clover. The rain has delayed seeding operations, although in some sections this department of the farm work had been completed before the downpour.

DOURO FARMERS ARE SATISFIED WITH PROSPECTS

Douro, May 9.—(Special.)—The crop indications in this section are regarded by the farmers of the neighbourhood as very favourable, although the persistent rain of the past few days has set back the seeding operations to some extent. However, the majority of the farmers had their seeding well under way, in fact, some had finished, and the rain will not be the impediment it would have been had it come earlier. The fall wheat looks to be very good and there will be a fine crop of clover. On the whole the outlook is promising.

BAD WEATHER HAS NOT DONE THE SMITH CROPS MUCH GOOD

Smith, May 9.—(Special.)—The bad weather has not done the crops in this section any good, and the prospects are not as bright as they might be, although the farmers are not as yet worrying much. The rain has done harm, and the fall wheat in some places looks to be a little delicate, the indications not pointing to a first-class crop. The clover is holding its own better than has the wheat, and there is little fear of it. With better weather in the next few weeks everything will be all right.

SEEDING HAS BEEN DELAYED OWING TO RAIN IN ENNISMORE

Ennismore, May 9.—(Special.) — Not much seeding has been done in this section so far this season the backward weather having had the effect of postponing operations. As a result of the rain it will not be possible to accomplish much in that line until the middle of next week. The fall wheat crop, as far as can be judged now, will be fair while the clover will be good, although a little of it has been killed. The rain has not been of much benefit, and has wrought harm to crops on low ground.

BRIGHTER OUTLOOK AT INDIAN RIVER THAN LAST SPRING

Indian River, May 9.—(Special.) — The crop outlook in the neighbourhood of this place is much brighter than it was at this time last year, and the farmers are very well satisfied with the prospects. The rain has set back seeding a little, but the farmers are more than half through, and little harm will be done except to the crops on low-lying land. Fall wheat looks to be in excellent shape and has wintered well, while the clover crop will be good.

EVERYTHING IN CROP LINE WILL BE ALL RIGHT AT SPRINGVILLE

Springville, May 9.—(Special.) — On the whole, the outlook for the crops in this district is such as to bring confidence to the farmers that everything will be all right. Of course, the heavy rain has done some damage to the crops on low lands, but it is not irreparable, and the warm weather that is expected after the downpour will be beneficial. The clover crop will be excellent, and from present indications the fall wheat will be a good crop—probably above the average.

DIFFICULT TO MAKE FORECAST OF OUTLOOK FOR SELWYN CROPS

Selwyn, March 9.—(Special.)—It is hard to make an accurate forecast as to the crops in this district, but the farmers are optimistic in spite of the fact that the rain has interfered with seeding operations. In fact, it has been impossible to make much headway with the operations under the existing conditions. However, it is expected that the fall wheat and clover crops will both be good, provided, of course that the present weather does not continue much longer.

NOT FINISHED THE SEEDING AT WARSAW OWING TO WEATHER

Warsaw, May 9.—(Special.)The bad weather this week has resulted in the suppression of seeding operations all over this district, and practically none of the farmers have finished. However, the fall wheat crop will apparently be good, having stood the winter well, and the prospects for the clover are bright, so that a good average here will be attained, at least.

GOOD WEATHER IN OTONABEE ALONE DESIRED

Drummond Station, Otonabee, May 9.—(Special.)—The fall wheat in this district is excellent in many cases. The high winds of a week ago, combined with a few hard frosts, were detrimental to the excellent crop which was promised by the favourable winter. The wheat was by no means winter killed, the April weather being alone responsible for that which is damaged. The low lands are affected by the water. The clover is somewhat thin, the catch being poor. There is, however, every possibility that the clover crop will be a good one in this vicinity.

GALWAY FARMERS WANT TO GET AT THEIR SEEDING

Galway, May 9.—(Special.)—On account of the somewhat backward spring in this district seeding has been delayed. Better weather, however, is anticipated and the farmers expect to be busy next week. Fall wheat and clover have stood the winter fairly well, and unless visited by frost, will turn out all right.

Otonabee Navigation Co's Plans For The Summer And Prospects For Rice Lake

The Otonabee Navigation Company are steadily making arrangements for a good business this summer. Idyl Wyld should be as popular as ever and will receive every attention to make it as pretty a resort as is found on the lake. Mr. Thos. Parker has been appointed in charge of the hotel, and a stronger effort than ever will be made to acquaint the public with the good qualities of Rice Lake.

Mr. John Gillman will be again found at Jubilee Point to welcome the increasing large number of his friends. The Navigation Company reports that the steamer Otonabee has not suffered in the least from her trip to the bottom of the lake at East City dock. It is entirely emptied, the machinery is being oiled and everything will be in shipshape in a short time.

The "Water Lily" will make a daily run to Burnhelgh and return, calling at Mount Julian, Juniper and McCracken's.

The Monarch will have the daily trip to Rice Lake, calling at Jubilee, Gore's Landing, Harwood and Idyl Wyld. The Otonabee will have a towing commission.

The company's plans are nearing development.

REGIMENT DEPUTATION TO VISIT THE CAPITAL

A deputation from city regiments throughout Ontario will go to Ottawa to wait on the Minister of Militia and the Militia Council on Monday with a view to obtaining different arrangements for city regiments in the trip to Quebec. Major Clegg and Major Bennett will represent the 57th Regiment. They will leave on the C.P.R. midnight train tomorrow night.

DASTARDLY ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN

Engine Struck Two Oak Ties On The Track Last Night South Of Downer's Corners And Narrowly Escaped Being Derailed.

HAD MANY PASSENGERS

An unsuccessful attempt was made last night to wreck the 8.40 o'clock express from Belleville by two heavy oak logs thrown across the track near Downer's Corners.

As the train was approaching the city, with its usual large number of passengers from Montreal and other cities in the east, the engine was jarred by some object on the track about 2 rods south of the road which extends east from Downer's Corners. It was just at the junction of the old Lakefield line. Engineer McMahon immediately shut off the steam and when the train had come to a stop, he and Conductor Crosier found the heavy oak ties in front of the pilot.

NARROW ESCAPE

The Enginee's front was covered with mud which the ties had thrown up but otherwise there was no damage done, however it was considered a most fortunate escape. The engine was slowing down a little for the Lock's Bridge, but at that, it was travelling at a fair rate. Had the ties got under the wheels there is no doubt but that a serious accident would have resulted.

The ties were obtained from a number which are piled alongside the track. The police were notified, but it is hardly expected that the perpetrator can be found. The motive can hardly be surmised and it is safe to say that some one with criminal propensities was responsible. It is one of those cowardly, murderous attempts which a railway company find it hard to guard against. This is said to be the third attempt in recent years in that vicinity.

HYDRAULIC LIFT LOCK READY FOR OPERATIONS

The Peterborough lift lock is now ready for operation. The lock has undergone many improvements this spring, including the painting of the interior of the big pontoons. Any time a steamboat gives the necessary signal the big lock will respond.

Chicken Born With Four Legs; Still Living

A calf with two heads was recently referred to in the Examiner as one of the latest monstrosities in the animal kingdom. The next similar case to come to light is chicken with four feet. It was hatched the other day in the coup owned by Mr. Chas. Peters, Brown street, and the little feathered creature still breathes the earthly atmosphere.

INVENTION FOR MENDING STOCKINGS

Produced by Miss Tate, a Local Lady—Patents Secured.

Miss Lucia Tate, a lady born and brought up in this city, and now temporarily residing at the Simcoe street Y.W.C.A., who has been for some years past living in Buffalo, has a prosperous future ahead of her, apparently. This young lady, who is a daughter of a former prominent local civil engineer, will leave on Monday to look after the patents on a machine she has invented to mend stockings, and also to place the sale of the patents or lease the rights for the sale of the same. Miss Tate's invention not only replaces the worn-out feet of old footwear by new ones, but takes away and uses over the cotton or wool yarn from the former, and where and when advisable, uses it again in the new feet. Miss Tate is one of a family of brighthchildren, including Mr. A O Tate, for years private secretary of T O Edison, the electrical wizard, and himself the patentee of several important inventions, and also the sister of Messrs. "Tote" and the late Fred Tate, C.E., all of whom are well known here.

OPENING CHAPTERS OF "THE SPOILERS" TO-DAY

Rex A. Beach's stirring story of "The Spoilers" will appear in the Examiner. The opening chapters may be read to-day. They are an indication of the fascinating character of the whole story which is considered one of the leading novels of the day. The tale tells of life and love in the Yukon, and every chapter of it is interesting. The first should be read in to-day's issue of the Examiner.

Succumbed To Burns Received In "My Valet" Fire

After a week of suffering from the effects of the severe burns received last Saturday in the fire at "My Valet," Charlotte street, Mr. Edward G. Wesley has passed away. His death occurred at the Nichol hospital last night at seven o'clock.

Mr. Wesley was removed to the hospital in an ambulance after the fire, where it was found that his injuries were of a very serious nature.

He made a brave fight for life, but at the advanced age of sixty-nine years the shock was too much for him, and he passed away about seven o'clock last night. He was a much respected man, with a wide circle of friends. He was born in Toronto, and came to Peterborough in 1869. He was married about forty-five years ago to Margaret White.

The deceased leaves to mourn his loss, a wife, four sons and five daughters. The daughters are: Mrs. Geo. Paxman, Misses Ida, Annie, Lilly and Shirley, all of Peterborough.

The sons are: Walter, Charles and George, of this city, and Frederick, of Ottawa.

The late Mr. Wesley was a member of St. John's church. The funeral will take place from the family residence, Simcoe and Stewart streets, on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, to the Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Canon Davidson will conduct the funeral services.

FIFTY PERMITS ISSUED THIS YEAR

Twice as Many as on May 9 Last Wear—Permits During the Week.

So far this season fifty building permits have been taken out at the City Clerk's office. Just twice as many as had been taken out on May 9th of last year. However the system did not come into force until May 1st last year and thus twenty-nine permits came in in nine days while only twice that number have been issued in four months so the comparison is not as good as it looked at first sight. Only five permits have been obtained during the past week, as follows:—

Chas H Huffman, altering 196 Dalhousie street, cost $175.

SOME HANDSOME CATTLE ON THE MARKET

The market frequenters to-day saw a pair of handsome steers weighed on the public scales. They were fed by Mr. James Stewart, of Otonabee, and were greatly admired. A two-year-old weighed 1340 pounds, both of them tipping the scales at 2680 lbs. They were purchased by Mr. James Goselin, butcher.

East City Old Resident Has Honour Of Being The Father Of The Board Canoe

While Peterborough is recognized the world over as being the home of the canoe, it is almost unknown that the idea of a board canoe originated in the mind of Mr. John Smith Stephenson, East City, and that he was the first to manufacture it. The history of the canoe, as Mr. Stephenson tells it, from his own life and experience, is one of more than ordinary interest.

In a recent issue of the Vancouver World, Bonnycastle Dale, in an article under the heading, "Afloat and Afield," asserts that "the original model of a board canoe was made at Rice Lake." An Examiner representative called Mr. Stephenson's attention to this statement in an interview with him yesterday afternoon. The reporter found him in his workshop at the rear of his residence, 371 Burnham street, East City, engaged in building a canoe for one of the city's retired business men.

Statement Untrue

Mr. Stephenson, after hearing the reference read, laconically exclaimed, "That's a lie," meaning that the writer was not in possession of the facts connected with the invention of the board canoe. "I have often heard those same words before," he continued, "but I did not pay much attention to them; and I think it is about time the truth was made public, instead of that story."

Early Canoes

Mr. Stephenson is now 77 years of age. When he was a young man nearing his twenty-fifth year he was an ardent deer hunter, and every year, with a number of friends, went back into the north country to enjoy the chase. In those days there were two kinds of canoes. There was the birch bark, which was originated in history that belongs to the Indian era. The other was the "dug-out," made by hewing out a fallen pine and shaping it on the Indian plans. There were several disadvantages in the birch bark and the "dug-out" was exceedingly heavy and cumbersome.

Necessity the Mother

About fifty-two years ago, when Mr. Stephenson would be 25 years of age, he was back on the trail of the antlered monarchs, and had an experience with a "dug-out" which gave him the incentive to build a light but strong boat. He and a friend carried the unshapely craft over a portage of three miles, and on their return four of them had to carry it.

"I decided," he said, "that the next autumn I would have a boat which would not spoil the whole pleasure of my trip in carrying it over the portages. We joined the rest of the party, among them being Joe Smith and Joe Dunlop, and they had thirty-five deer, all hung along on a long iron-wood pole."

The First Board Canoe

Mr. Stephenson returned home, and at once began to work out his idea. He was helped by the birch bark model, but greatly improved it, giving his canoe that oval-shaped bottom which experienced paddlers prefer. In answer to a question as to how he made the first canoe, Mr. Stephenson said, "I don't know; I just had an idea and I followed it out, and that first canoe was as good as any I ever turned out."

When it was Made

Mr. Stephenson had served his time as a blacksmith in Cobourg, and returning, opened a shop where Ed. Wand's place is now. It is north of Hunter street on the east side of the river, opposite the Quaker Oats Company's building. He was assisted by his brother and brother-in-law. He carried on a general business in planing, etc., including shingle-making. Among the first buyers of these canoes (for Mr. Stephenson made about a dozen the first year) were Messrs. John Ludgate, H. Calcutt and Louis Spry. He received $30 for each, this price being due to the small cost of the material.

This is a brief history of how the canoe was made. Mr. Stephenson would have made a fortune if he had patented his idea, but he never had the intention of following up canoe-building, and thus the opportunity slipped through his fingers. He stated that he lent his model to Mr. English, who afterwards started in the business. Some years later he manufactured the first cedar-ribbed canoe and not long afterwards sold all his interests to Mr. J. Z. Rogers, who is now of the Peterborough Canoe Company.

Private Moir, The Soldier Fugitive, Is Reported To Have Been Seen At Coboconk

Lindsay, May 9.—(Special).—The residents of this town and vicinity are talking about nothing today but the appearance at Morland, near Coboconk, of Private Moir, the slayer of Color-Sergeant Lloyd. News comes from there that the elusive soldier was seen last night in his military costume and with unkempt beard. The people residing there claim to be positive that the man seen was Private Moir, his deformed ear giving his identity away. They say he is now on his way to North Bay.

When the news reached here, the police forces of Victoria and Haliburton went out on his trail, and it is expected that the fugitive will be caught.

The Dominion Government is offering a reward of $500 for his capture.

ANOTHER SATELLITE FOR JUPITER

So Says Bulletin Received by President of Astronomical Society.

Rev. Dr. Marsh has received the following bulletin, on behalf of the Royal Astronomical Society of Peterborough:

Jupiter's new satellite, the 8th moon discovered by Greenwich Observatory officials, London May 6.—The officials at the Greenwich Observatory claims to have discovered an 8th satellite of Jupiter. During an examination of photographs of Jupiter, Mr. Melotte, one of the assistant astronomers, discovered faint markings, occupying slightly different positions in the different plates.

The circumstance precluded the possibility that it was one of the known satellites or a minor planet. Repeated investigation by Messrs. Cromeller and Melotte led to the conclusion that it was a new satellite with a retrograde orbital movement.

WOULD LIKE THE STREETS KEEP CLEAN

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir—I should like to call your attention to a very real nuisance that goes on unchecked constantly in the city. I allude to the obstruction caused every Saturday night by the Salvation Army. They congregate so close to the main thoroughfare that people who stop to listen to them block up the footpath for quite a distance, compelling others to walk in the road. This does not matter in dry weather, but when it is wet and muddy, I think it is a great nuisance to have to walk out on the road. The footpath should be kept clear, and all who obstruct it or cause it to be obstructed should be dispersed. I nearly got run over at that corner through being unable to get on the sidewalk quickly. I suggest that the Salvation Army should move a little further away and so take the crowd off the side.

Yours faithfully,
Mrs. J. E. Skidmore,
198 Gladstone Ave

"SQUARE DEAL" GOVERNMENT.

What does the Ottawa Citizen mean when it says that the Whitney Government "will go down to history as the square deal Government?"

Does it refer to the four-square deal by which the Whitney gerrymander gives Toronto four new Conservative members by an iniquitous juggling with two ballots, and "A" and "B" candidates, which almost certainly assures the return of four additional candidates of Conservative complexion?

Does it refer to the assertion of a Conservative candidate at New Liskeard, Mr. Lennox of North York, to the effect that if the people of New Ontario wanted large Government grants they must vote for the Conservative Government?

This was said in presence—on the same platform—of a member of the "square deal" Government, who, by his silence, endorsed the odious proposition of bribing the electors, not with vulgar campaign funds—but with the money of the people of the whole province.

An organ of this "square deal" Government knows that the Conservatives will win Peel, North Huron, South Essex and East Hastings. Perhaps that was the intention of the gerrymander, concocted and perpetrated by a "square deal" Government which with a majority of 42 in a house of 98, dared not meet the electors without the advantage of a gerrymander, which, as in the case of the four Torontos and the four ridings safely "fixed," assures the return of Conservative candidates.

HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL MISSION.

Aldermen Phelan, Elliott and McIntyre return in high good humour from Ottawa, where they went as a deputation representing the City Council for the purpose of exerting the practical interest of the Dominion Government in the repair and rebuilding of the city river-front wharves. Their visit was most successful, and they are to be congratulated on the diplomacy and persuasiveness they applied to their mission. They succeeded in procuring from Hon. Mr. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, a promise that he would recommend the appropriation of $5,000 for wharves, and Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, while not being able to assent to the proposition for a dry dock, which would cost $125,000, promised to provide a marine slip, which is a satisfactory compromise, and will prove amply sufficient for shipping of the size of that serving local waters. What added to the pleasure of the deputation, arising from the success of their mission, was the cordial and considerate manner in which the visiting aldermen were treated by the local member, Mr. Hall, and the members of the Government.

THE SQUARE DEAL.

Critics of the Whitney administration assert that the plan of two members for each of the Toronto constituencies, divided into A and B classes, was adopted as a means of ensuring safe seats for the four sitting members, two of them being Cabinet ministers.

In effect this amounts to a personal charge against these four members that they have been loading the political dice, and stacking the electcards in their own interest. The World is not willing to believe that anyone of these gentlemen would descend to sharp practice, and in this case none of them needed to do anything of the kind. Their nomination and re-election is as certain as anything in the political future can be.

Still it is well to shun even the appearance of evil and this can easily be done. At the conventions let it be required that each ballot bear the names of two candidates, and provide that the candidate receiving the highest number of votes shall be the A candidate, and the other the B. This will prevent plumping and it would be the fair and manly way.

Neither Mr. Foy, Dr. Pyne, Mr. Crawford nor Mr. McNaught needs to have any jockeying done, and they should be spared the humiliation of being made to seem to need it.

The above is from the Conservative Toronto World. When a member of the family thus "speaks but in meeting" condemning the shell-game redistribution of Toronto, it means a great deal. No wonder that a Conservative journal with self-respect demands "a square deal" from the "square deal" Government in reparation for a gerrymander outrage.

To be eligible to vote in the coming Provincial election one must be a

1. Over 21 years of age.
2. A British subject.
3. A resident of Canada for at least one year.
4. A resident in the city for at least three months previous to the last day for registration, May 16th, and if not on the voters' list, must be registered.

PREACHING SANS PRACTICE.

Our guileless evening contemporary, the Review, quotes with chuckling approval the following, from the report of Hon. Mr. Whitney's recent speech delivered in Hamilton:

"I think I understand the situation here," he began bluntly. "I have been told what has been said, and can imagine what will be said. It is concerning the the establishment of a technical institution in Hamilton." (Prolonged applause).

Mr. Whitney held up his hand to stay the cheering. "To my mind," he declared, amid silence, "the man who bribes an individual is a tyro in sin compared with the man who bribes a constituency. Let me tell you frankly and squarely, I am not here to promise anything to Hamilton. I am told I may lose votes by it. If so, I will lose them, but I do not believe that such will be the decision of the electors. In any event, I propose to stand fast on the principle."

There was no applause.

"The Government will do what is right and fair by Hamilton," Mr. Whitney continued, "and we will do it no matter whom you elect. The Ontario Government may fail sometimes, being mortal, but it will not shed its self-respect. It will deal with Hamilton just the same if you elect two Liberals." (Very mild approbation).

This seems to be heroic posing-powerful play to the gallery. The Review glorifies the foregoing statements as if they were the inspired utterances of some high-pedestalled prophet, and founds upon them a lot of platitudinous brain-wash about abstract political decency and fair play, and says that "it is this element of strength in Mr. Whitney's character that engages the admiration and attention of all right-thinking people." The trouble is that the Review can't bring its political friends to see these noble sentiments strongly enough to put them into practice. It cannot persuade Mr. Bradburn to pledge himself to conduct his election campaign in conformity with the provisions of the election law. Mr. Whitney encourages this attitude by asserting that it is a comparatively venial offence to bribe an elector; an offender in this respect "is a mere tyro."

While Mr. Whitney breathes out such admirable sentiments, they are mere braggadocio, unless carried into practice. The Review quotes from Mr. Whitney's speech. Let us quote from a speech on a similar subject, made by a supporter of Mr. Whitney, his own candidate for North York, in which the speaker fluently told the electors of Temiscaming that if they voted for the Whitney Government they would get large grants for roads and bridges. At a meeting held in New Liskeard last week, Mr. T. H. Lennox, the Whitney candidate in North York, said:

"It does not make any difference to an old riding like mine, for there is nothing for us to get. Are you going to say to Mr. Whitney that you do not approve of these large expenditures on Colonization roads and other public improvements? There are members of the Conservative party who think we are spending a great deal of money up north, and they might welcome a Liberal from a northern constituency, as an expression of opposition on the part of the north. Could you expect that the Government is going to give as large grants to Mr. McKelvie (the Liberal candidate) who would criticise everything they do? Do you think the Government is going to be as liberal to a constituency that opposes it? Will Mr. McKelvie have the same weight as Mr. Shillington (the Conservative candidate)? IF YOU SEND A LIBERAL, WILL YOU GET AS LARGE A GRANT AS YOU WILL SHOULD YOU SEND MR. SHILLINGTON?"

Could there be more palpable, plain, barefaced, flat bribery of a constituency than that? Yet this bribe was offered by a right-hand supporter of Mr. Whitney—who regards the bribing of a constituency with such god-like indignation, and in the presence of a Cabinet Minister upon the same platform, who did not repudiate nor rebuke the accredited briber of the Government. This bribe of a constituency was made before Mr. Whitney made his Hamilton speech, in which he made bribery of an elector a venial sin, and bribery of a constituency a mortal sin. Mr. Whitney, on a city platform, condemns what one of his lieutenants does in the far north of the Province, without any rebuke from the Premier purist. Is this consistent? Has Mr. Whitney rebuked this wholesale bribery? Has the Review, while beslavering Mr. Whitney with fulsome praise of his purity, condemned the wholesale bribery offered in the name of the Government to a New Ontario constituency?

The Review should moderate its transports in presence of such an evidence of bribing a constituency. It nauseates its readers daily with fierce philippics against the corruption of its opponents, linked with inane adulation of the Whitney Government and the Conservative party as the sacred and exclusive repositories of political purity. In the Review's selection from Mr. Whitney's Hamilton speech, we are told that the audience, overwhelmingly Conservative, received his reference to a "technical institution" in Hamilton with "prolonged applause." But when Mr. Whitney worked off his lofty sentiments about the sin of bribing constituencies, the report states that "there was no applause." Why was this? Why did not a Conservative audience raise the roof with its applause of this great declaration of principle? If the Review really holds to the platitudes it preaches, it should show some desire to give such sentiments practical effect—it might persuade its candidate in West Peterborough to assent to the proposal of the Liberal candidate for a joint agreement to conduct a pure election. In the language of the betting ring, the Review should "either put up or shut up."

PRESIDENT FALCONER'S ADDRESS.

Peterborough is a progressive and enterprising city, that is, materially; but we do not, perhaps, give sufficient prominence to ethical or intellectual culture. We have beautiful parks, it is true, but if they had not been given to us, if we had had to provide them for ourselves, we might not have boasted of their possession now. In what parks we have provided for ourselves, the trees are set in straight, stiff lines like a cabbage garden. We have a creditable centre of musical culture—we, a small circle of us, go in for art a little, but we do not break many bones in pursuit of intellectual culture. We have creditable schools, but these can be chiefly regarded as providing preparatory conditions — preparing the mental soil for real intellectual culture. The Canadian Club, in a way, caters in this regard to a necessarily limited circle, but for broad or more general outreach there is, it may be said without offence, no general aspiration. Being a rural city, with comparatively small population, we have not the facilities possessed by larger urban centres. Noted lecturers, intellectual lions do not often come within our compass. When an opportunity offers of meeting a large man, a man of eminence in the world of letters and intellectual activities like Professor Falconer, of Toronto, or rather the Provincial University, the opportunity should be largely embraced. On Thursday evening, May 21st, President Falconer will deliver an address in the hall of the Conservatory of Music under the auspices of the Teachers' Institute of the city and county. The subject is not announced, but it may be counted upon as being one of popular interest and treated with a scholarliness and eloquence, investing it with a charm which cannot be resisted or should not be missed. His address in the afternoon to the teachers will naturally, be of mainly profession interest. In the evening the general public is cordially invited, with the assurance that they will be regaled with an intellectual treat, the like of which is seldom provided in Peterborough.

EDITORAL NOTES

The Toronto Telegram boasts that the Conservatives will win Peel, North Huron, South Essex and East Hastings. It is easy to be wise before the event, but in this particular instance silence would have been golden. All of the above ridings have been gruesomely gerrymandered.

Mr. Lennox, the Whitney candidate in North York, is a "square deal" Government supporter, after the late Sandfield Macdonald's own heart. "What the h—l has Strathroy done for me?" was that statesman's reply to a deputation asking favours for Strathroy in West Middlesex, which sent an Opposition member. Mr. Lennox holds the spoils doctrine, and has preached it unreproved to North Ontario, that if the electors want grants for roads and bridges they must vote for the Government.

ST. PAUL ROAD TO GAIN COAST SOON

Line From Chicago to Seattle and Tacoma is Rushed With Record Speed.

By reason of an unusual spurt in work representatives of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road yesterday said they expected to have the great transcontinental line finished from Chicago to Seattle and Tacoma next spring.

Regular trains are now operated on the new Pacific Coast line as far as Mobridge, Lemmon, Hettinger, Bowman and Marmouth, in the Dakotas; to Terry, Miles City, Musselshell and Harlowton, in Montana.

Not in the history of railroads has a line been constructed with such speed. The route from Butte to Seattle and Tacoma, with towns districts and engineering feats, was given out yesterday.

From Butte to Garrison, fifty-three miles, the line goes through the Deer Lodge Valley. Then comes the valley of Heligate River, the timber district. West of St. Maries the road runs through the Coeur d'Alene Indian reservation. The well-known Palouse district is reached. This is one of the richest grain and fruit belts of the trans-Missouri country. At Tekoa the Oregon Short Line will be crossed on a steel structure 1,000 feet long.

From Rosalia the line continues through this fertile and well settled country twenty miles to Palisade. There it reaches the shores of Rock Lake. The banks of the lake are rocky and precipitous, excelling in beauty the far-famed palisades of the Hudson.

From Palisade the line follows the banks of the lake five and one-half miles to the new town of Lavista, at the foot of the lake; thence thirty-seven miles through a country capable of producing grain; but which has hitherto not been developed for lack of railroad facilities. Six miles east of Rolston the line passes over Cow Creek on a steel structure 1,405 feet long. From Lind to the Columbia River at Beverly, seventy-three miles, the line passes through the new towns of Roxboro, Warden and Othello.

The crossing of the Columbia River is made on a bridge of fifteen spans of steel trusses, supported by massive concrete piers, the channel span being placed so high a draw is unnecessary. Twenty-five miles after leaving the Columbia River the line enters the well-known Kittitas Valley, which is irrigated by water drawn from the Yakima River. The line passes through a timbered country to Snoqualmie Pass, through the Cascade Mountains, at an elevation of 3,010 feet. The Cear River is then followed into Seattle. The line to Tacoma parallels the Interurban.

Grading the whole length of the line is progressing rapidly with greatly increased forces, excellent progress is being made upon the tunnels, and the Columbia River bridge and all lesser structures of the same character are in a state of advancement which makes certain that they will be ready when the grading is completed. Tracklaying on the coast will begin at Seattle and progress as rapidly as the heavy work in the Cascade Mountains is completed.—Chicago Examiner, April 7, 1908.

The Mark of Age.

That man's not old, though far he be from spry,
Though bald enough to tempt spring's earliest fly,
And with a growing tendency to scold
When heart yearns of a son or daughter's told.
If, scorning modern isms, cults and fads,
He still reads all the hair restorer ads.—
That man's not old!

If buoyant still of step, with scarce a trace
Of wrinkles graved by time on brow or face;
If hirsute crop, though thin, yet bristles bold
And could with care like monkish beads be told;
If spectacled he be or keen of eye
And turns not when a pretty girl goes by—
That man is old!

The Deaf Woman.

A Harvard man was walking one afternoon down a certain avenue when he saw great volumes of smoke and flames coming from a second story of an attractive looking residence. Rushing madly up the steps, he rang the bell, which was answered by a deaf woman. "Good heavens! Your house is burning up!"

"What?"

"I say the entire house is a mass of flames."

"Is that all?" she squeaked.

"I'm sorry, madam, but that's about all I can think of just this minute."

The French Tramp.

The vagabond who is kin to the wolf is a special product of civilization. You do not meet him in England or Germany, though something like him exists among the half yellow slaves of Russia. He is eminently Latin. In every sense of the word he is a rebel against society. He has had some education—few Frenchmen can escape it. He has read a little, perhaps enough to kindle his brain of a wolf, and he has two aims in life—to live the free life of the wolf on the hill and to injure as much as he can that great, monstrous, law driven machine, civilisation. The lonely farmhouses are defenseless against him. When all are busy afield he creeps in and pillages. If need be he kills. He has a distinct hatred for those who work and garner. As he passes he fires the hayricks—barns and buildings go up in smoke. That is where the Latin shows in him. Once out of the law he is an anarch. So long as he is cross tied in innumerable acts of parliament the Latin is merry and amiable. When the ropes are off he makes revolution—or fires hayricks.—Vance Thompson in Outing Magazine.

Gave it in Full.

An old Scottish minister took it into his head to marry his housekeeper. His precentor being ill on the day when the banns were to be proclaimed, the minister, not caring to make the intimation himself, arranged with his herd boy to do it. "Now," he said, "you just call out in a loud voice, 'Proclamation of marriage between the Rev. Mr. Murray of this parish and Jean Lowe o' the same!' Ha, ha!" laughed the minister as he concluded. "Wha'd hae thocht it!" The Sabbath came round, and the congregation assembled. When the moment arrived the lad, who had duly prepared himself, rose and called out: "Proclamation of marriage between the Rev. Mr. Murray of this parish and Jean Lowe o' the same! Ha, ha!" he laughed, thinking this to be a part of the proclamation. "Wha'd hae thocht it?" The effect on the minister and the congregation can be imagined.

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY AT HUNTSVILLE

Nelson Smith Shoots His Wife and Then Himself.

THE RESULT OF JEALOUSY

Huntsville the Scene of the Crime—Wife Was on a Visit to Her Father—Demonstrations of Affection But Murder Evidently Premeditated—Two Boys Left Orphans—Berlin Home of Criminal.

Huntsville, May 9.—Jealousy is held to have been responsible for a double tragedy on the outskirts of this town yesterday, when Nelson Smith, an employe of the Galt, Hespeler, Preston and Berlin Railway, shot and killed his wife and then ended his own life with a bullet.

The shooting took place at the home of his father-in-law, James Goldie, a farmer. His wife, who was Miss Martha Goldie, had been visiting her parents. She was about 30 years of age and was married seven years ago.

Smith had just arrived in town. His home was in Berlin, where his mother and brothers reside. He had breakfast at an hotel and then went to the district school, where he asked to see his six-year-old son. He greeted the lad affectionately and asked him if his mother was at home and on being told that she was, he set off for the house. Smith seemed in his usual spirits and when he met his wife in the parlor, with her mother, he kissed her and seemed in the best of humor. The general conversation that followed was free from signs of anger or excitement, but a few minutes after Mrs. Goldie left the room she was horrified to hear two revolver shots.

She hurried back and found a younger daughter holding Mrs. Smith, while Smith stood nearby. To him she spoke, asking what he had done. Smith did not reply. He had evidently placed the revolver in his pocket, for his hands were free.

Mrs. Goldie pluckily attempted to hold him, but he brushed her to one side, knocking her down. He ran from the house to the lawn and there without hesitation sent a bullet into his own heart.

Mrs. Smith was shot twice, also in the region of the heart, one bullet having penetrated from the front and the other from behind. When Miss Goldie entered the room Smith was holding his wife in his arms. He made no objection when Miss Goldie gently took her sister in her own arms and lowered her to the floor.

Dr. Cassedman, the coroner, conducted an inquest, at which formal medical evidence was taken, and Mrs. Goldie, a son and daughter, and a brother of the dead man also testified. They could throw no light on the cause of the tragedy, except that he was actuated by jealousy, and the jury returned a verdict to that effect.

Mrs. Smith was born on the farm where she died. She was the mother of two boys, aged 6 and 4. She was well and highly respected.

Smith was about 37 years of age, and formerly lived in Allandale. He was for some time employed on the G.T.R.

Regina, Sask., May 9.—The Morang school book contract was defended by the Minister of Education in a two-hour speech, during which he resented charges of graft alleged to have been made by the leader of the Opposition, and dared Mr. Haultain to make good.

In a short reply Mr. Haultain denied having made any charges of graft and stated that he had not done so because he was not in a position to prove graft. He promised, however, to make charges which he could back up when he spoke on Monday.

Irish Coercion Bill Repealed.

London, May 9.—By a vote of 201 to 7 the bill repealing the Irish Coercion Act of 1887 passed its second reading in the House of Commons yesterday.

Chief Secretary for Ireland Birrell strongly supported the measure, declaring the Coercion Act to be unconstitutional and intolerable. He maintained that Ireland, as a whole, was law-abiding, although in parts there is a spirit of lawlessness, which he deplored. He said that any attempt to govern Ireland by coercion would be political insanity.

Painful Burning Accident.

London, Ont., May 9.—Miss Annabel Purdy, South London, yesterday met with a painful accident that may have fatal results. Miss Purdy, who was ill with mumps, while helping herself to a drink of water upset an oil lamp left burning at her bedside, the blazing fluid setting fire to the bedding and her clothing. Her cries brought help, but before the flames could be extinguished she was so badly burned that removal to Victoria Hospital was necessary.

Albany, May 9.—Michael E. Higgins, chief of the Albany fire department, as president of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, has completed the program for this year's convention, which will be held at Columbus, O., on Aug. 25, 26, 27 and 28. The heads of the fire departments throughout the United States and Canada will be in attendance.

C. P. R. FREIGHT MEN NOT SATISFIED

They Go on Strike at Owen Sound Over Wages.

THE FLEET IS NOW TIED UP

Men Brought From Toronto Join the Strikers—Did Not Know Strike Was on—Demonstrations By the Strikers Through the Town—Freight Blockade—The Grain Shovellers Are Out in Sympathy.

Owen Sound, May 9.—A strike that is assuming serious proportions is on here. Two hundred and fifty freight truckers on the Canadian Pacific Railway's through freight sheds walked out on the refusal of their demand for the restoration of last year's scale of wages, viz., 17 cents an hour.

To break the strike the railway brought from Toronto over 90 men. The train was greeted by hundreds of men, the strikers being augmented by curious spectators. At midnight the cars containing the Toronto contingent were shunted down to the sheds. Here they were greeted with hoots and groans, and some of the more mischievous of the crowd threw stones, several of the car windows being smashed.

On representation being made to the newcomers, they refused to leave the cars and go to work at the unloading of the Athabasca, which was lying at the slip alongside. Yesterday morning they were ejected from the cars and marched in a body up town, accompanied by many of the strikers. They stated that they had been hired in Toronto to come to Owen Sound to work on the grain and coal boats at 19c. to 20c. an hour. When on the way up, they say, that they were asked to sign the regular agreement as truckers to work at 12 1-2c. an hour, with the promise of a bonus. They did not know that a strike was on.

As a result of the strike the C. P. R. fleet is tied up, with the yards full of freight. The steamer Dundee lies at elevator "B" with a cargo, the grain shovelers going out with the other men, though they were receiving 19 cents an hour.

C. P. R. and the Longshoremen.

Quebec, May 9.—The Empress of Britain arrived yesterday. For many weeks there have been reports of the C.P.R. removing the terminus for the Empress from Quebec to either Three Rivers or Montreal, and it was not until the vessel had actually moored at Quebec that these rumors could be definitely disposed of.

The difficulty that has existed between the longshoremen and the C. P. R. is not by any means settled, but it has been decided to discharge the cargo at Quebec by the ship laborers, and after the freight is on the wharf the work of the longshoremen will then begin. It will then be for the company to either pay the increased price demanded or endeavor to employ outside labor.

A Remarkable Escape.

Smith's Falls, May 9.—Ross Edwards, a C.P.R. employe, had an exciting experience here. He was working in the yard and was in the act of turning a switch when his foot caught in a frog.

The train was backing down the track and was only a short distance from him, but he could not extricate himself. With great presence of mind, he grabbed the hand rail of the car when the train was close upon him and by sheer force succeeded in tearing his foot from the frog, but not before the flange of the wheel had grazed his ankle. His boot was torn in two, the upper portion coming off as though cut with a knife. He then managed to jump clear of the train and though his limbs were all intact his foot was swollen to an abnormal size and had turned black.

Impaled on a Fork.

St. Catharines, May 9.—What will likely prove a fatal accident occurred at Beechwood, a small settlement in Thorold Township. Miss Millan, a young lady, left her house to go in search of her father, who was at work in the barnyard. While coming around the corner of the barn she suddenly met him coming in the opposite direction with a pitchfork under his arm. A prong of the fork entered the young woman's eye and and pierced the brain. Since the accident Miss Millan has become paralyzed, and her life is despaired of.

Conflagration at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., May 9.—Two solid business blocks of Atlanta are in ruins as the result of a fire which threatened for some time to carry its destruction through the business section of the city and perhaps wipe out the entire downtown district.

The fire loss is estimated at $1,500,000. There was no loss of life.

An Oil Gusher.

Leamington, May 9.—Yesterday a great oil gusher was struck on the farm of Wesley Reid, 7th Concession, Mersea, about four miles from this town, which will yield about 500 barrels a day. It is about the centre of the oil field here, which was the cause of so much excitement three or four years ago.

Evacuate the Khyber Pass.

Simla, May 9.—Major-Gen. Sir James Willcocks has left Landi-Khotal and returned to Peshawur, the British forces having received orders from home to evacuate Khyber Pass. This order is much criticized, although all trouble from the Afghans seems ended for the present.

London Wool Market.

London, May 9.—A sale of Cape of Good Hope and Natal sheepskins was held in Mincing lane. The offerings amounted to 269,739, of which 170,556 were sold. The skins were in fair condition, but competition was only moderate and a large quantity was bought in owing to the high limits of sellers. Long-wooled skins declined ½d, short wooled 1-4d to 5-8d, and short skins 1-4d to 3-8d; coarse grades were dull and ½d lower.

Preferred Death to School.

Guelph, May 9.—A shocking suicide took place at Eden Grove, between Walkerton and Paisley. A boy named Calum, only eight years of age, hanged himself with a rope rather than go to school. He had got into trouble at school, either with playmates or the teacher, and refused to go back. His mother insisted, and he said he would die first. No attention was paid to the threat, and he was sent off. Later the body was found hanging by a rope, which he had placed about his neck.

Sick Twenty Years, Had Given Up All Hope.

Pe-ru-na Relieved After All Else Had Failed.

Chronic Internal Catarrh.

Many an invalid is dragging out a miserable existence with catarrh of the internal organs. There is no disease equal to this in producing complete wretchedness, absolute despair, haggard misery, and stubborn weakness.

An army of this sort of victims have one by one discovered that Peruna could be relied upon to relieve such cases.

One man tells another man, and in this way the news spreads until in all parts of the country are to be found men who have been permanently liberated from the thraldom of internal troubles.

Many cases of catarrh of the stomach, kidneys and other abdominal organs have reported themselves as permanently relieved.

MR. ABNER N. KEEP

Grown Young Again.

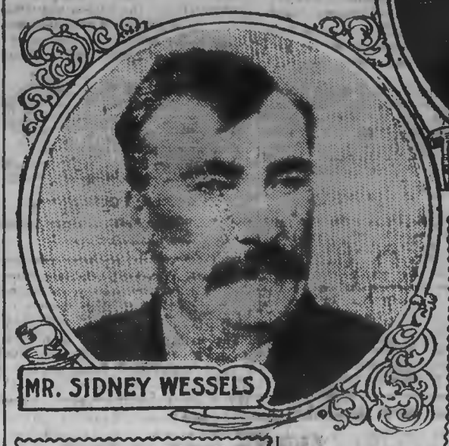
Mr. Abner N. Keep, Vineland, Ontario, Can., writes: "For over twenty years I was a sufferer from catarrh and had tried almost everything I could hear of. I doctored with physicians in Philadelphia and Buffalo, besides with specialists in Nebraska, but did not get relief.

"Finally, after being exhausted in health and funds, I decided to try Peruna. This was after moving to this country two years ago.

"One bottle of Peruna gave relief. After taking five bottles I was sound and well.

"I am eighty-two years old and feel as good to-day as when I was in my thirties.

"I give this for the benefit of the afflicted in general, as I am but one of many in this country who know what it is to contend with sickness and pay out the last dollar in doctor bills."



MR. SIDNEY WESSELS

Appetite Returned, Enjoys Meals.

Mr. Sidney Wessels, Meritton Ontario, Can., writes:

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia and indigestion for twenty years, during which time I tried different doctors, but did not get the desired results.

"I have been compelled for weeks at a time to give up work, being completely prostrated. I had to confine myself to a milk diet, as nothing would remain on my stomach.

"I had about given up, thinking my case incurable, when I heard of Peruna and decided to try it.

"One bottle made a great change, and after using another bottle of this wonderful medicine, I had complete freedom from pain, my appetite had returned and I could again enjoy my meals. I believe Peruna is the grandest medicine under the sun."

Mr. Robert E. Hanvey, Treas. Knights of Industrial Freedom, also a well-known writer and lecturer, writes from 118 Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill., as follows:

"I was in good health until about four years ago, when my back became lame and sore. The pains kept increasing with severe twitches and slow, exhaustive aches. Urine was highly colored and passed with great irregularity.

"I knew this must be inflammation of the urinary organs.

"Having read of Peruna I decided to try it.

"I found relief from the pain within ten days. The aches gradually diminished, and it was a blessed relief I can assure you.

"Within three months I was well once more. My appetite had returned, nervousness and irritability were things of the past, and for over two years now I have been a healthy man."

Mr. H. L. Emory, Vice Chancellor and Master of Arms, K. P.'s, of Omaha, Neb., writes from 205 North Sixteenth St., the following words of praise for Peruna as a tonic. He says:

"It is with pleasure I recommend Peruna as a tonic of unusual merit. A large number of prominent members of the different orders with which I have been connected have been cured by the use of Peruna in cases of catarrh of the stomach and head; also in kidney complaint and weakness of the pelvic organs.

"Peruna tones up the system, aids digestion, induces sleep, and is well worthy the confidence of sufferers of the above complaints."

Peruna has saved many people from disaster by rendering the kidneys service when they were not able to bear their own burdens.

Vancouver, B.C., May 9.—H. Telfer and P. Croft, timber cruisers, have returned here from the north with a tale of a remarkable adventure with Naas River Indians. They attempted to cross the Naas reserve, when the Indians held them up with rifles. Finally, after paying $30, they were permitted to proceed.

Denies the Report.

Ottawa, May 9.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, who has returned from his recent visit to New York, gave an absolute denial to the report which referred to his having gone to New York as the result of obstacles which had arisen in the way of the sale of bonds for the new Transcontinental Railway.

PETERBOROUGH MAN CLIMBS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD IN THE STATE OF MINNESOTA

Mr. Long, a Brother of Mr. Geo. Long, City, Secretary-Treasurer of Important Mill and Elevator Firm.

PLAN EXTENSIVE BUSINESS

The success of Mr. F. D Long, brother of Mr. Geo. Long, Hunter street, and a former Peterborough boy, will be read here with interest. He is now a member of a large firm in Park Rapids, Minn., as the following article from the Hubbard Enterprise explains:

The Park Rapids Mill and Elevator Company is the name of a new corporation that will begin doing business in Park Rapids on June 1, 1908. The men interested in the corporation are Messrs. L. H. Rice, G. R. Wilson and F D Long, and the organization is formed for a period of twenty years, with a capital stock of $50,000.

The new firm takes over the mill and elevator that has been owned and operated by L H Rice for a number of years, but Mr. Rice retains the ownership of the water-power here and also the water-power on Potato river. As shown by the articles of incorporation which appear in this issue, the firm will do a general business in the mill and elevator lines, and may build one or more elevators in wheat-producing districts to obtain a supply of wheat for grinding at the mill here. Warehouses for the handling of grain and feed products may be established in other localities. The firm will also handle lumber, wood, coal, hay, lime, brick and cement.

The firm is organized with L. H. Rice, President; G. R. Wilson, Vice-President, and F D Long, Secretary and Treasurer.

SMITH FARMER AND HIS YOKE OF OXEN; A TRIBUTE TO THE FAITHFUL BEASTS

(By Suburban Reporter.)

Smith, May 9.—(Special) — Who hath seen an ox? Well, only a few of the younger generation in this locality have beheld a specimen of the obedient servant of our forefathers. But these meek and slow-moving animals are not yet extinct, nor are they only found in the new and undeveloped country, for just outside the city limit to the north there is a dairy farm, on which a well matched team is doing a share of the work usually performed by horses. The owner of this team is Mr. Wm. E. Brown, who firmly believes in modern machinery but still retains some of the old ideas as to motive power. Last winter he had a pen of fat cattle and among them was a pair of fine steers, which were very similar in appearance. Partly for the novelty and partly to show the boys how cattle were handled in the bygone days, he yoked those frisky beeves together and brought them under control. Henceforth they became known as oxen. Any of his boys over eight years old can now drive them with an expertness that is indeed surprising. Quite early in the winter one of Mr. Brown's horses was so badly injured that it was off work for nearly two months, and it was then that the oxen became "useful as well as ornamental," for in the operation of cleaning out the byres and stables, they were right on the job. In filling the ice house it is necessary to have some kind of power to hoist the blocks to the upper tiers, and the humble oxen were given a trial and proved that they were superior to the steadiest horse, with its trailing whiffletrees and trace chains. A short time later an accident befell one of the cows, and it was necessary to raise her from the floor. Of course the cattle were yoked and they soon showed that they had not forgotten how to do the hoisting act with ease and gentleness.

When the snow had disappeared and wheels were a necessity, Mr. Brown removed the shafts from the dumpcart and replaced them with a nice, smooth red pole, and when Tom and Jerry, not Buck and Bright, were hitched to the aforesaid cart, they presented an old-time picture that would be interesting to the up-to-date youth. These same oxen also work admirably on a chain, hauling logs, and when it comes to the everlasting and very pleasant work of stone-picking, they are the farmer's delight, as there are no lines (reins) to drag in the mud.

Oxen are certainly very useful about the farm, but when they get the inspiration to run away, they can "go some," although their gait may be a run, trot or pace with combinations and variations. Another rather disagreeable and annoying habit which they may acquire, is that of turning the yoke; indeed,

Some oxen have the pleasant little joke
Of swiftly, deftly turning the yoke.

Although the ox is not so speedy as the horse, yet the former has the latter all beaten out on the harness question, as the old-fashioned ox-yokes may now be obtained at farm sales at junk prices.

About two months ago the other members of that bunch of fat cattle were all sold to the butcher, and are now all chewed up and their pelts made into leather, but Tom and Jerry are contentedly munching hay and chop and enjoying the currycomb and brush. Between meals they are making themselves particularly useful and are not saying anything about leaving the farm or lamenting about the late spring.—Suburban Reporter.

A BEAR STORY AMONG THE BACKWOODS EXPERIENCES

(By F. M. Dela Fosse)

In course of time, stables and outbuildings having been erected, our instructor purchased throughbred cattle, sheep and pigs. Wilkie and I were deputed to drive in the advance guard, which consisted of a pair of untrained steers. They had been purchased from a farmer, who lived about twenty miles from our residence, and a lively time we had getting them home.

We had stayed overnight at the farmer's cottage, and been rendered nearly frantic by the noise the bedclothes made every time we stirred. The fact was that the economical housewife, being short of bedding, had hit on the ingenious idea of sewing newspapers between the sheets, in order to keep the cold out. It was bitter weather, but we should have preferred any amount of cold to the abominable crackling of that paper We arose in the morning, soured in temper and not at all elated at the task that lay before us. The day was beautifully crisp and bright, and when we started out our noses and ears simply tingled with the frost. There was not much frost about either of us by the time we reached home. At a modest computation we must have travelled quite forty miles apiece that day, chasing those wretched cattle about in our hard endeavours to keep them tot he road. Once they turned full on Wilkie, knocked him down and gored his cheek open. He carries the mark of that onslaught still. If it hadn't been for my forethought in arming myself with a club, he would have been killed. There is a strenuosity about cattle-driving which the lay mind cannot hope to grasp. We fully realized this on that memorable occasion.

I think, if Carlyle had seen us in those days, he would have delighted in us as "living examples of his favourite Biblical adage, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might." Everything we did, whether right or wrong, was done with every ounce of strength at out command. When we worked we worked like beavers. When we played the fool, we invariably did it like experienced artists. We did not become expert (agriculturists) for the simple and all-sufficing reason that we had no chance to learn anything, but we became excellent choppers, rail-splitters, ox-drivers, canoeists and hunters.

A year or so after our arrival certain other Englishmen, hearing of our establishment, arrived in the country and took up land near us, and soon the edifying spectacle was presented of eight or ten young men fresh from the universities and public schools of England, attempting to wrest a living from the wilderness. They were not much on work, but as whole-souled fellows as they could be and the shores of our lake used to echo to many a stirring song and jolly chorus in those good old days. Amongst the arrivals were two Southerners, good enough fellows in their way, but untidier in their habits than anyone in the neighbourhood. Not being able to live together, they kept separate establishments, and their bachelor quarters would have put a pig to the blush.

A Tasty Repast

One day, Jenkins, one of the pupils, and myself, after a morning's partridge shooting, being close to the younger brother's diggings, determined to visit him and get some dinner. He received us most hospitably. "Come right in, boys," he said. "I haven't got much to eat beyond potatoes and bread and syrup, but whatever there is you're welcome to it." We entered and sat down. He was boiling potatoes, and in order to keep the steam in the pot, was utilising his greasy straw hat for a lid. We both mentally determined to confine ourselves to the bread and syrup. But when we found that he had no plates, and poured his syrup on the table and sponged it up with the bread. We registered a further vow not to partake of that portion of the meal, either. The bread was the only comestible left, and our desire to partake of that took wings when, possibly as a tribute of respect to ourselves, he wiped his knife on his greasy breeches before applying it to the loaf. Prior to this, however, Jenkins had had an unpleasant experience. Being hot from his walk, he had poured some water into a tin and dipped his face in it. With his eyes dripping water he called out, "I say, old man, where's your towel?" "Oh, by George," remarked S—, "I'm awfully sorry. I have no towel, but take this," and he flung him something that was lying on the floor. Jenkins took it up and examined it. "Why," he exclaimed, "this is a shirt." "Never mind, old chap," replied S—, cheerfully. "You won't hurt it; it's quite dirty already."

The same being was somewhat enamoured of one of the rustic beauties in the vicinity, but having seen her one day give an exhibition of strength in the local store, by seizing a bag of flour with her teeth and swinging it on to her back, his ardour was quenched.

"Gracious, goodness! what an escapel" exclaimed S—. "No woman like that for me. Why, if she got mad she'd shake a fellow as a terrier would a rat."

In course of time, having graduated from the 'farm,' we took up land round the lake, and fresh pupils arrived from England to take our places. It did not take us long to find that we were not fitted to make a living off the soil. We couldn't make money at anything. So surely as we put in a crop, our neighbours' cattle knocked our fences down and trampled it all over and devoured it. The airy chases which we indulged in night after night, in our pyjamas, sometimes when the rain was falling in torrents, were probably picturesque enough from an artistic standpoint, but were not comforting to the soul.

Pat Daly and the Bear

Sometimes bears, who are very partial to oats, would take a hand in the game. They were particularly numerous round our part of the country, and one of our neighbours, named Pat Daly, was nearly ruined by their depredations. One night, on gazing out of the window, he saw a large dark object walking slowly past his shack. He called to his wife to bring him his rifle, opened the window, and fired. The beast rolled over and lay perfectly still. Being timid, regarding bears, Pat was not content with one shot, but fired about twenty, and then went to bed, rubbing his hands gleefully. When he investigated matters in the morning, however, he found he had shot Maloney's pig. There were strained relations between the pair for some months afterwards.

Wilkie, finding that farming didn't pay, made a weird attempt at selling and trading horses, but soon gave it up. It was not much to be wondered at, for this is the way he went at it. Having a horse for sale, he advertised it through the country, and one day a prospective purchaser presented himself at his door.

"What do you want for the horse, Mr. Wilkie?" asked the man. "One hundred and fifty dollars," said Wilkie. "But before you think of buying it," he went on, "I want to tell you he is not just as healthy a horse as you might suppose. He's had pole evil, he's got a bad spavin in one leg, and in addition, I'm sorry to say, he's foundered; but," he finished up, "he's a mighty good horse, mind you." There was no sale. Wilkie was angry. He said that there seemed to be no reward for honesty in that country. The person who refused to buy the horse was something of a character.

The Bible as a Bank

He used to tell a tale of a man who came to his shanty one day, posing as a local preacher. "He was a terror," he said. "He passed the whole evening calling me a son of Belial, and advising me to repent of my sins, and when I was asleep, went through all my pockets and skipped. But he didn't get my money," he chuckled. "I used to keep my bills in the old family Bible on the window sill, for I knowed blamed well that that was the last thing anyone would think of openin'. It was better nor any bank I every heard tell on. I had eighty dollars lyin' between the pages;" "bug you may bet your socks," he said, "he never thought of peepin' in there."

THE STYLE BOOK

SUMMER QUARTERLY NEW PATTERNS

This brilliant Fashion Journal has far exceeded itself this quarter; while it is, as usual, illustrating the latest styles in ladies' wear, as produced from the Ladies' Home Journal Patterns, it has over-stepped anything heretofore attempted by itself or any other pattern book on the market.

Half a Hundred Plates, mostly full page, showing in a most concise manner the prevailing styles for women and children for the summer season. These plates comprise beautiful colored reproductions of actual dresses and costumes, half tones and sketches in black and soft tones, also two illustrations of photographs made in half tone of Gowns and Dresses made for Marshall Field & Company, Chicago, from Ladies' Home Journal Patterns. A detailed description of each garment is given, with the number of the pattern it is made from, also giving the class of material in vogue best adapted to its use.

Hundreds of smaller cuts are shown, giving the prevailing style in minor wear for women and children; also Transfer Embroidery Patterns.

Sample Embroidery Sheet—$10 Prize

The new Embroidery Transfer Patterns are being introduced in this way:—An actual sheet (28 x 13) containing twelve beautiful patterns for Fancy Stock Collars, Merry Widow Bows and Waist Set (front, collar and cuffs), also two rows of Fancy Initials. Instructions are given for the successful use of these, and four prizes are given for the best four experience letters on the use of this new method of transferring embroidery designs. Prizes: $10.00, $7.00, $5.00, $3.00.

"THE TRIUMPHANT THREE," WHO HAVE RETURNED FROM A HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL MISSION TO CANADA'S CAPITAL

ALD. H. PHELAN, Chairman of Board of Works.

Ald. Phelan, chairman of the Board of Works; Ald. Elliott and Ald. McIntyre returned last night from Ottawa, after having accomplished a most successful mission. The object of their visit was to lay before the Government the necessity of repairing the Wolfe street wharf, and, if possible, to establish a dry dock here.

ALD. GEO. ELLIOT, Chairman of Legal Committee, and Member of Board of Works.

The Peterborough delegation were introduced to Hon. Mr. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, by Mr. R R Hall, M.P., and discussed with him the repairs needed to the docks here. The Minister was impressed with the arguments set fort, and as a result of the visit of the delegation, $5,000 will be sent here.

The aldermen also waited upon Hon.

ALD. A. McINTYRE, A Member of the Board of Works.

Mr. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, in regard to the dry dock. It was, however, discovered that the construction of such a work here would involve an expenditure of at least $125,000. However, the Government will build a marine slip here, which will answer the purpose equally as well. The aldermen are highly satisfied with the result of their visit.

MORE LOTS WON AT NEWAYGO

Mr. Arthur Blade and Mrs. Montgomery Have Been Successful.

Mr. Arthur Blade, Park street, is another lucky Peterborough man who has secured a free lot at Newaygo summer resort, Quebec. Mr. Blade did not win his prize in the Limerick competition, but was successful in the naming contest which the Canadian Resort and Development Company of Montreal conducted in order to get a name for their new summer resort. Mr. Blade saw the company's advertisement in the Examiner and submitted a name which, although not successful in winning a first prize, secured for its owner a fifty-dollar lot. The successful name was "Shohola Glen."

Mrs. A. C. Montgomery, 43 Jackson avenue, was also successful in winning a similar lot in the same competition.

COUNTRY IS THE SAME ALL OVER

Land is Inundated in Parts From the Recent Rains.

A gentleman who returned last night from the east states that there is a surprising amount of water on the land. All through the country the effect of the recent rains is evident. In the lower parts there are regular pools and the higher slopes are very muddy.

THAT LAGOON ON BROCK STREET

Citizen Says That a Channel Should be Booyed Through the Lake.

A citizen has supplied the Examiner with some suggestions regarding the lagoon in the centre of the pavement at the southwest corner of George and Brock streets, that might well be acted upon by the authorities. He points out that if the pond is kept there for the benefit of the ducks belonging to a well known citizen who lives further west on Brock street, it should be moved nearer the home of the web-footed brigade, who are wearing out their feet in making the trip to their daily bath. The public-minded citizen says that the attention of the Minister of Railways and Canals should be called to the fact that a channel has not been bored through the lake and that at present navigation is rather dangerous. Several well known ladies or "loaded" craft having come to grief there in the early hours of the morning.

FARMERS DID NOT FAIL TO ATTEND

Many Were Present at Market This Morning in Spite of Weather And Roads.

The farmers must have made up their minds to come to the city this morning about 8 o'clock, for it was not until late that they began to arrive. Considering everything, the market was a good one with prices favourable and a good supply of general produce.

The company is composed of clever people in both the dramatic and vaudeville character, and have so far, on this, their first appearance in Canada, established a name for themselves. The company presents only the newest and best plays, interspersed with high class vaudeville. They are introducing in Canada Madam Flower, "The Bronze Melba," the greatest coloured singer in the world, who will render all the latest songs between acts. This feature alone is worth three times the price of admission. The opening play will be "To Be Buried Alive." Special tickets for ladies are being distributed through the city at the present time, which, if presented at the box-office before 6 o'clock Monday evening, will be exchanged for one best reserved seat on payment of 15 cents. MR. DANNY SIMONS AS A FISHERMAN

Danny Simons a day or two ago went a-fishing and caught fish, real live speckled beauties of the trout family at that. This may not seem much of an accomplishment for a man who has caught public appreciation before the foot-lights, but a little tale is connected with his trip. It appears that Mr. Simons accompanies Mr. M. C. Tooley to a "preserved" trout stream in the vicinity of Garden Hill. On arrival at their destination, these two disciples of Isaac Walton unlimbered their artillery, or, rather, roads and lines, affixed some fine fat worms and got busy.

Soon their creel began to weigh heavily with a fine lot of spotted trout. After a time Danny, with the true sportsman's instinct, spied a likely looking spot just around a bend of the creek and made for it. Whether the reflection of the bright May sunshine or the rippling waters the creek carried his thoughts to the footlights and made his eyes turn upwards to the gods is not known, but, anyhow, Danny failed to notice a big treacherous stump, evidently grown originally to trap fishing actormen. This stump was situated at the near side of the stream, and Danny did not see it. His foot, however, felt it, and the actor-manager took a rocket-like flight into the wet waters of the brook. When he crawled out his clothes were like those at McGinty after the latter's famous tour of inspection at the bottom of the sea. He managed to get a change of raiment from a friend near the spot, all but a pair of boots. Mr. Tooley happened to have brought a spare pair of top boots with him and offered these to Mr. Simons. Now Mr. Tooley wears a boot fully a trifle over number four, whilst Dan's footgear is many sizes under number eleven. These boots were of the high, deep-water kind, too. When Dan fell into them he remarked: "I may be puss in boots, but I've got thirty-two trout anyway."

ELECTION PAPERS MISSING

Col. Gourdeau's Letter Read by the Minister—Mr. Fielding's Denial—The Sunken Montcalm—G. T. P. Branch Lines — Ex-Governor-Generals Should Be Invited to the Quebec Tercentenary.

Ottawa, May 9.—In the House yesterday R. L. Borden read a telegram from Sherbrooke to the effect that the clerk of the Crown in Chancery had been summoned to appear before the election court at Stanstead, and had reported that the box purporting to contain the ballots of the bye-election in January contained the ballots of the election of 1904.

The Prime Minister said the matter was brought to his attention a week ago, and it is being looked into. He added that the late clerk of the Crown in Chancery was an honorable and painstaking official, to which Mr. Borden agreed.

Dr. Reid called attention to the report of the ramming of the ice-breaker Montcalm at Quebec. Mr. Brodeur said he had given instructions to the wreck commissioner to hold an investigation at once.

Mr. Brodeur read the letter of Deputy Minister Gourdeau, asking for leave of absence. Writing March 31, Col. Gourdeau said:

"I have worried every moment since the publication of the Civil Service Commissioners' report, containing the accusation against the officials of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, which I feel are both unjust and untrue. I am convinced that a full and complete investigation will establish this and will clear the public mind of all the insinuations and reflections that have been made against them.

"As my presence in the Department as deputy head might in some quarters be considered prejudicial to the fullest enquiry, I beg to renew for the third time my application for six months' leave of absence, preparatory to superannuation, and which I have so loyally hitherto refused to entertain under similar circumstances.

"I court the most rigid examination of all the Department's transactions, so far as I am concerned, and by placing myself in your hands I hope to assist you in that regard."

Mr. Fielding has returned from New York, and took the first opportunity to deny that his visit had anything to do with the question of the change of the route of the Transcontinental Railway. The report from New York was entirely without foundation. He went there on personal affairs, and had no negotiation with any financiers with respect to the bonds of the Transcontinental Railway. He added that there had been no negotiations with regard to a change of the route and no negotiations of any kind as to the matters referred to in the reports.

During the hour for private bills the bill to extend the time of the Grand Trunk Pacific branch lines was considered.

Houghton Lennox submitted an amendment declaring the right of the governor-in-council to take over the branch lines at a valuation upon the expiration of the lease of the National Transcontinental Railway, provided the sanction of Parliament is given.

Mr. Pugsley raised a point of order, that it was not within the power of a private member to submit a resolution which involved an expenditure of money. Mr. Lennox, however, pointed out that his amendment simply gave the Government the right to take over the branch lines, but the transfer must first receive the assent of Parliament.

Mr. Lennox was sustained by Mr. Speaker, and the discussion was continued by Messrs. Foster and Barker till the expiration of the hour.

The debate on the Aylesworth bill was continued by Mr. Crawford (Portage la Prairie), who dealt with the thin red line operations, claiming that very few qualified voters were disqualified by Leech. He asserted that there was no proper system of registration in Manitoba, and declared that in his own riding the lists were started with 600 or 700 Conservatives.

F. D. Monk, who followed, said the bill at first seemed innocent enough, but on closer examination it was found to be the most nefarious, most mischievous and most wicked piece of legislation that had ever come to his notice.

Mr. Monk had not lost faith in the Prime Minister, who had given the closest attention to the discussion, and who had no part in the framing of the bill.

Continuing in the evening, he expressed the fear that dishonest officials will be appointed to prepare the lists. For the curing of a grievance, Parliament had it in its power to refuse supply.

Emmanuel Devlin (Wright) argued that the new bill was necessary to bring under the municipal election law many classes of voters residing in the unorganized sections of the province. His other argument was that the bill "would cover many irregularities."

Mr. Lake (Qu'Appelle) commented on the failure of any Government speaker to defend the application of the proposed act to the Province of British Columbia. No one had even suggested that the British Columbia lists were perfectly fair.

Duncan Ross said, while admitting the lists were fair, the new law was necessary to make them applicable to the Federal electors.

The debate was adjourned at 11.15.

In the Senate yesterday afternoon Senator Macdonald of British Columbia suggested that the Government should invite the former Governor-Generals of Canada to be the guest of the Canadian Government at the Quebec celebration in July.

Those whom he thought should be included in this invitation were: the Duke of Argyle and Princess Louise, the Marquis and Marchioness of Lansdowne, the Earl and Countess of Derby, the Viceroy of Ireland and Lady Aberdeen and the Viceroy of India and Lady Minto.

Senator Macdonald further suggested that the Government should arrange a tour throughout Canada of those personages, so that they could see the progress which had been made.

Hon. Mr. Scott promised to have the Government's attention called to the suggestion.

PRINCE EULENBURG ARRESTED.

Was a Former Friend of the German Emperor.

Berlin, May 9.—Prince Philip zu Eulenburg has been placed under arrest. The crown prosecutor took this step as a result of the testimony given by two men at his bedside to the effect that the prince had been guilty of wrongful actions with them 25 years ago.

Prince zu Eulenburg was involved in the court scandal in Berlin that grew out of the charges brought by Maximillen Harden, editor of Die Zukunet, last summer.

The prince was taken into custody at his castle at Liebenberg and brought in in an ambulance automobile forty miles to the Charity Hospital, where he was detained pending a further hearing of a charge of perjury against him. The prince's arrest is taken to mean the irretrievable ruin of this brilliant man, who was at one time a confidential friend of Emperor William.

The prince has been nearer to His Majesty during the greater part of his reign than any other German subject. He might have been Chancellor of the Empire if he had not refused the post. This he did possibly because stories of secret misconduct have long been circulating against him.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC.

Charges Made by Major Hodgins Being Investigated.

Ottawa, May 9.—Major Hodgins' charges respecting the Grand Trunk Pacific commenced before the committee to investigate them yesterday. All the Transcontinental commissioners were in attendance, headed by S. N. Parent. There was a large attendance of members and of the general public.

At the outset, Frank Hodgins, K.C., who announced that he appeared for the major, asked for an adjournment, claiming that his client had only reached Toronto from Victoria the previous day, and that he had not had time to confer as to the facts of the case.

This proposition led to a good deal of cross-firing, but finally it was agreed that Frank Hodgins, K.C., should file a statement of the charges with the clerk of the committee on Monday night, and that the investigation should begin on Tuesday with the examination of Major Hodgins.

Frank Hodgins asked that counsel should be assigned to the major; in other words, that the country should pay the costs of the lawyer of the man who makes the charge.

C.P.R. Mechanics Organize.

Montreal, May 9.—The general committee representing the mechanical organizations of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in session here, has succeeded in uniting the organizations from the Atlantic to the Pacific under the title of the Federation of Railway Employes, and in event of a strike fully five thousand men would be affected. The organization takes in machinists and mechanics of all classes.

The committee has drawn up a demand which includes a nine-hour day and uniform rules and regulations. In the west the nine-hour day has been in operation for some time, but not so in the east, where ten hours prevails.

Invalid Ladies
This Is For You.

There are thousands of females who suffer untold miseries common to their sex.

This is largely due to the peculiar habits of life and fashion, and the improper training of girlhood. Then, too, the physical changes that mark the three eras of womanhood (the maiden, the wife, and the mother) have much to do with her sufferings, most of which are endured in silence, unknown by even the family physician and most intimate friends.

To all such whose hollow cheeks, pale faces, sunken eyes and feeble footsteps, indicate nervousness, palpitation of the heart, weak, faint and dizzy spells we would earnestly recommend a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. Jos. Snarp, Brighton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, weak spells and nervous trouble, and found no relief until advised to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I got one box and that helped me so much I sent and got five more. I am now cured completely."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. per box or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Substantial Increase In Population.

Smith's Falls, May 9.—In addition to eighty men who arrived here on Saturday from Carleton Place to become permanent residents, as a result of the C.P.R. making Smith's Falls the terminal point of the Chalk River division, sixty others have since come, making an addition to the population within the past week of one hundred and forty, and all are earning good wages. None of their families are here, and when they arrive it will mean an increase of between four and five hundred inhabitants.

Harbottle Gets Four Years.

Toronto, May 9.—Colin C. Harbottle, ex-secretary of the Toronto Club, charged with the embezzlement of $14,695.85 of the funds, yesterday pleaded guilty and was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary by Deputy Police Magistrate Kingsford. Mr. Robinette, his lawyer, and the crown attorney, both asked for leniency.

Buy Casey Mountain Shares

IN THE

CASEY MOUNTAIN COBALT MINING AND DEVELOPING COMPANY, Limited

Chartered by the Ontario Government

Authorized Capital - - - - $250,000.00

Par Value of Shares (fully paid-up and non-assessable): $1.00.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS—President: R. C. WILLIAMSON, Toronto, formerly of Peterborough; Vice-President: JAMES THOMPSON, Havelock, Ont.; Secretary-Treasurer: DR. H. A. WOOD, Peterborough, Ont.; Superintendent: B. WILLIAMSON, Haileybury, Ont.; D. A. REID, Brandon, Man.

HEAD OFFICE: MANNING CHAMBERS, TORONTO, ONT.

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares:

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which is a regular net-work of silver bearing veins that will go down for thousands of feet.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered twelve to date, varying in width from 16 ins. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining Proposition (not a Stock Speculation) and has been developed continuously during the past ten months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the district, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situate on the adjoining lot that according to good authority, was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00; a very important point to be considered in a mining company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent to Casey Mountain Shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

DIVIDENDS PAID BY COBALT MINING COMPANIES

Sirs:—Please deliver to me.....shares (fully paid up and non-assessable) of the par value of $1.00 each of the Capital Stock of The Casey Mountain Cobalt Mining and Development Company, Limited, in full payment of which I hand you herewith

$..... I agree that this application may be refused, and to accept pro rata allotment in the event of over subscription.

Occupation.....

Cobalt Camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Tredwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton and is paying big dividends.

CASEY MOUNTAIN MINING CO., Limited has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will sum $20 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would mean a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $300,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically a close corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at one dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Additional information can be had from the Secretary-Treasurer, DR. H. A. WOOD, 408½ George Street, Peterborough.

THE EXAMINER'S SPORTING PAGE

BASEBALL—The local season will likely be opened with a procession of players and the band. Riverside Park is to be made one of the prettiest ball grounds in the Dominion. Baltimore defeated Rochester by 3-2 in the only Eastern League game played yesterday. In the National Philadelphia beat Brooklyn 4-3 and Cincinnati was ahead of St. Louis 3-2 at the end of the eighth innings. New York won from Boston 3-0 in eight innings and Philadelphia succumbed to Washington by 3-2 in the American. All other big league games were postponed on account of rain.

BOXING AND WRESTLING—California fight promoters offer $30,000 for a go between Johnston and Burns.

WALKING—Tom Slater will walk ten or twenty miles against ar clay of any five Peterborough men. He thinks Jimmy Reynolds has a slim chance of accomplishing the Port Hope—Toronto walk in time expected.

ATHLETICS—Tommy Burns predicts that Americans will win everything at the Olympia games except the long distance event which will be secured by England. Olympia committee not talking about money to send a good team to England. J. H. Crocher has been appointed manager, and W. Sherring coach. The team will consist of fifteen men and sails June 13th.

ON GENERAL—T. Savigny is leading the novice class at P. B. C. Alleys in the competition which closes tonight. Some good scores are being made. W. V. Thompson, world's champion bowler will be at the P. B. C. Alleys on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Tom Slater Wants To Walk Relay Race Against Any Five Of The Peterborough Walkers

In a letter to the sporting editor of the Examiner, Tom Slater, the Oswego, N. Y. Walker, who took part in the recent six day race here, expresses his desire to arange a handicap race with local men. The American crack is willing to walk ten miles against a relay of five Peterborough men, each of them to walk two miles or else he will walk twenty miles against the same number of contestants each of them to cover four miles. Such a contest should prove highly interesting and a race under such conditions between Slater on one hand and Harrison, Hartley, Stevens, Stenner and another Peterborough man on the other should prove a drawing card Slater is very anxious to arrange a match here.

He states that he is feeling fine again, has entirely recovered from the bad cold he had when he left Peterborough. He is taking daily exercise and is ready for a race on short notice.

Speaking of Jimmy Reynolds proposed attempt on the Port Hope-Toronto walk, the American walker remarks, "With proper care and coaching he would have a fair chance of doing the distance in the time he expects, otherwise he will never make it but I hope he does."

Slater says that if Peterborough has another race in the fall, "there will be a field of starters that will make the last bunch look slow." Charlie Steyens, he thinks will make a good one if he learns to walk in form, as he is young and strong."

RIVERSIDE PARK WILL BE MUCH IMPROVED AS BALL GROUNDS

It is the intention of the owners of Riverside Park to convert that ground into as beautiful a baseball park as can be found in the Dominion, and if the weather permits, work will be commenced at once under the direction of "Ted." Maddock, shortstop of the Peterborough Ball Club, who assisted his father last year as groundkeeper of the Cleveland American League grounds. The diamond will be greatly improved and made faster, as the ground on the infield will be levelled perfectly. It has not yet been decided whether to have a "skin" or grass diamond, but in any event it will be made faster and more accurate than last year, so that clean fielding will be much more easy. The pitcher's box will be raised, and it is likely a new set of bases and a home plate will be secured. The diamond will be shifted in position a little and made accurate, as it has been discovered that several mistakes were made in laying out the old infield. With warm weather, it will not take long to get the grounds in shape.

CHAMPION BOWLER IS COMING

W. V. Thompson Will be at the P. B. C. Alleys Next Week.

Peterborough bowlers will be glad to learn that W V Thompson of Chicago, champion bowler of the world, will be in Peterborough on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week and will give an exhibition against some of the local trundlers at the P.B.C. alleys. Mr. Thompson is one of the best known bowlers, and individually the most clever trundler on the continent, and his appearance here will be watched with interest.

Domestic Philosophy.

Two apparently well content and jovial benedicts were discussing the infelicities of married life in tones easily overheard as they came downtown in a trolley car the other day. "Now, my wife and I rarely quarrel," said one, "and it is soon over when we do, but I had opportunity the other evening to impress a bit of domestic philosophy. We were sitting at the library table, with tabby comfortably snoozing on one side and a young collie dog blinking at the other end. 'Why can't we always live pleasantly together like those two?' remarked my wife suddenly. I didn't say anything, but a thought occurred to me, and, getting up, I fetched a piece of string and tied one end to the cat's ear and the other around the dog's front leg. In about two seconds there was a mixup and if I hadn't stopped it quickly by cutting the string there would have been little left of either the dog or the cat. 'Now, that's my idea,' said I, 'why most married people quarrel. They can't get far enough from each other when one happens to feel hurt,' and my wife didn't say a word."—Philadelphia Record.

Rival Organizations.

The man who had been keeping his seat in a Lexington avenue car, the seats of which were well occupied by women, spoke at last to the woman hanging on to a strap and who had been eying him intently for some time.

"I know I ought to get up and let you have my seat, madam," he said, "but I'm pledged against that sort of thing. I have just joined the 'Sit Still club,' an organization we have formed in Harlem, and if I should violate the solemn obligation I took when I became a member of that body I should be expelled and held up to the execration of all other members."

"That is all right, sir," replied the woman. "You mustn't mind my looking at you so hard. I am a member of the 'Stand and Stare club.'"

After which she continued to stand and stare at him in such a fierce manner that he finally got up, waved her into his seat and said, "I guess I'll resign from my club and join yours right now, madam."—New York Press.

A Throne and a North Wind.

Long had Gustavus Vasa sought to rouse his fellow countrymen, the Swedes, against the infamous Danish tyrant Christian, whose memory will always be linked with that of the "blood bath" of Stockholm. But the brave Gustavus found his compatriots cowardly and slow. An outlaw himself, no voice was raised in the assembly in his favor. He called upon the people to fight, but they sat sullen around him. Suddenly a cold wind rose from the north, and an old countryman cried, "God approves of the designs of Vasa, for a north wind is always a happy presage." These simple words acted like magic. The men flew to arms and prayed Gustavus to lead them against the Danes. In a few days he had collected an army large and brave enough to give battle to the formidable troops of the king of Denmark. Victory was theirs from the first, and the capture of Stockholm in 1523 placed the crown of Sweden upon Vasa's head.—Pearson's Weekly.

West Pointers on the Battlefield.

One thing of which all West Pointers felt proud was the brotherly love and kindness shown by both sides to fellow graduates when taken prisoners or when otherwise in distress. I have heard the story told of Fitzhugh Lee that on one occasion when scouting with a squadron of cavalry in the debatable country between Fairfax Courthouse and Alexandria he captured a picket of a similar commander under Tom Height and learned that the latter was taking breakfast in a farmhouse. Fitz went in alone, found Tom at table with his back to the door, so he was able to get up to him and slap him on the back before saying, "I think, Tom, you might have put out one picket." They took breakfast together, and then Fitz sent an escort to conduct him to the Federal lines and bring back his horse, having of course first paroled him. This was to save him from Libby prison.—General S. W. Ferguson in Metropolitan Magazine.

Champagne Corks.

Champagne corks are made of the very finest Catalonia corkwood. When the tree of that wood is planted, thirty years must elapse before it becomes fit for the first stripping of the bark, and even then the cork is of no use, being much too coarse. After eight years more a second crop arrives, but that again is of but poor quality, and eight years more, making forty-six years in all, must pass before the grower can reap any material benefit from the tree. Then, again, the greatest care is necessary for the manufacture of the best champagne corks because should they be defective in size and shape the quality of the wine will suffer. For that reason they are not made by machinery, like the ordinary cork, but are cut by hand, as finer work can be done that way.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Mazarin and His Pictures.

Perhaps no more ardent lover of pictures ever lived than Cardinal Mazarin, minister of the regency during the minority of Louis XIV. Being told that he had but two months to live, he was soon after seen in his nightcap and dressing gown, tottering along the gallery, potating to his pictures, exclaiming: "Must I quit all these? Look at that Correggi; this 'Venus' of Titian; that incomparable 'Deluge' of Caracci! Farewell, dear pictures, that I have loved so dearly and that cost me so much!"

Exaggerated.

Among the begging letters recently received at the office of a benevolent society was one running thus:

"This unfortunate young man is the only son of a widow who died childless, and his earnings maintain his aged father and infant brothers, whose sole support he is."

The secretary of the society wrote on the margin of the epistle the following note:

Sharpshooters of the Revolution.

As soon as a pioneer boy was big enough to level a rifle he was given powder and ball to shoot squirrels. After a little practice he was required to bring in as many squirrels as he had received charges under penalty of a severe lecture or even of having his jacket "tanned." At the age of twelve the boy became a fort soldier, with loophole assigned him from which to fight when the settlers rallied against an Indian foray. Growing older, he became a hunter of deer, elk, buffalo and bear, skilled in trailing and in utilizing cover, capable of enduring long marches through trackless mountain forests. At night he was content to curl up in a single blanket beside a small fire and sleep under the roof of heaven. If it rained, in a few minutes he built him a lodge of bark or boughs with no implement but his one pound tomahawk. Incessant war with the Indians taught him to be his own general, to be ever on the alert, to keep his head and shoot straight under fire pitted against an enemy who gave no quarter, but tortured the living and scalped the dead, he became himself a stanch fighter who never surrendered. The wilderness bred men of iron.

The Churchyard Yew's Secret.

"Why are yew trees found in cemeteries only?" said a forester. "Why, all over the world—saving here, where they don't exist—do you find in cemeteries great yews of immemorial age? Antiquaries have tried to attach some druidic significance to the matter. Yews grow in churchyards and nowhere else; hence they were sacred to the dead in the time of the Druids, and it was as erroneous to plant them in your garden as to plant tombstones there. I have exploded that superstition. On a walking tour of England one summer I asked every farmer I met why he had no yews on his place. The answer was always the same: 'Do you think I want to lose my cattle?' or 'Had one, but cut it down. The beasties got at it, and yew leaves is poison to the beasties.' Yes, that is the secret of the churchyard yew. It grows only in cemeteries because the farmers have destroyed it everywhere else, its leaves being injurious to live stock."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Washington and a Dog.

While the British occupied Philadelphia and the American force lay in winter quarters at Valley Forge, one day as Washington and his staff were dining a fine hunting dog which was evidently lost came to seek something to eat. On its collar was the name, "General Howe." Washington ordered that the dog should be fed, and then he sent it to Philadelphia under a flag of truce, with a letter reading: "General Washington's compliments to General Howe. He does himself the pleasure to return to him a dog which accidentally fell into his hands and by the inscription on the collar appears to belong to General Howe." The British commander in reply sent a cordial letter conveying his warm thanks for this act of courtesy of his enemy.

A Judge's Poetical Request.

In "Memoirs of Famous Trials," by Rev. E. V. Burnaby, is an amusing story about the late Lord Bowen, "a brilliant, intellectual and clever judge." His lordship wanted a lift to the lord chancellor's breakfast in 1883 and addressed the following request to his old friend, Mr. Justice Mathew:

My Dear J. C.—Will you be free to carry me, beside of thee, in your buggee to Selborne's tea, if breakfast he intends for we, on 2 November next D. V., eighteen hundred and eighty-three A. D., for Lady B., from Cornwall G., will absent be and says that she would rather see her husband be D dash D than send to London her buggee for such a melancholy spree as Selborne's toast and Selborne's tea?

The Sneezing Prayer.

The custom of following a sneeze with a prayer goes so far back into the past it is next to impossible to say when it actually began. According to Strada, the custom originated among the Assyrians, who, through an opinion of the danger that attended it, after the act of sneezing made a short prayer to the gods. The Romans after sneezing cried out, "Jupiter, help me!" The custom is mentioned by Homer, the early Jewish writers and others and is found among many savage tribes.

The Original New Zealanders.

The original New Zealanders were known as the most ferocious cannibals and the most warlike savages. They were big, gaunt fellows, of immense muscular force and great sagacity. These savage New Zealanders, though they ate their enemies, interred their own dead, and they believed that the third day after burial the heart separated itself from the corpse and was carried to the clouds by an attendant spirit.

Croup

When a child wakes up in the middle of the night with a severe attack of croup as frequently happens, no time should be lost in experimenting with remedies of a doubtful value. Prompt action is often necessary to save life.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

has never been known to fail in any case and it has been in use for over one-third of a century. There is none better. It can be depended upon. Why experiment? It is pleasant to take and contains no harmful drug. Price, 25 cents; large size, 50 cents.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The questions on the Sunday School lesson for Sunday, May 10th, are as follows:—

The Mission of the Holy Spirit. John 15: 26-16; 24.

Golden Text—I will pray the Father and He shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever. John 14; 16.

Verse 26—How does the Holy Spirit testify of Jesus?

Verse 27—Which most effectually proclaims Jesus, professional preaching or personal testimony?

Verses 1-6—What was the real cause of the persecution of Jesus, and of the early Christians? See verse three.

Are real Christians as effectually persecuted in these days by professional religionists who know not God as they were in those days?

Verse 7—What relation did the going away of Jesus have upon the coming of the Holy Spirit?

Is the Holy Spirit the same Divine Spirit that lived in Jesus?

Verses 8-11—What is the meaning of "reprove the world of sin."

What is it to "reprove the world of righteousness?"

What is it to reprove the world of judgment?

Would it be a fair interpretation of this statement of Jesus that the Holy Spirit will tell us when we are wrong, when we are right, and give us clear judgment to distinguish right from wrong?

Verses 12-13—Did Jesus keep back part of the truth from his disciples because they were not able to take it in, and if so what was it that limited them?

See Chap. 14: 26. And say why the Holy Spirit can teach some things that Jesus could not?

What if any, are the limits of the truth that the Holy Spirit will teach us?

Verses 14-15—How does the Holy Spirit glorify Jesus?

Can any person really know Jesus without the illumination of the Holy Spirit?

What things are they that belong to Jesus?

Is it literally true that the Holy Spirit will guide us into all truth and to all things, that we need to know or possess?

Verses 16-21—What did Jesus mean by "a little while and ye shall not see me and again a little while and ye shall see me?"

Is there any thought, or doubt, or fear, or problem of any kind, that we may not frankly bring to God and get a satisfactory answer?

Is sorrow a necessary part of the education of life?

Is sorrow always turned into joy in the experience of every true man?

Verse 23—Is sorrow really profitable and is it necessary in order to the greatest possible joy and blessedness and why? (This question is to be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verse 23—What is it to ask in Jesus' name, and are all such prayers answered?

Verse 24—What is it to have fulness of joy?

CELEBRATION OF THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE ERECTION OF ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH TO-MORROW

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, the present edifice, dedicated in May, 1896

RER. DR. DRUMMOND, PASTOR OF ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, HAMILTON, TO PREACH IN ST. ANDREW'S TO-MORROW

The seventy-third anniversary of St. Andrew's congregation will be celebrated to-morrow, when Rev. D. R. Drummond, M.A., B.D., of Hamilton, Ont., will preach. The services mark two other important events—the dedication of the present edifice twenty-two years ago, and the ordination of the minister, Rev. J. C. Potter.

St. Andrew's, in its early stages, was known as the "Auld Kirk," and for many years was ministered to by Rev. J. M. Roger, M.A., who, after the disruption of the Church in Scotland in 1843, established St. Paul's Church, and was its honoured minister for many years. In 1858 Rev. Dr. Douglass took charge of the congregation of St. Andrew's, and following him, Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, Rev. Kenneth McLennan, Rev. Alexander Bell, Rev. Andrew McWilliams, and the present pastor.

With the rapid growth of the city westward, St. Andrew's is now in the centre of a growing residential district, and with its excellent equipment is in a position to continue the useful work in which it has for so many years been engaged.

The special offerings at both services to-morrow will be for the "Finance Account."

On Monday night there will be held a Shredded Wheat Banquet from 6 to 8 o'clock. The programme will begin at 8, when, with an array of the best musical talent, the Rev. Messrs. Pogue and Keith will bear greetings.

Morning Service—

Sanctus, "Holy, Holy, Holy."

Solo, "The Lord Is My Light" — Allitsen—Miss Pearl Lundy.

Anthem—"Leave Us Not, Neither Forsake Us"—Palmer—Solo part, Mrs. W. A. Greenaway.

Evening Service—

Warwick M. Hough In Difficulties.

One of the most active opponents of pure food legislation at Washington was Warwick M. Hough, general counsel of the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association. On the very day that Dr. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, succeeded in getting an executive order forbidding the adulteration of whisky Mr. Hough while driving a motor car punctured a tire directly in front of that bureau.

"Yes," replied Dr. Wiley grimly; "you can get by everything in this country except the bureau of chemistry."—Success Magazine.

Her Accurate Ear.

"Making oneself agreeable," commented General Horace Porter, "is all very well, but there is danger in too much enthusiasm. I knew of one case where a young girl's very best young man said to her soulfully, 'Did you know that I passed your house last night?'

"'Of course I did,' she answered promptly. 'Did you think I wouldn't know your step?'

"And the young man grew thoughtful and grave, for he had passed in a cab."—Woman's Home Companion.

"Taking Him Into the Firm."

Wouldn't Work Her.

"All you married me for was my title," growled the duke.

"Well," replied the heiress as she placed her purse in the safe and mixed up the combination, "I at least got what I married you for, and that is more than you can say."—Chicago News.

Two Waterloos.

It is a very curious fact that a good many people do not know that two battles were fought at Waterloo. Both of these were fought against the French, the first under the command of the Duke of Marlborough on Aug. 17, 1705, who on this date actually occupied the same ground as the Duke of Wellington did a little more than a century later, June 17, 1815, the only difference being that the former was marching on Brussels and the latter was marching from Brussels. In the first battle the French were defending Brussels. They marched out to meet Marlborough, but owing to the slackness on the part of Schlangenburg, the Dutch general, who was fighting with him, it was not a success, Marlborough only taking a few of the French troops as prisoners. The following one, fought against Napoleon by Wellington, proved to be one of the greatest victories ever recorded in the annals of England.

Couldn't Be Divided.

In Felix Moscheles' "Fragments of an Autobiography" occurs the following: Mme. Schumann was wanted to play at a little musical reunion, but she did not respond. Mr. Moscheles was deputed to approach her. "Was she inclined to play?"

"Particularly disinclined," was the discouraging response.

The envoy tried again and mentioned her husband's "Carnaval." "One part I particularly love, the 'March of the Davidsbundler.' If I could only hear you play just that page or two!"

This roused her. "Page or two, indeed!" she cried. "Wenn man de 'Carnaval' spielt, spielt man ihn ganz." (When one plays the "Carnaval," one must play it all.) And she played the whole.

They Must Be Hardy.

An official of the department of agriculture referred at a dinner in Washington to the amateur florists who spring up in the suburbs every spring by thousands.

"More florists perhaps than flowers spring up," he said.

"In a seed shop one day I heard one of these amateurs complain about the last batch of seeds he had bought. After he had ended his complaint he began to ask floral questions.

"'Oh, by the way,' he said, 'what is a hardy rose?'

"'It is one,' growled the dealer, 'that doesn't mind your wife pulling it up by the roots every day to see if it has begun to grow yet.'"

Respect More Essential Than Love.

The most essential thing in marriage is respect. It is above love, above compatibility, above even the priceless sense of humor. Respect will make even the "appalling intimacy" endurable and will bring one through the most trying disagreements with no bruise on the soul, whatever wounds there may be in the heart. Therefore, men and women, never, never marry any one you don't really respect, however passionately you may love.—Grand Magazine.

THE SHERIFF HAS POSITIVE ASSURANCE THAT THE FEMALE BLUEBEARD HAS BEEN BURNED

La Porte, Ind., May 11.—(Special).—Mrs. Belle Guinness is dead. It is her body which was found with those of her children in the ruins of the house where she murdered probably a score of men and women. We have known this for days. On one of the fingers of the body was a gold ring, which was identified as one Mrs. Guinness wore. Her keys lay in the cinders beside the body. We are sure she is dead." This is the declaration Sheriff Smutzer made to-day.

GUNS BROUGHT INTO PLAY IN THE FREIGHTHANDLERS' STRIKE AT OWEN SOUND THIS MORNING

Detectives Fire on Strikers—Latter Retaliate With Coal Missiles—Several Injured.

MAYOR READS RIOT ACT

Examiner Special:

Owen Sound, May 11.—The strike of the C.P.R. freight handlers assumed serious proportions shortly after seven this morning. The C.P.R. had about 60 special constables sworn in that they brought up from Toronto with Provincial Detective Rogers. The strikers hearing that an attempt was being made to begin work hurried to the wharves quite peaceably. Several of the strikers were deputed to persuade the men who were going to work to quit, and the other strikers were standing in bunches on the dock. Suddenly the special constables fired upon them. A rush was made for the coal pile and the strikers used the coal so effectively that the constables returned inside the boats, but not before five of them were seriously injured, and one may not recover.

Among the strikers two had narrow escapes from being shot, the bullets going through their clothing. One was shot in the foot, one in the shoulder and one through the calf of the leg. After the shooting, Mayor Kennedy read the riot act, and both parties were invited to his office for a discussion. Mr. McMurchy, solicitor, and Superintendent Nelson represented the C.P.R. Mayor Kennedy represented the town and a committee of three represented the strikers. The meeting resulted in a disagreement. The C.P.R. suggested that the men go to work and leave the matter to be settled by the Government Arbitrator, or to accept 15 cents, day, and 16 cents, night, for the season. The men, however, refused, and are holding out for last season's figures. To the credit of the outsiders brought in by the C.P.R., they have stuck to the Owen Sound contingent, though the majority are destitute and are being cared for by the town. The sympathies of the citizens are with the strikers. They hold that it is preposterous to ask men to work for 12 cents per hour, more particularly when the C.P.R. is charging as high rates for freight as they did last year.

FIRST TRIP IN CANOE ALMOST COST LOCAL MAN HIS LIFE

Choosing the swift-running Otonabee River, above the C. P. R. bridge, as the place for his initial canoe trip, Ed. Hubbard, Charlotte street, yesterday nearly paid with his life for his inexperience. The river is very high at this season, and the current is swift. Hubbard secured a canoe about 2.30 o'clock, and started out alone with the intention of paddling around for a short time. He had only been out a few minutes when in some manner he overturned his canoe, not a hard task, especially for an amateur paddler, and was thrown into the cold, swift waters of the Otonabee. Fortunately, however, he managed to grasp his capsized canoe, and shouted for help while he was being carried rapidly down stream. A man named Mitchell was on hand in a canoe and went to the rescue, paddling out to Hubbard, who seized his canoe and was towed to shore while other parties rescued his boat.

The unfortunate man was almost exhausted by his immersion in the icy waters, and Dr. Cameron attended to him and had him removed to his home on Charlotte street. It was the first time that he had been out in a canoe alone, and when one looks at the river at this season of the year, it is easy to see that an upset would be an easy matter.

POLICE CALLED IN THE RAIN TO HUNT UP VANISHED ROBBER

Police Officers Adams and Meagher were called out in Friday night's downpour on a 6unco robbery story that was supposed to have taken place on Bethune street.

Mr. Geo. Lawson, 499 Bethune street, called up the police station, asking for a policeman to come to his residence at once. The two officers started out with a business-like swing which caught the eye of wayfayers, who immediately "smelt a rat."

The policemen arrived at Mr. Lawson's home, accompanied by a crowd of the more curious. Everything looked peaceful enough. It was after ten o'clock and nothing seemed to be wrong. Mr. Lawson explained how a man came up on his verandah and took a pitcher of milk. It is also reported that Mr. Lawson was much perturbed by his presence. The man, however, had disappeared when the police arrived. The latter made inquiries of the neighbours if they had heard or seen anything making a noise like a robber, but nothing could be obtained to enlighten the police.

HALIBURTON MAN TRIED TO BLOW UP A STUMP WITH GUNPOWDER

Minden, May 11.—(Special.) — One day last week Mr. G T Austin of Lochlin placed a bottle containing some gun-powder in a hole made to receive it in a pine stump. A home-made fuse was fixed in place, and, after carefully arranging it to his liking, a lighted match was applied and a hasty retreat taken. More than sufficient time was allowed for the stump to go skyward, but as it did not go he concluded there was something wrong with the fuse, and went to examine it, when, upon stooping to lift it again, the thing went off. The result was that the stump remained in its place, and the charge passed out in front of him, coming in contact with his hand, which was burned so severely that a doctor was required to pick out the powder and dress the wound. A watch chain hanging from his vest at the time of the accident was broken in several pieces, some of which have not yet been found.

FORMER LOCAL METHODIST MINISTERS HAVE NEW SCHEME

Special Staff Correspondence.

Montreal, May 11.—Two Methodist ministers, both well known in Peterborough, one a former pastor of the George street Methodist church, are interested and will be associated in the execution of a new scheme in connection with the famous St. James' Methodist Church, to save which to the denomination such a strenuous fight was made a few years ago by Canadian Methodists.

Official announcement was made yesterday morning by Rev. W. B.

Dressy Fancy Vests

The clothes do not make the man, but many a man owes his success to good clothes.

¶ Is there anything more dressy than a handsome Fancy Vest—selected of course in taste?

¶ No wardrobe is complete without at least two fancy vests of some sort—say a light and a dark one, to wear on different occasions, in fact, many good dressers seldom wear any other than a fancy Vest.

¶ Our Summer Stock is most complete, comprising the latest New York Kinks in Linen Crash, plain and fancy P.K's, Mercerised Cloth, Flannel, Fancy Cheviots and Tropical Worsteds in plain, stripes, checks and fancy Figures, colors:—natural linen, browns, tans, green, olive, grey and fawns. Young, formerly of Peterborough, that, as a result of two years and a half's work on his part during his regime as pastor, in conjunction with the lay officials of the Church, the finances of that institution would be placed on a new basis by the amalgamation of the different funds, and that in future the system of pew-letting, a practice followed in this church from its inception, would be abolished.

As a part of this scheme, the announced further the appointment of Rev. N. D. Drew, formerly of Pontypool, and during the year in which the last conference was held in Peterborough, secretary of that gathering, to the position of church secretary, an office created in connection with this new policy, which, it is felt, is the only one which can save this church from further financial embarrassment. Mr. Drew's work will be solely associated with the business management of the church.

COWS WERE OUT—SO IS OWNER

Cost Jas. Mongraw $6.65 Because Cattl Ran at Large.

"There is the same old charge against you, and probably it is the same old cow," remarked Magistrate Dumble at Police Court this morning to James Mongraw who was charged with allowing cattle to run at large.

Mr. Mongraw was aware that one of his cows had been out at one time, but did not know of any other occasion.

Joseph Barnard of East City, however, stated that he had seen Mr. Mongraw's cow on the street half a dozen times, and that the animal had damaged his lawn.

Samuel Stewart corroborated the statement, and on the strength of the evidence Magistrate Dumble fined the defendant $2 and costs, the whole amounting to $6.65.

Mr. Mongraw intimated that other cows in addition to his had been doing a little road work, and the probabilities strongly point to the appearances at an early date of several other East City cattle owners in court.

Is your name on the Voters' List for the City of Peterborough? Unless you look after the matter promptly you may be deprived of your franchise on June 8. Attend to it now.

IS IT HYPOCRITICAL?

Mr. Whitney's grandiloquent boast that he would not bribe a constituency does not seem to have had much effect on his followers. As he said this—which he did in Hamilton—we can fancy that Mr. Whitney "winked his other eye" — meaning that the boast of honesty was for public consumption, while his followers, like Mr. Lennox, in Temiscaming, who told the electors that if they voted for the Government candidate they would get big grants for roads, and if they didn't, they wouldn't get anything of account, and Mr. Hendrie of Hamilton. The people of East Hamilton were told in the same city where Mr. Whitney scorned to bribe a constituency, that if the city wanted to get the Technical College, which Mr. Whitney virtuously refrained from promising, the electors "MUST SEND A MAN TO TORONTO WHO IS PERSONA GRATA WITH THE GOVERNMENT." That is, they must vote for the Whitney candidate, Mr. Hendrie, if they wanted to get the Technical College. Isn't it nauseating to see Mr. Whitney pose as a virtuous purist — refuse, in lofty terms, to bribe a constituency, and then, under his very nose, to see his understrappers promise, in his interest, the very things he refused to promise—in public. One does not like to charge the Premier of the great Province of Ontario with hypocrisy, but the dictionary will have to be revised before any other name will fit his failure to practise what he preaches, or to persuade his followers to take the same lofty path he says he treads.

ANOTHER BENNETT FALSEHOOD

Mr. W. H. Bennett, M.P., continues to hold the belt as champion slanderer and vilifier of the House of Commons. In discussing the purchase of furniture supplies for the departments, he alleged that Mr. A. W. Fraser, K.C., was a shining light in one of the companies, and as Mr. Bennett put it, "these companies took the Minister by the throat and forced their goods upon the country." Perhaps Mr. Bennett seeks revenge for the wrecking of the fabric of slander which he helped to build in the timber limits inquiry, but, whatever his motive, his statement lacks every element of truth. Writing to the Ottawa Journal, which gave prominence to Mr. Bennett's mendacious and abusive statement, Mr. Fraser says:

I wish to say that the reference to me is absolutely untrue. I am not a shareholder or director in that company and never have been since the company commenced business. I am not financially interested in the company and never have been. I do not participate in the profits of the company. I have never spoken to the present Minister of Public Works, nor any of his predecessors in that office, nor any officer of the department, on behalf of the company, and the officer in charge of that work in his evidence before the Public Accounts Committee also stated that I had never seen him in regard to the matter. Is it, therefore, fair that a man in public life, shielded by the privilege of his position, should slander a private citizen by insinuation and innuendo to make political capital, without ascertaining the facts?

This is but one illustration of many presented this session of how so-called scandals are manufactured for "Tory" campaign material. The Opposition appears to have lost all respect for decency in its hyena-like hunt after means of vilifying opponents. If not for his own personal self-respect, one might suppose that Mr. Bennett would come forward with an apology on behalf of the decent electors of Simcoe, who must be humiliated by such dishonourable conduct. And yet, it seems to be taken for granted that Mr. Bennett will not make the amende honourable, but will bob up again at the first apparently favourable opportunity, to seek to throw more mud. And even The Journal passes over his letter without a word of comment.—Hamilton Times.

EDITORAL NOTES

The Ottawa Citizen says the Whitney Government will go down in history as the "square deal" Government. In evidence of which, we suppose, will be adduced the over-representation of the city of Toronto compared with the rest of the Province; the gerrymandering of Brockville, Peel, the Middlesexes, Hurons, etc.; the three-fifths handicap on Local Option, and the hiring out of prison labour at three cents per hour.

Hon. A. G. MacKay, the Liberal leader, has received an enthusiastic re-nomination by his constituents. He well deserved the compliment of a return by acclamation. But the expedient of putting up a vexatious opposition—sacrificing a candidate—will not prevent Mr. MacKay from covering the Province and carrying the fiery cross throughout the Province. Hon. Mr. MacKay has every date engaged until after May 20. Everywhere he is creating enthusiasm and earning golden opinions.

There's trouble in the Conservative camp in Hamilton. Mr. Scott, a stalwart Conservative, alleges that he was "turned down" for the nomination by the "machine" in East Hamilton. There are some troubles incident to a big majority and the spoils system. The misguided electors gave the Government the first in 1905, and Mr. Whitney imported the "spoils system" from the United States and planted it in Ontario — made the noxious weed take root in honest Ontario soil. If it makes "ructions" in his own party, he has only himself to blame.

The platform adopted by the Conservatives at the Provincial convention of 1905 contained two promises for labour — one to label convict-made goods as such, and the other to provide a measure to promote better relations between capital and labour. The latter promise was, the Brantford Expositor points out, ignored, and instead of the other having been kept, as soon as the party got into power it made a Central Prison contract in which it was provided that cordage and binder twine made by convicts should not be so labelled. There is not m[illegible] to be proud, eh in such a reco[illegible]

THAT THREE FIFTHS CLAUSE

(Hamilton Times.

In view of the importance attached by many people to Whitney's three-fifths vote in local option contests, it may be interesting to our readers to consider how this provision has affected the result of elections under that act. Since the measure was placed on the statute book it has been the means of defeating local option in 73 municipalities, in which there were 242 licenses, although, in every case, the by-law had a majority of the voters. In the same time, 39 municipalities having 103 licenses gave a majority against local option. Within the same two years 72 municipalities, having 165 licenses, carried local option by the requisite three-fifths vote.

The showing is then, in brief, that while local option was under the three-fifths vote, carried in 72 municipalities, it was by the three-fifths clause alone defeated in 73.

The excuse presented by Whitney for requiring three temperance votes to be the equivalent of two liquor votes is that the carrying of local option under such conditions, showing such a preponderance in favour of the measure, tends to its permanency. It is interesting, in view of this, to note that in the last six years during four of which a simple majority was all that was required for appeal, out of 175 opportunities to repeal local option by-laws, only two have been carried.

If Conservative candidates are still considering what sort of answer they will give those temperance voters who have somewhat inconsiderately confronted them with the mathematical and ethical problem of why their votes should not count for as much as any other citizen's votes, perhaps they may be able to derive some comfort and inspiration from these figures.

A CLEAN ELECTION.

(Ottawa Journal.)

All decent citizens will be rejoiced to hear that the hoped-for arrangements for a clean provincial election so far as the city of Ottawa is concerned have been agreed to. The Journal congratulates the delegates of the two political parties who have brought the matter to a successful issue. They went to work in a practical, businesslike manner and with a cordial desire evidently to arrive at a satisfactory solution of the problems on hand. If the regulations adopted at the joint meeting of delegates are faithfully adhered to, the election of 1908 will be a decided improvement compared with some of its predecessors. The delegates are honourable, representative men who will take a just pride in seeing that the details of the agreement are loyally observed, and behind them is a solid body of public opinion resolved not to tolerate questionable tactics of any kind or by either side.

STATUTE LABOUR TAX NOT PAID

W. A. Bailey One of Those Who Has Neglected This Trifling Formality.

Neglect in failing to pay their statute labour tax resulted in the appearance of a number of citizens at Police Court this morning, and in several cases the Magistrate administered a memory-jog in the shape of a five-dollar fine.

Among those who had overlooked the trifling formality was that well-known personage, W. A. Bailey, writer of post cards. P. C. Newhall testified that he had served Mr. Bailey with a notice, and that that individual had intimated that he saw no reason why he should pay statute labour tax, and would write to the Magistrate. Incidentally Mr. Bailey did write a characteristic letter to Mr. Dumble, expressing a far from complimentary opinion of Canadian justice.

"Mr. Bailey will soon learn to know our customs," remarked the Magistrate, as he chalked up a $5 against the name of the defendant, adding $1.85 costs for good measure.

Thos. Mackie had a similar charge to contend with, but procured a certificate to the effect that he was a member of the volunteer regiment, and was therefore exempt from the statute labour tax. The case was dismissed.

Michael C. Burns said he had received no notice in regard to the statute labour tax, and when he received his summons last week he had gone to pay his tax to the tax collector, who told him it was out of his hands, and that he should see the city clerk. This he had neglected to do. The Magistrate was lenient, and let him off with $1, and 85 cents costs.

It cost Ray Ryan $2 to learn that bicycles may not be ridden on the sidewalks with impunity, or, in fact, with anything else. He pleaded guilty and did not appear in court.

The case against Peter Warner was enlarged. He was to have appeared this morning, and the Chief asked for a warrant for his arrest.

Another Lively Rally In Gillespie's Committee Rooms; The Political Situation Reviewed

Addresses By The Candidate And Others—Large Number in Attendance.

MR. WHITNEY'S SQUARE DEAL

There was another lively rally at Gillespie's Committee rooms on Saturday night when a large number of Liberals assembled to hear the addresses on the provincial political questions and on the progress of the campaign work. The speakers included some of the working men, all of whom expressed their intention of assisting Mr. Gillespie and the cause of the Hon. A G MacKay in the coming provincial election campaign.

Before introducing the speakers, Mr. J J Hartley, the chairman, referred to the good work of Mr. Gillespie. As far as he could learn his prospects were improving rapidly. He was an energetic and an honest man and he believed with four weeks faithful work that Mr. Gillespie would be elected as representatives from West Peterborough to the Ontario Legislature.

The Square Deal Plea

Mr. J J Thornton stated that he had carefully studied the policies of both governments in the press and he believed, had Mr. Whitney managed the affairs of the province as he should have done, there would not have been much of a fight against him. He did not even follow up the fair beginning he had made. Mr. Whitney and his government were, as their policy had shown, believers in class legislation, and centralization of government, which their recent action of practically making sure of eight members from the city of Toronto, illustrated.

During the past week all had been waiting for the first gun of the Conservative campaign and all have seen how Mr. Whitney now cries for "a square deal"—after putting through such legislation as he has done in the gerrymander and the Larose Mine deal.

He was a Liberal through and through and he hoped that the coming campaign of Mr. Gillespie would be successful and he was sure that, with constant and united labour, it would be such.

Objects to Whitney Rule

Mr. Gillespie next responded to the urgent request of the meeting and on taking the platform was greeted with much applause. The candidate, after a few introductory remarks, stated he had had a hard week's work during the past six days on account of the disagreeable weather. Throughout the country however, he had been cordially received and had found a great many objecting in no mild way to the work of the Whitney Government, particularly in their record on the Temperance question and on the spoils system. The old Liberals who had stood firm through so many campaigns of the past were all rallying to the Liberal call and he was pleased to report that the outlook throughout the country was becoming brighter every day.

Mr. R. R. Hall

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., said that if on thing had struck him more than another, in regard to the maladministration of Mr. Whitney's Government, it was that in the dying hours hours of the session it had forced through, among other iniquitous acts, a most unfair redistribution bill. So unfair was it that the Opposition had forced a division on it, no less than eight times. By one of its provisions the city of Toronto, in place of its present four members, was given eight, and every voter allowed two votes instead of one. Had the same privilege been extended to other large centres of population not so much would have been thought of it. But this was not done. Had it been extended to the city of London, for instance? Hon. Adam Beck would undoubtedly be defeated, and two Liberal members returned to the Legislature at the next election. Fear of the certain consequences deterred the Government. But Mr. Whitney had done a foolish thing. He would have been stronger in the country today had he not forced through that bill; for the Liberals who so generously supported him at the last election see plainly how misplaced their confidence in his promises has been. Mr. Whitney used to rave against the gross extravagance of the Ross Government. In thirty years of rule that Government increased the taxation in this province by one dollar per head. It had only taken the Whitney Government three and a half years to increase it in the same proportion. Mr. Whitney also used to decry the slaughtering of officials. He had not practised what he preached, as he had dismissed all but three of the license inspectors throughout the province. These were only two or three amongst the many culpable acts of Mr. Whitney's Government. Even the Conservatives themselves, in certain quarters, are dissatisfied at the way things are going. In North Renfrew and other ridings they are fighting amongst themselves, and the impression is gaining ground that the Liberals are going to sweep the decks, and greatly decrease if not wipe out his big majority.

Mr. Whitney's speech at Hamilton was weak in every particular. He asked for a "square deal," and a square deal would undoubtedly be dealt to him. His hearers must not think that because Mr. Bradburn was returned at the last election by 1,200 majority, that the Liberals of West Peterborough were going up against an impossible thing in the next election. We have a capable, strong, earnest, honest candidate in Mr. Gillespie. All should give him their undivided support and impress upon the people of this riding by their own actions that he is running a perfectly clean election.

Without disparaging Mr. Bradburn's personality, can it be conscientiously said asked Mr. Hall, that he is worthy of the confidence of the electors of this riding, when he has endorsed Mr. Whitney's action in everything? He thought that the answer would be unequivocally recorded on the 8th day of June, that he certainly is not.

Mr. Andrew Macfarlane

Mr. Macfarlane in his address first referred to the organization work and asked for united assistance in the West Ward.

He had been surprised, he said, in reading the report of the Premier's opening meeting of his campaign in Hamilton, to hear him cry that he wanted "a square deal." What has he been doing to want a square deal? He thought that it Mr. Whitney got a "suare deal" at the coming election he would be left at home. At the last election he had made an urgent demand for the votes of the Christian men only. They had evidently harkened to the call but have discovered now that they have been badly deceived. He boasted of his intentions to eliminate all evidences of the spoils system, of appointing, as nearly as possible, non-partisan men to act in the capacity of servants of the people. Yet it has been found that Mr. Whitney has apparently the faculty of appointing only men who are "dyed-in-the-wool" Conservatives to act as license commissioners and in the various other provincial offices.

All would remember how Mr. J W Flavelle, an honest license commissioner in Toronto, who had all ways done his duty in the squarest possible manner, but who had been removed from his position by the Whitney Government because he could not be manipulated to satisfy his political desires.

The "square deal" that Mr. Whitney wants and deserves, is that the West Riding of Peterborough vote for Mr. Gillespie and leave one of his supporters at home. He was willing to admit that the 32-year career of the Ross Government was a long one, and that therefore, perhaps, the cry of "time for a change" before the last provincial election was partly justified, but the people of Ontario had given the man Whitney a chance, and they have now found themselves badly deceived.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams

In beginning his address, Mr. R. F. McWilliams referred to the opening of Mr. Whitney's campaign, stating that there was nothing better for the campaign work of the Liberal party than to hear the premier's speeches. He had heard and read great deal about the guarantee of the Canadian Northern Railway bonds when that question came up in the House. But he could find nothing to satisfy him until he had read Mr. Whitney's address.

Four years ago Mackenzie and Mann, two of the ablest men the country ever produced, had made a plan to build a railway line from Toronto to Sudbury. When they came to open up this entirely new line into new country, the Ross Government had thought that they deserved support and gave a guarantee of $1,000,000 of bonds taking a first mortgage on every part of line, rolling stock, stations and even receipts. Mr. Ross had always been keen on the colonization of west New Ontario. But Mr. Whitney at that time made a strenuous attack on the proposition, and made a motion that the Government should not make a guarantee.

Quoting from the Toronto World, which, remarked Mr. McWilliams, was now a good "Tory" paper, he pointed out from an interview between Mr. Whitney and the World that the former does not yet believe in the proposition of the Ross Government regarding the railway bonds. Yet, strange to say, he has himself guaranteed the bonds of the short lines of the same railway to the amount of $1,000,000, and also these of the terminals to the extent of a million and a half of dollars. One of these short lines is a spur into the town of Orillia, which is without any doubt a piece of road that will pay dividends from the very start. Two of them are railways into mines owned by Mackenzie and Mann themselves; one of which is said to be the richest mine in the province. This is the sort of thing which Mr. Whitney proposes to boom.

Not only this but he also proposes to boom the terminals, one of them being in the city of Toronto, which the Whitney Government was so anxious to get.

The question arises in this regard as to whether the Government was approached by Mackenzie and Mann or Mackenzie and Mann approached by the Government. Does anyone suppose that Mr. Mackenzie came to the Government and made the proposition? Did Mr. Whitney go to Mr. Mackenzie and make the proposition at the eleventh hour, and was it not for election purposes?

That is one sample of the administration of affairs of the province, said Mr. McWilliams, and the people should be impressed with the fact that they are not getting a square deal.

In closing his remarks, he believed that if they was united effort in the work in the present campaign, that Mr. Gillespie would be a member of the Ontario Legislature during the coming session. It must be the possible assurance, he said, of every Liberal in this riding that the Whitney Government does not deserve the support that the people reposed in it three and a half years ago. The people want a representative from West Peterborough who will be in the Government to work for the people, to be honest and to be bold and not to boast an honesty and a boldness that does not exist.

Mr. G. M. Roger

Mr. Roger was glad to see such a large gathering present and also to report that he had been interested in the support given Mr. Gillespie at his various meetings in the country, and that the farmers had every confidence in him. He was well known as a progressive and successful man, and he was receiving good support. The cause was a good one and the party, he was certain, had a good man to support that cause in Mr. Gillespie.

The people of Ontario are awakening to the fact that when they elected Mr. Whitney to the office, three and a half years ago, they made a mistake. It is now becoming plain that he has not been living up to the high standard he had boasted of. For a Government with such a large majority it could well have afforded to do right, and not to have committed the grave offences that they have committed. Their record could not be justified, and he could find that no attempt had been made by the Conservative Government to justify it. The gerrymander and license law alone were enough to condemn the boasts of Whitney.

Mr. Roger next carefully explained the significance of the various ballots that have been and that are now in use. He pointed out that while in Opposition Mr. Whitney had boasted that he would revolutionize the ballot, but he has selected one proposed by the Liberals.

In Opposition Mr. Whitney had also opposed the Brewer's License, the Succession Duties, Corporation Licenses, etc., and one would have thought he would have abolished all these by this time, but, strange to relate, they still exist, and, if anything, they are increased.

From the appearance of matters in the county, Mr. Roger thought that Mr. Gillespie's prospects were excellent, and he was assured that, if there was individual work among the workers, as well as city, there would be a very different complexion to the West Peterborough election, from that of three and a half years ago.

Men Who Will Work

Mr. John O'Brien wanted to see progressive work. Reports were very encouraging for the success of Mr. Gillespie, and he believed that, with more progressive work, his success would be assured on the 8th of June.

Mr. O'Hern had come to the meeting just to see how things were getting along. But from what he had heard, he was going to go right into the election and do all he could for the Liberal candidate, and hoped that on the 8th of June he would be the winner of the day.

Mr. Stratton's Address

Mr. Stratton dealt particularly with the work of organization. He did not suppose that much progress had been made during the present week. There had been a great deal of wind during the early part of the week at Hamilton, and in Peterborough during the earlier part of the week we had had our full share of rain, making the evenings disagreeable for committee work. He believed the election could be won with thorough organization and thorough work. The electors of this riding were independent voters, and Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Whitney had not carried out their promises and they should be defeated and Mr. Gillespie should be elected. The latter recognized, when he accepted the nomination that he had a great majority to overcome, and he hoped to be able to win and his friends would have to stand by him. In the country districts Mr. Gillespie was the popular candidate—where he was best known, and before election day he would be as well known in Peterborough. During the closing weeks of the last session of the Whitney Government they had completed their bad record. The Ross Government was charged with being the "wicked government." But their alleged wickedness had not been exposed as Mr. Whitney promised to do. The Conservatives promised to decrease the expenditure, but they had increased it from four and one-half millions to eight millions, and had it not been for the revenue provided by the Ross Government they would have a deficit of three millions. Whatever surplus they had they owed it to the Ross Government. Mr. Whitney in his Hamilton speech had stated that his administration had accomplished as much in four years as the Liberals had in thirty-two years. This was another of Mr. Whitney's wild and reckless statements. The speaker stated that they hoped to show to the working men what the Whitney Government had done—or rather, not done—for them during the past three and one-half years. Mr. Stratton then referred to the work of organization, one of the most important features of the campaign. Measures should be taken to cover every individual elector and arrange that his vote should be looked after. It was important that registration should be carefully and efficiently looked after. There was work for every Liberal and the more systematically that work was directed the better the results.

The meeting closed with cheers for the king and candidate.

SUMMARY OF THE WORK AT ST. JOHN'S

Given by the Rector—The Musical Service Yesterday.

The Rev. Canon Davidson gave a summary of the work done in connection with St. John's. Reference was made to the great progress that had been made, not only in material matters, but in the higher plane of spiritual matters. The latter had been especially emphasized, as shown by the increase in Easter communicants, whose number had grown in five years—a steady increase—from 303 in 1904 to 441 in 1908. Reference was also made to the work of the various societies working in connection with St. John's, in the course of which he spoke of the splendid work of the choir and choirmaster in the church. After Evensong when the choir were assembled in the new spacious vestry, it being the last service at which Rev. Canon Davidson officiated before leaving for England, Mr. R J Devey, in a few well chosen words voiced the earnest heart-felt wishes of the choir for the best welfare of the Canon during his four months' absence. Canon Davidson suitably replied and shook hands with every chorister as they left the vestry.

At the close of Evensong Mr. H Mumphet sang in splendid voice, Gramer's "Hosanna," and the choir sang as a vesper after the Benediction, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Many of the congregation waited after service to say good-bye to the Rector, who leaves on Friday for a four months' absence in England.

Elevation To The Priesthood Of The Rev. C. E. Wilkinson

Impressive Ceremony Performed at St. Luke's Church Yesterday Morning—Special Sermon by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt.

A LARGE CONGREGATION

The solemn and impressive service of ordination in the Church of England was performed yesterday morning at St. Luke's church when Mr. C E Wilkinson of Apsley was raised to the priesthood by the Right Rev. Bishop Reeve, Assistant Bishop of Toronto.

A fairly large congregation was present and followed closely in the beautiful service by which the candidate was given authority to administer the sacraments of the Church.

Mr. Wilkinson only a few months ago came to Canada from England. He is a graduate of King's College, London, and an exceedingly clever and learned young man. In March last he was ordained deacon in St. John's church. It is the usual custom to be a deacon one year before being advanced to the priesthood. But in view of Mr. Wilkinson's qualifications. His Lordship appointed that his ordination should take place yesterday. He passed his examinations remarkably well. Since coming to this country he has been engaged in clerical work at Apsley.

Morning prayer was said yesterday at 10 o'clock by Rev. C. M. Farney of Buckhorn and Rev. C. R. Spencer of Young's Point. At 11 o'clock the ordination service proper commenced. The bishop and clergy in procession with the choir entered the church. After the opening hymn, Venerable Archdeacon Warren presented the candidate to the bishop, and His Lordship exhorted the people to pray for the candidate about to be ordained.

The Sermon

The special sermon of ordination was preached by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's. It was an earnest and inspiring discourse, impressing upon the candidate the sacredness of the office to which he was being called. His duty would be to preach Christ boldly and authoritatively, and to follow the commission of Christ to the apostles. Dr. Langfeldt spoke from the words found in the 14th verse of the third chapter of St. Mark's gospel—"And He ordained twelve, that they should be with Him, and that He might send them forth to preach." The speaker referred to the first ordination, which has never been paralleled in the world's history. The candidates then were the twelve apostles, and the Lord of the Churches officiated. However, that ordination had, in a sense, the virtue and essence of all ordinations, for each one of those men was not apostle only, but bishop, priest and deacon in one. Preceding the first ordination, Christ spent the night in solemn intercession, and when one reflects upon the marvellousness of that arrangement by which men are commissioned to the souls of men in things pertaining to God, the question arises, was there not a cause to retard the day of ordination with sacred and solemn interest?

In conclusion, Dr. Langfeldt said that the ministry was a commission. It is the exercise of a necessity laid upon each one. He hoped that no misplaced modesty or false shame would keep the candidate about to be ordained from preaching Christ fully, boldly and authoritatively in the congregation which he shall be appointed to serve.

After the sermon, the litany was read by Rev. W J Creighton, followed by the ante-communion service by the Bishop. Revs. C M Farney, acting as epistoler, and C E Wilkinson as gospeller.

The examination and ordination of the candidate by His Lordship was very impressive. The questions asked were answered by the candidate as he stood before the Bishop. As he knelt, the clergy laying their hands on him, His Lordship solemnly ordained him.

The ordination was followed by a celebration of the Holy Eucharist.

HANDSOME BOOKLET ON BEAUTIFUL CHEMONG PARK

Mr. Geo. H. Brown, proprietor of the beautiful Chemong Park summer hotel, has had issued a handsome booklet describing the location and beauty spots of that picturesque and attractive resort, known in the silvery Indian language as She-ga-mong—the Lake of the Silvery Bow Moon.

Chemong Park, says the story, stands high up above fresh water sea level, in a broad expanse of bewitching scenery, fanned by pine and balsam-laden breezes, where there is always to be had a delightful invigorating atmosphere, redolent with life-giving ozone; where hay fever is unknown; where new energy is imparted to the tired body or exhausted brain—a safe retreat from all that could remind the active worker of the world of worry and strife that he has left. Malaria, nervous troubles, lung troubles, hay fever, and the hundred and other ills which make life in the crowded cities almost unbearable in the summer months, cannot exist here.

The hotel has been renovated throughout this season by Mr. and Mrs. Brown, newly equipped and every room handsomely decorated.

Connecting with Chemong Lake are a chain of lakes known as the "Kawartha Lakes"—the most picturesque and romantic to be found on the continent. From Chemong Park, the Kawartha Lakes covers a distance of seventy miles, with a good through steamboat service from Chemong Park, it is tapped by rail at Lakefield, Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, Coboconk, and Bobcaygeon.

For the angler, these lakes are unsurpassed. For the hay fever sufferer, they are a haven of heaven-given relief and security. For cruising, a trip over the Lakes makes a delightful holiday. They possess a beauty of their own, a wildness, a variety, and a surprise. The exercise of paddling produces a physical vigour and a mental vitality that tones every fibre of your body, and sends you home as fit as a fiddle. Take the water at Chemong Park and go through this chain of lakes, and you return to the hotel heartily invoking a blessing upon the region that, in the musical language of the Mississauga Indians, is referred to as "Kawartha gawming papenadah mowinakeen"—the Bright Waters and Happy Lands.

Former Well Known Citizen Passes Away In New Ontario

Mr. Alexander Hamilton Dies at Sturgeon Falls—Short Sketch of a Highly Respected Citizen.

FUNERAL HERE TO-MORROW

The many friends of Mr. Alex. Hamilton, a former highly respected resident of this city, will regret to learn that he died at his residence, Sturgeon Falls, Ont., on Saturday, May 9th, after a somewhat protracted illness.

The late Mr. Hamilton was well known in Peterborough, where he passed the greater part of the fifty years of his life. He was a native of County Fermanagh, Ireland, and came to Canada—Peterborough—when about sixteen years of age. For the first few years he was in the employ of the late Mr. John Garvey, grocer. He afterwards entered the employment of Mr. J. M. Irwin, lumberman, at Nassau, and by virtue of intelligent and assiduous devotion to his duties, worked himself forward to the position of manager. Fifteen years ago he went to New Ontario, where he followed the business of lumbering contractor and conducted saw mills at Cache Bay and Warren. He applied his experience gained in Peterborough with great success. Three years ago he assumed the position of woods superintendent for the Imperial Pulp and Paper Company, Sturgeon Falls, a position he occupied till the time of his death. Mr. Hamilton was twice married, the first time to Miss Minnie Ryan, half-sister of Mr. Thos. Barrie and Mrs. M. A. Morrison. His first wife died three and a half years ago. Later Mr. Hamilton was married to the widow of Mr. Alfred Ostrom, who, with eight children survive him. Mr. Hamilton was an independent in politics, supporting the man and his policy rather than the party. He was a member of the Orange Order and of the Masonic Fraternity, and was a Presbyterian in religion. As much as he was endowed with high principles and honourable ideals, he was also a man of generous impulses, and he will be greatly missed in his late home in the north, among the people to whom his many and frequent deeds of kindness, unobtrusively but effectively done, greatly endeared him.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the residence of Dr. Morrison, Park and Hunter streets, and will be conducted under Masonic auspices.

Majority Of 1000 Immigrants Were Women And Children

Mr. Thos. W. Overy of Birmingham, England, is one of the recent arrivals to Canada, having crossed on the "Empress of Britain." He landed in Quebec on Friday after a very pleasant voyage. He states that there were about one thousand immigrants on the vessel, the great majority being women and children who were coming out to join their husbands. Mr. Overy is an electrician having had four years' experience. He is anxious to learn farming, and the local immigration agent is looking after a place for him.

OLD AGE

When Does It Begin?

Many of the most successful, alert and active business men of this century are men who have passed the milestone allotted by the Psalmist to men of three score years and ten.

This is because it has been demonstrated over and over again that when active men lay down their burdens, give up business, and retire into an inactive life, decrepitude and all the symptoms of old age quickly appear.

The surest way for any person to retain their powers and faculties into very old age is to continue their activity in some direction, but not overdo. Keep the blood and digestive organs in good condition, and here is where Vinol comes in.

Vinol repairs worn tissues and checks the tendency to natural decline. It tones up the digestive organs, aids assimilation, makes rich, red blood, and strengthens every organ of the body. In this natural manner, Vinol replaces weakness with strength. This is because Vinol is a real cod liver preparation made by a scientific extractive and concentrating process from fresh cods' livers, combining with peptonate of iron all the medicinal, healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil. Thus Vinol builds up strength and vigour and delays that feeling of old age.

Try it. It won't cost you anything if it fails to help you. McDermid & Jury, druggists; also the Market Drug Store, Peterborough.

ST. ANDREW'S ANNIVERSARY WAS FITTINGLY CELEBRATED WITH TWO SPLENDID SERMONS

Rev. Mr. Drummond, M.A., B.D., of Hamilton, Here For The Occasion—Advised Hearers to Break Up The Fallow Ground in Their Lives.

THE CONGREGATIONS LARGE

The seventy-third anniversary of St. Andrew's congregation as well as the dedication of the present church twenty-two years ago and the ordination of the minister, Rev. J G Potter, was fittingly celebrated yesterday when Rev. D R Drummond, M.A., B.D., of Hamilton, was present and preached two forcible and eloquent sermons. The congregations at both services were large and those present seemed to enter heartily into the services and the spirit of the occasion, which is a noteworthy one in the history of the church.

Rev. Mr. Drummond's sermon in the morning was a masterly effort, his address being of a practical nature, the points of which were firmly impressed upon the congregation and should prove food for thought of a decidedly helpful and profitable nature. His message briefly was that his hearers should take advantage and make use of the fallow ground in their lives, to profit by the opportunities that are so often allowed to go to waste because they are not used.

His text was taken from the fourth chapter of Jeremiah, the third verse: "Break up your fallow ground." In commencing, Rev. Mr. Drummond commented upon the great things that had been accomplished by men, remarking that the story of the achievements of humanity read like a romance, but he reminded his hearers that whatever had been done there were always opportunities for doing more and better things than had been accomplished in the past, in fact, that there was always fallow ground to be broken up and made use of. He remarked that he had read the harvest returns for the whole world last year and had been amazed by the immensity of the figures, but pointed out that the cultivated area of the world was to the portion that could be cultivated as was a garden plot to the whole farm. There was nearly enough surplus land in England, land that was being used as game preserves and in other ways, to provide food for the population of that country. In Canada, on a few of the rivers, the water power had been harnessed, but in most cases the water was running to waste.

It was the same with human beings, there being large fields that were being left idle, and that were waiting the good seed, the ploughshare of noble purposes. If the weeds were removed from that ground, how much more useful lives people would live. The secret of success was not in the invention of new things, but rather, in the making use of the unused things—the fallow ground—that opportunities should not be wasted.

The speaker believed that in certain cases there might come a time when it would be advisable to let the ground lie fallow for a time, for a church worker to retire from the Board of Managers, or the Session, or the Women's Missionary Society, but only with the view of greater activities later on, with the same purpose as the farmer who allowed a field to lie unused for some time with the hope of better crops and larger yields in the future. People should be careful, however, to distinguish between exhaustion and laziness. There were people, the speaker remarked, that would do more good in the world if they tried to do less, for the things that they did always had to be done over again.

He had found that the fault with the people of Canada was not that they were out and out bad, but rather, that they were not out and out good. They were anything but vicious, but they lived a life of pleasures that were not wrong in themselves, but wrong because they prevented better things. He supposed that the city had five-cent shows and roller skating rinks, and was not going to say that such form of entertainment was wrong. However, when church members who did not contribute very much to the affairs of the church were found patronising such amusements, it did not indicate a satisfactory condition of affairs.

The speaker closed with an earnest exhortation to his hearers to make use of their fallow ground, that was the message, he said, which he wished to leave with them on that anniversary occasion, and he hoped that they would carry it out.

In the evening the church was crowded. Rev. Mr. Drummond preached another most eloquent sermon. The music at both services was of a particularly splendid character reflecting great credit on the the excellent leadership of Mr. Fred C Freeland. At the morning service Miss Pearl Lundy sang beautifully the solo, "The Lord is My Light," by Allitsen, and in the evening "The Day is Ended," by Bartlett. The anthem in the morning "Leave Us Not, Neither Forsake Us," the solo part of which was taken by Mrs. W A Greenslade, was excellently rendered and at the evening service a duet, "Love Divine All Love Excelling," from Daughter of Jairus, Stainer, was splendidly sung by Mr. and Mrs. W A Greenslades. Mr. Fred C Freeland's solo "Forever With the Lord," by Gounod, was another appreciated number of the musical portion of the service last night.

Impressive Ceremony Of Confirmation Last Night

Twenty-One Candidates Confirmed at All Saints' Church Last Night by Rt. Rev. Bishop Reeve, of Toronto.

PASTOR'S BABY BAPTISED

The evening service at All Saints' church last night was of unusual importance and solemnity, Right Rev. Bishop Reeve of Toronto being present to administer the rights of confirmation. The church was taxed to its utmost by the large congregation that witnessed the impressive ceremony of the laying on of hands, the outward form of this rite through which God sends His Holy Spirit.

Previous to the confirmation, His Lordship baptized Rev. Mr. Major's infant son. The pastor of All Saints' and Mrs. Major were its sponsors. The sacrament of baptism was duly administered, the baby being christened Walter Kendal Stevenson.

There were twenty-one candidates for confirmation, of whom fifteen were young ladies. His Lordship first referred to the rite which was about to be performed. The promises made by the sponsors at baptism are renewed by those who are confirmed, and the young people are strengthened by the Holy Spirit, enabling them to struggle better against the temptations that are met with in later years. Those who are confirmed, Bishop Reeve said, must first be baptized, they must have reached their years of understanding, and they must have been taught particular prayers.

His Lordship referred to Biblical passages to show that confirmation is not merely a church ordinance, but that the divine will of God is being carried out, just as in the time of the apostles. Continuing with the ceremony, Bishop Reeve recited the regular confirmation prayers, and as he placed his hands on the heads of the candidates, said: "Defend, O Lord, this child with Thy heavenly grace, that he (or she, as the case shippened to be) may continue Thine for ever, and daily increase in Thy Holy Spirit more and more, until he come to Thine everlasting kingdom." His Lordship impressed upon the candidates the importance of their new duties, urging them to be an example to others by living uprightly before God and men.

The choir's hymnal offerings were very appropriate, adding to the solemnity of the occasion.

ENGINEER WITH A GOOD RECORD

Late Joseph Clarke, of Elora. Once a Citizen of Peterborough And An Engineer of Midland Railway.

A PAST TO BE PROUD OF

The last issue of the Elora Express gives an account of the death of Mr. Joseph Clarke, who will be remembered by many in Peterborough as being one of the early engineers of Midland Railway between here and Port Hope. He resided on Simcoe street while in Peterborough and was here for a number of years. The Express in part says of his death:

After a long struggle against failing health Mr. Joseph Clarke, the well known and popular engineer on the local branch of the C.P.R., passed away at St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, on Friday, May 1st, 1908, in the fifty-ninth year of his age. Mr. Mr. Clarke came to Toronto from Stockport, Eng., and at once took service with the Credit Valley line. For 27 years he piloted the passenger train between Elora, where he always lived, and Cataract Junction, without injuring a human being or an animal. He was also known on the road as a first-class mechanic and did all but the most serious repairs that were required on his own engine. He was a model employee who ever put the Company's interest before his own convenience, and it is safe to say the great railway never lost a more faithful and conscientious official. For forty years altogether Mr. Clarke had been engaged in railway work, and for thirty-five of that he had an engine.

He leaves a widow and a family of four sons and one daughter. Beattie is one of the heads of the Alberta Piano & Organ Company, with headquarters at Calgary; Roland is train despatcher at Eau Claire, Wis.; Howard is C.P.R. station agent at Melrose, Ont., and Percy is a telegraph operator at Warren, Wis.; and Miss Gladys Clarke, who lives at the family home in Elora. Three of his brothers have engines on the Grand Trunk or the C.P.R. His brothers' sons, too, are nearly all of them connected with the railway service.

Deceased was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and a special train brought a large number of that fraternity to Elora for the funeral. He was also identified with Irvine Lodge A.F. & A.M., Elora, and with the Elora Lodge A. O.U.W., both of which attended the funeral. The cortege was one of the largest ever seen in the village. Friends from near and far were present as a last token of respect to the memory of one who was so widely and favorably known.

LONDON DIRECTORY A BIG ONE

Post Office Directory the Largest Book Published—Weighs 13¼ Pounds.

London keeps on growing and so does its directory, the 1908 edition of which recently made its appearance. The London postoffice directory, it is claimed, is the biggest book published. This one hundred and ninth edition of it weighs thirteen and a quarter pounds, is eight inches thick and contains 4,698 pages. One wonders how much longer it will be possible for the publishers to keep pace with the increase of the population of the metropolis and confine the record of it to a single volume.

FLAGS ON ALL SCHOOLS EMPIRE DAY

It Will This Year Fall on Friday, May 22nd.

"As every rural school of this Province will have received a Union Jack from this Department by May 22, and as doubtless all urban schools have one, that flag should be flying on Empire Day from every school building, or displayed prominently in the school. The Canadian ensign should also be used, if one is obtainable."

Such are the instructions issued by schools of Ontario will "fly the flag" to the schools of the province in a circular designating Friday, May 22, for Empire Day observance this year.

Accordingly, for the first time, the Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education on that occasion. —Toronto News.

TO ESTABLISH WEEKLY MARKET IN MILLBROOK

The Millbrook Council, having decided that a weekly market day is needed in Millbrook, has, through two firms in Toronto who will buy all the eggs, butter and poultry that may be brought in, decided to allow the use of the centre hall in the town hall for market tables. The first market will be on Tuesday, May 19, and every week thereafter. Villagers will be free to go in and buy anything that may be offered. We trust that our farmer friends will give this market a fair trial, and save railway fare or a day lost in going to Peterborough. — Millbrook Reporter.

Yesterday he received the surprising intelligence that an addition had been made to his family on the ocean, and that his wife was in the hospital at Quebec, the baby doing well. THE MEN WERE FATALLY SCALDED Accident on Board the Steamer Brockville of R. & O. Line.

BURSTING OF STEAM PIPE

Two Men Instantly Killed—Two Died After Being Removed to Hospital—A Fifth Badly Scalded But Not Fatally—Boiler Was Being Tested After Repairs—Pipe Had Withstood More Severe Test.

Toronto, May 11.—For men are dead and one severely scalded as the result of an explosion on the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co.'s steamer Brockville, at the Canadian Shipbuilding Co.'s docks, at two o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The killed are: Adolphe Shavageau, 22 years, single, fireman, Champlain, Que., and Octave Cote, 23 years, single, fireman, Champlain.

Bruno Pintal, 30 years, married, chief engineer, Champlain, and William Gouin, 30 years, married, oiler, Sorel, Quebec, died after being removed to the hospital.

Fred Charboneau, 30 years, married, second engineer, Sorel, was scalded but will recover.

The explosion took place when a six-inch circulation tube crumpled under a light head of steam after having stood a much more severe test at the hands of the Government inspectors.

The tube spread at the forward end of the boiler. This allowed the steam to burst into a closed forward compartment, where, the doors being closed, it was forced back and came out through the firehole into the fire-pit, where the five men were at work.

This is but a small space and quickly filled and two of the men, who seem to have stood directly before the blast, were instantly killed by inhaling the steam.

The chief and an oiler, who were standing a little to the side, escaped instant death, but were frightfully scalded, the skin peeling from their hands and faces.

Charboneau, who was working at the side of the engine, managed to escape through an exit, through which clouds of steam were pouring. Crazed with pain he was a ghastly figure as he emerged on the deck.

To those above the explosion sounded as a muffled roar. Clouds of steam poured from every aperture leading from the boiler and engine rooms below.

Knowing that the engine crew were below those above strove to rescue them, but were unable to face the steam. When reached the two men were found unconscious, but still alive. They were hurried to Grace Hospital in the ambulance, but were so scalded that they died shortly before 8 o'clock.

The Brockville has been lying in dock all winter and was undergoing repairs. Some of her boiler tubes had been renewed, but apparently not the one which gave way.

"No one would ever have thought that that kind of tube would burst in that way," said one boiler expert after viewing the crumpled iron.

Shavageau's brother is employed on the boat.

Thieves Captured.

Windsor, May 11.—Thrilling capture of four men who are believed to have been connected with recent robberies in Kent and Essex Counties was made at Stoney Point yesterday morning.

They were first noticed at Comber, having aroused suspicion by trying to dispose of some cutlery. Provincial detectives here were notified and left for Comber, but before their arrival the quartette had flown.

An armed posse of farmers followed them in pursuit, and the men were located in Stony Point. Pickets, fully armed, were stationed around the village, forming a cordon through which it was impossible for them to escape.

Before daybreak the quartette crawled out of a box-car and at once a true and cry was raised.

Detectives Campeau and Mahoney, riding a hand car, and each armed with a shotgun, started in pursuit down the railway track.

They succeeded in taking all four men into custody, and brought them to this city.

"Sorry," said the citizen, "but I can't afford to give you a dime."

"Why don't you go to work?" rejoined the beggar, a shade of impatience in his tone.—Philadelphia Ledger.

THE LAPORTE HORROR.

Is Mrs. Guinness, the Alleged Murderess, Dead or Alive?

Laporte, Ind., May 11.—Whether Mrs. Bella Guinness is alive somewhere and subject to arrest for alleged murders committed on her farm near Laporte, or whether she was burned with her three children in her house that was destroyed by fire on April 28 is the problem that looms up most prominently before the officers investigating the mystery surrounding the deaths of those ten persons whose bodies have been found buried in the Guinness barnyard and the manner in which the Guinness farm house was burned.

Two more important witnesses regarding Ray Lamphere's alleged connection with the deaths at the Guinness farm have been discovered. They are William Slater and John Bye. The latter asserts that on the day when Helgelin is supposed to have been killed he and Lamphere drove to Michigan City. They returned about 8 o'clock at night, and Lamphere alighted when they reached a point opposite the Guinness farm and cut across the fields toward the house, remarking that there would be "something doing there" that night.

Relatives of E. J. Tiedlund, formerly of Minneapolis, have engaged detectives to investigate whether he was one of the victims of Mrs. Bella Guinness. Tiedlund is said to have answered one of the matrimonial advertisements of Mrs. Guinness. Later, it is said, he corresponded with her and left Minneapolis for Laporte. He disappeared the day after arriving there, and his relatives have never heard from him.

Killed in a Car.

St. Thomas, May 11.—F. Robinson, a horse trainer, employed until recently by Dr. C. K. Geary, was killed in the Pere Marquette yards on Saturday. He intended going to Chatham and got into a car which contained some heavy bridge steel. While the train was being shunted, the steel shifted, crushing his head so badly that he died in a few minutes.

Leaped Into River.

Windsor, May 11.—Passengers on the ferry Victoria were startled to see an unknown man leap overboard Saturday night.

The captain of the steamer stopped the boat to effect a rescue, but the stranger had disappeared beneath the water.

IN THE

CASEY MOUNTAIN COBALT MINING AND DEVELOPING COMPANY, Limited

Chartered by the Ontario Government

Authorized Capital - - - - $250,000.00

Par Value of Shares (fully paid-up and non-assessable): $1.00.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS—President: E. C. WILLIAMSON, Toronto, formerly of Peterborough; Vice-President: JAMES THOMPSON, Havelock, Ont.; Secretary-Treasurer: DR. H. A. WOOD, Peterborough, Ont.; Superintendent: B. WILLIAMSON, Haileybury, Ont.; B. A. REID, Brandon, Man.

HEAD OFFICE: MANNING CHAMBERS, TORONTO, ONT.

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares:

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which is a regular net-work of silver bearing veins that will go down for thousands of feet.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered twelve to date, varying in width from 16 ins. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining Proposition (not a Stock Speculation) and has been developed continuously during the past ten months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the district, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situate on the adjoining lot that according to good authority, was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a mining company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent to Casey Mountain Shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

APPLICATION

THE CASEY MOUNTAIN COBALT MINING AND DEVELOPMENT CO., Limited.

Manning Chambers, Toronto:—

Sirs:—Please deliver to me.....shares (fully paid up and non-assessable) of the par value of $1.00 each of the Capital Stock of The Casey Mountain Cobalt Mining and Development Company, Limited, in full payment of which I hand you herewith,

$..... I agree that this application may be refused, and to accept pro rata allotment in the event of over subscription.

Name.....

Full Address.....

Occupation.....

Cobalt Camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $69,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Tredwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton and is paying big dividends.

CASEY MOUNTAIN MINING CO., Limited has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will sum $20 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would mean a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically a close corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at one dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

New School at Belleville.

Belleville, May 11.—Archbishop Gauthier of Kingston on Sunday laid the corner-stone of the new St. Michael's School in this city in the presence of a very large crowd, and assisted by many visiting priests and dignitaries.

The new school, which will be completed this year, will cost, with equipment, $52,000, and will be one of the finest schools of its kind in Ontario.

At high mass, Archbishop Gauthier confirmed 130 children, fifteen of them being from the Deaf and Dumb Institute.

Thaw Can Have Clothes Only.

Poughkeepsie, May 11.—Justice Mirschauser has refused to sign an order directing Dr. Baker of the Matteawan Asylum to turn over to Russell Peabody, as next friend and personal attorney of Harry Thaw, all the personal property taken from him when he was received at the asylum. The judge amended the order to apply only to Thaw's wearing apparel.

WRESTLERS HAVE COME TO TERMS; ROGERS APPEARS HERE MAY 22

W. B. Major, of Montreal, manager of Yankee Rogers, and C. G. Graham, manager of Eugene Hurtubise, have come to terms and arrangements have been completed by which the big American wrestler and the local heavyweight will come together here in a handicap match on Friday, May 22. The conditions are that the crack American will have to throw Hurtubise three times in one hour. If he succeeds he wins a purse of $200, if he fails he gets nothing, so that the greatest bout in the history of Peterborough will be seen. Rogers comes here with a bigger record than any other wrestler that has been seen here, as he won scores of bouts from men like Parr, and Jenkins and other American wrestlers, and has beaten a large number of European mat artists. The bout will take place in the Grand Opera House.

WILL OFFER $30,000 FOR FIGHT

Burns and Johnston May Hook up in California.

New York, May 11.— — When Jim Coffroth, the fight promoter of California, learned that the National Sporting Club of London was only willing to hang up a purse of $12,500 for a 20-round battle between Tommy Burns, the heavyweight champion, and Jack Johnson, the colored pugilist, he immediately sent a cablegram to both fighters, offering them a purse of $30,000, to fight at this club, either in a 20-round, 25-round or 45-round contest, on the afternoon of July 4. If the men ever do fight, it will probably be at Coffroth's club.

Johnny Summers, the clever English lightweight, who made such a clever showing in all the battles he has engaged in since he has been in this country, sailed for England last week on the Lusitania. Summers was anxious to get back home to see his parents, and after a short stay there will return here ready to fight any of the good lightweights.

THE FEATHER WEIGHT HONOURS

Messrs. Yokome and Long Will Come Together on May 22nd.

A match between Bobby Long and A. C. Yokome for the featherweight championship, will be the main preliminary to the Rogers-Hurtubise "go," on May 22nd. A gold medal will be put up for the winner, and as both boys are fast and clever, the spectators should see a lively mill. The match will be best two out of three falls, and pin falls of three seconds are to count. The two have met several times before and have shown that they are evenly matched and a contest between them will be awaithed with interest.

ALERTS HERE FOR SURE SATURDAY

Manager Johnston's Pirates Had a Fine Workout at Central Park.

Arrangements have been completed whereby the game between the Alerts of Toronto and Manager Johnston's Midland Leaguers, which was to have taken place on Saturday last, will be pulled off at Riverside Park on Saturday. The fans, who were greatly disappointed at last week's game being off, will be glad to learn that the speedy Toronto bunch will be on hand Saturday. The game should be worth going miles to see as on paper both teams look exceptionally strong and a hard game may be expected.

The Petes had a good workout at Central Park on Saturday. Pitcher Clements, Catcher Edmunds, Shortstop Maddock, and Outfielders Murphy O'Brien, Murphy and Johnston were the men out and they had a lively batting and fielding practice.

DOMINION AMMUNITION

THEY SHOULD HANDICAP HOAGLAND

This is the Opinion of Local Walkers Who Will go to St. Catharines.

One of the local walkers who will take part in the big six-day walking race in St. Catharines next week, informed the Examiner to-day that Hoagland, Slater and other American cracks would start, in fact, that there would be a more classy field than there was here. The Peterborough pedestrian was of the opinion that a handicap should be set on Hoagland, as he was in a class by himself and it was discouraging for new walkers to start a race knowing that the American was a sure winner.

SOME FAST WALKERS IN DOURO

Stage Driver Tells of Some Fast Times For Mile Walk.

According to Mr. "Joe" Crowe, the well known driver of the Warsaw stage, Douro Township can produce some fast mile pedestrians. He states that the other day a walking match was held near the Douro post office, with three starters. The contest was won in good fashion by Mr. P. G. Towns, who did the mile in 8 minutes and 2 seconds. Mr. Harry Flinders was second man, in 10 minutes, while Mr. John McCliggott finished third in 10 minutes and 2 seconds. The track was a circular one with ten laps to the mile. Mr. Crowe positively asserts that Mr. Towns can defeat any Peterborough walker in one mile.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

The Examiner wants all the scores of athletic games, whether they be baseball, cricket or football. Secretaries of the clubs are requested to call up 'phone 234 Bell or 57 Machine as soon as the games are over, giving the results in concise form, or send them in to the office to the sporting editor.

London, May 8.—Tommy Burns, the champion heavyweight pugilist, in an article in the Daily Mail this morning, entitled "Why America Leads in Sport," predicts that the Americans will win all of the chief events at the Olympic games, with the exception of the long distance races, which will fall to England. He attributes American superiority to sounder principles of training.

The aforesaid Tommy may be a very clever boxer, but his "dope" on the Olympic games doesn't listen well around here. So the United States will win everything but the long distances, and they will be captured by England, eh? If anyone was to show Mr. Burns' prediction to Tom Longboat, the Redskin would laugh so hard that he would have to suspend training for a week.

Paddy McDonough, the local lacrosse and hockey player, received a very tempting offer this morning from the Toronto professional lacrosse team, and he will leave for the east the latter part of the week. Paddy has made many friends in the city who will regret to learn of his departure. He intends returning to Fort William next winter to play hockey with the Wanderers. — Fort William Times.

The lawn bowlers are getting the grass into shape and expect to have the Brookside green ready by May 25th.

SUCCESSFUL DEMONSTRATION OF COWAN'S CHOCOLATE

The lady demonstrator for Cowan's Chocolate, Cocoa and Jellies, closed her engagement in Peterborough on Saturday night. Miss Shephard, the expert in attendance, states that her last day's sales at White & Gillespie's grocery, were the largest in any city or town since leaving the warerooms in Toronto. The ladies and other callers at White & Gillespie's, where the demonstrations were held all week, were delighted with the samples displayed and placed their orders quite generously for the different specialties.

ACCIDENT TO THE NOON TRAIN

Baggage Car Left The Rails on Grade at Manvers.

The 11.16 a.m., C.P.R. train from Toronto did not arrive in the city until near three o'clock owing to the baggage car leaving the rails about half a mile west of Manvers. The train was travelling down the grade west of the station at a high rate of speed at eleven o'clock, when the wheels of the baggage car, in some unknown manner jumped the rails and bumped along the ties until the emergency brakes were applied. The jarring was felt throughout the train. The baggage man jumped from his car with almost the first shock. If any of the couplings had broken a serious accident would most likely have happened and the passengers believe they had a narrow escape. The auxiliary was called from Havelock. Two of the wheels of the baggage coach were broken.

WAS SWEPT OVER THE DAM AT LAKEFIELD

A river driver, named Lazure, had an adventure at Lakefield on Saturday, which he will not soon forget, but which, fortunately, resulted in nothing worse than a bad scare. Lazure was working on a crib of timber near the Lakefield lock, and stepped into a punt which was tied behind the timber, for the purpose of getting some tools. As he did so the rope holding the timber broke and it with the punt and its occupant was swept over the dam. Lazure seized a side of the punt with each hand and held on, as the craft took the plunge over the slide and through the turbulent waters at the foot, through which it emerged right side up, and Lazure was rescued some distance below, none the worse for his mishap. Spectators of the accident held their breath as they thought that an upset at least was unavoidable.

QUAKERS HAVE ONLY TWO WEEKS TO PRACTISE

First Game on May 25th—New Players In The City.

The prospects are that the weather will continue finer this week than last, giving the football men an opportunity to get out to practise. The Quakers play their first game on May 25th, just two weeks from today, and they need some practise to get into shape at least.

It is likely that there will be considerable blood in the Quaker line-up this year. Among the new players in the city is Eddie Maddock, short stop for the Peterborough Baseball Club, who has played a number of years with the crack Broadviews of Toronto. Baylis, an English player from Manchester, is another good man who will likely be found with the Quakers. For a practise game he is willing to collect a team from the choir of St. John's Church, and states he has a good bunch.

A NEW ERA BEGINNING FOR HASTINGS ANGLICANS; CORNER STONE OF NEW CHURCH LAID

Examiner Special.

Hastings, May 12.—Yesterday, May 11th, was a red letter day in the annals of the Church of England in Hastings. The great event celebrated was the laying of the corner-stone of the new St. George's Church. Right Rev. Dr. Reeve, Assistant Bishop of Toronto, accompanied by Rev. Rural Dean Langfeldt were present to assist in the ceremony. At 3 p. m. a Confirmation service was held, at which nine men and five women were admitted into full membership of the Church of England. After this service, about 4 p. m., the large congregation and others proceeded to the place where the new church is being built. The clergy, Bishop Reeve Rural Dean Langfeldt, Rev. E. W. Pickford and Rev. W. Burns, the incumbent, were robed in their ecclesiastical vestments. The proceedings opened with a hymn, after which Rev. E. W. Pickford read the Scripture lesson, and the Bishop said the dedicatory prayers. Into the stone were deposited a copy of the Leaflet of the Women's Auxiliary, of the Canadian Churchman, of the Lord's Day Advocate, containing a photogravuer of the Archbishop, also of the Hasting's Star, the names of the church officials and incumbent, the names of the subscribers, a coin from the Canadian mint and several other Canadian coins. Rev. Wm. Burns read an address, presented to Henry Johnson, Esq., who laid "well and truly" the corner-stone. The address spoke in eulogistic terms of the generosity and kindness of Mr. Johnson towards the church in Hastings. Indeed, it is due to Mr. Johnson that the new church is being built. His generous offer of donating $2,500, provided the congregation would raise $1,000, gave the impetus and the result of it is the erection of a new church. Besides, Mr. Johnson has undertaken to provide for other things necessary for the new church. It was only natural that the honour of laying the corner-stone should be conferred upon the generous benefactor, to whom the Anglican Church in Hastings and surrounding country owes so much. The congregation of St. George's Church presented Mr. Johnson with a silver trowel, with which he prepared the bed of the corner-stone and declared it to be "well and truly laid in faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, the head corner-stone of the church, and in the name of the Father, the Son and the Ghost." An offering was taken up and $45 was placed on the corner-stone.

After the singing of a hymn Rev. Rural Dean Langfeldt extended the congratulations of the Rural Deanery. He said that the congregation could not be charged with being extravagant in building a new church, for they indeed needed one very much. He thanked Mr. Johnson for his noble work of helping and encouraging the church people. He admired Mr. Johnson's method of dispensing his aid, by trying to bring out solid efforts on the part of the people to help themselves, instead of pauperizing them by donations. Mr. Johnson deserved the gratitude of the whole church for his earnest work of good cheer and help, and it was particularly pleasing to note that he used his wealth for the glory of God as one of God's stewards.

The Bishop also gave a helpful address, in which he congratulated the people and invoked upon them God's richest blessings.

The proceedings were brought to a close by the singing of another hymn, prayer and benediction by the Bishop.

The clergy were hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Graham and Mrs. Fowlds.

RAILWAY EMPLOYEES KILLED IN DISASTROUS WRECK AND BURNED IN THE WRECKAGE

Parry Sound, May 12.—(Special.)—A serious accident in which two men were killed outright occurred last evening on the C.P.R. five miles north of here. The place was a rock cut in a curve. Two construction trains containing plows and ballast cars going in opposite directions collided with great force, the vans and a number of the cars being completely demolished. On the train coming to Parry Sound were two men George Hunnigan and Levi Sutton, his son-in-law, residents of the township of Carling. Both of them were instantly killed and their bodies burned in the fire which broke out in the wreckage. These men had been stealing a ride and their presence was unknown to the train crews. None of the train crews were injured. An inquest will be held.

RADICAL CHANGES EXPECTED FOR MILITIA MOBILIZATION AT QUEBEC IN FEW DAYS' TIME

Majors Clegg and Bennett of the 57th Regiment returned home this morning from Ottawa, where they were part of a deputation from city regiments to interview Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia, with a view to securing different arrangements respecting the Quebec trip.

The deputation waited upon Sir Frederick at noon yesterday with reference to getting the twelve days' pay as usual. It was explained to the Minister that the city corps had to perform as usual their annual drills, whereas it had been decided to have the rural corps camps eliminated for this year.

The deputation pointed out that the arrangement of receiving only four days' pay would seriously affect the finances of their respective regiments this year, the regimental fund for general purposes being largely dependent on the amount derived for the regular twelve days' drill.

Sir Frederick Borden promised to take the request into consideration. He pointed out that the programme for the troops at Quebec depended largely on the arrangements being made by the commissioners in charge of the celebration. He further intimated that considerable difficulty was being experienced in arranging the transportation problems with the railway companies, and there was a prospect that the whole scheme of militia mobilization at Quebec, as at present contemplated, might have to be very largely curtailed.

This proposed change will likely be made public in a few days' time.

SILENT STORIES TOLD BY THAT STONE PILE ON CHARLOTTE STREET

That Charlotte street stone pile which was the subject of considerable discussion several moons ago when the mid-winter blasts pinched the poor and thinly-clad, has been taken away and the whole circumstance is almost forgotten. There were 33 cords of stone put on the lot to provide employment for the unemployed, and when the last snows had disappeared each pile told the story of the man who had wielded the hammer on the individual stones. Some of them were all broken, others were but partially smashed, silent remainders of the working powers of the men who had accepted this means of earning a little money. Altogether 33 cords of stone were drawn to the lot and 25 cords were broken. The remaining 8 cords were carried to the city yard to be crushed.

BROKEN PROMISES.

Hon. Mr. Whitney, in his opening speech of the Provincial campaign, in Hamilton, asserted that the Conservative Government had performed every pre-office promise with one exception, and that was law reform. This is a most important matter. The promises of Mr. Whitney and his friends, when in Opposition, were the basis of the policy upon which he appealed for being placed in power. If he has not fulfilled these promises he has gained and is keeping power on false pretenses. It will, therefore, be interesting to note how far Mr. Whitney has fulfilled his promises.

Mr. Whitney's first utterance after his victory was one of gratitude to those Liberals and non-party electors who gave him their support. He pledged himself to recognize the non-party character of his triumph and to deal fairly by all classes and parties. How has he repaid his non-Conservative adherents, and kept his promise of fair play? By the spoils system and the gerrymander.

Mr. Whitney and his colleagues in Opposition accused the Government of extravagance. They have increased the expenditure 60 per cent in three years.

Mr. Whitney solemnly promised a non-partisan administration of the license act. He dismissed every license commission and license inspector appointed by a Liberal Government, and replaced them by members of his own party, nominated for the most part by local patronage committees.

Mr. Whitney promised a reduction in the number of licenses. He has put an obstacle in the way of reduction by substituting the three-fifths clause for a majority rule.

The Whitney Government pledged itself to label prison-made goods and abolish the prison contract system. One minister, Mr. Hendrie, of Hamilton, made this a special plank in his platform to catch the labour vote. The Government not only labelled prison-made goods, but closed an objectionable five-years' contract with party friends, against the protests of manufacturers and labour organizations. A different course has now been decided upon, but only after the Government had been sharply rebuked by the overwhelming defeat of its candidate in East Hamilton by a labour representative.

Mr. Whitney condemned in Opposition Government subventions to railway lines in the older portions of Ontario, and in office put through a bond guarantee of $1,500,000 for the Canadian Northern terminals in the city of Toronto.

When in Opposition Mr. Whitney and his supporters unanimously declared for the Government-ownership of Niagara power development (vide the Miscampbell resolution of Feb. 5, 1902). Mr. Whitney in office has distinctly repudiated the policy of Government-ownership. He peremptorily refused to listen to overtures for the sale to the Province of the Electrical Development Company's plant. He has been in control for over three years, and while the Government's attitude has prevented the extension of Niagara power lines in the Province by private enterprise, the transmission of Niagara energy as a public enterprise is still a matter of the future.

Mr. Whitney and his adherents before attaining office voted for the Pettypiece bill, which would have greatly increased the taxation of railway property; for the two-cent-a-mile passenger rate on railways subsidized by the Government; for the reduction of the succession duties and the abolition of the taxes on breweries, distilleries and corporations. In office they prefer to forget these things.

BOLD AND HONEST (?)

Mr. Whitney's friends are fond of prating of his boldness and honesty. He is no doubt bold enough to load th dice against his opponents, but his honesty is another matter. With a majority of 42 in the Legislature and a claimed record that should give him universal support; with all the advantages that possession of power gives, Mr. Whitney has resorted to a most iniquitous gerrymander of the the constituencies. He doubled the representation of "Tory" Toronto, making sure by a trick ballot that opponents should have no chance. Then he fixed the date of the elections so as to conflict with the dates, fixed months ago, of the annual conferences of the Methodist Church. It is not to be supposed that the same 800 or 900 Methodist ministers will be any too friendly to the Whitney Government on the head of the three-fifths clause, and if they are tied up in conference, they wont be able to express, at the polls by their votes, their opinion of the legislation which placed a handicap on moral reform. Mr. Whitney is bold in his assaults upon fair play and honest methods.

SUBSIDIES STILL REMAIN.

The Weekly Sun, Toronto, answers effectively, says the Brantford Expositor, the claim made in behalf of the Whitney Government that the policy of giving vast amounts of money or large grants of land to railways has been abolished. Says our contemporary:

The statement is not quite in accordance with the facts. In the session of 1906 $265,000 was voted for the construction of a railway from the town of Little Current to a point about thirteen miles from Sudbury. In that same session a subsidy of $3,000 for thirteen miles in aid of the Bruce Mines and Algoma Railway was increased to a subsidy of $3,000 per mile for thirty-eight miles, or $114,000 all told.

At the session of 1907, again, an entirely new grant of $5,000 was made to assist in meeting the cost of connecting Thessalon with the Soo branch of the C. P. R. The Canadian Northern was, at the same time, allowed an extension of the period granted within which to earn the cash subsidy of $2,000 per mile for a branch from Sudbury to Lake Abitibi. Extensions of time were also given for the earning of the subsidy granted the Irondale & Bancroft, and Toronto, Lindsay & Pembroke lines.

Finally at the session of 1908, not only was a guarantee to the extent of $2,500,000 voted to the Canadian Northern, but a land grant of 575,000 acres was made to the Ontario, Hudson Bay & Western Railway.

The Whitney Government has not gone so far in this respect as the Ross administration, but it has gone very much farther than it should.

In fact, it has done very much worse than the Ross Government, because the latter confined its assistance to colonization roads, while the Whitney Government has been aiding Mackenzie & Mann to the extent of $1,500,000 to establish terminals at Key Inlet and in the city of Toronto. The policy of the Ross Government was to develop the country and build up the new regions. The policy of the Whitney Government is to build up private corporations, at the expense of the public at large, to apply centralization in Toronto at the public expense.

PIONEERS OF PROGRESS.

Mr. Duncan C Ross, West Middlesex, having pointed out that the provincial expenditure in the past three years, on a per capita basis, had increased as much in the past three years as in the previous 33 years, the London Free Press retorts that is merely proof of the stick-in-the-mud policy of the Ross Government, "which made no real attempt to develop the provincial resources and make them yield revenue to the treasury."

Now, since the foregoing is not the truth, what is the truth? It is this: "Build Up New Ontario" was one of the principal planks in the platform of the late Government. The Opposition that day ridiculed it as an election dodge. Mr. Whitney contemptuously alluded to New Ontario as "the land of the stunted poplar," and offered a thinly-veiled hostility to the Government's programme for the development of the northern section of the Province.

The great undertaking, the Temiskaming Railway, which brought the riches of Cobalt to light, was the offspring of the Ross Government's faith in New Ontario. Mr. Whitney and his friends, to catch votes in the region of the Ottawa Valley, favoured the construction of the line from Mattawa, which would have shut out all Central and Western Ontario from direct communication with the Temiskaming district and and the Grand Trunk Pacific, and would have left the Cobalt silver mines undiscovered. The Whitney Government owes the greater part of the increase of its revenue to this courageous and far-sighted enterprise.

The present administration is excelling in the expenditure of money, but it has more money to spend because of the forward policy of the Ross regime. Mr. Whitney and his colleagues have caught some of the larger vision of their predecessors with respect to the possibilities of New Ontario, but they had to be driven into the promised land.—London Advertiser.

EDITORIAL NOTES

One of the journalistic admirers of Hon. Mr. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, says that one of his contributions to temperance reform is the abolition of bar-maids. Mr. Hanna must have set up a maid of straw, for the glory of decapitating her. When the supply of license inspectors ran short—after they all had been beheaded, he had to resort to an imaginary evil, upon which to exercise his decapitation mania.

The Oshawa Vindicator has passed into new hands. Mr. Walter J. Watson, for a long time connected with the Central Press of Toronto, has become its editor. Mr. Watson, in his opening pronunciamento in regard to the future policy of the paper, states his intention of being a follower of the "square deal" to friend and foe alike. We congratulate Mr. Watson on his determination. It is a credit to Conservative journalism.

Hon. Mr. Beck, in his nomination speech, said a Minister's life was a busy one, and he hadn't time for hand-shaking, but he had time to attend the Montreal Horse Show. He leaves the hand-shaking to his Conservative opponent, Mr. Gray. Mr. Beck wont, perhaps, mind being "turned down" by his constituents as The Whitney cabinet have been busy "turning down" Mr. Beck and his power scheme and he has possibly become used to the process.

Mr. Hanna stated at Aylmer that the present government had $2,000,000 in the bank which would not be there had the Ross Government remained in office. The truth is the late Government left a legacy at the close of 1904 of hard cash in the banks of $2,855,584. Indeed, but for the financing of the late Government, the province would already, in the hands of Messrs. Whitney and Hanna, be hopelessly involved in debt. There will be received in revenue this year the sum of $3,405,900 from sources provided by the late Liberal Government and opposed by the Conservatives, including Mr. Whitney and the members of his cabinet.

THAT SCOUNDRELLY ELECTION.

The Globe.

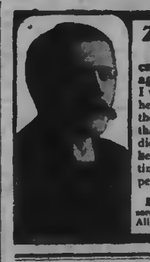
The political sensation of the hour is the libellous campaign pamphlet issued on behalf of the Whitney Government. In this amazing publication, with the object of emphasizing the probity of the present Government's appointees, the following statement is made:—

"It is only fair to contrast the action of the Board of Commissioners and officers of the T. & N. O. Railway of that date with that of the present Board, whose business methods in disposing of the odds and ends of mining rights remaining in the Crown have resulted in such large bonuses and royalties. The old Board of officials regarded the mining discoveries as a sort of special Providence, and instead of helping to map out a policy which might have meant much to the Provincial exchequer, they hurried out, a number of them, and staked out mining locations themselves. And not a word of criticism of this action on the part of public officials has appeared in the Liberal press!

"What would be thought if today the present Government threw open the Gillies limit to prospecting and staking, and the officials and the members of the present Railway Commission went up and staked out some of the most desirable locations?"

The Temiskaming Railway Board at the time referred to consisted of A. E Ames, Edward Gurney, J E Leonard, M J O'Brien and B W Folger. On Saturday the statements of four of the Commissioners were presented denying in the most positive way the suggestion that they had staked out mining locations. The remaining Commissioner, Mr. B W Folger, to The Globe correspondent at Kingston said on Saturday that the pamphlet contained a gross falsehood. He never had any mining location or claim, Federal or Provincial, in Cobalt or any other district, and he was sure that the other Commissioners had not either.

These five well-known citizens state in the most positive way that the Government's campaign literature contains a slanderous lie. Mr. Whitney says he is bold enough to be honest and honest enough to be bold. Is he honest enough to call in this slander of men whose reputations are as dear to them as his is to him?



ZAM-BUK SAVED THIS MAN'S FINGER!

Mr. William C. Edwards, Peter Street, Toronto (late steward Elks' Club), sustained a severe cut on the middle finger of the left hand. Blood poisoning ensued and the finger caused him excruciating agony. He says: "My hand was so swollen and painful that I had to carry it in a sling for some months. I was under the care of a well-known doctor in Toronto for several weeks. The wound got no better, and one day he said my finger would have to be taken off. The pain from the wound was terrible and was extending right up the arm. I consulted another medical man and was treated by him for some weeks longer. He then suggested that the finger be opened and the bone scraped. At this stage a friend advised me to try some Zam-Buk which I did. I bathed the wound and applied Zam-Buk as directed. Next morning the wound began to bleed. It was a healthy sign so I continued with the treatment, and in a weeks time I was able to discard the bandage. A little more perseverance and Zam-Buk cured the wound completely."

Annual Meeting Of Y. W. C. A. Shows Splendid Progress In All The Departments

Large Attendance Last Night of Friends of the Institution—Ladies Conduct Their Business in a Practical Manner—The Various Reports.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME GIVEN

The annual meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held last night in the gymnasium, which was very tastefully decorated for the occasion. There was a large attendance of the friends and members of the association, and Mrs. Parker, of Toronto, was present as the guest of the evening. The various reports show that the ladies are keeping up the successful work which they began several years ago. The Board of Managers have arranged their relations with sub-boards in a manner which has not only proved most satisfactory, but is also placed on a business basis.

The attendance at the annual is in itself a criterion of the interest which is generally manifested in the progress of the institution. The mortgage fund is particularly encouraging, $8,000 being received during the past year, and there now remains of the mortgage, $4,000.

The meeting was begun by the singing of a hymn, Miss L. Rush playing the accompaniment. Rev. B. Pogue conducted the opening exercises, after which Miss Ida Sanderson was heard in a pleasing vocal solo, which she rendered in splendid voice.

Secretary's Report

The secretary's report was one of the most important of the evening, dealing with the general work of the association. It was read by Mrs. A. Stevenson as follows:

In presenting this, the seventeenth annual report of the Board of the Young Women's Christian Association of Peterborough, it is satisfactory to note the general good attendance of the members. There have been regular meetings, with an average attendance of fourteen. All matters brought before the Board have received the thoughtful attention of its members, the more important ones evoking much discussion, which has been carried on in a keen broad-minded manner, thereby enabling the members to come to an unbiased decision in the matter on hand.

We regret that Mrs. Dennistoun and Mrs. Williamson, having left town, and Mrs. Morris, on account of illness, have been obliged to sever their connection with the Board.

Our several committees have had many and serious difficulties to contend with, and in this year of financial depression, it would seem that the Finance Committee was more deserving than others of our recognition and gratitude, when we consider how ably supported it has been by the energetic work and business ability of the members of the "House" and "Physical Culture" Committees, we feel that the honours must be divided. These departments have not depleted, but on the contrary have added to the coffers of the treasury.

The "Domestic Science" Committee has worked under most trying circumstances, but, nevertheless has made a most creditable showing, being in advance of last year. In the next year we look for great results.

Public Department

Expenditure entailed by the Public Department of this institution is not generally understood. The total expenses of this department have amounted, during the year 1907-8, to the sum of $1,957.37. This large amount has been met and a balance of $69.62 left, which, however, we regret to say has been swallowed up by the shortage of the previous year. The problem of meeting this large expenditure falls principally on the Finance Committee, and we, as loyal members of the Board, owe that committee our never-failing support.

There is another committee which can only do efficient work when backed up by the conscientious efforts of every member of the association, and that is the Religious Committee; and we would urge all members to lose neither time nor opportunity in extending this work.

The statement of the Mortgage Fund requires no comment. We would extend our gratitude to those, who, by their arduous labours and generous contribution, have thus relieved the Board.

On the recommendation of Miss Haycock, the Board has placed a fire escape on the north end of the building.

Uniform prices have been placed on the different rooms, which the Board has decided to rent to societies wishing to hold meetings in the building, and upon class rooms for teaching purposes.

On a Business Basis

On October 28th an important change was made in the pre-existing arrangements between the Board and the House Committee, whereby the relations between these two departments was placed on a practical business basis.

On January 29th the day of the monthly Board meeting was changed from the last Monday to the last Tuesday in the month.

The paid staff for 1907-8 has consisted of:

Miss Mayneord, General Secretary.
Miss Coventry—Physical Directress.
Miss Ranney, Musical Assistant to Miss Coventry.
Miss Elliott — Domestic Science Teacher.
Miss Haycock—Superintendent of Boarding House.

Mrs. Morrow, Miss Best, Mrs. Armstrong, Miss Bauer, Mrs. Seward, Miss Noble, Mr. Sheriff Hall, Dr. Greer and Mr. McCann have conducted classes for the benefit of the association, and our sincere thanks are due them. We would also thank the press for their never-failing courtesies.

On March 31st we received the resignation of our general secretary, and the Board wishes to express its regret that Miss Mayneord is about to sever her connection with the Peterborough Association.

Treasurer's Report

The treasurer's report shows a most creditable sheet. Included with it is the mortgage fund receipts for the past year, as follows:

Nicholls Estate (per Mr. Rich. Hall)	$2,000 00
Mrs. Walsh	2,000 00
Hon. Geo. A. Cox	2,000 00

Mr. W G Morrow	25 00
Mrs. Geo. Burnham	25 00

The mortgage now stands at exactly $4,000.

E. MORROW,
Treasurer.

Secretary's Report

Miss A. Mayneord, secretary of the Association, presented her report, which was of a very encouraging nature, showing that splendid work had been done during the year. A Sunday afternoon Bible class, conducted by Miss Best, was begun after a visit from Rev. Elmore Harris, who held a successful Bible study rally. Mrs. Morrow conducted the Sunday morning Sunday school class. Since February, Sheriff Hall has been most successful in leading the Bible study on the first Epistle to St. Peter. In the educational department, classes were held in English literature, physical culture, home nursing, and domestic science. Sheriff Hall conducted the English literature, the subjects chosen being the lives of the "Brontes" and their works, and Ruskin's "Sesame." Dr. Greer conducted a course of lectures on home nursing and the practical application of the roller bandage, which has been most interesting and instructive. Miss Coventry has successfully conducted the physical culture classes. This department of the work has been a feature of the Association. Classes in domestic science were conducted by Miss Elliot and two classes in arithmetic and writing, one by Miss Bauer and the other by Miss Noble. A small shirtwaist class was conducted by Miss Armstrong. The employment bureau has been a source of help to a large number of girls, assisting them to get positions. The Social and Musical Committees have both done very effective work. A musical department. The reading-room is in constant use and is furnished with five daily and two weekly papers and three monthly magazines. The library contains nearly 400 volumes, and its contents is well insured. The senior membership for the year is 176, and the junior membership 50, making a total of 226.

In addition to departments already reported, there has again been the daily routine of office work with its endless details and countless demands upon the physical strength and best wisdom of all, and as truly here as in any department of our work, is the opportunity afforded "to serve by love."

Superintendent's Report

The superintendent, Miss Haycock, presented a report of the affairs of the boarding house. A good balance is on hand, as an evidence of the care with which the department was managed.

Receipts—

May 1, 1907, balance	$ 114 01

At present we have 43 in the home, and the average number during the year has been 40. The total number of transients, 82; number of meals served to non-residents, 1,324. During the year it has been our pleasure to entertain Mrs. Kilgour, President of the Dominion Council, and Mrs. Brown, Corresponding Secretary. Once month we invite one of the ministers and his wife to tea. Our convener, Mrs. Walsh, has helped very materially toward the home furnishings. We are also grateful to Mrs Waddell and Mrs. Wood for their acceptable gifts.

Respectfully submitted,
K. H. HAYCOCK,
Supt., Y.W.C.A.

On motion of Mrs. Scott and Miss Weir the reports were adopted.

Pictures Presented

Mrs. (Dr.) Boucher, in an appropriate address, presented two pictures to the Association. One was of the late Mrs. Geo. A. Cox, and the other of Mrs. Wm. Walsh. Mrs. Boucher referred in a gracious manner to the assistance these two ladies had rendered the Association and the place they would always retain in the best regards of the Association.

At this part of the proceedings, Mr. Cutting was heard in a vocal solo that was well received.

Interesting Paper

An interesting paper was read by Mrs. H. D. Burnett on "Domestic Science." Mrs. Burnett dealt with this subject in a concise but thorough manner, emphasizing the advantages of a knowledge of this branch of education, and its importance in every-day life.

A deputation from the Board of Education, composed of Messrs. Robt. Fair, John Crane, B F Ackerman and A Mowat, were present, the speakers being Messrs. Fair and Mowat. They complimented Mrs. Burnett on her able address and the clearness with which she presented the important points of domestic science. They referred to its value in home life and the desirability of its being taught the school children.

Board of Management

The nominating Committee reported the following for the Board of Management:

Honorary Members, Mrs. George Burnham, Mrs. Kilgour, and Mrs. Hubbs.

Regular Members—Mesdames Roger, Walsh, Hill Garvin, Stevenson, Boucher, Burnett, Davey, Wood, Hunter, Scott, Waddell, Thompson, Lees, Kennedy, Neill, Morrison, Neal, Nugent, E Y Pearse, A W Cressman, The Misses Barnard, Nicholls, Morrow, Might, Rush, Mowry, Thompson, Dickson.

Mrs. Parker's Address

Mrs. Parker of Toronto, who has for many years engaged in Y. W. C. A. work in that city, is an interesting speaker, and her address last evening was followed with the closest attention by all present. She has a charming personality, and her excellent manner of delivery could not but please and interest all fortunate enough to hear her. Commencing, she referred to the power and influence of a woman. All through the ages woman has taken an important part. The world could not exist without her. The aim of the Young Women's Christian Association was to bring the young girls into its membership. Each woman that joins learns something of Christ's spirit of self-sacrifice. The Association unites all classes of women in one purpose—that of lifting them up to highest ideals of womanhood.

Fifty years ago a little band of women met in the city of London and established the first home. Eighteen years after the first Association was opened in the United States, followed a short time afterwards by the opening of one in Canada. Now there are twenty-six city and twenty-six college Associations in the Dominion. It is the aim of the Association to provide suitable homes for young girls who are starting out in the world. In conclusion, the speaker urged every woman present to join the Y.W.C.A. She took occasion to congratulate the Board on their successful year. She would return to Toronto feeling encouraged at the splendid results of the work being carried on in this city.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Burnett. Mrs. Nicholls making the motion and Mrs. Kilgour seconding it.

Danger in a Cold

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. "Sunshine" Furnace

Where Shaking is Respectable

A Draft of furnace dome, with no other assistance, is powerless to overcome the dust influences in shaking time. Only surplus dust rises of itself above the fire. Great bulk descends into ash-pit, and unless legitimate outlet is therein provided, dust will escape through ash-door slits and into operator's face.

In "Sunshine" Furnace the legitimate dust outlet is provided. It's a great big dust-pipe running straight from ash-pit to dome, thence to chimney. When big pipe damper is opened, all dust in ash-pit ascends to dome; then, when direct drafts are opened, all dust passes up chimney.

Always the clean and quick dust route in "Sunshine" Furnace — via grate, to pan, to dust-pipe, to dome, to chimney, to open air.

The Mutual Life Assurance Co. OF CANADA

Bigger Profits to Policy-holders

It is easy to see why a policy in this Company is an excellent investment as well as a protection.

Last year, the new business amounted to $7,081,402—a gain over 1906 of $1,577,855. Yet the operating expenses were about the same as last year.

For the last five years, the actual mortality was only 47% of the amount expected. And the Interest Income exceeded the mortality by $198,103.

With an expense ratio to Income smaller than its competitors, with a yearly expanding Interest Income, and a favorable death rate, it is but natural that The Mutual Life of Canada is earning more profits, which go to the policy-holders in reduction of their premiums.

MEMBERSHIP ON THE INCREASE

Twenty-four New Members Enrolled on Sunday—Excursion Plans Under Way.

The members of St. Peter's T. A. S. are continuing in their work of enrolling new members into the society. At the regular meeting on Sunday afternoon twenty-four candidates took the pledge of total abstinence. The meeting was very largely attended. The trustees have already begun preparations for the annual picnic on Dominion Day, and arrangements for steamer service are still in abeyance.

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM THE CATHEDRAL

St. Peter's T. A. S. Will Receive Holy Communion in a Body on May 25th

At St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday His Lordship Bishop O'Connor preached at the first and last masses. His text was from the Gospel of the day, St. John 16.16, "A little while and ye shall not see me and again a little while and ye shall see me, because I go to the father." The sermon was a practical one, in which His Lordship impressed the people with the importance of leading a good, clean life.

Next Sunday the Ladies of the Sodality will receive Communion in a body, and the members of St. Peter's T. A. S. will do likewise on Sunday, May 25th.

GRAND TRUNK AT THE FRANCO-BRITISH EXHIBITION, LONDON, ENGLAND

It is a well-known fact that at all the World's Fairs and International Exhibitions, held in the past decade, the Grand Trunk has been most prominently represented with attractive displays, and in each case gold medals and diplomas have been their award. At the France-British Exhibition, which is to be held at Shepherd's Bush, London, May to October, this year, the Grand Trunk are not behind in their progressiveness, and have erected a beautiful pavilion covering about 2,000 square feet of space in a picturesque spot known as the French Court.

This structure follows in design the Renaissance style of architecture with an artistic pillared entrance. Over its entrance rises a group of statuary representing the Grand Trunk Railway System as "speed," with an electric star surmounting the head of the central figure, emblematic of the "Star of Empire," and on each side of this figure is represented in smaller figures the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, the central figure joining their hands, representing the spanning of the continent by the new National Transcontinental Railway. This allegorical group is a very imposing one and the idea is appropriate.

The interior of the building is arranged in a combination of colour harmony of olive green and red. The scenic views of the Grand Trunk Railway, as well as views of the summer tourists' districts and fishing and hunting resorts in Canada are beautifully portrayed by a series of bromide enlargements finished in a sepia tint and framed in a dull quartered oak. The photographic work has been executed by Mr. J. W. Swan, the well-known landscape photographer, who has excelled himself, if possible, in this collection. These pictures cover the walls to a distance of two feet from the ceiling, and the entire interior has been set off by a beautiful frieze made up of grains and grasses from Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and the West. In this frieze are embedded specimens of Canadian fish and game mounted in an attractive way, the whole forming an unique and pleasing effect.

In the centre of the room a pyramid has been erected, on which is shown samples of the cereals of the Province of Ontario, as well as natural samples of fruit from the "Garden of Canada."

Animated moving picture machines, projecting fishing, hunting and railway scenes, are other features on the floor space. Interesting and instructive literature has been specially prepared for distribution, and it is estimated that from fifteen to twenty million people will visit this exhibition during its lifetime. Canada and the Grand Trunk Railway System will secure a tremendous amount of publicity through this medium.

Among the special features on display in this building will be two exceptionally fine moose heads, one the record head taken from the Province of Ontario, and the other a freak head that will attract a great deal of attention.

Mr. S. W. Cummings, who, until recently, was General Passenger Agent of the Central Vermont Railway, has been appointed to the position of Director of this exhibit.

Arguments Heard Pro And Con In Regard To The Abattoir

Both Sides Submitted Petitions to the Council and the Matter Was Discussed at Some Length---H. P. Kennedy, W. H. Moore, G. M. Roger and Dr. Gray Among the Speakers.

The proposal advanced by Mr. H P Kennedy that a public abattoir should be established in the city, formed the piece de resistance of last night's meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council. There was a petition from a number of the butchers of the city endorsing the proposal, and against it was a similar petition from the remainder of the dealers in meat, objecting to the scheme. Mr. Kennedy and Mr. G M Roger spoke in favour of the plan, while Mr. W H Moore, Dr. Gray, M O'Brien and John Mervin argued against the establishing of an abattoir. After hearing the arguments pro. and con. the matter was finally referred to the Property Committee.

A petition was read by Mayor Rush, endorsing the scheme and stating that "the petitioners are heartily in sympathy with this movement, and believed it to be in the interest of the health of our Citizens. It was signed by Albert Howden, R. Hunter, D. W. Porter, G. W. Powell, W. Fleetwood, G. Thompson, John James, Jas. Walker, R. C. Braund, F. Coon, Wm. Kemp, W. D. Morris.

Mr. H P Kennedy was the first speaker. He stated that he had endeavoured to have an inspector of the Dominion Government present to give information in the matter, but had found it impossible to do so inasmuch as the Government dealt only with export and import cattle.

The proposition was that the city should erect a public abattoir or else that they should pass a bylaw supporting a private company in establishing such an institution where the cattle for the city would be slaughtered and where an adequate inspection could be made. He pointed out that there was the danger that as diseased animals would not be used in export trade they would be sold locally.

Mr. W H Moore strongly opposed the scheme. The granting of a monopoly, he said, was a dangerous thing, and the council would be practically establishing a monopoly if they favoured the scheme. The establishment of a public abattoir would add to the cost of meat, as the charge of $1 per head for slaughtering cattle, while it might be a good thing for Mr. Kenned, would be bad for the butchers, most of whom had invested their money in private slaughter houses. The speaker referred to the effect that such a measure would have upon the farmers and pointed out the fact that as a result of the farmers selling meat on the market in the winter, the price of meat was appreciably moderated. The building of an abattoir would interfere with the sale of meat by farmers and the public would suffer. He had never heard the insinuation made that diseased meat was sold in Peterborough.

Mr. Moore read a petition against the scheme signed by the following: John Mervin, George Wheeler, Michael O'Brien, F. J. Goselin, Jas. Grady, Robt. Dale, W. G. Howden, K. M. Denoon, C. B. Thornton, Geo. J. White, M. J. Carroll.

Dr. Gray agreed with Mr. Moore, that monopolies were dangerous things. He was of the opinion that there would soon be more officials than people in Peterborough, and inadvertently took a crack at the Board of Health, which body, he said, was a detriment to any country. He said that a sanitary inspector had been appointed and asked if premises had been kept in any better condition as a result. Now they talked of a veterinary inspector. Dr. Gray expressed his views upon the subject of diseased meat, remarking that he did not believe that the inspection of meat was needed.

Mr. G M Roger in supporting the scheme, explained the law in connection with the inspection of meat. The Dominion Government only dealt with the inspection of import and export cattle. The Provincial Government had, however, given municipalities the power to establish abattoirs and to appoint inspectors. He was strongly in favour of the proposal and agreed that the reason that there was no complaint in regard to diseased meat was because there was no inspection. He pointed out that there was a petition signed by nine-tenths of the medical profession in the city approving of the suggestion.

"You could get them to sign anything" was the tribute Dr. Gray paid his fellow physicians.

Mr. John Mervin said that while he believed in the inspection of meat, he had spent money on a slaughter house and was willing that the inspection should take place there.

Mr. M O'Brien was of the same opinion. He did not fear inspection, but thought it should be done at his own slaughter house.

Mr. Kennedy did not think a charge of $1 per head would be excessive. A plant such as proposed would cost he said, between $30,000 and $40,000.

Mr. Moore thought a public meeting should be called to consider the question, but the matter was left in the hands of the Property Committee.

Another Argument Over The Brigade Matters

Ald. Morgan Insinuated Charges Were Work of a Few "Sore Heads," and Ald. Johnston Resented This Statement—The Chief's Resignation Received.

THE MEN ALSO RESIGN

The resignation of Fire Chief Thomas Rutherford was read and received at last night's meeting of the City Council and furnished another occasion for a windy battle in which Ald. Morgan, as usual, figured largely. He intimated that the proposed change was the work of a "few soreheads," which statement was warmly resented by Ald. Johnston, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

When Mr. Rutherford's letter was read, Ald. Morgan suggested that a meeting of the Council, Fire Brigade and citizens be held to consider the changes. The people he thought, did not know what they were getting, as it had not been talked over enough. "A recommendation came in from a number of sore heads," remarked the East City alderman, "and was pushed through and carried." The matter should be discussed fairly and squarely instead of being allowed to slide through in a slip-shod manner.

Ald. Johnston took exception to the insinuation that the changes were the work of sore-heads. "There is no sore head business about it," he remarked.

Ald. Neill asked if it was not the intention of the council to establish a permanent brigade.

Ald. Johnston explained that it had been thought that the best thing was to inaugurate a proper head of the brigade and let him decide. He had no more to do with the matter than had the whole committee.

Ald. Elliott said that he would be in favour of a paid brigade if it would be an efficient organization, but he did not think it possible to have an efficient brigade with five or six paid men. The volunteer brigade in Peterborough was as good as any in the country, and he would not like a change unless it would produce a better brigade.

Ald. Buller thought that Ald. Morgan was the sorest one in the bunch. He stated that Chief Rutherford had remarked to him that the time was ripe for a change and he thought it was the duty of the city to take it up.

Ald. Bradburn informed the council that two firemen had stated to him that it was the best move the council could make. He commented upon the fact that the members of the present brigade were mechanics, working at their trades, and that therefore in the day time, there was often delay until the men arrived.

The resignation of the members of the brigade to take effect June 30th was also read and received.

M. Pappas wrote the council on behalf of a foreigner who purchased a peddler's license at $40 on Saturday for the purpose of selling peanuts on the streets. He had found that the police would not allow him to stand on the corners and therefore the license was no use to him and he asked for a refund.

On motion of Ald. Phelan and Morgan a refund of the amount of the license will be made.

The Otonabee Power Company wrote asking permission to place poles on Waterford, Antrim and Aylmer streets. The matter was referred to the Board of Works.

A petition for an arc lamp on Park street between Romaine street and princess street, was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The Mayor, Ald. Buller, Bradburn and Neill were appointed a committee to meet Mr. Richard Hall in regard to the public library.

There were present, Mayor Rush, Ald. Johnston, Tovey, Elliott, Morgan, Bradburn, Buller, Turner, McIntyre and Phelan.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH MEETING

Premises on George Street Must be Connected With the Sewer.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health was held this morning, when a number of items of routine business were cleaned off the file. The session was not a lengthy one.

There were present Dr. Burnham (Chairman), Dr. McNulty, Mayor Rush, Jas. Edgar, Jas. Murty, Chief Roszel and Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.

A letter was read from J. J. Turner, Jr., complaining of a bad odour on the north side of Hunter, near Sheridan street. There is a cesspool at this point.

Mayor Rush said that the matter would be remedied when the sewer was built on Sheridan street.

The matter was referred to the Medical Health Officer and Sanitary Inspector Chief Roszel.

Mr. J. J. McBain waited upon the Board regarding the Acton property on George street, between Murray and Brock street, which the Board had decided should be connected with the sewer. Mr. Acton, of Toronto, intended to erect a new building there and would tear down the present building. In the meantime he thought that a proper closet might be constructed in the yard.

The Board decided that if the building was to be used as a dwelling it would have to be connected with the sewer.

The Health Officer was instructed to investigate whether or not Nicholas Ronzetti, Charlotte street, had connected his premises with the sewer.

Dr. Burnham was called in to attend his injuries, and after receiving medical attendance he was removed to his home. His injuries are causing him considerable pain.

Work On Sidewalks And Streets Has Been Begun

Nearly 1000 Cords of Stone to be Crushed for Use on the Streets —The Plan of the Board of Works.

ROAD ROLLER AT WORK

The work of crushing the stones at the city's yards for use on the streets was begun yesterday, and likewise the laying of cement walks has been commenced. Commissioner Evans has been getting things in shape, and has nearly all the cement-making paraphernalia gathered at Bonacord street, where the first walk is to be laid. The weather stopped the work temporarily this morning. The intention of the Board of Works is to curtail the laying of the sidewalks this year, and to pay particular attention to the roads.

1000 Cords of Stone

To this end, the city's yards on Townsend street and at the north end have now more stone than at any one time in the past. There are 600 cords at the south end yards, and between 300 and 400 at the north end. The steam crusher started on its shrill grind yesterday, and the road roller, with Mr. Sam Wainwright at the throttle, is doing duty on Charlotte street west.

Ald. Phelan and his associates on the Board have got away to a good start, and the results, in the form of good roads, will be looked forward to by the general public.

A DOUBTING THOMAS

Had his Falling Hair Stopped, and Dandruff Cured, Without Faith

H. B. Fletcher, Butte, Mont., October 20, 1899, says: "Like many other people, I have been troubled for years with dandruff, and within the last few months my hair came out so badly that I was compelled to have what I had left clipped very close. A friend recommended Newbro's Herpicide. I confess that I doubted his story, but I gave Herpicide a trial; now my hair is as thick as ever, and entirely free from dandruff." "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Herpicide is a delightful hair dressing for regular use. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. MR. GILLESPIE AT THE POINT

Many Hear Addresses There Last Night In Interests of His Candidature.

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN

A well-attended meeting in the interests of Mr. G A Gillespie, Liberal candidate for the Legislature in West Peterborough, was held last night in Heard's Hall, Young's Point. The chair was occupied by Mr. Heard, the speakers of the evening being Messrs. D. O'Connell the candidate and Hon. J. R. Stratton, all of whom were listened to with deep interest.

Mr. O'Connell was the first speaker, and in opening his remarks referred to the efficient and painstaking manner in which the riding of West Peterborough had been represented by the Hon. J R Stratton during the twenty years he had been a member of the Ontario Liberal Government. During his time the interests of the constituency had been carefully looked after, and he constantly kept his constituents in touch with the trend of public affairs, not only during the campaigns, but during the sessions of Parliament. It could hardly be said that the representative since that time had been quite so efficient.

But the principal stake at issue at the present time was not so much the personality of the candidate, but on the platforms of the two political parties. Towards the end of the 32 years of Liberal rule the Conservatives had made many charges, which they have not as yet proven, and had made many pledges which they had not kept.

In the administration of public affairs of the Province, large sums of money must be drawn from different sources, and many of the sources from which the Conservative revenue was taken during the last three and a half years were strenuously denounced by the Conservative party while in Opposition. The Liberal Government devised the Succession Duties Tax, the Supplementary Tax, and was responsible for the immense amount of revenue now derived from the Temiskamingue district, its railways and mines, and yet if the Conservative party in Opposition had its way, the Province would be deprived of over three and a half millions of dollars.

Charges Unfounded

Mr. O'Connell next dealt with the charges of the Conservative party of the extravagance of the Liberal Government which he showed to be unfounded. He referred to the Canadian Northern Railway bonds, pointing out that the manner in which the Whitney Government had dealt with the Railway Company suggested assistance from the railway promoters in the shape of funds for the Conservative campaign.

The Liberal party was a constructive party—a party of progress—he said, and in closing dealt with the estimable qualities of Mr. Gillespie which would make him a good servant of the people.

Candidate's Address

Mr. Gillespie was the second speaker and was given a very cordial reception by those in attendance. He stated that he was not going to discuss to any extent the political issues. They had already been dealt with by Mr. O'Connell and Mr. Stratton would deal with them before the close of the meeting. He laid claim to being entitled to the support of the electors of West Peterborough on the grounds that he had always been active in the interests of agriculture. For many years he had been identified with the cheese industry—one of the most important of the province. It had always received liberal treatment and encouragement at the hands of the Liberal party.

If elected he would give his best attention to Parliamentary duties and discharge them as best he could, and with the same diligence as he had always attended to his own.

Hon. J. R. Stratton

It was twenty-two years, said Mr. Stratthon in his introductory remarks, since he first had the pleasure of addressing a Young's Point audience, and he then had asked them to "give the boy a chance," and they had done it. He was returned on that occasion by a small majority of about 34. He came back again and had received a majority of 300. Following that he had been selected by majorities of over 700. The next time he had been elected by acclamation and on the last occasion he had been returned by a majority of 1,200. He had every reason to feel gratified for the manner in which he had been treated by the electors of West Peterborough, and for their confidence which he enjoyed for so long a time.

In discussing the Provincial questions, Mr. Stratton did not wish to be personal or unfair. He had nothing to say against Mr. Bradburn personally, and that he would just deal in matters prior to last election. Mr. Bradburn issued a manifesto, in which he charged the Liberal party with extravagance. Where is the extravagance? asked Mr. Stratton. He had not seen it. The Conservative party had never pointed it out in Opposition, nor have they yet. Mr. Bradburn had said that the affairs of the departments were transacted in a manner that would not be tolerated in any business concern and that the supplies were purchased without competition. This was not true. All supplies were purchased by open, fair and just competition.

The Whitney Government had obtained power largely by the support of Liberal voters. They promised fair and just treatment but these promises were shamefully broken. In West Riding of Peterborough there was the case of Mr. Geo. Cochrane. Mr. Cochrane was License Inspector, a fair and moderate officer and a man who discharged this duty well and satisfactorily to the Commissioners. There was no cause of complaint against him, and yet he was dismissed from office. Mr. Stewart, a police officer with a good position being put in his place. That a good position, put in his place. That was not fair. Mr. D H Moore, who had been in public service many years was another case. There was no complaints that he was not an efficient officer. But Mr. Moore was a "Grit" and he was dismissed. Again Mr. Geo. Elliot, who had been raised in the township of Smith and whom all present knew was associated with Mr. Moore, and on the change of the Government he was dismissed.

Mr. Stratton dealt to some extent with the Colonization Road scheme, pointing out how Mr. Bennett, a North Monaghan man, had looked after the work in the northern portions of the county, in place of local men who knew the situation. He also spoke of the assistance of the Liberal Government to the Canadian Northern for opening up a country largely undeveloped by railways. He referred to the Larose mine deal and the suspicious circumstances surrounding it. He closed by paying a tribute to Mr. Gillespie, who, he said, was a man born and bred on the farm, and a man who is interested in the farmer, and who, therefore, could be relied upon. He was an intelligent candidate, successful in business and would make an efficient representative of the riding.

A vote of thanks, moved by Messrs. Stratton and O'Connell, was passed to the chairman and the meeting closed with cheers for the King, candidate, Mr. Gillespie, Mr. Stratton and Mr. O'Connell.

Deceased had been confined to her bed for about three weeks, suffering during the last week from an attack of quinzy, which was followed by nervous prostration, and which finally ended in death. Mrs. Barlow had resided in Havelock for a number of years, during which time she had made for herself many warm friends, whose hearts were touched when the news of her death was reported on Sunday morning.

She leaves a husband and a baby boy three weeks old, to whom the sympathy of all is extended. She has residing in town one sister, Mrs. Robt. Barlow, and two brothers, Thomas and Harrison Curtis.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon from the residence on Matheson street, to Maple Grove cemetery. The remains will be borne to their last resting place, followed by the members of the Rebekah Lodge, of which deceased was a member.

Buy Casey Mountain Shares

IN THE

CASEY MOUNTAIN COBALT MINING AND DEVELOPING COMPANY, Limited

Chartered by the Ontario Government

Authorized Capital - - - - $250,000.00

Par Value of Shares (fully paid-up and non-assessable): $1.00.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS—President: R. C. WILLIAMSON, Toronto, formerly of Peterborough; Vice-President: JAMES THOMPSON, Havelock, Ont.; Secretary-Treasurer: DR. H. A. WOOD, Peterborough, Ont.; Superintendent: B. WILLIAMSON, Haileybury, Ont.; D. A. REID, Brandon, Man.

HEAD OFFICE: MANNING CHAMBERS, TORONTO, ONT.

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares:

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which is a regular net-work of silver bearing veins that will go down for thousands of feet.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered twelve to date, varying in width from 16 ins. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining Proposition (not a Stock Speculation) and has been developed continuously during the past ten months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the district, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situate on the adjoining lot that according to good authority, was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a mining company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent to Casey Mountain Shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

APPLICATION

Manning Chambers, Toronto.—

Sirs:—Please deliver to me.....shares (fully paid up and non-assessable) of the par value of $1.00 each of the Capital Stock of The Casey Mountain Cobalt Mining and Development Company, Limited, in full payment of which I hand you herewith:

$..... I agree that this application may be refused, and to accept pro rata allotment in the event of over subscription.

Name.....

Full Address.....

Occupation.....

Cobalt Camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $69,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Tredwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton and is paying big dividends.

CASEY MOUNTAIN MINING CO., Limited has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will sum $20 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would mean a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $300,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically a close corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at one dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Additional information can be had from the Secretary-Treasurer, DR. H. A. WOOD, 408½ George Street, Peterborough.

WAS A TOTAL WRECK FROM HEART FAILURE.

Heart disease is characterized by its stealthy approach and its variety of forms, yet in all 95 forms nature gives unmistakable signals which warn us of its presence.

One of the first danger signals announcing something wrong with the heart is the irregular beat or violent throb. Often there is only a fluttering sensation, or an "all gone" sinking feeling; or, again there may be the most violent beating, with flushings of the skin and visible pulsations of the arteries. You may experience a smothering sensation, gasp for breath and feel as though about to die. In such cases the action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in quieting the heart, restoring its normal beat and imparting tone to the nerve centres, is, beyond all question, marvellous. They give such prompt relief, such speedy restoration to health that no one need suffer.

Mr. Darius Carr, Geary, N.B., writes: "It is with the greatest of pleasure I write you a few lines to let you know the great blessing your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have been to me. I was a total wreck from heart failure, my wife advised me to take your pills, and, after using two boxes I was restored to perfect health. I am now sixty-two years old and feel almost as well as I did at twenty."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 for $1.25 at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SPEEDY ALERTS HERE FOR GAME SATURDAY AFTERNOON

With good weather on Saturday a fast game between Manager Johnston's Peterboroughs, and the Alerts of Toronto, is assured. The Alerts are said to have a very fast team who will take a lot of beating, and as Manager Johnston's branch have been taking advantage of the spare moments, when the rain department is working, they are in good shape for a game. The warm weather yesterday just suited the squad, and they cavorted around Central Park for three hours, like a bunch of two year olds. They are asking for a chance to get on the diamond at Riverside Park, so that team work can be developed, but in the meantime they ar egetting all the practise possible. Saturday's game should be a hard fought battle. Clements and Lefty Smith will be the opposing pitchers, and as both are in mid-season form the batters willhave to keep their eyes on theball all the way.

WORLD'S CHAMPION BOWLER

Mr. W. V. Thompson, of Chicago, Will be at P. B. C. Alleys To-night.

HAS WONDERFUL RECORD

Mr. W V Thompson of Chicago, the world's champion bowler, arrived in the city at noon to-day and will be at the Peterborough Bowling Club's alleys to-night. Mr. Thompson is alley manager for the Brunswick Balke Collander Company, and is captain and manager of the famous Thompson's Colts, holders of the world's record of 2853 pins, defeating the champions of the A. B. C., N. B. A. and W. B. A. at Cincinnati in February. In one season the Colts played 66 games with an average of 999 1-66, with a record of 1120 for a high game, and 42 games of over 1000, which constitutes a world's record for league games.

Mr. Thompson has several times won the world' championship, and has some wonderful performances to his credit, having on several occasions rolled the possible 300, although never in a league game. In league competitions his highest score is 296. He has had an average of 247 for ten consecutive games.

Mr. Thompson's visit to Peterborough is arousing much interest, and no doubt there will be a large turnout of the bowling fraternity at the alleys to-night to welcome the king pin of the game.

THE ATHLETICS' NEW UNIFORMS

Amateurs Will be Clad in Suits of Khaki and Red

When Manager Lynch's Athletics, of the Midland League, make their appearance on the diamond this year they will be found togged out in catchy new uniforms. The Athletics will wear suits of khaki this season with red trimmings, the caps, stockings and lettering being of red. They will closely resemble the uniforms worn by the Peterborough team when they won the Midland League championship before and should prove a handsome and serviceable garb.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE BUSINESS

General Meeting Held Last Night in The Y. M. C. A.

The executive of the City Intermediate Baseball League met last night in the Y.M.C.A. to conclude the business necessary to starting the first games next Saturday. President Jas. T. C. Laing was in the chair and all the teams were represented. The men who are to be played by the teams which meet next Saturday must all be signed before that day, and their names must also be left with the secretary before Saturday. It is requested that secretaries of clubs hand the names and certificates to the secretary at the Examiner office before Friday night to facilitate matters. The four teams that play in the first games must have their two-dollar guarantee handed in before going on the field. Entrance fees should not be further overlooked.

The question of umpires for the games was also considered and will be arranged before Saturday. The secretary was authorized to buy balls for the league. The Reach ball was decided upon, and will be purchased wholesale, and the clubs can secure them at a very low price. Further particulars regarding this point will be announced later.

Uses it Every Spring

Mr. H. Langley, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a spring tonic and I find it the best thing I can take. It builds me right up and I use it every spring. It is excellent for the blood."

SPRING MEDICINE

Purifies the Blood

Mrs. Geo. Mason, Apohaqui, N.B., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters and it is a splendid spring medicine. It purifies the blood and is the greatest remedy in the world for pimples and boils."

Try as you may it is next to impossible to escape so-called "Spring Fever."

You get that Weary, Tired, Listless, Worn-out, Don't-Care-to-Work Feeling: What is needed is to clean out the system and make the blood pure? The cleansing, blood-purifying action of whereby it eliminates all the pent-up poison from the system, starts the sluggish liver working, acts on the kidneys and the bowels and renders it without exception

That Tired Feeling

Mr. F. H. Leard, Saskatoon, Sask., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a blood builder and think it is an excellent remedy. Everyone should take it in the spring to cure that tired feeling that comes to so many at this time of the year."

The Best Spring Medicine

Indigestion in Spring

Miss B Bradley, Hamilton Ont., writes: "Last spring I used three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, as I had indigestion and very thin blood, I tried everything before taking the B.B.B. which I think is an excellent spring tonic."

Lager Purity

To make a Beer like O'Keefe's Pilsener after the celebrated German Pilsen formula, purity is not only desirable, but absolutely necessary.

O'KEEFE'S PILSENER LAGER

is brewed only from the best barley malt, choicest hops, and absolutely chemically pure water. The water is filtered before brewing, and the beer filtered before bottling and afterwards pasteurized in the bottles. Mild and delightful, always pure and healthful.

"THEATRE GOER" MAKES COMPLAINT

"Talking Persons" Give More Trouble Than "Merry Widows," He Says.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Although the "Merry Widow" was in evidence at the theatre last evening, it caused no inconvenience, as the ladies were gracious enough to remove their hats. I cannot, however, say as much for some other widows, and some others who were not widows, who, inconsiderately, no doubt, kept up a conversation throughout the play, much to the annoyance of others who went to see and listen to the play. It was more remarkable from the fact that the ladies in question were good-looking and well dressed, and now I am sure that their attention having been called to the occurrence, it will not happen again.

Yours truly,
THEATRE GOER.

The bridge over the old Dickson dam will be closed for traffic, as far as the city is concerned, according to a motion of Ald. Tovey and Ald. Neil made at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council last night.

The city engineer reported that the bridge was not in a very safe condition, and the council feltt hat should a serioubs accident occur there they might be held responsible, and in order to protect the citizens it was decidedly necessary to pass the motion to close the bridge.

Having Children's Eyes Examined

People suffer through life with the disadvantage of impaired vision as a result of neglect of the eyes in childhood. Children considered dull or effected with brain trouble.

It's a familiar fact that the acuteness of vision varies extremely among adults, and that certain defects of the eye—such as shortsightedness — can be as completely remedied as to restore to the individual almost perfect sight. Now, there exists among children just such differences in the acuteness of vision as is observed in adults, and many of the defects of the eye originate in the failure of parents to appreciate these differences.

It's a pity to put glasses upon a child, but a greater pity to neglect such when the future well-being of the eyes depends upon their help. It's safer to do as many are doing now—having the children's eyes examined to know whether or not glasses are necessary.

REV. CANON DAVIDSON OFF TO LONDON

A Delegate to the Pan-Anglican Congress —The Largest Assemblage in History of Church of England.

HE WILL LEAVE ON FRIDAY

Rev. Canon Davidson will leave on Friday for Montreal, Leon where he will sail for London, England, as a delegate to the Pan-Anglican Congress. He has had the honour to be chosen as a representative of the diocese of Mocsonee. The congress will be the greatest assemblage in the history of the Church of England; and five years have been spend in preparing for it. It is intended to offer a means of consultation between bishops, clergy, and the leading laity throughout the world as regards the present and future mission of the Church, and the underlying principles of Christianity in general. The congress will further consider the unity of Christendom, the social, industrial, scientific, ecclesiastical and other problems which the Church has to face in its work in all parts of the world, especially in the preaching of Christianity to the heathen races. It will be composed of all the bishops, six elected representatives from each of over 250 dioceses in the world, to which is added as many representatives from the dioceses in England as can be accommodated.

The number of tickets two months ago had passed the 5,000 mark, and arrangements were being made for extra meetings.

Rev. Canon Davidson is a member of section "F," the subject of which is "The Anglican Communion," dealing with its essentials and non-essentials, and the possibilities of inter-communion and reunion with separated bodies. Mr. Davidson has received a letter from Bishop Montgomery, leader of that section, asking him to take part in the discussion.

The congress will be opened by a great Communion service on Monday, June 15, at Westminster Abbey, and will end with what is expected will be a wonderful thanksgiving service in St. Paul's Cathedral on St. John the Baptist's Day, June 24. All the bishops of the Anglican Communion will present their offerings at this service, and it is expected the total will be $5,000,000.

Extensive arrangements have been made for the reception of the members of the congress, Lord Strathcona taking an important part in the plans for a hospitable entertainment.

PASSENGERS ON A STREET CAR RETURNING FROM A FUNERAL REPORT A NARROW ESCAPE

A mighty narrow escape! Such is the character of the story told by passengers on one of the exhibition grounds cars yesterday afternoon, who claim they were almost caught by the 4.45 C.P.R. train from the East.

The car was well filled with passengers, principally men, returning from a funeral to the Little Lake cemetery. By some misunderstanding, so it is stated by one of the occupants of the car, the gates were not closed at the crossing at the station, and the street car, after slowing up slightly south of the tracks, passed on over.

At the same time the Last Express from the East was pounding along towards the station, and, as all know who have ever been at the station when it arrives, it comes in at a rather fast rate.

Further information indicates that a man standing at the station beckoned the motorman to stop. But at that time the car had gone too far, and to stop meant being dashed to pieces by the on-rushing express.

"I looked out of the window," explained one of the passengers to the Examiner, "and there the engine was at the end of the bridge. I turned pale with fright, like many others, and I don't feel right yet," he said, and that was several hours after the danger had passed.

The car had just passed over the last rail when the train went rushing by, and a score of passengers just then were silently thanking their lucky stars that they were safely across.

ONTARIO LIBERAL LEADER OPTIMISTIC IN REFERRING TO PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS

Hon. A. G. MacKay In The City To-day—Tells The Examiner of Gratifying Trend of Affairs.

BE IN NORWOOD TO-NIGHT

Hon. A G MacKay, leader of the Liberal Opposition in Ontario, arrived in the city before noon to-day on his way to Norwood. To-night he addresses a mass meeting in the town hall there in the interests of Mr. McNulty, the Liberal candidate for East Peterborough. Mr. MacKay has had a very strenuous week and he has another such to look forward to. But apparently he is equal to the task, as this morning in conversing with an Examiner reporter, he was in his usual affable mood and looked hale and hearty, and much better than when he addressed the ma - meeting in the opera house here - few weeks ago.

Of the outlook throughout the province Mr. MacKay spoke in very optimistic terms. On Monday night he held a meeting at Stouffville, and on Tuesday night at Lindsay. To-night he speaks in Norwood, on Thursday night in Ottawa, in Arnprior on Friday night, and in Alexandria on Saturday. Last week he spent three days in his own riding in North Grey—the only time he has been there since assuming the leadership last October.

Speaking to the Examiner to-day Mr. MacKay said:

"Reports all along the line in Eastern Ontario indicate splendid Liberal activity. Eastern Ontario promises to return many Liberals, if the enthusiasm and attendance at the Lindsay meeting last evening and meetings that have been held in the east formerly, are any indication. The information I have received from the Ottawa Valley is very favourable, indeed. Again, the meeting at Stouffville on Monday evening which was held on the corner where four ridings come together, brought out the gratifying feeling there that the Liberal cause was the popular one.

"The general consensus of Liberal opinion in Stouffville seems to be the four ridings will be carried by Liberals—namely, North York, East York and North and South Ontario.

"What to me is most gratifying, is that Liberals the province over are selecting exceptionally able men as candidates. All I need to do is point to yesterday's list of Liberal nominations. Men like Proudfoot of Goderich; Towers of Sarnia; Anms of Kenora; Buell of Brockville, and Price of Sudbury, are all capable of making front benchers.

"As I have often said on the platform from one end of this province to the other, Liberals never were in better fighting fettle. So far as I know there is no dissatisfaction or wrangling within the party and it seems to me that all that will count to the good."

Mr. MacKay accompanied by Mr. R F MacWilliams left on the 2 o'clock G.T.R. train for Hastings from where they will drive to Norwood for the meeting to-night.

Chairs And Brooms Figured In An Unneighbourly Jar

Amusing Case at Police Court This Morning--One Woman Succeeded in Defeating Feminine Adversary And Then Cleared Up Two Men.

WAS FINED $5 TO-DAY

There may be sections in the city where neighbours live in peace and harmony, where they may pursue the even tenor of their ways with nothing to disturb their serenity, but the neighbourhood of 385 and 387 Bethune street is not one of these places, according to the evidence heard in a case at the police court this morning, that kept the railbirds in a chronic state of laughter all the way through.

Mrs. Daisy Richards, who lives at 385 Bethune street, charged Mrs. Wm. Johnston, who resides next door, with using grossly insulting and abusive language, and also with assault.

The two women have not been living in harmony for the past two weeks, the trouble originating over the fact that Mr. Richards owns a dog which has been annoying Mrs. Johnston's children. This had led to ill feeling between the two, and according to Mrs. Richard's statement, her neighbour used very abusive language towards her on the street on Monday morning, and made threats of what she would do if she caught her in the back yard. Mrs. Richards was apparently alarmed by the threats and as in order to obtain water she had to pass through Mrs. Johnston's back yard, she was cut off from supplies until she called in reinforcements in the person of her brother-in-law, Wm. Richards.

This was before six o'clock, and when more water was needed after tea, Mrs. Richards was sent out to the pump while her husband, brother-in-law and Mark Johnston, a boarder, watched for trouble from the doorway. And trouble, in the shape of Mrs. Johnston, was looming up on the doorstep of the next house. Mrs. Richards had filled her pail with aqua pura and was headed for home again, when Mrs. Johnston started out to meet her with the remark, "What can you do now?" What happened next is a little uncertain, as Mrs. Johnston swears that her adversary threw the water over her, while Mrs. Richards denies the water-throwing episode.

However, Mrs. Johnston went at her opponent a la Turtubise, and showing considerable speed and cleverness succeeded in getting a half nelson on Mrs. Richards and secured the first fall in thirty seconds. Mrs. Richards declared that the strangle hold was used, but that was denied. As the two dropped onto mother earth, reinforcements got sail from No. 385, and the two Richards boys and the star boarder appeared on the scene. Richards, the husband, had seized his wife's conqueror and was dragging her off, when a new opponent loomed up and rapidly bore down upon the conflict. This was a boarder from Mrs. Johnston's house, who according to one of the witnesses, was spitting on his hands in an ominous manner. Profiting by the diversion, Mrs. Johnston made the next move in the game and seizing a chair cracked Richards, the husband, over the head, putting him hors de combat for a moment. Undaunted she picked up a broom and put to flight the star boarder, hitting him over the head, and adding insult to injury by capturing his hat a crushing it. The battered derby was produced in court and looked as if it had come into contact with a road roller.

The charge of using abusive language was heard first, Mrs. Richards taking the stand and giving the court a list of names by which she stated Mrs. Johnston had designated her on the street on Monday last. Among other things Mrs. Johnston had intimated that if she got her in the back yard she would hit her.

Mrs. Johnston denied the charge. She stated that Mrs. Richards had told her to go into the house to her man," and had made some reference to Mrs. Johnston and some Italians of the neighbourhood.

"I would rather have paid $25 than come here and face the class of people that are here to-day," she exclaimed, amid loud laughter.

"That's hard on the court," commented the magistrate, and the merriment was renewed.

The assault case was next taken up and evidence was given by Mrs. Richards, her husband, brother-in-law and Mark Johnston, for the complainant, and Mrs. Johnston and her boarder, for the defence. The evidence boiled down was as given above. Mrs. Johnston's testimony produced some amusement. She stated that Mrs. Richards had threatened to "blacken" her, and witness had seized her, thrown her down and rubbed her face in the dirt.

The magistrate, after commenting upon the necessity of neighbours living in peace and harmony with each other, fined Mrs. Johnston $5 on the assault charge, the other being dismissed.

As the court adjourned the adversaries commenced to hurl remarks across the court at each other and a resumption of hostilities was threatened.

Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the defendant and Mr. F. D. Kerr for the complainant.

CHEAP SCHOOL BOOKS.

The Conservative party never practised a more palpable deception than its present pretence at giving the public cheap school books. Members of the party now seeking election carry a supply of readers and after expatiating on the question of reduction of the cost of school books usually exhibit a reader or two and grow eloquent telling the people that Whitney has reduced the cost of school books, after a commission had reported on the matter. These speakers, however, find it convenient to keep silent on the report what John A Cooper, a strong Conservative, who was chairman of the School Book Commission, said in dissenting from the finding of the other two commissioners. Mr. Cooper, who is at present the editor of the Canadian Courier, being a printer, was the practical man on the commission. He was in a position to have real and accurate knowledge of the cost, quality of material and workmanship of the text books, and asserts the books now exhibited over the province were a remnant sale and that the reduction is not of a lasting nature. Recently writing editorially in the Canadian Courier Mr. Cooper asks the question "With reference to the cost of school readers, what will the cost be to the Province of Ontario?" He answers his query as follows:—

"This reduction in price may last one and a half years. What will then happen is only a matter of conjecture. The probability is that if the new set of readers is prepared and the printing and binding brought up-to-date the prices will go back to the old figures, if not higher."

The foregoing statement of Mr. Cooper, chairman of the commission appointed by the Whitney Government to investigate the question of free school books, embodies what are the actual facts, and the untruthfulness and deception contained in the Tory cry of free school books or cheap Ontario readers becomes quite apparent.

FOREIGN TRADE.

In respect to the trade of Great Britain, that wonderful little sea girt pair of isles, leads the world still as it has done for centuries. Great Britain opens her doors wide to the world's trade and all the world trades with it. A financial authority has compiled a few illuminating statistics as below:—

In March the exports of Great Britain exceeded those of the United States by more than $23,000,000, while the imports were nearly three times as great. As the population of the United Kingdom is less than half that of the United States, this indicates a wide difference in the character of the industry and trade of the two countries. There is still the familiar spectacle of British trade thriving on an "unfavourable balance" of nearly $100,000,000 in a single month. This represents substantially what other countries are sending to Great Britain to pay for other things than merchandise, the "invisible exports" of shipping, banking and insurance service, loans, invested capital, etc. The decline in foreign trade in March was pretty general among nations. The returns for the United Kingdom show a decrease in imports of about $28,000,000, while in the United States the decrease was nearly $41,000,000. The proportion of the latter figure to the whole was much greater than that of the former, as United States imports were only $89,113,830, while those of Great Britain exceeded $260,000,000. The decline in British imports was mainly in the materials of manufacture, that alone amounting to about $35,000,000 in a total value this year of $83,500,000. This is more than the aggregate decline, but there was an increase in the imports of food, drink and tobacco of nearly $12,000,000. The fall in British exports was much smaller than in imports, being from a total of about $173,600,000 in March last year to $161,500,000 this year, a loss of $9,100,000. The total United States merchandise exports for the month was $141,397,578, which was more than $20,000,000 less than last year.

These comparative figures apply on the one hand to a Free Trade nation of about forty-five million population, and on the other to a highly protectionist country, of nearly eighty millions. The comparison is instructive.

The clan MacKay promises to be well represented in the coming Legislature. The Liberal leader is certain to be returned for North Grey; Dr. MacKay is a certain comer in South Oxford and John MacKay, the Liberal candidate in Algoma, has an excellent chance for holding down an Opposition or Government seat in the Twelfth Legislature since Confederation.

RIOTOUS EXPENDITURE.

A genuine riot of expenditure has been brought into existence by the Whitney Government. Expenditures for public purposes, for the benefit of the people are desirable and defensible, but public money wasted on mere routine of administration and legislation at the expense of necessary public services for the benefit of the people, is waste indeed. No Government ever took office with a better financial equipment, provided by their predecessors, than the Whitney Government, and no Government has so largely belied its promises of moderate expenditure, and so fruitlessly poured out money. It will be noted that the extravagance is most in the ministers' own departments and in the House.

The Whitney administration took office in 1905, at a time of great prosperity, of surpluses and increased revenues. The cash in the treasury was $2,855,584. The income of the province had risen from $6,128,358 in 1904 to $9,320,419 in 1907, over two millions of a gain, which might mean much in a way of new public aids or enterprises if economically, or even carefully controlled. But there has been a riot of expenditure in the departments, while a number of needy and deserving institutions, like hospitals and reading rooms, are denied a reasonable support.

A large part of the money now being scattered for party friendship and advantage had its source in Liberal legislation in the face of opposition, often long and persistent, from the Conservative party in the House. The revenues of 1907 included:

From succession duties... ...$	833,503
Supplementary revenue	672,241
Letters patent and licenses...	240,007
Temiskaming Railway	235,090
Mining sales and leases... ...	1,184,719
Mining licenses and fees... ...	272,397
Mining royalties	207.945
	$3,645,902

The first three items were the product of entirely new creations of reasonable taxation by the Liberal Government and the acts proposing them were contested and denounced by the party now in power collecting them and enjoying the privilege of expenditure. Nothing could better show the hollowness of the Opposition to Liberal administration than the complete endorsement of all its financial measures by the men who denounced their methods.

When undertaken by the Ross Government, the Temiskaming Railway was attacked as a line that ran into the wilderness, with its terminus in a place called nowhere. But it has not only disclosed the rich mineral wealth which produced the revenue above stated from mining of $1,665,061, but it has itself been a paying enterprise long before its completion, as the revenue of $235,000 attests. The Liberal Government not only brought New Ontario into life, but has made it a source of financial strength to the province at large.

Some contrasts will be interesting. In 1903 the increase in revenue to the Liberal Government was $1,175,9000, and forthwith $1,926,171 was added to the cash reserve in the bank. The increase of revenue this year was $1,170,940, and the surplus is only $606,174.

In 1904, the last year of Liberal control, the expenditure was $5,267,900, and forthwith $1,126,171 was crease of about fifty per cent. under the Whitney administration. The items most controllable, being the immediate expense account of each minister, are those of civil government, or the departments in the Parliament buildings. They show the real disposition of the Government toward real economy, and the disposition is by no means friendly. Civil Government cost:

In 1904...	$344,006
In 1905	374,975
In 1906...	428,280
In 1907...	538,475
Estimates 1908	610,280

or an ascending scale till the cost is nearly double, with no added department to show for it.

The increase in this line under John Sandfield Macdonald for three years was five per cent. on the average.

Under Liberal administration for thirty-four years it was only six and a half per cent.

Under Conservative administration in three years it rose to twenty per cent. and is being greatly increased in 1908.

Salaries—Liberals, 1904	$265,968
Conservatives, 1907	373,386
About forty per cent. addition.
Contingencies. 1904...	$ 78,442
Contingencies, 1907...	165,038

Considerably over double.

Comparing 1907 with 1904, these relative increases appear:

Civil government, $194,469 or 56 p.c.
Legislation, $23,316 or 11 p.c.
Administration of Justice, $97,136 or 20 p.c.
Education, $409,299 or 43 p.c.
Colonization, $32,135 or 115 p.c.
Agriculture, $70,121 or 25 p.c.
Agricultural College, $35,431 or 35 p.c.
Charities, $91,419 or 39 p.c.
Public buildings, $23,500 or 35 p.c.
Colonization roads, $141,286 or 80 p.c.
Charges crown lands, $255,363 or 90 p.c.
Miscellaneous, $57,808 or 42 p.c.

The grants to charities have not really advanced, but retrograded, though the succession duty was based upon this class of aid. The increase of thirty-nine per cent. in amount is not equal to the growth of new hospital and other institutions of relief. The allowance has so dwindled down in proportion to the total cost per diem that delegations representing hospitals, including Peterborough hospitals, are sent yearly to Toronto to beg for a reasonable allowance.

The contingencies in crown lands branch have advanced from $19,719 to $44,880; in the provincial secretary's department from $4,155 to $15,396; in the inspection branch from $3,428 to $22,413.

In 1904 the Liberals engaged forty sessional writers, stenographers and messengers at a cost of $9,518; in 1907 the Conservatives engaged seventy-seven, though the session was shorter and the work not so great. In 1908 this staff was still further increased and $18,950 voted, or practically double. There was not enough work for the large staff engaged to fill one-third of a working day. It was a wilful waste for party graft.

This government, which largely increased its own personal salaries, (advancing the salary of the Premier from $7,000 to $9,000, and that of the remaining Ministers from $4,000 to $6,600 each,) is an expensive institution in another way. It is a government by commissioners.

The Hydro-Electric Commission has in two years cost $72,000.

The revision of statutes for the post year, only part of the work, has cost $33,277.

Sundry investigations, such as were formerly conducted by departmental officers at trifling expense cost $9,249 in 1907, and the accounts are not fully rendered.

The Toronto University Commission has absolute control of a round half million per year, without any check by the Legislature.

The special fees to lawyers, outside of Crown Counsel at assizes, in 1907 were $28,177. The Liberal expenditure in that line in 1904 was $7,747.

The Text Book Commission cost $7,292, and its results are so meagre as to be indeterminable. We are told by a member of the Commission that after the present "job lot" of old school books is worked off the new school books will be as dear, if not dearer, than ever.

How is this for a Government which condemned the extravagant expenditure of the Ross Government and promised it given power to introduce a reign of economy!

MARVELLOUS GROWTH OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

The marvellous growth of the population and of the trade and commerce of the British Empire, and its wonderful productiveness, are concisely set forth in a report recently issued by the British Board of Trade.

With a total area of 11,323,000 square miles, the Empire possesses a population of 387,991,000. England, of course, is the most densely peopled portion of the Empire, its population being 364.5 to the square mile. The most sparsely peopled portion is Australia, with but 1.5 to the square mile, Canada coming next with 1.6. London still leads by a long way all the cities of the Empire, as well as of the world, its population, with 4,758,218, Bombay following a long distance behind with 982,000, and Calcutta, with 955,926. Of the Canadian cities, Montreal is still first in population, having 405,000, while Sydney leads the Australian cities with 538,000.

The figures as to trade volume are stupendous. The foreign and inter-imperial trade of the Empire last year reached in value the total of $7,438,164,420, of which $5,500,467,100 represented foreign trade, and the remainder inter-imperial trade. The United States was the Empire's best customer, purchasing last year $800,000,000 worth of British and colonial products and manufactures. France, with $333,000,000, comes next; then follows Germany, $260,000,000; Holland, $195,000,000; Belgium, $166,000,000, and Russia, $146,000,000.

The figures as to shipping show the extent to which the British Empire leads all other nations on the seas, apart altogether from her fighting navy. The tonnage in 1906 of shipping cleared in the United Kingdom from and to all British colonies and possessions reached the enormous total of 6,998,979 tons, against a grand total of all other countries of 7,550,080. It was also a busy year in shipbuilding in the Empire, 1,100,000 tons of steam vessels having been built in the United Kingdom; 7,534 at Hong Kong (which is the second largest port in the world, in point of tonnage of vessels entered, London being first by about 17,000 tons, and Liverpool third), and 5,823 tons in Canada.

Wonderful indeed has been the growth of production and productiveness of the Empire during the decade 1896 to 1906. For instance, the production of cotton increased from 910,808,000 pounds to 1,971,894,000 pounds; wool, from 820,593,000 to 1038,158,000 pounds; wheat, from 322,500,000 bushels to 528,900,000 bushels; tea, from 265,410,000 pounds to 413,803,000 pounds; coal, from 208,273,000 tons to 284,255,000 tons; oats, from 280,500,000 bushels to 353,000,000 bushels; pig iron, from 8,713,000 tons to 10644,000 tons; gold, from $55,000,000 to $250,000,000; diamonds, from $20,000,000 to $45,000,000; while throughout the entire list of products there have been proportionate increases.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Free trade is rapidly "ruining" Great Britain. During the past year the Liberal Government has reduced the national debt by about ninety millions of dollars, and it now announces a reduction of the sugar duty from 4s. 2d. to 1s. 10d. per hundred. Even with this reduction a surplus of twenty-four millions of dollars is expected. Not so bad for an "effete monarchy," staggering under the burden of Free Trade.

Senator Cangrain, Conservative, expressed the following opinion a few days ago at Montreal: "Hon. Whitney has acted like a bull in a china shop as far as financial interests of Ontario are concerned, and if I had any intention to go to Ontario to help in the coming elections I would deem it my duty to see that the Government which has recklessly wrecked the credit of Ontario and of the rest of the provinces, should not be entrusted with the administration of the affairs of Ontario for another term."

Hon. Mr. Whitney is not only bold but has a rather good conceit of himself. Soon after his elevation to power he discovered that the title of Premier, which was good enough for Sandford Macdonald, Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. Mr. Hardy and Hon. Mr. Ross was not good enough for a statesman of his importance. He, therefore decreed that the name Premier should be changed to Prime Minister. Prime Minister sounds British; but it should go with British honour and not be linked with gerrymanders, fin-British three-fifths handicaps or gang-bagging of poor trustees in rural districts.

METHODISTS MAY LOSE THEIR VOTES

The Church Conference and Provincial Elections to be Held Same Day—Church Dates Fixed First.

Mr. Joseph Gibson, Methodist in denomination, Conservative in politics, president of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, and postmaster of Ingersoll, Ont., is in a dilemma. He is a lay member and slated to speak at the Hamilton Methodist Conference, which meets from June 4th to June 9th. Also, he is a good citizen, and wants to poll his vote at Ingersoll in the Provincial election on June 8th. How can he faithfully and fully perform both these duties?

By the same token 700 or 800 good Methodists and ministers and a similar proportion of laymen may be away from home in attendance at their church courts on the day set by the Government for the elections. Three out of four Methodist Conferences in Ontario Province will be sitting on election day.

Dates of Elections

This is the list of dates:

Hamilton Conference, June 4th to June 8th.

London Conference, June 4th to June 9th.

Toronto Conference, June 10th to June 16th.

Bay of Quinte Conference, June 3rd to June 8th.

Against the desire of many of his colleagues Premier Whitney chose Monday as a polling day this year, so that all the commercial travellers could vote.

It is reasonable to suppose that many Methodists, true to their principles, would like to show the Government, via the elections, what they think of the three-fifths clause in local option contests. Some of them, it seems, will not be given the opportunity if they attend faithfully to the calls of their church conferences.

And the dates of the conferences were fixed months before the Government considered the dates of the elections. How will Hon. W. J. Hanna explain to his fellow-Methodist laymen this unfortunate mixture of dates?

CROP OUTLOOK FROM OTHER SIDE THE OCEAN

(J. R. Heintz & Co. Special.)

Liverpool, May 12. — Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary says:

United Kingdom, Holland and Belgium—The weather is fair.

France—The weather has been cold, but there are fewer complaints heard, although there are still reports being circulated regarding the thinness of the plants. The markets are very firm.

Germany—The outlook for the crop is generally favourable, but foreign wheats meets an excellent demand.

Hungary—Both the weather and crop outlook have shown an improvement during the past week, and the outlook now on the whole is favourable.

Roumania—The recent rains were beneficial, but more is wanted. Supplies continue very light.

Russia—Although some improvement was reported in the condition of the winter crop, still there is bound to be a hay shortage if the spring crop is backward, but otherwise it is very favourable, and this crop may offset the loss in the winter yield. This crop, however, is still uncertain, owing to the large area planted to barley. Supplies in the southwest are practically exhausted, and in the southeast moderate.

Italy—The outlook for the crop continues satisfactory.

North Africa—The outlook is reported as decidedly less favourable.

THE MAY NUMBER OF ROD AND GUN

Exceedingly attractive is the May number of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont. Stories of hunting moose, mountain goat, bear, deer and ducks surely offer enough variety to the hunter, while to the fisherman the papers on salmon in Ontario rivers by the Rev. Dr. Murdoch, and muskinonge fishing by W. Hickson must call up memories and awaken thoughts such as only the fisherman can know. "Early Postal Difficulties in Eastern Canada is a contribution to the history of the past which is near enough to be full of the deepest interest to the present generation. The visit of the President of the Alpine Club of Canada is described and a touching account given of the fatal accident which occurred to the leader of the party attempting a record climb in the Swiss Alps. "The Majesty of the Mails," a story of the heroic efforts made by the letter carriers of the north to deliver mails is told in graphic fashion, and one understands as one reads this fine contribution how it is that despite enormous difficulties and dangers the Hudson Bay Company have never lost a mail. What wonderful heroes these northern mail carriers are.

Funeral in St. John, New Brunswick—Native of Ireland.

News was received in this city during the past week of the death at her home in Boston, of Mrs. Joanna Connor. Mrs. Connor lived many years in St. John, and to her many friends the announcement of her death caused deep regret and genuine sorrow. She was a woman of superior mind and gentle manner and by her charity she won and retained the respect and esteem of all who knew her. She was a native of New Ross, County Wexford, Ireland, and came to this country in her youth. Four children survive: Messrs. P. L. and John, of Boston; Thomas P., of Peterborough, Ont., and Miss Connor at home. One sister, Rev. Sister Emilie, Superioress of the Sisters of Charity in Santa Fe, also survives. Deceased was a member of St. Philip's Church, Boston, where the burial services were held and the remains arrived here this morning for burial in the old Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. Connor was the widow of Thomas Connor, cordage manufacturer, in his day a prominent citizen in St. John. The Rev. C. P. Carleton, of Petersville and His Honour Judge Carleton, of Woodstock, are relatives. May she rest in peace.—New Freeman, St. John, N. B.

WHAT "THE MERRY WIDOW" HAS DONE

It has brought thirty proposals from matinee girls to Donald Briand, who sings and acts and dances his way through the role of "Prince Danilo."

It has made many matches and reunited parted couples who have witnessed the production.

It has been an arbiter in divorce cases, and in quarrels before and after marriages.

It has driven two musicians from the orchestra to the sanitarium.

It has robbed an admirably balanced opera company of three brilliant members.

It has caused Miss Ethel Jackson, the original "Merry Widow," to abandon her splendid work in the piece on account of a nervous collapse. She has said, "The music made me feel blind, helpless and humble. I never want to dance the "Merry Widow" again.

It has made Louis Gottschalk, who has directed the playing of the "Merry Widow" waltz 4,004 times, believe in mental hypnotism. He thus describes the sensation:

"I cannot explain the influence, but I can affirm that it is often almost impossible for me to lead my orchestra through the waltz. The effect thus produced can be traced not only to the music, but to the peculiar intensity of those behind me.

"I have had men in the orchestra come to me and ask to be replaced for a time by other musicians, because they could not stand the tremendous strain. I understand exactly what they feel. It is the strain of that hypnotic influence six nights a week, two matinees, and an additional two or three rehearsals, at which the waltz, repeated several times, produces an indescribable tightening of the brain, which is almost unendurable."

It has labelled the biggest and most embarrassing hat that ever happened, which stopped one train, and saved one girl from drowning.

Better results follow from the use of Miller's Compound Iron Pills than from any other. Sold by J. D. Tully, druggist, Peterborough.

"HEADACHE, WEAKNESS, HEART TROUBLE"

"I Suffered With for Years—Pe-ru-na Cured Me Entirely."

Miss Albina Chauvin, No. 50 Rue Agnes, St. Henri, Montreal, Can., writes:

"I consider Peruna better than any other remedy, as it cured me when nothing else could. I suffered for years and years with heart trouble, headache and weakness. I never expected to find anything to cure me. I saw one day, in "La Presse," that Peruna was excellent and I tried it. One bottle produced a change in me and if the price had been $100 a bottle I would have paid it gladly. I have taken six bottles and am entirely cured. Please accept my thanks and best wishes for your Peruna."

ALBINA CHAUVIN

"Please Accept My Thanks and Best Wishes For Your PE-RU-NA."

Many cases of heart trouble are caused by reflex disturbances.

Catarrh of the stomach is a very frequent cause of sympathetic heart disease.

Palpitation, shortness of breath and bloating after meals are the most prominent symptoms.

Such a condition of the stomach is also liable to produce headaches of the worst sort.

Medicines that palliate the symptoms will never lead to a cure.

It is the effect which Peruna has upon the stomach, healing the mucous membranes and restoring the natural function of the stomach, that causes Peruna to bring such prompt relief.

HOUEDRY & SON DISTRIBUTE NEARLY 10,000 BUS. PEAS AMONG FARMERS IN MIDLAND DISTRICT

Have Distributed Ten Varieties of Beans in Kent County—Their First Planting of Beans in Canada—Company Making Great Progress.

TO DOUBLE THE SEEDING

Mr. Maurice Houedry, the Canadian representative of the firm of Houedry & Son, of Dol de Bretagne, France, has recently returned from a business trip to Ridgetown, Ont., and is greatly pleased with the manner in which the farmers of that district received him. Mr. Houedry had been sent a consignment of 10 new kinds of seed beans from the Old Country, and the Ridgetown district, Kent county, was chosen as being a suitable locality for growing them. He was but a half a day in distributing the seed among the farmers, all of whom had come into the town to obtain their allotments. He could easily have distributed a larger quantity if he had had it on hand.

The common white bean has been extensively grown in that district and Mr. Houedry is confident of the success of the ten new varieties becoming favourites, as they will undoubtedly thrive in the Lake Erie section.

Peas Distributed

Of the large quantity of seed peas and beans that Mr. Houedry had in his warehouse on Dalhousie street, during the early days of spring, there is practically not a seed left. He distributed between 8,000 and 10,000 bushels of peas to the farmers in the Midland district and has requests for another 2,000 bushels. About three hundred farmers obtained supplies and the territory which is being planted extends from Lake Ontario to Lake Simcoe.

To Double Crop

The company is now well known in these parts and the farmers yearly apply for the seed. The firm next year intends to double their distribution of seed, and a large area will be planted north of Lake Simcoe.

The beans are planted about one-half a bushel to the acre and returns from 20 to 25 bushels. The peas require from 2 1-2 bushels to 3 per acre in planting and yield from 30 to 35 bushels.

Mr. Houedry has received word from his father that the latter has opened up a new territory for plantation Koenisborg on the border of Russia and Germany. Altogether the company is making rapid strides, and in Canada is developing into an important industry among the farmers. It has a bright future, as Canada is most favourable to the growth of peas and beans and the agricultural districts are limitless. Mr. Houedry's system of dealing with the farmers has been dealt with before in this paper and the success of his efforts is largely due to the liberal methods employed.

Anglers Receive Gift Of White Paint For Use On Their Cottage

On Saturday next some of the members of the C. G. E. Angling Club will go down to their cottage to continue the work of brightening up the surroundings and making its appearance as pretty as possible. In the first place, the anglers intend to plant some trees on Saturday. Manitoba maples have been chosen, and they will be carefully arranged about the cottage.

The building itself will receive a fresh coat of white paint. The Sherwin-Williams Company have offered a large enough supply of the best quality white paint to the club for the exterior, and the offer has been gratefully accepted. It was made through the Peterborough Hardware Company, and with its immaculate appearance when finished, the cottage will be visible from all parts of the lake.

GENERAL LAKE TO INSPECT 57th REGIMENT NEXT WEEK

Wednesday, May 20, will be a red-letter day in the history of the 57th Regiment, inasmuch as it will be marked by the visit here of General Lake, Inspector General of the Canadian forces, who will be here on that occasion and inspect the regiment.

The weekly drill last night was largely attended, every company having a good turnout, and over an hour was profitably spent in company drill on the park, where lights have been installed. The regiment should be in shape to make a good showing on the visit of General Lake next week.

The following orders were read:—

2—The following have been taken on the strength of the regiment:—G Company, Ptes. Elliott and Ingham.

The regiment, with both bands, signallers and stretcher-bearer section, will parade in drill order at the Armouries on Wednesday, May 20, at 7.10 p.m. sharp. As this parade is for the purpose of being inspected by General Lake, Inspector General of the Canadian forces, the commanding officer desires the attendance of all ranks. The regular parade on Tuesday, the 19th inst., is hereby cancelled.

3—By extract from general orders of May 10, it is noted that Private W. H. Armstrong of No. 3 Company, 57th Regiment, has been awarded the "Best Shot" badge, he having made the highest figure of merit in the shooting in 1907.

4—The commanding officer has been pleased to make the following promotions: E Company, to be colour sergeant, Sergt. Manley, vice-surgeon, time expired. To be corporal, Pte. Foster. G Company—To be colour sergeant, Sergt. Hall; vice colour sergeant Le Bar, left limits. To be sergeants, Corporals Henry and Logan, from May 4, 1908.

PETERBORO' CONVALESCENTS NEED VINOL

It Hastens Recovery by Creating Strength

There is just one thing the matter with a person who has been sick—that is, weakness.

To all such people in Peterborough we recommend our delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol, as the very best strength creator we have ever sold in our store.

Vinol strengthens the digestive organs, creates an appetite, promotes sound sleep, makes rich, red blood, and builds up a depleted system to health and vigour.

This is because Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal and strength creating elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, with the useless, nauseating oil eliminated, and tonic iron added.

We return money to those who try Vinol and receive no benefit. McDermid & Jury, Druggists; also the Market Drug Store, Peterborough.

FALLING CHISEL CUTS AN ARTERY

Serious Injury to Mr. McWilliams at Normal School Yesterday.

The cutting of an artery by the falling of a chisel was the cause of a rather dangerous accident yesterday afternoon to Mr. John Williams, a local carpenter, engaged in the work at the new Normal School.

It seems Mr. Williams had been working on a platform at the school, and had occasion to descend to the floor. Before making his downward passage, he left a sharp-edged chisel at the edge pointing from the wall. After he had reached the floor he had occasion to move a ladder reaching to the scaffold. As the ladder was moved it caused the chisel to fall. Unfortunately, in its downward flight the sharp-edged implement happened to fall on the left wrist of Mr. Williams. The moment the chisel struck Mr. Williams' wrist, blood flowed in all directions.

His friends, including ex-Ald. Geo. Duncan, ran to his assistance and quickly placed their hands across the severed artery to compress it and stop the blood. Mr. Williams was as quickly as possible taken to Dr. McGrath's surgery, where his injury was attended to.

First Meeting In The East Peterborough Liberal Campaign Was Held At Westwood

Mr. McNulty Addresses a Large Audience--Speakers From Peterborough Present.

REEVE OAKMAN, CHAIRMAN

Ex-Warden P. McNulty, Liberal candidate for the Legislature in East Peterborough, held the opening meeting of his campaign in the Village of Westwood, Asphodel township on Monday night. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one being well attended. It was held in the large hall at Westwood, the speakers of the evening being Mr. McNulty, the candidate, and Messrs. F D Kerr and R F McWilliams, of Peterborough. On motion Reeve Oakman, of Asphodel took the chair, and introduced the speakers. He was followed by the candidate, who gave an excellent address. Mr. McNulty dealt largely with the personal aspect of the campaign, referring to his own record in the township and county Councils. Taking up the Government's record he condemned the attempt to force on the rural school sections the payment of specified salaries to teachers, and he took strong grounds that the farmers of this province are both ready and anxious to give their children the best education they can afford. As to their ability to pay they ought to be the proper judges and not a body of men in Toronto, who knew nothing of the circumstances in each township and yet undertook to dictate its taxation.

He also dealt with the local option campaigns which had recently occurred in the Township of Asphodel and with the operation of the three-fifths clause. He declared emphatically his belief in majority rule, and if the necessity should arise, to repeal Local Option bylaws.

Taking up the question of Local Option he outlined its growth in the United States and the wave of feeling in its favour now spreading over the whole Dominion and declared his belief that all should sink their individual preferences in the general good.

Mr. McNulty's speech was received with marked favour and was delivered in a manner and with a clearness and force that would do credit to the most experienced campaigner in the county. It is safe to say that East Peterborough has never had a more aggressive candidate in the field on either side, than Mr. McNulty. He is proving himself both in canvass and on the platform, an energetic and enthusiastic worker.

Mr. F. D. Kerr

In opening his address, Mr. Kerr dealt first with the personality of the Liberal candidate, referring to various matters in which Mr. McNulty, as a member of the County Council, and warden, had come in contact with the professional and business men of the city of Peterborough, and had won their warm approval as a man of rare judgment and sound common sense. He felt certain that if Mr. McNulty was elected the riding would have a representative inferior to none who ever represented the riding in either House.

Mr. Kerr took up the financial record of the present Government, dealing in some detail with the figures of the expenditure and of the revenue, and showing that in three years and three months the expenditure had risen as much under Conservative rule as it had in the thirty-two years of Liberal rule. To balance this extravagance, the Government had only one recourse—the special taxes imposed by the Ross Government against the determined opposition of the Conservative party. The Ross Government had compelled the millionaires of the Province to contribute to the maintenance of education and charity at their deaths, and had compelled the wealthy banks and loan corporations and the brewers and distillers to pay a just share of the taxation, and but for these special revenues, the Whitney Government would have a sad record of deficits.

Taking up the Whitney policy in other matters, Mr. Kerr attacked in vigorous terms their departure from the soundest principles of any responsible government—the rule of the majority. He recalled that in municipal elections, on the School Boards, in Council meetings, in ordinary business meetings, and even in families the majority ruled, and upon no other principle could the public business be carried on in fairness. Few men like being overruled by the majority, but none are willing to be governed by the minority. The Whitney Government had attempted to stop the temperance advance by the three-fifths clause, but even those opposed to local option must agree that a fair deal was of first consideration. In a similar manner the Government had refused to permit the people of the country districts to govern themselves according to their own views, and to permit them to be their own judges of what their pockets could afford in the legislation regarding the salaries of rural teachers, and this legislation was all the more galling because not made applicable to villages and towns. It was small wonder that such legislation created a popular feeling which forced the Whitney Government, with its enormous majority, to give in to the Liberal Opposition.

In the vital matter of law reform the Government had proven itself an adept in doing nothing. They had condemned the old Government for not dealing with this necessity, and yet declared that it would be one of the first questions they would take up. But although four sessions had passed, not a move had been made to relieve the people of the country from a system which made justice in the law courts conditional upon a man's ability to maintain a long legal fight. Mr. Kerr declared that the lawyers outside of Toronto were just as much in favour of legal reform as were the people generally, and that the Whitney Government deserved the severest censure for their failure to carry out their promises in this matter.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams

Mr. McWilliams began his address by declaring that in the fourteen years during which he had been campaigning in East Peterborough, he had never supported any candidate who more thoroughly deserved the support of the people of the riding than did Mr. McNulty, and when Mr. McNulty was warden, the speaker, as mayor of this city at that time, had many opportunities to test the mettle of the county's representative, and it was but repeating what he had frequently said at that time, to say that on every occasion Mr. McNulty had done the county the greatest credit.

The county had had much reason to be proud of their spokesman, when large deputations were sent to Toronto and Ottawa to promote its interests, and four years' experience in the Legislature would demonstrate to all that the riding had a representative who would be able to take a place in the front rank. It was of the first importance to the riding that it should be inspected by a man thoroughly familiar with its interests and needs. The agricultural interests had been little thought of by the present Government, and there is no class of men who will be in greater need in the coming Parliament than men on the Opposition side who are versed in the agriculture and dairy interests, and who have the ability and courage to fight for their dues.

Upon the general questions at issue in this campaign, Mr. McWilliams asked their support for the Liberal candidate on two general grounds.

First, the Whitney Government have failed to carry out their pledges upon the faith of which they were elected, and secondly, that they had proven themselves to be guilty of just as corrupt and suspicious actions as ever the Ross Government was charged with. He briefly outlined the positions of the parties upon their questions of policy, discussed by preceding speakers. The three-fifths clause, the appointment of partisan license commissioners and inspectors, the introduction of the spoils system, the reckless increase in expenditures, the attempt to force legislation down the throats of rural school trustees, the failure to accomplish anything but talk in the distribution of electric power and the failure to do anything towards law reform.

The Premier had entered power with loud professions of honesty and boldness. But he had proven in the face of a general election he was not strong enough to withstand the demands of his party, who did not want a square deal or who called loudly for the filling of the party purse practically from the Provincial exchequer.

Taking up in detail the Canadian Northern Railway guarantee, Mr. McWilliams showed the policy adopted by the Ross Government and the attitude then taken by Mr. Whitney and contrasted their professions with the policy recently adopted. The Ross Government had assisted the construction of a line of railway running through an absolutely unsettled country to the extent of $1,000,000. The Whitney Government has assisted the construction of spur lines and terminals, which could not but be highly profitable from the first day, to the extent of two and a half millions of dollars. The Premier declared that he would rather own the thirty miles which would be built into the Hutton mine than the whole 260 miles of the main line, and yet he proposed to bonus that thirty miles to help Mackenzie and Mann to get one from an iron mountain owned by themselves. The spur to Orillia would pay from the day it was opened but the Whitney Government had voted Mackenzie and Mann a bonus. The terminals in the city of Toronto were absolutely useless, unless required for the handling of a large and profitable business, and yet the Whitney Government had bonused the construction of these terminals and even helped to pay for those which Mackenzie had constructed without any bonus. Is it any wonder that Mr. Whitney's professions of honesty sound hollow in the face of such a deal with a railway promoter who was at the very time engaged in blocking the Government's power ?

Then the uprightness of the Government had been shown again in the dealings with the Larose mine. A mining company fighting rival claimants had had their cause taken up by the Government, and then had been paid $30,000 for their expenses in preparing the suit, and been given a present out of the money of the country of $100,000 additional for valuable information. Yet we are told that the fact that the Larose people were all Conservative, and one of them a brother-in-law of the Minister of Lands and Mines, had nothing to do with the transaction. Taking up the alleged redistribution, Mr. McWilliams declared that the first condition of all in the conduct of elections was that there should be a square referee. He had enough to have to fight the tactics, often dishonest and unfair, of political opponents, but it is intolerable that the conditions of a contest should be made such that there can be no fair fight. Our system of government entrusts to the cabinet of the day the selection of referees and the choice of the grounds, and there is no obligation they are under which should weigh more with honest men than that of securing a fair contest under pretence of correcting the county boundaries. South Monaghan had been taken from West Peterborough and put into West Northumberland, in the hope of injuring the Liberal member there, yet in other places the county boundaries had not been corrected because it was not to the interest of the Conservative party. In Essex County the North Riding had a population over 2,000 greater than the South Riding, and was growing more rapidly. Yet the Government, in order to equalize the constituencies, had taken a township from the small riding and added it to the larger. If the people could only be persuaded to vote the same way as they did the last time the Liberal member in the South would be defeated by a majority of one.

The Ridings of Peel and Cardwell had a difference in population of 550, but the transfer of a village and township from Cardwell to Peel corrected the small difference by creating a difference of over 7,000. The system of double constituencies created in Ottawa for peculiar reasons, had been done away with in that city to serve party interests, and yet had been created in all four Toronto constituencies, for fear the "wicked Grits" would capture a part of Toronto.

The Canadian Northern grant, the deal with the Larose mine, the redistribution measure, had demonstrated beyond denial that the Whitney Government were not the honest and bold patriots which they professed to be, and that they no longer deserved the support of the Liberals and independents who put them in office, and also those Conservatives who placed country before party.

Mr. McWilliams concluded by making a strong appeal to the electors of Westwood in the township of Asphodel to roll up such a vote for Mr. McNulty as would show that they appreciated the worth of a neighbour who was honoured and respected by the whole county, and that they were proud to have the opportunity of having one of themselves in the Legislature.

The heartiness with which all the speakers were received, and the warmth of Mr. McNulty's reception from Conservatives as well as Liberals was an ample demonstration of his popularity, and that the Liberal candidate will take the largest majority ever given by an Asphodel electorate seems practically assured.

CHIEF RUTHERFORD MAKES DENIAL

Says He Did Not Make Statement Regarding Brigade.

Chief Rutherford of the fire brigade wishes to deny that he ever made any statement to Ald. Butler concerning the fact that a change in the fire brigade would be advisable, and denies that he told the above-named alderman, or for that matter, anybody else, that it was time for a change in the brigade. At the last meeting of the City Council, on Monday, May 11, Ald. Butler stated, when the matter of a paid brigade was before the Council for discussion, that Chief Rutherford had expressed the opinion that it was time for a change.

The chief of the fire brigade further wishes it distinctly understood that he was never consulted by an alderman or aldermen or any municipal body about the question of a paid brigade for this city, and was never given an opportunity of expressing an official opinion in the matter or of giving any advice on the subject.

It was reported to-day that the C. P. R. was reducing the number of its sectionmen, and the two sections on either side of the city have been decreased by one man taken from each. The usual number is three men and a foreman, but now the foremen have only two men under them. It is rumoured that the change has been made in all the sections along this line. At this time last year four extra men were working, assisting the regular men and there were beside a large number of Italian labourers. The men have not been notified as to the length of time they will be laid off and as far as known, quite indefinite.

SHOT HIS RIVAL DEAD

Prince Edward Island Scene of a Sad Tragedy.

JEALOUSY CAUSES MURDER

Met His Rival With Young Lady on the Railway Track—Shot Him Three Times and Hid His Body in the Bushes—Went and Confessed to the Priest—Admits the Killing—Courted Her Three Years.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., May 13.—On Sunday night at Miscouche, a small village about five miles from Summerside, Joseph D. McMillan was shot and killed by Alonzo Docherty, aged 21.

On Sunday afternoon McMillan, accompanied by Stella MacDonald and her sister, walked from Miscouche to Summerside. In the evening McMillan and Stella left on the return to Miscouche. When about one and one-half miles from their destination they met Docherty coming towards them. It was a bright moonlight night. He had a revolver in his hand. "Hold on," he said. "Is that a revolver you have?" asked McMillan. "Yes," replied Docherty, and pulled the trigger. A 32-calibre bullet crashed into McMillan's heart. "I am shot," he said, and staggered and fell.

As he lay on the ground, Docherty fired two more bullets into the head of his victim, whose struggles ceased. The railway track was bordered with thick bushes. Docherty dragged the body into the woods, and accompanied the horror-stricken girl to her home. He stayed there several hours, and at daybreak went with the girl to Father Monaghan, the priest, and told him the whole story, and where to find the body.

Father Monaghan informed the authorities, and the body was found at the spot indicated.

Docherty went to the house of his father, informing him of the terrible deed. The old man, a respectable farmer, fell in a faint when he heard the awful news. The murderer then drove to Miscouche, waited the arrival of the police officer from Summerside, and gave himself up. He is now lodged in Summerside jail.

He said: "I did the deed and know I shall suffer for it. It means either the gallows or penitentiary for life. I would not like the latter for I would pine away and die anyway. I had no quarrel with McMillan, he was one of the best fellows in Miscouche. I was in the habit of carrying a revolver through the woods and had placed that one in my pocket on Sunday. Some uncontrollable impulse seized me when I met McMillan and Stella. I had kept company with her for three years."

Docherty then told how he dragged the body into the woods so that no one would see it. Docherty is a fine strapping, good-looking fellow, about six feet. McMillan was also a splendid specimen of physical manhood.

TERRIBLE TORNADO IN WEST.

Many Killed and Injured by a Storm Which Swept Oklahoma.

Woodward, Okla., May 13.—At least eight persons were killed and scores of others injured in the several tornadoes in Northwestern Oklahoma Sunday evening. Telephone communication is entirely cut off from the storm-swept area, and the only other means of getting information is by stage.

The most serious results were in the vicinity of Arnett, where fully thirty persons are believed to have suffered broken limbs. Nearly all of these victims are residents of farms.

The only town known to have been destroyed is Vici, a postoffice in the southern part of Woodward County, where it is said there is not a house left standing.

To Protect Bird Life.

London, May 13.—With the object of checking the wanton slaughter of birds, Lord Avebury (Sir John Lubbock) introduced a bill in the House of Lords prohibiting the importation of plumage, except that of certain species of birds not dealt in the bill.

He pointed out that this measure was framed on the same lines as the New York State law. It enacts heavy penalties for contravention of the law.

In a memorandum attached to the bill, Lord Avebury says that unless the British Parliament follows the example of the New York Legislature, the extinction of the most beautiful species of bird life is only a question of time.

Franco-British Exposition.

Ottawa, May 13.—Mr. William Hutchinson, Canadian Commissioner of Exhibitions, has cabled the Minister of Agriculture a denial of the report that the Franco-British Exposition will not open till June. Buy Casey Mountain Shares

IN THE

CASEY MOUNTAIN COBALT MINING AND DEVELOPING COMPANY, Limited

Chartered by the Ontario Government

Authorized Capital - - - - - $250,000.00

Par Value of Shares (fully paid-up and non-assessable): $1.00.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS—President: R. G. WILLIAMSON, Toronto, formerly of Peterborough; Vice-President: JAMES THOMPSON, Havelock, Ont.; Secretary-Treasurer: DR. H. A. WOOD, Peterborough, Ont.; Superintendent: D. WILLIAMSON, Haileybury, Ont.; D. A. REID, Brandon, Man.

HEAD OFFICE: MANNING CHAMBERS, TORONTO, ONT.

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares:

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which is a regular net-work of silver bearing veins that will go down for thousands of feet.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered twelve to date, varying in width from 16 ins. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining Proposition (not a Stock Speculation) and has been developed continuously during the past ten months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the district, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situate on the adjoining lot that according to good authority, was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a mining company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent to Casey Mountain Shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Cobalt Camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $69,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Tredwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $3.00 a ton and is paying big dividends.

CASEY MOUNTAIN MINING CO., Limited has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will sum $20 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would mean a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically a close corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at one dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Additional information can be had from the Secretary-Treasurer, DR. H. A. WOOD, 408½ George Street, Peterborough.

The Troid Beached In Gaspe Basin, Badly Injured.

Father Point, May 13.—The S. S. Ottawa took a pilot on board at Father Point, and proceeded for Quebec. Her damage is all on her port side and she carries as evidence of the vessel she collided with a portion of the latter's bow fast and firmly attached by the impact. The vessel she collided with was the Norwegian collier Troid.

The collision occurred during a dense fog early on Monday morning about 65 miles below Fame Point. The vessels struck nearly stem on and the Troid immediately disappeared in the fog. She reached Gaspe safely, where she is now beached, but her damage is considerable.

When the collision took place the Ottawa was proceeding slowly and sounding her whistle.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed. "I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish." W. Can You Digest Starch?

Starch that is half-digested ferments and breeds germs. In the making of the starch in the wheat is converted into dextrine thereby partially digesting the food before it enters the stomach.

"FORCE" is made of the best white wheat, steam-cooked, rolled into thin flakes, combined with the purest barley-malt and baked. Always "crisp" it before serving it by pouring into a pan and warming it in oven.

Your Grocer sells it. No other Flaked Food is "Just as Good." 166

STAR PLACES SIMPSON AS ONE OF THE MEMBERS OF OLYMPIC MARATHON RACE

The Toronto Star makes the following guess:

So only fifteen athletes are to go to England in the Canadian track team!

Well, six should be Marathon runners.

How is this for a selection for the Marathon:

Tom Longboat, Irish-Canadians, Toronto.

Tom Coley, St. Patrick's, Hamilton.

Harry Lawson, West Ends, Toronto.

Fred Simpson, Y. M. C. A., Peterborough.

Hans Homer, Halifax Harriers.

Art Burn, Calgary.

That selection gives both the East and the West representatives in the big race, though at that, runners around here cannot see that Burn has any chance.

Don't Like Burn

"He won't be within the first ten in the run," remarked one runner here who knows him. "Homer is a dangerous man.

The Eastern and Western champions should get a chance, unless they are badly trimmed here in the finals.

HoW About the Others ?

100 and 200 metres—Bobby Kerr, Hamilton.

800 metres—Irving Parkes, West Ends, Toronto.

1,500 metres — Jack Tait, West Ends, Toronto.

5 miles—George Adams, Irish-Canadians, Toronto, with Tom Coley, Jack Tait and Harry Lawson from the other events to help him out.

Running high jump—M J. Creed, Irish-Canadians, Toronto.

Running hop, step and jump—M J Creed, Irish-Canadians, Toronto.

Pole vault — Halpenny of Montreal.

Longboat, Coley, Lawson, Kerr, Creed, Tait, Parkes and Goulding look like certainties, but in the 400 metres, Lukeman will have to step some to beat Lou Sebert, Joe White and Geo. Barber, if they try a whirl at it. Adams will have to step lively to beat Don. McCuaig of Hamilton, if he cares to try; Galbraith and Goldsboro of Centrals, Fred Meadows of West Ends, Tom Shipman of Montreal, and half a dozen more lively steppers, and in the pole vault the Montreal man will have to reckon with Ed. Archibald of West Ends.

Barber, in the hurdles, too, will have to meet Bricker and Worthington. But Barber has the speed for the distance, though it is just a chance if he has enough to journey the distance fast enough to have a chance across the water. In weights and standing broad jump and short hurdles we haven't a chance. The javelin and discus too, are beyond us, and so is the steeplechase, unless some one does unexpected time. We will have no tug-of-war team, but might make up three-mile team race and relay teams from the distance runners and sprinters. A nice relay team would be Kerr, Lukeman, Barber and Parkes. In this race, two men go 200 metres each, one does 400 metres and one 800 metres, roughly, eighth, quarter, and half mile.

THE PETES LINEUP FOR SATURDAY

Will Have Team for Game With the Alerts—Clements Will Pitch.

A great deal of interest is being taken in Saturday's game between the Petes and the Alerts of the Toronto Senior Inter-Association League. The local team will be in the best of shape for making their debut, as they have been working out every day, and the fans will no doubt be most favourably impressed. The team will line up as follows:—

Clements, p.
Thorn, 1b
O'Hearne, 2b.
Maddock, ss.
Cheatham, 3b.
Murphy, lf.
O'Brien, cf.
Burns, rf.

The Alerts will have the following line-up. Dalzell,c; Smith, McWhinney and Wilson, p; Spence, 1b; Morgan, 2b; White or McDermott, ss; Haliburton, 3b; Playfield, cf; Graham, lf, and G Smith, rf.

A great game may be looked for, as on paper the teams look very evenly matched.

LACROSSE LEAGUE NOW PROPOSED

It is Said That Three Local Teams Will Enter a City League.

A city lacrosse league along the lines of the City Hockey League is proposed for Peterborough, and the details of the scheme are already under discussion. It is said that three local clubs, the Y. M. C. A., T. A. S, and Athletics would enter, and teams representing Millbrook and Lindsay may also be taken in. A meeting is called for Friday night next at the T. A. S. rooms, when all clubs desiring to enter are requested to have representatives present. There are many lacrosse enthusiasts in the city and a league such as proposed should be a great success.

MILLBROOK TO ENTER THE LEAGUE

Are in Favour of the Proposed City League Scheme.

There seems no reason why a city lacrosse league, such as proposed could not be made a great success. The Millbrook team have announced their intention of coming in, and will have a representative present at Friday night's meeting in the T. A. S. rooms, when the league will be organized. It is hoped that local teams will be well represented and that a strong league can be formed.

Arrangements are being made for games between local teams, and Millbrook and Lindsay on the holiday.

WEST ENDS HAVE NEW SUITS

Natty Uniforms for the Ball Season's Work.

The West End baseball players are all "tickled to death" with their new uniforms, which have just arrived. The suits are of gray with red and black socks and gray caps. The "Champs" are evidently going to cut a wide swath with their "glad rags," and will make a noise like the Cleveland "Naps" when they first appear.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

Tommy Daly has returned to town from Brantford, where he trained the Ontario League hockey team last winter. He will train the Tecumsehs here again this season, and will devote some of his time to boxing. Daly would like to meet Artie Edmunds at 128, ringside. Edmunds has whipped a lot of good boys down New York way, and would probably be favourite should he meet Daly. The latter wishes it known that the man he defeated at Brantford recently was not "Ernie Cross" of this city, but Eddie Smith of Fort Erie, who boxed under the name of the local man.—Toronto Star.

• • • •

Tommy Daly, the Toronto boxer, was foolish enough to challenge any man in Canada at 130 pounds. Already this defi has been accepted by Bill Smith and Artie Edmunds. Smith has defeated Daly before and is confident that he can do it again, while Tommy wouldn't stand a show with Edmunds. With this pair waiting on Daly, there comes another acceptance of his challenge, Chester A. Hagan, of New York, writing to the sporting editor to the effect that he has a boy, Tommy O'Connell, who would like to hook up with Daly. O'Connell is at present boxing around New York, and Hagan has an idea that he can easily take Daly's measure.—Hamilton Spectator.

• • • •

The six-day walk at St. Catharines, which was to have been held next week, commencing Monday, 18th, has been postponed for two weeks in order to allow the St. Catharines walkers who have entered a chance to get into shape. It is said that American entries will be barred, the race to be for Canadians alone and as there is a large number of entries from St. Catharines walkers who would be unable to get into condition by Monday next, it has been deemed advisable to postpone the event for two weeks.

It is understood "Reg." Bloomfield, champion trick canoeist of the world, comes to Lindsay in the near future. He will take the position of accountant in the Dominion Bank here, vice Mr. Harry Rush, transferred to Montreal.—Lindsay Post.

The officers of the Lawn Bowling Club desire that anyone who wishes to become a member of the club should notify the secretary of the club, Mr. W M Laing, at once.

POWER AT BRANTFORD

Contract Submitted by Hydro-Electric Commission.

Brantford, May 13.—The contract submitted by the Hydro-Electric Commission will be taken up immediately by a special committee of the council and a representative citizens committee. It was stated that the Toronto and Niagara Power Co., which has lines already built to Galtsville, have announced that it was to come on to Brantford. This gives competition between the commission and the Western Counties Power Co. The latter's contract with the city for street lighting expires in September. The council has asked the company for terms as to a renewal of its contract, also a price of rental and purchase of its plant in this city. Under the terms of the franchise the city can buy the plant out, which may be done.

He stated that the Canadian Government railways had agreed to recognize the union, and that 2,000 employes of the Intercolonial Railway had joined the organization.

The arrest was made pursuant to a wire from the Cobalt police asking the local authorities to locate the trunk which contained fine selected samples.

FAILED TO SECURE DOG TAGS

Several Owners Were Fined by Police Magistrate Dumble To-day.

Several fines were administered at police court this morning for failure to take out dog tags, and other dog owners in the city who are in the same position are liable to find a draw on their resources to the extent of $2.00.

The proprietor of a local hotel was fined $2 for the offence. His representative alleged that the dog was the property of a Montreal man, but admitted that it had been around the hotel for over a year.

A boy named Wm. Heal appeared in answer to the same charge. It was discovered that he had procured a tag for his dog, but that his father had failed to secure one for a canine which he owned, and accordingly a $2 fine was placed against the name of his father.

CHARGED WITH THEFT OF BARS OF SOAP

Joseph Lord Was Allowed to go on Suspended Sentence This Morning.

Magistrate Dumble allowed him to go on suspended sentence, at the same time giving him a lecture on his conduct. He advised the prisoner to go to work as soon as possible, even if he had to work for 10c. a day.

THE FUNERAL OF THE LATE ALEX. HAMILTON

Conducted Under Masonic Auspices—Long Cortege of Brethren and Citizens Follow the Remains To The Cemetery.

The very large attendance at the funeral of the late Alex. Hamilton yesterday afternoon, bore testimony to the very high respect in which he was very worthily held. H M Manning. The funeral was under Masonic auspices and about forty members of the fraternity and a very long line of private citizens in carriages escorted the remains to Little Lake Cemetery where they were entered in the family plot. The usual Masonic ceremonials were observed at the grave. The pall bearers were, Mr. Robert Fair, Mr. Peter Campbell Mr. W B Hill, Mr. Wm. Irwin, Mr. Young, of North Bay, and Mr. Nixon of Sturgeon Falls. CANDIDATE FOR LEGISLATURE COMMITTED SUICIDE FROM MENTAL ABERRATION CAUSE

Forest, Ont., May 14.—(Special.)—The whole town was shocked this morning when the terrible announcement was made that Montague Smith of the banking firm of L.H. Smith & Co., and candidate for East Lambton, had committed suicide. The act was committed about 8 o'clock in the lavatory at the rear of the bank. When J D Livingstone, the accountant came to the bank at 8 a.m. he found a letter on the desk addressed to himself in Mr. Smith's writing, which intimated the deed. Mr. Livingstone at once searched and found the body of Mr Smith in the lavatory with three bullet holes in his head and a revolver in his hand. Coroner Dr. Totten was called and on examination found another bullet hole in the breast. Mr. Smith was apparently in his usual good spirits until the last moment. At eleven o'clock last night he completed arrangements for holding a series of political meetings, the first to be held at Florence this evening. This morning he arose early, went to the livery and ordered a team for the trip and then went to the bank, where he evidently wrote his farewell letter. The letter referred to the mental strain caused by his position as candidate and other matters. Deceased was 37 years of age and unmarried. His business affairs are in splendid shape in every way, both in connection with the bank and privately. No inquest will be held, Coroner Totten deciding that sudden mental aberration was the cause of his committing the awful act.

ON A VISIT TO OLD HOME FROM THE KLONDYKE REGIONS BEYOND THE ARCTIC CIRCLE

Mr. William Scott Tells of Life on the Uttermost Rim of the Earth —Money Easily Made There.

HE LONGS FOR THE NORTH

From the uttermost rim of the earth, away back miles to the north of Dawson City, in the glow of the Arctic sun, comes a visitor to Peterborough. Mr. William Scott, who is home to see his aged parents before settling down in that far off land. Mr. Scott is a native of Apsley, where his family reside. Although only two years have passed since he was here before, yet he has spent several years in that north country, apart from the large majority of human beings.

In speaking to the Examiner last night, Mr. Scott remarked that some years ago he had attended the Business College in Peterborough. He couldn't learn extra well, he said, and being of a roving nature, he left Peterborough and vicinity and answered the call of Westward Ho. He worked his way back into the Arctic regions from Vancouver, and has spent most of his time in the Yukon along the territory contiguous to the Yukon River.

Money is plentiful in those regions but north of Dawson City living is expensive. In nine months as a labourer he had earned $1,400, and often the wages paid are even greater. The principal occupation is mining, but many are engaged in farming, hunting, and trapping. He had known flour to be so scarce that $50 was paid for fifty pounds, and it frequently occurs that fifty pounds are sold for $25.

But Mr. Scott likes the free, open northland. Although he only arrived in Peterborough yesterday from Vancouver, his heart already yearns for the land beyond the Arctic circle, and he expects that within a few weeks he will retrace his steps to Klondyke territory.

The Sandstone Brick Company Has Many Large Orders Booked

Will Keep Machines Busy Turning Out the Brick—Twenty-two Men Will be Employed During the Operating Season.

SMALLER ORDERS, TOO

The Peterborough Sandstone Brick Company have opened for the season of 1908 and are looking forward to a brisk business. They have already received a large number of orders which will tax the output to its utmost capacity for the next four months. The Canadian Woods Product Company of Toronto are building an extensive wood alcohol plant near Dysert, Haliburton, and are to be supplied with 600,000 of the company's bricks. The fact that the contracting engineer of this large building has selected the sandstone brick to be used in the work and for the kilns of the plant, where they will be subjected to intense heat, speaks well indeed for the product of the Sandstone Brick Company.

Last year the company supplied about 700,000 bricks, which were used in connection with the Armouries at Belleville, and they will be busy during the next few months shipping an additional 500,000 for this building. They have also supplied the Peterborough Armouries with a large number of bricks, and have several hundred thousand yet to deliver for the construction of this building.

Smaller Buildings

In addition to these, the company have a large number of orders for houses and other buildings of various kinds which are to be erected in towns and villages adjacent to Peterborough. It cannot be said, therefore, that there has been any depression in the building trade, so far as this company is concerned.

Mr. H. McClure, superintendent of the plant, has everything in readiness for operation this season and is confident that he will turn out brick second to none on the market. The Sandstone Brick Company will employ about 22 hands during the operating months. Owing to the wet season the work of beginning has been impeded, but Mr. McClure expects no difficulty in this respect in the future.

DROWNING ACCIDENT AT PIGEON CREEK REPORTED

Lindsay, May 14.—(Special.)—A sad drowning accident occurred in Emily township, near King's Wharf, late on Tuesday evening. Very few particulars are at hand, owing to the fact that there are neither telegraph, telephone nor railway connections at King's Wharf.

The victim was Michael Flaherty, the 17-year-old son of Mr. Jas. Flaherty, who is exceedingly well known in Lindsay, being a cousin of Mr. P. Hickey, of town.

Mr. Michael Costello, of the vicinity, was in town this morning and said he himself did not hear how the drowning actually occurred.

Two stories are advanced. One is to the effect that the young lad, who was only 17 years of age, fell into the creek and took a cramp. The other is that he slipped off the log he was standing on and hit another log in his fall, and that he remained lying in the water in a dazed and stunned condition.

Mr. Costello stated that the Flahertys lived on the opposite side of the creek from his home, and therefore he was not very well acquainted with the facts of the case.

Dublin Street Cat Tramps Over Piano Keys To Attract Attention

A Dublin street resident has a cat which insanecity and feline wisdom has all of its kind outshadowed. At least that is his opinion. This morning, about half-past five o'clock, he was lying awake thinking of the day's forthcomings, when he was surprised and startled by the piano giving forth sounds which began in the bass and brokenly continued into the treble, when the discordant tones suddenly ceased.

At a loss to understand the cause of the sounds the husband went downstairs, and first noticed the cat sitting on its haunches at the front door, waiting to be let out. He passed into the parlour, but everything appeared to be perfectly quiet. Finally suspecting Mr. Thomas Cat he let the animal out, and still rather unassured he went back to bed. The only explanation was that the cat had played the minor varia to attract attention.

THE FARMERS FORGOTTEN.

The Whitney Government ongaes boast of the generous treatment the Ontario Agricultural College has received at the hands of the Government. But the general interests of agriculture have not been treated on the same lavish scale as some other interests, not one-hundredth as important. Farmers comprise about seven-tenths of our population, and there is about a thousand millions of dollars invested in the industry. In spite of the overwhelming importance of farming, while Provincial expenditure has increased at a galloping rate in some respects, the farmer has not, proportionately, profited. For instance, the lawyers have been handed the plums, and the farmers have been handed the "lemons." In the last year of the Ross Government the expenditure in lawyers' fees was $7,000. The Whitney Government spent in lawyers' fees last year, the sum of $136,000, an increase of 185 per cent., while the increase in the interest of the farmers was only the insignificant figure of 7 1-2 per cent. That is to say, the lawyers benefitted by an increase of 175 per cent. more than the farmers. In 1904 the sums devoted to the promotion of agriculture was $416,481, and in 1907 it was $480,317, an increase of only 7 1-2 per cent. The general expenditure has increased all round 60 per cent. If the grant to agriculture had shared proportionately in this increase, the appropriation for 1907 would have been over $700,000. If it had increased as the lawyers' fees have done it would have been about a million and a quarter for the farmers.

THE SINEWS OF WAR.

The Toronto News, whose political independence has been absorbed in its role of out-and-out apologist for the Whitney Government, goes into mild ecstacies over the increased appropriations for the work of the Agricultural College. The News shows how several grants have been increased. This is a meet and right action. It has been made possible by the sources of new revenue provided by the preceding Liberal Government. Had it not been for the total revenue of about three and a half millions derived from sources instituted by the Liberal Government, the Whitney Government would not have been able to have made these increases, which might have been much greater if so much of the Provincial revenue had not been wasted on the expenses of non-productive services like legislation and the routine of administration. It is easy to spend money: anyone can do that, but the credit belongs to him who makes—provides—the "sinews of war." The measure of a Government's usefulness is its creative capabilities. Mr. Whitney's hot air promise of five or six agricultural colleges takes it place amongst a score of broken or unredeemed pledges. Possibly, because it had absurdity written across it so large as to obscure it altogether.

AMERICAN RELLATION.

One of the arguments most frequently heard in the mouths of those who are opposed to the prohibition of the exportation of pulpwood in an unmanufactured condition is the danger of retaliation on the part of the United States Government. "If you stop the wood going into the States," they say, "the Americans will take revenge by preventing their cotton coming into this country, which would be the ruin of our cotton industry, or they will keep their coal, which would also be a great loss to Canadians." Cotton and coal are the only two materials mentioned by these people in this connection, but they point out what terrible results would follow for Canada if either of them was prevented from coming into the country.

Even granting that the withholding of American cotton would ruin the Canadian cotton industry — which, however, is far from certain, as there is a good deal of other cotton besides American cotton—and granting that the lack of anthracite coal would cause very serious and general inconvenience, there is still not the slightest chance in the world of such measures being adopted by the American Government. And the reasons are very plain. So far as cotton is concerned, Americans absolutely need their outside markets to dispose of their surplus production. The United States grows annually over twelve million bales of cotton, and it can manufacture only five million, so that there are seven million bales to be disposed of in foreign markets. In view of this conditions of affairs it is quite clear that there is no danger of the American Government shutting off any of those markets which are so absolutely necessary for the cotton-grower of the South. The plantation owner of Georgia or the Carolinas would certainly never allow himself to be made a scape-goat for the pulp and paper maker of the Northern States.

There is so little reason of any fear of American retaliation in this respect, that Mr. A. B. Mole, the general manager of the Dominion Textile Company, when questioned on the subject recently, said that such fears were entirely absurd, and there could not be the slightest chance of the United States even considering such a move as the prohibition or hindering of cotton exportation to Canada.

Very similar reasons would apply to the withholding of American coal from Canada. This country is a big market for American coal, and the mine-owners would never for a minute allow it to be shut from them in such a case as this, where they would reap no compensating advantage. It would simply be a case of sacrificing the mine-operators for the sake of the paper-makers, of penalizing one industry for the advantage of another, and such a thing could not even be considered. The writer recently discussed this matter with some prominent coal dealers, including Mr. Farquhar Robertson, vice-president of the Montreal Board of Trade, and they all agreed in regarding as absurd the fears of such action on the part of the American government.

There is also another consideration in this matter, and a very important one. It is that the American Constitution expressly forbids the putting of any hindrance on exportation. The fifth paragraph of the ninth section begins: "No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from this state." This is unmistakeably clear; and in order to place a hindrance in the way of exportation, the Constitution would first have to be changed. This is a very serious and lengthy undertaking, and would certainly not be even considered in such a case as this.

Finally, when all is said and done, a patriotic Canadian, who has entire confidence in the glorious strength and great destiny of this country, can hardly help asking himself why Canadians should worry about the possible action of the United States. It would probably seem to such a man that the only thing for Canadians to consider is whether or not it is for their advantage to keep their pulpwood and manufacture it into paper at home, instead of sending it to the United States to feed American mills and build up an American industry. Any other considerations or fears he would be apt to regard as as exhibition of shameful weakness.

It is rumoured that Sir Richard Cartwright will be made Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and that Hon. Clifford Sifton will take his place as Minister of Trade and Commerce. Mr. Sifton's abilities as an administrator and a statesman indicate that he is too valuable a man to confine his activities to the duties of a private member.

BROKEN PLEDGES.

Three and a half years ago Rev. D C Hossack was held up by the Conservatives as an angel of light, because he declared his opposition to the Ross Government in the matter of its alings with the temperance and license administration questions, and because he expressed his faith in the promises of Mr. Whitney in similar regards. Every Conservative stumper paraded the platform with his pockets stuffed with Hossack letters. But Mr. Hossack has found out that the Whitney promises were only campaign expedients and that the Premier has not lived up to what he promised. He feels that he was duped, that Liberal electors were duped and now he appeals to the latter to not be again deceived. Rev. Mr. Hossack in the course of a new manifesto says:

"The close of the session witnessed a rapid degeneration in the Government. Their acts have been suspicious and the Province should be on the watch.

"Every Liberal, and there are many, who from a sense of duty, supported in the last campaign the party now in power, when he considers the present situation will perceive that the same sense of duty will compel him to labour for a strong and able Opposition."

Mr. Whitney did not do so badly in some ways at the opening of his lease of power, though this three-fifths blow at local option interests and his whole-hearted adoption of the spoils system were among his early acts. But as a general election loomed in sight, in "that last awful week" of the late session, he threw discretion to the winds and made a mighty and corrupt bid for power. Does any one think that the eleventh-hour guarantee of Canadian Northern bonds was an innocent transaction, altogether unconnected with the idea of Conservative campaign funds? Or does anyone think that the gift of $130,000 to a private corporation, known as the LaRose Mine "graft" deal, was not intended to serve as a milch cow in the interests of the Conservative campaign funds? A "statesman," that is a practical statesman declared that "You can fool some of the people all the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In North Waterloo, if the cry of "Rats" is heard it will not mean contempt, but enthusiasm for Mr. D. Ratz," who is the Liberal candidate.

The Liberal party is the party of the people. This is to be remembered by those who are soon to register to insure the privilege of voting. To the Liberal party is due the legislation that made manhood a test of the exercise of the highest privilege of citizenship, the franchise. To this party is also due the registration act which permits the latest opportunity for qualifying for the casting of a vote.

Premier Whitney has a double mind. At Hamilton he took credit to his Government for reducing the price of school books. This is only a half truth. The publishers are working off a job lot of old school books at "bargain day prices." When the rummage sale is concluded the new sets will be put on the market and then, as John A Cooper, Conservative, says, the price of school books "will go back to the old figures, if not higher." When Mr. Whitney boasted of the cheaper school books his Government had provided, he was not bold enough to tell the whole truth.

Mr. W H Bennet, M.P., East Simcoe, spoke at the Conservative nominating convention in Woodstock. He called the Dominion Government "the greatest plunderers and pillagers the world has ever seen." That is Mr. Bennet's word, and his word has proven to be utterly unreliable in regard to political statements. He is one of the leaders of the slanderbund of the Dominion Opposition, not one of whose broad-cast charges has stood the test of investigation. Mr. Bennet in the House asserted that Mr. A W Fraser, of Ottawa, was a member of a company which had fraudulently supplied furnitre to the government. Mr. Fraser writes to the press to state that he never was a member of the company mentioned. It a member of parliament publicly lies to make a political point within the precincts of the House, his stump statements are sure to be ten times more irregular.

VERY SRIOUS CHARGES.

(Winnipeg Free Press.)

The declarations read by D. W. Bole, M.P., in the House of Commons, alleging criminal practices on a wholesale scale in the compilation of the North Winnipeg lists prior to the last general elections, and giving names, dates, places and all the details of the alleged crimes, raise an issue which is not to be snuffed out by the chorus of denials from the parties implicated in the charges, even though these denials take the form of hurry-up affidavits turned out on demand at breakneck speed. Where there are two sets of conflicting affidavits, implying wholesale perjury on one side or the other, the public must decide, from the known circumstances upon which side is the probability of truth until such times as the facts are determined.

The affidavits of Theodore Rudneski, Wm. Cichoski, and Joseph Szymanski set forth in effect that a band of earnest workers under the direction of W. H. Hastings prepared bogus applications for naturalization for over four hundred foreigners, principally Galicians; and these were fraudulently certified to by T. Jastremsky, a well-known Conservative worker among the Poles and Galicians, who holds a commission as Justice of the Peace: that these bogus naturalization papers were passed through the courts in four days' time, in place of the statutory three weeks, by the device of antedating them the necessary three weeks. If the statements are true, there was in every case of this nature forgery and perjury. The other affidavits deal with such comparatively insignificant offences as the registration of unnaturalized aliens, the buying of votes, and the wholesale free distribution of beer among the Galicians during the days immediately preceding the elections. It will probably be deemed unnecessary by the Conservative machine to issue denials of these minor charges, because it is notorious that the conditions set forth in the affidavits did obtain in North Winnipeg on that occasion. A deliberate attempt was made at that time to debauch the foreign colonies in that constituency, and to a lamentable extent succeeded.

LIBERAL LEADER MACKAY SCORES ANOTHER TRIUMPH AT NORWOOD LAST NIGHT

Accompanied by Torchlight Procession and Citizens' Brass Band Into the Village---A Splendid Reception---The Conservative Policy in Opposition---Messrs. P. McNulty, John Finlay, M.P., and R. F. McWilliams Speak.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Norwood, May 14.—A right royal reception was tendered the Hon. A. G. MacKay, Liberal Leader of the Opposition in Ontario, last night on his first appearance in the village of Norwood. Arriving here from Hastings, he was met on the Hastings road just outside the village boundary by the Norwood band, and escorted triumphantly up the main street in the midst of a torchlight procession of hundreds of people. Norwood and the surrounding community simply went wild with excitement and gave the talented leader of the Liberal party a reception of which he may well feel proud.

Responding to the announcement that Hon. Mr. MacKay would address an audience in the town hall, every available seat and corner of that edifice was filled by villagers and their neighbours from the surrounding country. The audience, too, was a most enthusiastic one and contained a large representation of the gentler sex. It gave a very cordial reception to the leader, whose clear and commanding voice and straight talk kept every individual in the hall attentive from beginning to end. The weather was disagreeable and somewhat against a large attendance, but despite this, Mr. MacKay, and Mr. McNulty, the East Peterborough Liberal candidate, have every reason to feel gratified.

Besides the thorough resume of Provincial political questions by Hon. Mr. MacKay, addresses were delivered by the candidate, Mr. John Finlay, M.P.; and Mr. R. F. McWilliams. The chairman of the evening was Mr. H. G. Buck, who introduced the various speakers, and with him on the platform were Hon. A. G. MacKay, and Messrs. Wm. T. Buck, Chas. O'Reilly, John Finlay, M.P.; P. McNulty, the candidate; Dr. A. J. Robertson, R. F. McWilliams, W. T. Curtis of Havelock, and James Stevenson.

Candidate's Address

On rising to address the audience, Mr. McNulty was most cordially received. He said he was very much pleased at the presence of such a large number, and that that number included so many well dressed and good looking ladies. It showed him, to some extent, the enthusiasm and interest the people of the riding were displaying in the coming election. "I have only had two meetings already," said Mr. McNulty, "but I am not very well posted as yet as to the political situation, but these two meetings have been largely attended, and I have every reason to expect success. On March 25, as you remember, at the Liberal convention here, I was unanimously chosen to contest East Peterborough in the Liberal interests." (Cheers.) "I got that convention honestly, and I intend to carry the same honest principles through this contest and hold the riding for the people." (Cheers.) "I might say that Mr. Thompson, my opponent, and I are very good friends. I became acquainted with him in the County Council, and we were friendly there, and we intend to be so all through the campaign." (Cheers.) "I am a farmer, and the people of the riding cannot expect that I will be able to take my place on the platform as more experienced speakers will do. However, I am not afraid to discuss any question which comes before the Legislature, and exercise fair, honest judgment upon it. This being an agricultural riding, I think I can fairly represent it in the House. I consider that the agricultural interests of the Province are three times as great as any other, and I think the farmers should be fairly represented in the House, without speaking disrespectfully of any other trade, business or profession.

During the last general election, Mr. Whitney appealed for the good Liberal independent vote, and I think you will agree with me that he got it. Many good Liberals voted that way at the last election. I do think there ever was a premier elected by a more independent majority with the confidence of the people. There was never a premier who has been shown more fair play both by Liberals and Conservatives than Mr. Whitney."

Mr. McNulty was disposed to admit that the present Government's change in the County Councils Act was a step in the right direction, because it gave reeves and deputy reeves the privilege to belong to the County Councils. However, he did not think the Government had given fair play to rural school sections regarding teachers' salaries and making a class distinction between rural and urban schools. The government took rural communities and tried to force them to come up to better requirements.

"I believe," he continued, "that we are all in duty bound to pay good, honest salaries to teachers and give the children a good education. But I think the question should be left with the people of this and other communities altogether, and not with the Government. [illegible] Law [illegible] Mr. Whitney [illegible] words to say regarding the temperance question: "And now about that three-fifths clause in Local Option campaigns—I never heard tell of it in any question before. I don't think it was British fair play to ask the people to have three-fifths majority in any place. I don't think it was necessary in a great question like temperance to have a three-fifths clause." (Cheers.)

Mr. John Finlay M. P.

The next speaker was Mr. John Finlay, M.P., who stated that he had come to hear the Hon. Mr. MacKay, and also to say a few words on behalf of his friend, Mr. McNulty. The latter, he said, had held responsible positions in the township of Asphodel and in the County Council, and had on every occasion served the people of the county to the best of his ability, and in doing so he had served them well. He spoke for Mr. McNulty the same patronage and support throughout the riding which he himself had enjoyed at the time of the last Federal elections, and he was certain that if Mr. McNulty was selected, he would represent East Peterborough in an honourable and upright manner, befitting the dignity of such an important riding.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams

In his introductory remarks, Mr. McWilliams referred to the large gathering present, and made particular reference to the number of ladies in the audience, whom he was pleased to see were taking an interest in the campaign, as well as the men. He complimented Norwood on its high educational standing, pointing out the fact that it was one of the foremost places in the county along this line. He desired to speak, he said, not so much on the Provincial political questions, but more particularly on those of local interest. He thought everyone present should remember that the riding of East Peterborough was marked all over the Province, so that it was vastly important that they should be represented in Toronto by a man who would look after their best interests. Mr. McNulty had a thorough knowledge of the wants of the constituency, and he had the courage to express his desires before the Legislature. He had come in contact with Mr. McNulty when the latter was warden of the county of Peterborough. On every occasion when he was represented on deputations for the county to either Toronto or Ottawa he had always spoken and acted in the best interests of the county.

Mr. McWilliams next dealt with the lines of cleavage existing between the two political parties, which, he said, were more widely different than many would suppose. The gerrymander was one of the actions of the Whitney Government which alone should condemn it. The guarantee of the Canadian Northern Railway bonds to the extent of two and a half millions of dollars for the purpose of building the most profitable parts of its road, and the well known Lièvre mis-deal were other things sufficient to condemn Mr. Whitney and his Government and to show that there were great differences between the political parties.

Mr. McWilliams condemned the license legislation with the three-fifths clause, which was contrary to the first principles of responsible government.

The spoils system, one of the most contaminating things that could be introduced by any government of any country, was another offence to [illegible] Mr. Whitney [illegible] tion-partisanship, which he had promised in Opposition, meant nothing in power.

Mr. Whitney had also boasted of the vast amount of expenditure during the Ross regime, but it was a significant fact that during his three and a half years of Conservative rule the expenditure had been increased 31 per capita, which was equal to the total expenditure during the thirty-two years of Liberal rule. (Cheers).

Rule by the majority, or British responsible government, was another of the many things the Whitney Government had proven false in. This was shown not only in the license law but also in the action respecting the payment of rural school salaries, and in that unfair gerrymander.

In conclusion, Mr. McWilliams asked the Liberals present to remember that Mr. McNulty was a man well deserving of their support.

"We have the policy, we have the leader, and we have the candidates" said Mr. McWilliams, "and a Liberal victory should follow."

He paid a compliment to Hon. A. G. MacKay, the Liberal leader, in whom, he said, the Liberals of Ontario had found one of the most honest and efficient men since the days of Sir Oliver Mowat. (Cheers).

Hon. A. G. MacKay

On being introduced by the chairman, Hon. Mr. MacKay, the speaker of the evening, was greeted with a hearty reception, which he gratefully acknowledged. In his address he dealt clearly with the most prominent lines of cleavage between the two parties, pictured Whitney while in Opposition and afterwards, and pointed out the questionable tactics pursued in the three and a half years' regime of the Conservative party.

He was delighted to see such a magnificent audience present, and he thanked them for the kindly manner in which they had received him, both on arriving in the village, and in the evening, whenever his name had been mentioned. He was also glad to hear the note sounded by Mr. McNulty that the election would be a fair one and one of principle. He regretted the illness of his old friend, Mr. W. Anderson, who was unable to be present on account of his physical condition. He was a man respected in the Legislature by both sides of the House.

Speaking of Mr. McNulty's ability, Mr. MacKay said that the people of the province would make no mistake in electing man to the House trained in the municipal school. The experience and education he necessarily gets there will stand him in good stead, in not only municipal committees but also in the railway and many other committees.

"There is no more useful man in the house," he added, "than the man with the large municipal experience."

Class Legislation

One of the distinct lines of cleavage between the two parties was the rural school teachers' salaries. Going back to the first session of the present Government, they had said that permanency and higher salaries were desirable in reference to public school teachers. This was not denied at all by the Opposition. But the Government wanted to pass a law to compel the school trustees in the rural districts to pay specified salaries to the teachers. He had opposed it because the Government had proposed to make this law refer only to rural schools, and not to villages as well. He had also opposed it because he believed the trustees of rural schools were [illegible] to the payment of the salaries to their teachers, were competent enough to determine the amount of such salaries. The Government wanted to take from the trustees the exercise of a God-given judgment. It desired to run the trustees and dictate to them from Queen's Park, but, as the result of a stubborn opposition, the iniquitous law had largely been modified. (Applause).

Hon. Mr. MacKay believed there was no class more willing to give their children a good education than the farmers of the Province of Ontario, and he considered the administration of their schools should be left in the hands of the trustees—their own representatives.

That principle was fought for eight days and the Government had been advised to leave that salary clause out, and if they had done it, they would not have had to repeal it the following session.

"I want to raise a question as to the honesty of the Government, because they boast so much of their honesty," proceeded Mr. MacKay as he mentioned the subject of model schools. Premier Whitney had distinctly denied that the model schools would be done away with. Yet Mr. MacKay claimed that the circular of the Education Department, dated April 30, of this year, showed that the model schools would be entirely wiped out. This circular stated that examinations would be held this year in districts, meaning in New Ontario, as opposed to counties in the older portions of the province. In making the statement the Premier had not been as honest with the people of the province as he ought to have been.

Mr. MacKay next dealt with the Conservative policy three and a half years ago, when Mr. Whitney and his colleagues had charged the Liberals with corruptness. The Conservatives had urged the people to turn out the "wicked Grits" and then they would soon unearth, on coming into power, by the books and documents of the Legislature, the scandals and irregularities of the Ross Government, if anything had been unearthed to condemn the Liberal record of thirty-two years, the people of Ontario would certainly have heard of it.

"But, has anyone heard in Norwood or in any other part of the province," asked Mr. MacKay, "of any corruptness on the part of the Liberal Government?" It was like the story of the "darkey," he humourously remarked, who went down into a dark cellar, with a dark lantern to look for a black cat that wasn't there. (Applause).

The leader next dealt with receipts and expenditures of the province, under the regime of the two parties, and pointed out how Mr. Whitney had in Opposition, condemned the special taxes on breweries, the succession duties and Supplementary Revenue. Every year thousands of dollars are received in revenue from these sources, which is directly responsible to the action of the Liberal Government, and which the Conservatives in Opposition had so strenuously opposed.

Under these heads alone is gathered in annually about $3,500,000, from companies and men that are well able to pay it, and he was positive the Whitney Government would never repeal any legislation demanding such taxation, though they had said they would do so.

Cheap School Books

Proceeding he touched upon the cheap school books, the Whitney Government had promised, pointing out that the Conservative speakers while talking in favour of them, find it convenient to keep silent on the report what John A Cooper, a strong Conservative, who was chairman of the School Book Commission, said in dissenting from the finding of the other two commissioners. Mr. Cooper, who is at present the editor of the Canadian Courier, being a printer, was the practical man on the commission. He was in a position to have real and accurate knowledge of the cost, quality of material and workmanship of the text books, and asserts the books now exhibited over the province were a remnant sale and that the reduction is not of a lasting nature. Recently writing editorially in the Canadian Courier Mr. Cooper asks the question "With reference to the cost of school readers, what will the cost be to the Province of Ontario?" He answers his query as follows:—

"This reduction in price may last one and a half years. What will then happen is only a matter of conjecture. The probability is that if the new set of readers is prepared and the printing and binding brought up-to-date the prices will go back to the old figures, if not higher."

The Gerrymander

The next question referred to by Mr. MacKay was Whitney's gerrymandering of the Province, pointing out that it had always been the custom as well as British precedent to hold a redistribution only after a decennial census. Yet Mr. Whitney had brought in a "Gerrymander" Bill in the middle of a decennial census, no doubt with a view to obtaining assistance in the coming elections. The speaker had pointed out that it had been British precedent to have a disinterested commission attend to redistributions. Mr. Whitney had boasted that he would equalize the constituencies and make the redistribution according to the boundary lines, but he had utterly failed in his commission.

Last Awful Week

During the "last awful week" of the last session there were several suspicious actions done by the Government including the guarantee of Canadian Northern Railway bonds and the Larose deal. He pointed out how Whitney, in Opposition had [illegible] the granting of money to open up and explore New Ontario, contrasting this with his present action.

In Opposition Mr. Whitney had also promised that if he were returned to power he would take the enforcement of the Liquor License Act out of politics completely.

"But what has he done since? Has he not taken the legislation out of the hands of the Liberals and given the governing of it to the Conservatives?"

He referred to the manner in which Mr. J W Flavelle had been dismissed, a man who had for eight or nine months been one of the License Commissioners in Toronto, and who had discharged his duties honestly and faithfully. He explained how Mr. Pyne, Minister of Education, attempted to get a license for Mr. Courtney a political friend, and a man who had been fined 11 times in 12 years for the breaking of the liquor law. The efficient, fearless and non-partisan inspectors objected, and what happened? After 25 years of faithful and efficient service, of went their heads.

Mr. MacKay quoted from a Conservative pamphlet which referred to his actions regarding the Larose Mine in 1904, when he was Crown Lands Commissioner. The pamphlet stated deliberated falsehoods, including that he had dealt secretly with the Larose people. The facts of the matter were that a Board of Commission consisting of competent men had been appointed to settle disputes between the LaRose and O'Brien people, and he, (Mr. MacKay,) had of course, concurred in their report. Yet the Conservative pamphlet had stated that he had acted secretly in connection with the matter when a commission appointed for the purpose had onelny sat for three weeks and come to a conclusion which he had agreed to.

Referring to the Automobile Bill, he pointed out that on the third reading Mr. Sam Clarke, M.P., for West Northumberland had called for the yeas and nays. The Speaker had stated that the amendment to the Bill was lost on a division of the House. The Premier also stated there must at least be five objecting members before the yeas and nays were taken and immediately five men were on their feet—but, continued Mr. MacKay, the Premier has overruled his own statement, and refused to allow the yeas and nays to be taken, thus preventing the people of the province from knowing how their representatives stood on this question. (Cheers.)

Mr. MacKay closed his admirable and convincing address by asking the people for their support for Mr. McNulty and for the Liberal cause which had been meeting with so much favour in every part of Ontario. (Cheers.)

Votes of thanks moved by Messrs. John Finlay, M.P., and W T Curtis, on behalf of Mr. MacKay and Mr. McWilliams for coming to Norwood and assisting Mr. McNulty in his campaign. The meeting closed with cheers for the King, Hon. Mr. MacKay and Mr. McNulty.

The Liberal leader left Norwood on the midnight train for Ottawa where he will address a mass meeting to-night.

Mrs. Geo. Ball has returned from a trip to Chicago and while there visited friends in Austin, one of the suburbs of the city. The people are talking of nothing else but the discoveries of the murderous work of Mrs. Guinness, who has made Laporte, Ind., famous by her wholesale murders. Mrs. Guinness formerly lived in Austin and the authorities have begun to dig and search for the remains of persons whom she possibly has done to death while in that section. The people are greatly excited and are anxiously following the work of the searchers.

WHIMS OF AUDIENCES

Harry B Smith wrote the book of "The Parisian Model," in which Anna Held has appeared with such success. Mr. Smith sat in front and watched on the opening night. "For one audience teaches us more than five years of dress rehearsals," he says. "We noted the applause—saw what points told. We noted what did not seem to go. Jotted these things down and profited accordingly. The ideas our audiences gave us were legion. For an audience is a study in itself. It differs, not only in different cities, but in the same cities on different nights. It depends largely on what it has had to eat, and the weather. For instance, an umbrella audience is the very worst that ever travelled by cab or trolley to worry a company of actors into fits of nervousness. It seems to think that having come outdoors on a beastly night the amount of pleasure it gets from the theatre should be in proportion to the discomforts experienced in getting to the playhouse. Consequently it's a captious crowd and hard to pull, and being damp and wet, it's not only captious, but bad humoured."

ENGLISH IMMIGRATION CUT IN TWO

Severe Government Restrictions Having The Desired Effect.

The reason for the marked decline in immigration this year is explained by the following despatch from London:—

"Colonel Lamb attributed the decline of about one-half in the number of persons emigrating to Canada as compared with the same period in 1907 to the increased stringency of the regulations issued by the Dominion Government. The Salvation Army has had no deportations placed to its discredit."

It is the tea grown on the hillsides of the world-famed Nuwara Eliya district in Ceylon, used in "Salada" — that gives it that rich, uniform, delicious flavour. 32

OPENING JUBILEE ON SATURDAY

Mr. J. J. Gilman Will Open up for the Season.

Mr. J J Gilman, the popular proprietor of Jubilee House, Rice Lake, is going down to the Point on Saturday to open up for the season. The popularity of Jubilee Point increases every year on account of the advantages which it possesses. It is close to excellent lunge and bass fishing beds and when the lake is rough the calmer waters of the river may be used. Mr. Gilman has already received word from some of his "regulars" that they will be on hand this year, and new visitors are also expected. With the large number of new yachts on the river, Jubilee should be the finishing point of a pleasant run. The yachting fraternity will be busy this year on the river and trips to the lake will be quite commonplace.

Should Submit Question To The People For Their Verdict

Trades and Labour Council Think That the Firemen Have Been Treated Shabbily by Council—Are in Favour of the Proposed Abattoir.

SOME LOCAL MATTERS

The regular monthly meeting of the Trades and Labour Council was held last evening with President John Alexander in the chair, and a good attendance of delegates.

Textile Workers

A representative of the Carpet Weavers' Association of Peterborough (Local 68, United Textile Workers of America) addressed the Council on matters pertaining to that organization. Any textile workers in the city desiring to join this union will be cordially welcomed.

Delegates to Kingston

President John Alexander and S. J. Anglesey were appointed delegates to the convention of the Labour Educational Association in Kingston on May 25, and Mr. Westbrook was appointed. An invitation will be extended the convention to meet in Peterborough next year.

The Public Abattoir

The proposed establishment of an abattoir in the city was introduced by a delegate, and was discussed at some length. A resolution was passed, placing the Trades and Labour Council on record as being in favour of the proposition.

Carnegie Library

The Carnegie library question was again opened up, and, while the Trades and Labour Council had previously voiced its opposition to the proposed acceptance of a grant from Andrew Carnegie, that body last evening commended the action taken by Mr. Richard Hall in reference to the recent gift of quarters suitable for library purposes, and adopted a resolution in favour of submitting the question to the ratepayers for their verdict.

Permanent Fire Brigade

This matter evoked considerable discussion, and Ald. Morgan and Elliott were commended for the stand they had taken on the matter. It was felt by the delegates that the fire brigade had been treated shabbily in regard to the proposition. A resolution was unanimously adopted calling upon the City Council to submit the question of the organization of a permanent fire brigade to the people for their decision.

Curling Rink Assessment

The delegates jumped good and hard on fixed assessment last evening, and characterized as a "hold up" the application of the Curling Rink Company for a fixed assessment on their new structure. A resolution was passed condemning the proposition.

The meeting then adjourned.

Scene from Brandon Thomas' successful comedy drama, "Charley's Aunt." At the Grand next Tuesday, May 19th. Plan opens Saturday at 10 a.m.

"CHARLEY'S AUNT."

Coming to the Grand Next Tuesday, May 19th.

Sometimes the joke is on the policeman, and Etienne Girardot, who is starring in "Charley's Aunt," tells a good one. "It happened in Central Park," said Mr. Girardot, "and I saw enough to grasp the fun of the situation. A small boy was standing near one of the ponds and was crying bitterly when the copper spied him."

"What's the matter, sonny?" he shouted.

The youngster pointed to a hat that was bobbing up and down in the water. "My bruvver—"

"While I was waiting to hear what the boy was about to say, the brave policeman plunged into the water, and after diving several times swam back to shore."

"I can't find your brother," he said. "Where was he when he fell in?"

"He didn't fall in," answered the boy, who had been gazing with open-mouthed amusement at the policeman's proceedings. "He's over there. I was agoin' to tell you dat he frowed my hat in the lake, but you wouldn't let me finish."

DR. JOHNSTON'S OPINION OF ABATTOIR

Should Have Had One Long Ago, According to His Statements.

Dr. Johnston, who was appointed by the Dominion Government as Veterinary Inspector for export and import stock was seen by the Examiner this morning regarding the abattoir question. He has had a long experience in this respect and particularly in inspecting cattle affected with tuberculosis. Dr. Johnston cannot understand why the city did not adopt the plan years ago. Most of the cities in the United States have public abattoirs and every animal offered for sale is inspected by a competent Veterinary Surgeon. He further states the animals of this section are as a general rule, free from disease, but that many are used which should be rejected.

CHILD'S SEVERE BURNS HEALED BY ZAM-BUK

The little girl of Mrs. Lewis Best, of Carlisle P. O., recently fell against the stove and burned her forehead very badly. Mrs. Best says:—"The burn was about the size of a fifty cent piece and was near the bone. It made my little girl's eye swell till it almost shut, and then she got cold in it. It began to run matter very badly, and I could not stop it, although I bathed it good every night and morning. At last I sent for some Zam-Buk which soon stopped the matteration and very quickly healed the wound. I havenever seen a burn heal so quickly, and I am sure Zam-Buk has no equal for curing cuts, or burns, and I shall always keep a box on hand in case of emergency."

Every home needs Zam-Buk! All diseases of the skin quickly yield to it. It is also an excellent remedy for piles (blind or bleeding), rheumatism, etc. All druggists and stores 50 cents a box, or post paid from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

CALVES CONFISCATED AT MONTREAL

The Montreal Market Protected From Immature and Diseased Cattle.

In connection with the abattoir question which is now occupying the attention of the Peterborough public, Mr. Wm. Morris of Morris & Brown, cattle dealers, reports that very frequently cattle are confiscated on the Montreal market. Calves suffer most in this respect. On one occasion not long ago one of the dealers had 168 out of 169 calves confiscated owing to immaturity.

Mr. Morris attends the market every week, he and Mr. Brown making a weekly shipment. On Wednesday of this week they shipped about 160 hogs from Peterborough.

HE EASILY PROCURED WORK

Young Immigrant From Isle of Wight Was Fortunate.

Events happened opportunely for Mr. A W Davis yesterday morning when he secured farm work with Mr. W J Stillman, of Smith. He had just recently arrived from the Old Country on the "Kensington" and came to Peterborough. He called on Mr. Geo Howson early yesterday morning and the latter went out with him to assist him in getting work. A few minutes later they met Mr. Stillman at the post office and Mr. Davis secured work.

His last place in England had been on the Isle of Wight. Mr. Davis spent nine years as a "Gent's Outfitter," but decided that there were not sufficient opportunities to make good in that line. Advancement is slow and a man works for about 18 months before he is given an appreciable raise in wages and even then the amount is small.

CANAL WORK TO BE BEGUN

Trenton Sections Will be Under Way in a Few Weeks.

A gentleman who has recently been at Trenton where he has secured a position on the canal work, states that owing to the high water in the river, operations will not be commenced for several weeks. Langster & Larkins the contractors for section No. 1, have nearly everything in readiness to begin work and are now waiting for the water to subside. They have a huge steam shovel, travelling crane, derricks, drills, etc., and when the activities are begun they will be rapidly advanced. On section No. 2 conditions are about the same.

NAVIGATION ON THE TRENT CANAL WATERS

Movements of the "Bob Hall" and Steamer Empress.

The Government tug "Bob Hall" left Lakefield yesterday for Bobcaygeon where she arrived last night with no difficulty. This morning she went to Lindsay to place some light houses in the river there, and to-morrow Kirkfield will be reached where she will secure a scow load of cedar for fence posts along this division.

The dredge "Emmerson" is still engaged in Lindsay waters where it has been used for dredging purposes for the past month.

The steamer Empress was to-day brought from Bobcaygeon to Young's Point by the Stoney Lake Navigation Company.

Trial Of Dr. Fletcher Was Begun In Toronto Yesterday

DEATH OF MISS H. GOULD

The trial of Dr. Ashton Fletcher, charged with performing a criminal operation on Jessie Ellen Gould, in March last, was begun yesterday morning in the Jury Assize Court, Toronto, before Mr. Justice Anglin. Considerable care was taken in choosing a jury by counsel for both sides. Mr. Blackstock appeared for the Crown, while T. C. Robinette, K.C. and J. W. Curry, K.C. are defending the prisoner.

Harry Saunders' Story

Harry Saunders was the first witness called by the Crown. He told of his relations with Miss Gould and of conversations with Dr. Fletcher. Mr. Blackstock wanted particulars of these conversations.

"The Minnie Turner case was going on just then," explained Saunders, "and I asked him how much the doctors charged for these cases, and he said $50 or $20, according to circumstances."

"Did you say anything about Miss Gould ?" continued the Crown counsel.

"I said, 'I know a girl who is in trouble like that, and I intend to marry her, even if she is in trouble.'"

"Anything else said ?"

"Yes. Dr. Fletcher suggested that I go up to his office on Saturday night and take the young lady with me."

"Did you go ?"

"No."

"When did you see him again ?"

"The 7th of March—on Saturday."

"What took place then ?"

Called in the Doctor

"Miss Gould was very sick and wanted me to get a doctor. I phoned Dr. Fletcher and told him that there was a sick girl on Mutual street whom I wanted him to see. He said he was very busy, but he came to the house at 3 o'clock and asked the girl what was wrong. In the end, Dr. Fletcher arranged for her to go to his office the next day."

"Was any reason given why a visit should be made to his office ?"

Saunders did not remember.

Next day, Sunday, March 8th, Saunders and Miss Gould went to Dr. Fletcher's place together, the girl objecting to going alone. When there the girl was told to go upstairs, while Saunders remained down in the waiting room about three-quarters of an hour.

"Was anything said when they came down ?" asked Mr. Blackstock.

"Dr. Fletcher said she was just a little bit nervous, but she would be all right shortly," replied the witness.

Saunders saw Dr. Fletcher next day and told him that the girl seemed to be getting worse. Dr. Fletcher sent a nurse to the Mutual street house, where the patient then was. That night Miss Gould was taken from the Mutual street house to 75 Shuter street, as the landlady objected to Saunders calling while the girl was sick.

"Did Dr. Fletcher know of the removal of the girl ?"

Carried Her in Blankets

"I think not. When I came home at seven o'clock, she was down stairs, and two young women helped me get her across to Shuter street."

"How did you take her ?" asked Mr. Blackstock.

"We carried her wrapped in blankets, in our arms," explained Saunders.

Saunders stated that on the return from Dr. Fletcher's office on Sunday, there was nothing in the appearance of the deceased to indicate that she was ill.

"Yet on Monday she had to be carried," remarked Mr. Blackstock.

On Tuesday, as the girl was very pale and feeling worse, Saunders telephoned again to the doctor.

"What took place when Dr. Fletcher arrived ?"

"He told me to send for any doctor, suggesting Dr. Todd."

Dr. Todd came at once, and upon his arrival, the witness left the room. The nurse, both doctors and another young woman were present with the deceased.

To an Hospital

Shortly after, Saunders returned to the sick room, and it was agreed to send Miss Gould to the hospital. She objected at first, but was induced to go, being removed in an ambulance.

"Did Dr. Fletcher at any time after Sunday night tell you anything about Miss Gould's condition, or why he made these repeated visits, or what was done on the Tuesday while you were out of the room ?" asked Mr. Blackstock.

"He told me nothing of that," replied Saunders.

Saunders stayed at the hospital from noon till 4.30, and returned at 8.30.

"In what condition was Miss Gould when you saw her in the evening ?"

"She seemed better, was reading and wanted some fruit."

Next day Saunders saw Dr. Fletcher, and the latter arranged to call at the hospital and see the patient.

"Did you want to know what was going on all this time ?" queried the Crown counsel.

"Yes," replied Saunders, "but the girl refused to tell me."

Asked when he first heard of the death of Miss Gould, the witness stated that the undertaker called about 12.30 Tuesday night.

"What did he come to you for ?"

"He wanted to know where her people lived, and I told him."

WEDDING BELLS

CRAWFORD-HUNTER

A very interesting event took place last evening at the residence of Mr. Jack Hunter, of Lakefield when his eldest daughter, Miss Ethel Hunter, was united in marriage to Mr. Theodore Crawford, only son of Mr. Chas. Crawford of the same village.

The house was most tastefully decorated for the occasion. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. John Bedford, pastor of the Methodist church. Miss Cora Hunter, younger sister of the bride was bridesmaid, and Mr. James Kidd, of Smith, acted in the capacity of groomsman. About a hundred invitations were issued for the ceremony.

The Lakefield Citizens Band, which had been invited for 9 p.m., gave great pleasure to the guests by their excellent rendition of various selections of music.

At a late hour the happy couple departed for Peterborough en route to Montreal and points east.

Lakefield Public School To Be Enlarged To Provide For Continuation Classes

The Lakefield Public School Board has approved of plans for an addition to the public school, which will give the pupils of the village the advantages of a High School. Mr. John E. Belcher has prepared the plans and submitted them to the Board, and the addition, it is understood, will be built this year.

The old building comprised six rooms and the new part contains four rooms, which will give the whole building ten rooms. The new class rooms will be about thirty feet square and will provide ample accomodation. The understanding is that the Board will have continuation work taught in the new rooms, which is practically High School studies. There will be a large hallway between the old and new parts and a basement under the latter, for a boiler room, etc. The exterior will be of brick similar to the original. (A gentleman from Lakefield to-day stated that the erection of the addition will be begun as soon as possible.

Second Addition

This is the second addition to the first building. About seven or eight years ago an enlargement was made to meet the requirements of the growing village, and now another four rooms are needed and the necessity is being generously met. The building is of two stories, and when finished the village may feel proud of its educational hall.

MAXIM'S MAXIM

Modest Claims Often Carry More Conviction Than Loud Boasts

When Maxim, the famous inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be considerably below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was, therefore, a triumph of surprise instead of disappointment, as it might have been if he had overestimated his gun's efficiency.

ADDRESS PRESENTED TO REV. CANON DAVIDSON

By Members of St. John's Chapter of Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

The members of St. John's Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew met on Tuesday night, and after the usual business was transacted adjourned to the schoolroom, where refreshments were served by Messrs. Coleman Brothers. There was a large attendance of members. Mr. S. Jay, director, in a few well-chosen words, presented to Rev. Canon Davidson a farewell address on the occasion of his departure to England for four months. Rev Canon Davidson feelingly responded, thanking the brotherhood for the way they had supported him in his work in the parish during the last nineteen years.

"For he's a Jolly Good Fellow" was heartily sung, and three cheers for Canon and Mrs. Davidson were given in right good style. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. Conway, Linton, Bell, Hooper, Devey, Williams, Pretty, Lumley and others, all speaking of the sterling, self-sacrificing qualities of the rector and wishing him God speed.

BIG BASEBALL GAME ON SATURDAY

Manager Johnston's Team are in Great Shape for Contest With the Alerts.

The Alerts, of Toronto, who will be seen here this Saturday against the Peterborough team are expected to give the local team the game of their lives. The Alerts won the senior championship of Toronto for three consecutive years, and then dropped out last year to rest on their laurels. With the exception of four of the regular team, who are now with the Peterborough team, they will be here with their regular line-up Saturday. The game should be a treat to the fans to see two such evenly-balanced teams together. The following will be the line-up for the Alerts: Dalzell, catcher; Mawkinsey and "Lefty" Smith, pitchers; Spence, first base; Morgan, second base; Haliburton, third base, McDermott, short stop; Oldfield, left field; Coulter, centre field, and Gibson, right field.

The following will represent the Peterborough team in its full strength: Edmonds, catcher; Clements, pitcher; Thorn, first base; O'Hearn, second base; Chuetkam, third base; Maddock, short stop; Murphy, left field; O'Brien, centre field; Burns, right field.

Riverside Park is fast getting into shape, the water which has put the field out of business for ball purposes, is going away fast and will entirely disapper by Saturday, weather permitting. The ground will be laid out entirely different from the past seasons, as so many mistakes were found in the measurements of the lines, and should look spick and span for Saturday's game.

THE Y.M.C.A. MEET NEXT WEEK

Competition for the Howden Cup Will Take Place on Thursday and Friday

The annual athletic competition for the Howden Trophy will take place at the Nicholls Oval on Thursday and Friday evenings of next week, and some exciting sport will be seen. The senior cup was won last year by Len Dobson, of the Y. M. C. A. Harriers, who will be a contestant again this season, and other entrants are likely to be Ernie Wilson, Fred Simpson and Chas. Thorne, of the same club. The entries are open to any amateur residing in Peterborough, and there promises to be a big list of entries in the different events. The mile race will be the feature, as Simpson, Dobson, Wilson and Thorpe will take part. The meet is usually held on the holiday, but as Simpson and Wilson will be taking part in the Olympic trial on that day, the date has been changed.

TORONTO MAN SNATCHED FROM THE JAWS OF DEATH

3 Physicians had pronounced his case hopeless.

The above decision given by several prominent physicians naturally depressed Mr. R. Davenport, of 31 Elm St., Toronto, and justified him in saying that he felt each day brought him one step lower into the grave. While in this condition he was recommended to try Psychine. He says: "Following an attack of typhoid fever in Toronto General Hospital, three of Toronto's best known physicians pronounced my lungs incurably and hopelessly diseased with tuberculosis. They insisted on my going to the Weston Sanitarium for Advanced Cases of Consumption and assured me that a few weeks or months at most would be my allotted span. A friend visited me and told me of his wonderful recovery from lung trouble, through Psychine, and insisted on me trying it. I did, and felt so much better in a few days that I said 'Good-bye' to the doctor in charge, and walked out of the institution. I continued using Psychine for some months. I rapidly gained in flesh and strength, until to-day I am back at my regular business in connection with the C.P.R. Telegraph Service, Toronto. My life I undoubtedly owe to Psychine. As you do not know me and probably never before heard of me, I refer you to any of the C.P.R. Telegraph Officials at Toronto for the correctness of the above statement." This was in September, 1907, and Mr. R. Davenport has weathered the severe winter we have passed through. Surely a good test to the thoroughness of the work done by Psychine, The Greatest of Lung and Throat Tonics.

Psychine Cures Bronchitis, Consumption, Weak Lungs, Weak Voice, Bronchial Coughs, After Effects of La Grippe, Anaemia, Loss of Flesh, Spring Weakness, Catarrh, Pleurisy, Hemorrhages, Catarrh of the Stomach, Indigestion, Catarrhal Affections, General Weakness, Night Sweats, Poor Appetite, Early Decline, Obstinate Coughs, Laryngitis, Speaker's Sore Throat, Throat Catarrh, Chills and Fever, Malaria, Nervous Troubles, Nervous Prostration, Sleeplessness, Mal-nutrition, Female Weakness, and Dyspepsia.

Psychine Restores the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Digestive and Blood-Making Organs to perform their proper functions, and is the only specific known to Modern Medical Science that will Cure Chronic Weakness, Catarrh, Decline, and Incipient or Advanced Cases of CONSUMPTION. NEW HIGH MARK MADE FOR TROPHY

Carol Hayes Rolled Score of 223 at P. B. C. Alleys Last Night.

A new high mark was put on for the Examiner Trophy for the best single score at the Peterborough Bowling alley last night, when Carol Hayes rolled a total of 223 pins, three higher than George Cairns' score, which has stood for over a week. Hayes is a novice bowler, who has picked up the game rapidly, and who is rolling in great form just now. The Examiner competition closes on May 25th, and some good scores are being made. Hayes' score is high for the weekly box of cigars as well.

CLAMPS ON JOINTS IN GAS MAINS

Work Was Started To-day to Prevent Leakages.

Work was begun to-day by the Peterborough Light and Power Company to provide against the leakage at the joints in the mains between Simcoe street and the C. P. R. station. A gang of men were started at work diggings down to each joint and workmen placed a thick rubber band around the joint and tightly and securely clamped it to prevent further leakage.

THEY ASSISTED THE ARMOURER

About a dozen members of the 24th Field Battery were present at the drill hall, East City, last night for the purpose of assisting Armourer Quarter-master Sergeant Morton, of Quebec, to dismount four guns. The QQuarter-master Sergeant with his assistant, Private Agnew, are here for the purpose of repairing the guns, and the Battery boys showed their interest in the work by turning out to help them. Afterwards they were very hospitably entertained by Capt. Clarke, an American officer who is visiting in the city, and a pleasant social hour spent.

THREATENS TO SHOOT THE BOYS

Albert Street Lady Determined to Protect Her Property.

The boys who have been damaging the property of Mrs. Gifford, Albert street, had better be careful in the future, as that lady called at the police station and threatened to shoot them if they do not desist. It appears that they have been in the habit of using part of Mrs. Gifford's fence as fuel for a fire. The lady is naturally very indignant and in complaining to P. C. McGinty this afternoon, she announced that she would either get a revolver and practise shooting, with a view to bagging a few of the boys, or elsewould get some one else to shoot for her.

PRICE OF MILK DROPS BACK AGAIN TO-MORROW

More good news! To-morrow the price of milk drops one cent per quart, and while the reduction is but a trifle, still 'every little bit helps.' To private institutions the price will be five cents per quart, and to the general public six cents. Milk has been selling at seven cents for some time, but the reduction came together and [illegible] for the good of mankind, hence their generous act. The tickets are principally bought in lots of seventeen, the milkman receiving $1.02 for the lot.

Their liberality may question the quality of the milk, at least some citizens have been mean enough to suggest that the milkmen would really mix water with the milk.

Fat Defeating Extraordinary

MARGARET KNOLLY

SLENDER Margaret Knolly now, if you please. The fascinating leading lady of the Bijou, now more fascinating than ever, astonished all her friends on Broadway the other day by presenting to their admiring gaze a svelt and willowy form in place of the plump, not to say fat, outlines with which she gayly sailed away to new triumphs and foreign shores last January. After a good deal of diplomatic cross-examination from interested fat acquaintances the secret was cautiously whispered to a few dear friends with the result that everybody knows it now. It was not exercises, nor fasting, nor sea air, nor worry about her new venture that brought about this wonderful willowy change in the charming Margaret; no, none of these; nothing but a simple mixture which all druggists are familiar with and can supply at small cost, to wit: One-half ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 4 3-4 ounces of Syrup Simplex. 'Grown folks need a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime,' explained the now slender Margaret. It is simply wonderful. It takes off the fat quickly, as much as a pound a day, and keeps it off. You can eat what you like, too. In that respect it is unlike anything of the kind I ever heard of, and besides, it has another splendid feature—it is entirely harmless and will not cause wrinkles. I think it is about as essential a toilet article for the woman who is fat and wants to get thinner, as face powder. In order to get the best results, however, you should buy the Marmola in the original package and mix it with the other two ingredients after you get home."

SOME DOPE ON MANAGER JOHNSTON'S MIDLAND LEAGUE AGGREGATION; THEIR RECORDS

In view of the fact that Manager Johnston's cohorts make their first appearance on Saturday afternoon in a game against the Alerts of Toronto at Riverside Park, some "dope" on his men and their records should prove of interest to the fans. It will be seen that the Manager has gotten together a fast fielding, hard-hitting team, with men of much experience and knowledge of inside baseball, with a clever battery, and strong in both infield and outfield.

Freddie Edmunds, Catcher.—Better known as "Jerry" Edmunds, jumped into fast company 2 years ago and played with the crack Grandview team of the North-western League. Edmunds caught in the neighbourhood of 75 games last year for Grandview and was always there with a good throwing arm and a beautiful eye for the ball when handling the willow. He is a husky boy and should prove the "goods" in the position, making a worthy successor to Harry Burridge.

Freddie Clements, Pitcher. — Clements is well known to the baseball fans of Peterborough, Port Hope and Cobourg. He made his debut in Midland League baseball last year, when he pitched a great game against Port Hope, in Port Hope and another the following week in Cobourg. Clements has barrels of speed and good control with a fine bunch of benders and with such a heady catcher as Edmunds behind him, should prove one hard to beat.

Walter "Caker" Thorne, First Base. —Thorne is the tallest man on the team and therefore has the position suitable for his height. Thorne covers the big 6 perfection and should prove one of the hardest hitters in the league. "Caker" hails from the North-western League and led the batsmen with the handsome average of .4088.

Jones O'Hearn, Second Base. — "Jimmy" is well known to the Midland League fans as a sharp, neat fielder and a beautiful hitter. Fans of Peterborough can call to memory his great work with the willow against Cobourg's Eastern League battery, last year, when the little midget clouted the sphere for five safeties, including a home run. "Jimmy" will no doubt be welcomed in Peterborough. He is captain of the St. Marys' team of Toronto.

Edward "Ted" Maddock, Short Stop.—"Ted" will make his first appearance in a Peterborough uniform this Saturday, when he will cover the space between Cheatham and O'Hearn. Maddocks is a fast fielder and has the advantage over most infield men by his being able to shoot the Spalding from any position. He is a strong, left-handed batter and a great base runner and his experience in fast company should be of worth to the Petes. Last year he played with the champions of the Cleveland City League, a semi-professional organization.

Harry "Red" Cheatham, Third Base.—"Red" needs no introduction to the Peterborough fans; his great work around short stop last year will long be remembered. "Red" made the hard ones look easy with his neat style, and for batting the dope says he is due to have his banner year with the willow.

James "Conny" Murphy, Left Field. —Murphy has had experience in the Midland League before, playing for the Petes the last three games last year. His great work in the final game in Cobourg proved him to be one of the best amateur outfielders in the business. Murphy is a good sticker and a speedy base-runner, and one of the most amusing coachers to be found. He was with the St. Marys' of Toronto last year, and Jack Toft wanted him for his Cotton States League team this season.

Frank "Friz" O'Brien, Centre Field. —O'Brien will hold down the centre field position and his fleetness of foot and good judgment will make the batters work to keep the sphere away from him. O'Brien is a good batter and should prove a valuable man. He was with Charlotte, N.Y., semi-professionals last year.

Corney Burns, Right Field.—Burns is too well known to Peterborough fans to need much introduction. His work last year will long be remembered. He was always there with the big stick, stinging the pellet to the tune of .390, and driving many runs in ahead of him. He is a neat, accurate fielder, covering lots of ground, while his base-running cannot be surpassed.

HASTINGS "PEDS" HAVE THE WALKING CRAZE VERY BADLY

The walking craze which has been agitating Peterborough and vicinity for some time has at last struck Hastings.

Last Thursday a couple of temporary residents of the village stumped each other to walk to Peterborough as they could not go on with their work in the ruts. They arrived in Peterborough all right, blessing one another for suggesting such a freak move, and drenched to the skin as well, for it rained all the way during the trip to Peterborough.—Hastings Star.

MR. P. G. TOWNS MAKES ANOTHER GOOD WALK

Went 47 Miles Yesterday in Nine and One-half Hours.

The feat mentioned in the Examiner a few days ago to the credit of Mr. P. G. Towns of Bouro, was by no means the end of his achievements. Mr. Joseph Crowe again reports a big walking match which took place there yesterday in which Mr. Towns walked 47 miles in 9 1-2 hours. This performance was made on a 10-lap-to-the-mile track and it a muddy one at that. Mr. Harry Flinders, who was one of the men who walked against Mr. Towns in the mile race a few days ago, was also in the ring yesterday, going a distance of 20 miles in exactly four hours.

HAD A STAB-LIKE PAIN THROUGH THE HEART.
MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS CURED HER AND SAVED HER LIFE.
There is no one, we imagine, sets about deliberately to do injury to the heart, yet in the excitement and excesses of present-day living, the nervous system is done violence to, and the heart and nerves being so intimately bound up with one another, disorganization of the one means disease and disorder of the other.
When you find your heart the least bit out of rhythm, your nerves unhinged, don't wait until you are prostrated on a bed of sickness. Take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They'll put you in such condition you'll never know you have a heart, make your brain clear and active, your nerves strong, your blood rich and pure, and your whole being thrill with a new life.
Mrs. John C. Yensen, Little Rocher, N.B., writes: "I was troubled with a stab-like pain through my heart. I tried many remedies but they seemed to do me more harm than good. I was advised by a friend to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using two boxes I was completely cured. I cannot praise them enough for the world of good they did me for I believe they saved my life."
Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SOME LACROSSE LEAGUE GOSSIP

Millbrook Will be on Hand With a Representative.

Local lacrosse enthusiasts are asked to remember the meeting in the T. A. S. rooms to-morrow night, for the purpose of organizing a City Lacrosse League. It is said that the Y.M.C.A., T.A.S. and Athletics will be represented and with the addition of Millbrook and Lindsay, a first class league could be formed. There is plenty of material in Peterborough for at least three good teams and they should get busy and organize at once. Millbrook will have a strong team, and will be represented at to-morrow's meeting.

The St. Catharines Star-Journal has the following to say of the big walking race to take place there next month:

Monday, June 15th, will see the opening of a great six-days' walking contest in the Phelps street roller rink. Great and widespread interest is being taken in the event, and letters of inquiry have already been received from distant points in Canada and the United States. Some of the fastest men in Canada will compete, among them Harrison, the champion of England; Stevens, of Peterborough, the "Boy Wonder of Canada," and Hartley, the long distance champion of Port Hope.

The contest will commence at eight o'clock Monday evening, June 15th, and will continue three hours nightly from 8 till 11 p. m., until Saturday, when the start will be made at 2 p. m., and the great event will finish at 11 o'clock.

The rink management is sparing no effort to make this event one of the most notable and successful of the season. There is no doubt that scores of contestants will be attracted by it, as a number have already written asking for full particulars.

BUCKHORN FAMILY AT SHELTER

Were Brought in Yesterday—John Dixon Charged With Non-Support.

Mrs. John Dixon and two small children were received at the Shelter last night and to-morrow afternoon, John Dixon, the husband and father, will appear before Magistrate Edmison charged with non-support. Mr. Geo. Cochrane went out to the Dixon home five miles west of Buckhorn, and returned yesterday with the mother and children. One of the latter is a baby boy six months old, the other, a girl, is 2 years. The father is alleged to have neglected his family in a disgraceful manner.

Three children were taken from the London home near the C.P.R. Bridge over the C[illegible] yesterday, and are now in the Shelter. They are 2 girls and a boy, ranging in age from 7 to 13. The mother was not in condition to properly care for them.

CROPS IN PLACES ARE COMING ALONG FINE

Country Roads in Some Places Are Very Badly Bogged.

A gentleman who has recently driven extensively throughout the country, states that the conditions are quite favourable. True, the land is well watered and in parts is very wet, but there are other sections where the crops are coming along fine and the peas, beans, oats, wheat and barley are sprouting rapidly. In a few instances there are fields that have not yet been planted. Here and there, where one part is wet the farmer has neglected to begin seeding because he could not do the whole field. The roads are very bad in some localities and in the ditches the water has gathered in lakelets and ponds.

TO-MORROW NIGHT'S BIG BANQUET

Retail Merchants' Dinner at Oriental Promises to be a Big Success.

At a meeting held last night by the executive, final arrangements were made for what promises to be a big and successful banquet on Friday night at the Oriental Hotel. It is stated that the merchants were never more enthusiastic in their approval of the proceedings, and feel assured that an organization would be of material benefit to all. The speakers from a distance are all merchants of wide experience in general merchandise, and from all accounts have a great deal to tell the members of our local association and the merchants in general. It is most important that every merchant be in attendance, and any that have not got their tickets can obtain them by calling upon any of the following: Messrs. Robt. Fair, Jas. Connal, R. Kingan, Walter Oke, W. E. Conway, or the secretary, Jas. R. Bell, 161 Hunter street.

There will be another meeting of the executive to-night at the Examiner office.

Having Children's Eyes Examined

People suffer through life with the disadvantage of impaired vision as a result of neglect of the eyes in childhood. Children considered dull or effected with brain trouble.

It's a familiar fact that the acuteness of vision varies extremely among adults, and that certain defects of the eye—such as shortsightedness — can be as completely remedied as to restore to the individual almost perfect sight. Now, there exists among children just such differences in the acuteness of vision as is observed in adults, and many of the defects of the eye originate in the failure of parents to appreciate those differences.

It's a pity to put glasses upon a child, but a greater pity to neglect such when the future well-being of the eyes depends upon their help. It's safer to do as many are doing now—having the children's eyes examined to know whether or not glasses are necessary.

PROSPECTING IN NORTH HASTINGS

Peterborough Men Bring Back With Them Some Good Samples of Ore.

Messrs. G. T. Baguely, superintendent of the Gurney Iron Works, Toronto, and W. J. Kearns, Geo. Kearns and T. J. Marshall, of Peterborough, arrived in the city yesterday from a prospecting trip in North Hastings. They have brought back with them several samples of copper ore, one being a piece of virgin copper roughly hewen out, which assays 90 15-16 per cent pure copper. There is a sample of iron ore, which shows 48.68 per cent of hematite iron ore.

COWS MUST NOT RUN AT LARGE

Joseph Lasure Was Fined $2 at Police Court This Morning.

Joseph Lasure has found that he must not allow his cows to dine on the public streets. He has been in the habit of tethering his cows to fence posts on Romaine street, and P. C. Adams testified at the police court to-day, that the rope on one of them was long enough to allow the animal to cross the road, and that the cows were a detriment to traffic. Mrs. Levasseur and Mrs. Loeley, who live on Romaine street, explained that the cows sometimes got loose. Magistrate Dumble imposed a fine of $2, to be paid in ten days.

George Stevens was face to face with the same charge, but the case was dismissed, Mr. Stevens explaining that the animal had escaped from the barn. They were not allowed to be at large on the streets, and the only witness called, Joseph Barnard, said that he knew the cows because of their fine condition, explained that it was the first time he had seen the cows at large.

Farmers Should Plant Trees; Making Fencing Easy Matter

From the Canadian Dairyman

Now, since our forests are becoming depleted, there is in many sections a scarcity of suitable timber that can be used for fence post purposes. During the last few years, the price of posts has continued to soar upward until now they have reached almost prohibitive prices in some localities. The farmer, however, who will go to the small expense and trouble of setting out a few trees each year in a position where the fence of the future will be placed, can bring this fence post problem well within a solution upon his own farm.

It is a simple matter to plant out trees and have them grow if one will observe ordinary care in handling them, before and after they are set out. The common hard or sugar maple is the most satisfactory to use for this purpose. Where it cannot be obtained, basswoods, soft maples, elms or other such varieties will answer very well and in fact are preferred by some. These can be easily obtained from the farmer's own wood lot. Should such trees not be available, they can be obtained from nurserymen at a comparatively small cost. Failing this, a farmer can grow his own trees. It is a small task to plant the seeds of the variety you choose to propagate. As soon as they have reached the size of a few inches in height, they may be set out in nursery rows and there cultivated until they have obtained the desirable size for setting into the permanent fence row. Some of the rapid growing trees, such as the Manitoba maple or the cotton wood, can readily be handled in this way.

When the tree has attained sufficient size, and one wishes to attach a fence thereto, a picket or strip of wood should be nailed to the tree and the fence attached to this picket. When this practice is followed the fence will not grow into the tree and it can be removed at any time should it be desired. The mistake is often made of wiring the pickets to the trees and in some cases, even of attaching the fence directly to the tree. This should never be done as it is very injurious to the tree, besides causing an unsightly appearance of the tree.

Trees for fence row planting should be at least ten feet in height and from one to two inches in diameter. When taken from the wood-lot, if possible, remove a lump of soil with the tree, leaving as much of the root system upon the tree as one can do conveniently. Cut off all the top of the tree, leaving a bare pole about eight feet in length. This tree, if properly set, will grow and make a uniformly shaped head and invariably will come to maturity more rapidly than where the whole top is left upon the tree. It is not necessary to practise any particular cultivation, but if it is possible, a mulch of strawy manure, chip dirt, or other such material, will tend to insure the successful growth of the tree.

Varieties Of Summer Apples That Should Be Planted Together

From the Canadian Dairyman

It is a rule in fruit growing that a commercial orchard should consist of but few varieties. It is not my intention, therefore, to preach to the contrary. If in this paper I give the description and my opinion of 6 varieties of summer apples for Quebec, it is far from my intention to advise that these should all be planted together. As a choice from these varieties depends on the taste of the planter, the particular circumstances in which he is placed and the situation of his land, one can easily understand that it is impossible to give exact advice in each particular case. When one is occupied in selling fruit trees, he realizes this fact more clearly. One planter will set out an orchard of one variety while his neighbor would not listen to this idea and, it is useless to discuss it with him.

The Yellow Transparent is the earliest of our apples in ordinary years. In the neighborhood of Montreal, it ripens about August 15th, but can be put on the market about the end of July. While yet green, it fetches a good price. The tree is hardy and bears early. By its fruitfulness, it takes first place amongst our summer apples.

Lowland Raspberry is the best summer apple which one can cultivate. If it were more cultivated, it would make an excellent showing on the market. The size is medium; the color, white and red to the sun and more or less regular stripes. Its taste is exquisite. The tree is hardy and I have seen it in full bearing at the home of Mr. Chapais. The fruit ripens about the same time as the Yellow Transparent. This is a variety of the future which will have a place in all commercial orchards with local trade.

Red Astrachan is a deservedly favorite variety. Its size, beautiful red color and exquisite taste always obtains for it a good price on the local market. The tree thrives well as far east as Quebec and I have seen in Mr. Dupuis' orchard, a very old tree of this old variety. The apples packed very carefully in boxes, appeared firm enough to stand even a long journey if packed in cold storage.

Duchess is considered a summer variety in the vicinity of Montreal, but is an autumn variety around Quebec. This is a commercial apple "par excellence," as much by its beautiful appearance and size as by its extraordinary fruitfulness. Nothing is better, say the connoisseurs, than a Duchess baked two weeks before maturity. At this period, it has fair size, possesses full color and easily stands long journeys, making it practically the first export apple. In regard to hardiness, no other variety compares with it.

The Montreal Peach is one of the most popular varieties. There are orchards 30 and 40 years old, planted entirely with Peach and I know people who have made a fortune from them. It is a good, late summer fruit of good appearance and of good growth. The great fertility of the tree renders an acre of Montreal Peach as productive as certain other varieties that are better but less profitable. This tree suits all difficult ground on account of its hardiness, and great vigor. Certain growers in my district have sold all their Peach apples to preserve manufacturers at 50 cents per bag and they were not obliged to pick them by hand.

The Summer St. Lawrence is the most profitable of our summer varieties. The tree is very hardy and although slow in producing, finishes by giving the most satisfactory returns. The St. Lawrence has for a long time divided popular favor with the Fameuse and many of the older orchards are composed entirely of these two varieties. The fruit is known everywhere, thus there is never too many for exportation. From a commercial point the St. Lawrence ought to be the choice of the growers provided they are not too pressed for speedy returns.

GOOD LAND SHOULD NOT BE USED FOR PASTURAGE

Canadian Dairyman.

While the Standing Committee upon agriculture at Ottawa were hearing the evidence given by J. H. Grisdale, Dominion Agriculturist, a difference of opinion developed between the speaker and some of the members of the committee as to the value of finishing export stock on grass. Mr. Jackson, one of the members, maintained that fully 50 per cent. of the export stock in Ontario are finished upon grass. He thought that experiments along this line should be conducted at the Central Experimental Farm.

Mr. Grisdale admitted that if they had the available fields at the farm, such experiments would be interesting. As it was, extensive experiments in rotation of crops and soil cultivation were in progress at the farm, and these would be interrupted if Mr. Jackson's suggestions were carried out. Mr. Grisdale was of the opinion that the pasturing of these cattle was done at a loss very commonly. Unless he had rough land, the man who was pasturing his cattle was getting a very small return from it. A member of the committee thought that if the question were gone into thoroughly, it would be the other way round. Another member stated that there were very few cattle that had been fed through the winter that were not finished on the grass in Wellington County.

If, remarked Mr. Grisdale, you take 100 acres of first class land and put cattle on it, you will get small returns compared with what you would get from the same cultivated and farmed, a very much smaller return relatively. Therefore, he was convinced that good land should not be pastured. One of the members of the committee expressed the opinion that Mr. Grisdale should withdraw his statement and not give any opinion upon this subject of pasturing until he had fattened cattle on grass in two or three fields at the experimental farm. Mr. Grisdale, however, said the opinion he expressed was that he could get more money off a given area of land by farming than by pasturing it and that he declined to withdraw that statement unless it was the wish of the committee.

The Growth Of Telephone System In Urban Districts

Independent System is the Most Serviceable to the Rural Classes —7000 Independent Companies In the United States.

CHANGES IN RURAL LIFE

Canadian Dairyman.

Great changes have been wrought in rural life within the past ten years. In these the extension of the telephone to rural communities has played no small part. Towns and cities witnessed the advent of the telephone 20 years ago, and now the business of a city or town would practically be demoralized without it. Its benefits in rural districts are equally as great, if not greater.

Evidently the telephone is of inestimable benefit to farmers, and its value must increase in proportion to the extension or rural systems. Unfortunately this extension in Canada has not been as great as its advantages would warrant. This is due largely to the fact that one single telephone company has secured such a foothold all over the country as to become practically a monopoly, and it is unwilling, unless compelled by opposing lines, to meet the necessities of the locality either in rates or any other way.

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada was organized twenty-eight years ago. Since that time, the corporation has expended about $10,000,000 in telephone development in the Dominion. So great has been the development of the company, it being the only one for 10 or 15 years after its inauguration in Canada, that it for some years controlled the whole telephone business.

The principal development of the system, has been in the urban districts and consequently it has been of very little use to the more sparsely settled rural communities. Towns and cities are thickly populated Many interests are intermingled and telephone communication between these is almost necessary. Phones could be installed in almost every house at comparatively little expense and a good revenue would be forthcoming. In the country, on the other hand, especially in some districts where houses were few and far between, the cost of installing a system would be comparatively large. To overcome this expense, the company increased their rates of installation in many cases to such an extent as to place the system out of the reach of the average farmer. This, they could do owing to their monopolization of telephone systems, and, as a result, the development of the rural telephone system in the Dominion until recent years has been slow.

Realizing the advantages prevailing in regard to these matters, a number of independent telephone associations were organized in Canada about three years ago. The organization of these systems was bitterly assailed by the Bell Telephone Co., they feeling that their interests would be very much damaged. Nevertheless, the development of these systems went on and has resulted in great benefit to the rural communities, where they have been established. As an instance of the development of the independent rural telephone system, it might be stated that after 17 years of Bell Telephone monopoly in the United States and Canada, only 300,000 phones were in existence. The independent movement began in the United States 10 or 12 years ago, and in that time, the number of telephones on the continent has increased to 7,000,000, of which the independent companies own more than half.

Three hundred million dollars have been invested in the independent service in the United States in the last 12 years and this is being increased all the time. The Bell company has until recently, practically despised the tiller of the soil. By so doing, it has jeopardized its interest to such an extent that the farmer is satisfied to do without it, he preferring to have his own system.

One of the chief obstacles in the way of the general development of the independent system is the delivering of long distance messages. Most of the independent companies that have been established are purely local, and here the Bell Telephone secures a triumph by coming along and offering long distance connection where the independent system has been installed, for a comparatively small sum. It must be understood, however, that about 97 per cent. of the telephone messages of the country are probably local messages. Consequently, many Bell non-subscribers rather than connect their systems with the Bell, are satisfied to pay 25 or 50 cents for sending long distance messages over Bell lines.

It is clearly evident that the independent system is the most serviceable for the rural classes, especially when it is considered that the Bell Telephone is a company with a capitalization of several million dollars, whereas the independent system is conducted in the interests of the farmer and with no conglomeration of capital. One of the great advantages derived through the inauguration of this system is the competition which it has inspired, resulting in a perfection and extension of the Bell system in rural communities. There are now in the United States, about 7,000 of these independent companies, some of which control as many as 40,000 phones. The greater the extension of the system through Canada, the greater will be the benefits forthcoming.

PROPER MANNER IN WHICH TREES SHOULD BE PLANTED

Canadian Dairyman

One of my most valuable lessons about planting was learned in walking through a lawn with an old gardener who remarked: "The man who planted this place understood his business. See, every tree is set on a little hill or mould." The next time you have the opportunity, compare the difference of a lawn where trees and shrubs stand in mounds slightly above the level of the surrounding lawn and other planting where the lawn level is carried up to the roots of the plants, or, as is sometimes seen, where plants stand in a depression. See which you like best, and then judge the wisdom of the above suggestion.

A bed or border for shrubbery should be heavily manured, and dug or plowed deeply and prepared as carefully as for corn or potatoes, or any other crop which is wanted to grow well. If I tell you not to ram the roots into a little hole in the ground, but to set them on a little mound, you will think I am joking, but that is pretty nearly what I mean.

It would seem as though every gardener should be tired of hearing the trite advice to dig big holes for shrubs and trees, but the innumerable evidences of violations of the rule show that many planters have not yet learned this lesson. Some shrubs, as forsythias, spiræas, deutzias, etc., may flourish if stuck in the ground any way, but many others need the best of care to insure success, and carelessness in setting often discredits good material and a job which in other respects may be all right. Dig holes larger and deeper than the roots require, and larger in diameter at bottom than at top, then fill in some of the best soil obtainable, making a little cone of mound in the center of the hole. Then spread out the roots of plants around this mound of earth so that all the roots tend downward rather than horizontally or upward. Fill in the richest soil first tramping firmly as the filling proceeds Remember Peter Henderson's chapter on the "Use of the Foot in Planting." Also bear in mind that it is results that count, and five minutes spent in care of planting may mean one or two years saved in attaining the desired end.

Under the heading "How to Treat Shrubs," I will allude to manuring, mulching and pruning. After planting apply a good mulch of manure, to conserve moisture, furnish nourishment and to suppress weeds. An annual mulching of leaves, with coarse manure to prevent their blowing away, is beneficial to every class of plants; and mulched or fallow ground is better than grass around the stems.

Most deciduous shrubs should be pruned severely when planted. Rhododendrons, azaleas, and some others etc., are usually transplanted with balls of earth and do not need much pruning, but where it is needful it won't hurt them. The annual pruning is a most important part of the care of shrubbery, and the point most difficult to give instruction on by written directions. It is an art which must be learned by practice and observation. The general rule to trim early bloomers as soon as they are through flowering, and midsummer or late bloomers in Winter, contains a suggestion, but the indiscriminate cutting back of every shrub every year is a great mistake. When a shrub seems weak and needs strengthening, cut out declining shoots and apply manure around it. When one is too vigorous or rampant, remove or shorten superfluous shoots to reduce to symmetry, with as little mutilation as posible. When one has become overgrown and dilapidated in appearance, cut back a part, or perhaps all of its unsightly stems severely—probably at the ground—and allow new shoots to restore the beauty and vigor of youth.

BEST SILO IS NOT ALWAYS THE MOST EXPENSIVE ONE

Canadian Dairyman

No doubt a large number of farmers are contemplating the erection of concrete silos this coming summer. We have seen a great deal about silos in your paper and thought our experience might be of value to some. Although I am a young man, I have worked on the farm all my life and have had considerable experience with silos of different kinds. On my father's farm, we had one of the old fashioned, square board silos. It gave very good satisfaction but we found that a large quantity of the silage spoiled in the corners. When I moved onto a farm of my own, I erected a concrete silo, 12 feet in diameter and 28 feet high, with walls eight inches thick. The bottom was made of cement and shaped like a saucer. We used 28 barrels of Portland cement to construct it. It took seven men four and one-half days to build it, it cost about $200 all told. After it was complete I found it too small for the money it cost. The silage it contained was spoiled slightly for about six feet from the top along the edges, a white mould having formed for about four inches in from the edge. It gradually got less as we went down. But I did not mind that as it entirely disappeared after the first six feet. The next 15 feet was really excellent ensilage, and I was delighted with my silo. As we neared the bottom, however, I noticed it began to get soft and soggy and the bottom four feet was practically worthless. It was just like vinegar.

This spring, I purchased about nine feet of silage that was in a round stave silo of one of my neighbors. This silage was taken from the bottom of the silo. The owner told me that the silo had been in use about 12 years and had cost him $60. It looked good for 12 years more at least. You may judge my surprise when I found that in the nine feet in the bottom of the silo, I did not find one bushel of spoiled silage, not even on the bottom and the silage had geen dumped in upon the bare ground.

Now, I should be pleased to hear from some men who have had experience with silos whether or not this juice could be drained off with tile placed in the bottom of the silo.—Arthur Christie, Dundas Co., Ont.

The experience of this man is more evidence showing that the most expensive article is not always the best. A cheap wooden stave silo will frequently give as good satisfaction as the more expensive kinds. Had there been provision made for drainage in this cement silo of our subscriber's, he would not have experienced this loss of silage at the bottom of his silo. The mistake is frequently made of making the bottom of the silo too tight. Where no drainage is allowed for, especially if the corn be immature at the time of filling the silo there is sure to be waste when the last of the silage is taken out.—Editor.

TWO VERY HANDY BAGS DESCRIBED

Patterns That Should be of Interest to The Ladies.

From the Canadian Dairyman

BAGS are among the useful articles which never can be too numerous. With each new one is found some use and they consequently make most acceptable and satisfactory gifts. Here are two that are excellent, each of its sort, and which are designed for quite different uses.

No. 1 forms a convenient receptacle for soiled handkerchiefs and the like, while No. 2 is designed for the needle woman. In the illustration both are made from pretty cretonne with ribbon, but any effective material that may be liked can be utilized. If an exceedingly handsome bag is desired, brocaded or striped silk will be found desirable, while for the less costly ones there are any variety of flowered cotton stuffs that are eminently attractive.

No. 1 is made with two circular portions that are joined and stitched together across the corners, while an opening is cut in one portion and finished with a wooden ring to which the ribbon hanger is attached. No. 2 is made with two circular portions that are lined and joined at the centre with a piece of stiff cardboard between the two which forms a firm foundation for the centre. They are then stitched together on indicated lines, while ribbon hangers are attached between these lines, which, when drawn together, form a number of convenient and generally useful pockets while the centre of the bag provides the main receptacle.

SOME VERY USEFUL POINTERS

Advice That Should be Useful to Farmers Of District.

From the Canadian Dairyman

1. Do not be in a hurry to let the animals on the pastures.

2. Corn land. If it was not plowed last autumn, plow shallow, just before planting, especially if there be couch or quack grass in the land. Work the surface thoroughly before planting.

3. Sowing Corn. Watch for a warm condition of soil. Quick germination is desirable. Sow fairly thick, then thin out in June.

4. Harrow the corn land lightly, and thoroughly, just before the corn comes up; also after it is well up, and thus save hoeing, and hasten the growth. Use a slanting tooth harrow.

5. Plant some pumpkins in the corn, or roots, after they are up.

6. If clover has not been sown with wheat, oats, barley or peas, harrow all with a slanting tooth harrow, when the crops are 6 to 8 inches high.

7. If any part of the meadow has been winter-killed, plow up and resow with spring rye or barley.

8. Bees. Examine all colonies. See that they have a good laying queen, and plenty of stores.

9. Between fruit and clover bloom, uncap one side of a frame of honey each alternate evening; keep up brood rearing. Strong colonies in May give best results.

10. Open all windows of the cellar and root house. If in use, put on screens.

11. A coating of whitewash will do the cellar good.

SHOULD NOT SHIP TOO EARLY

Foolish Policy to Ship Cheese Before it is Ready.

From the Canadian Dairymad

It is a penny wise and a pound foolish policy for makers to allow cheese to be shipped before it is ready. They lose in several ways. Cheese shipped a couple of days old is not cheese but curd. It reaches the consumer in a raw condition. It is insipid and of inferior quality, and injures the reputation of the maker as well as that of the factory in which it was made.

Then the maker should know his cheese. He cannot learn much about them if they leave his hands before they are sufficiently matured. He should study his product after it changes from curd to cheese. The results of his methods of making on the cured product can then be noted and lessons learned that will be valuable in future work. Makers cannot afford to be without this information. They cannot make progress and perfect themselves in their business unless the cheese are studied after, at least, a couple of weeks on the curing room shelves.

Some makers are said to encourage shipping "green" as it saves them the time and labor of looking after their cheese in the curing room. This is a mistaken idea. They lose more than they gain by it. Make the cheese after the most approved plan. Retain control over it until it is cheese. If the quality is good your reputation will be enhanced. If it is poor you will be no worse off than if it were shipped when a day or two old. Good cheese can be made bad by shipping "green." Bad cheese cannot be improved by so doing.

HOW BIRDS SHOULD BE FED

Some Information About the Hopper System.

From the Canadian Dairyman

Certain radical changes have been introduced in the methods of feeding our birds. These changes followed the introduction of the "Hopper system" and I have brought a hopper for your inspection. By the old way the food was given to the fowls. By the new way the birds help themselves to the food, be it whole or ground grain, grit or oyster shells, all of which are contained in one or more hoppers. The hoppers are really feeding troughs divided into compartments. From the hoppers—which are usually hung on the wall—the hens help themselves to their food whenever they feel inclined to do so. It is much the same method as the old one of keeping the food before the birds all the time.

SEASON BACKWARD IN ONTARIO

Many Factories Not Open Until After Tenth of This Month.

From the Canadian Dairyman

Chief Instructor Publow reports the season as being very backward in Eastern Ontario. Many factories that opened up other years on May 1st will not begin making this season till May 10th or after. The make of cheese in the factories now in operation is about one-third less than last year at this time. The instructors are busy visiting the factories and report considerable improvement in the buildings and the equipment at many of those already visited.

ARE OBSTRUCTIVE

Conservative Caucus Refuses to Accept Compromise.

THE DEBATE MUST PROCEED

Mr. Borden Admits That Sir Wilfrid's Offer Is Fair But Opposition Decline to Accept It—Debate Has Lasted Seven Days Already—Business Will Be Hampered Because Money Has Not Been Voted.

Ottawa, May 14.—Two things happened yesterday during the debate on the Aylesworth election bill.

R. L. Borden said he regarded the Prime Minister's proposals of Tuesday as reasonable and honorable, but he could not understand his intentions regarding further modifications. He demanded that the first clause be dropped altogether, but did not announce what would happen if the Prime Minister neglected to comply. The Conservatives, however, in caucus, decided to continue the fight indefinitely and refuse supply, until the bill is amended in accordance with their desires.

The other event was W. D. Staple's spectacular production of the election bill, framed by Sifton and turned down by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, which bill Sir Wilfrid Laurier had declared had never existed.

Mr. Borden spoke just before the adjournment at 6 o'clock. Just what the Prime Minister's proposals on Tuesday were he was not able to perfectly understand. Referring to the suggestion that the revision names would be left to the county judges, he said: "We are prepared to accept the proposal in that regard; indeed, we regard the proposal as reasonable and honorable, but beyond that, whether he intends to abide by the terms of the bill, I confess I am not able to seize his intentions. I can only repeat what I have said that we on this side of the House think that the first section ought to be withdrawn altogether. We do not consider it fair that two provinces which have reasonable laws on their statute books should be singled out merely for the reason that some parties within those provinces have made complaints as to the unfairness of the laws."

He thought the Prime Minister was disposed to believe that it was not the intention to interfere with the secrecy of the ballot and that he was impressed with the vital necessity of preserving the secrecy. Instead of this clause Mr. Borden would make the instructions to the deputy returning officers so distinct that they would not fail to understand them and he would provide for adequate punishment for those deputies who failed to carry out those instructions. He would also provide for simultaneous elections, except in the Yukon.

Reverting to the refusal to grant supply Mr. Borden reminded Sir Wilfrid of his action in 1896 in refusing to vote money for the actual expenditure of the country.

In closing he said that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's statement that the Manitoba lists were "not satisfactory to the Grits" was frank, but what would be the result of, when the Conservatives came into power, they would adopt the principle that the provincial lists of Quebec and Nova Scotia should not be used, simply because the Legislatures of those provinces happened to be in the hands of the Liberals? The bill as brought down was an offence against common-sense, in view of the absence of any complaint by the Liberal members of the Manitoba Legislature.

W. D. Staples (Macdonald, Man.) said he had hoped the Premier would have the courage of his convictions and withdraw the bill, so as to allow the business of the country to go on. Why did he not withdraw clause 17 regarding the ballot? Why was Sir Wilfrid so anxious to get a slap at the people of Manitoba? He had refused to allow the people of the province one stick of timber, an acre of land or an ounce of mineral, and now he was attempting to put his hands on the franchise, to pluck it from the people.

He asked the Liberals from Manitoba who were forcing this legislation to come out and fight fairly. Mr. Staples then referred to the bill drafted in 1903 and which was strangled in infancy by the then Minister of Justice, Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had denied the existence of such a bill.

"If," said Sir Wilfrid, "such a bill was drafted it never was to my knowledge."

Mr. Staples produced it from his pocket. It was printed at the Dominion Printing Bureau.

Sir Wilfrid said: "I can't deny it, but if it was done it was without my knowledge."

Holding up the bill Mr. Staples proceeded. It was "conceived in iniquity, born in sin, killed by a Minister of Justice and buried by the same Minister of Justice, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, and now resurrected by a Minister of Injustice." The bill of 1903 incorporated the principles of the present bill for the purpose of gagging the will of the people of Manitoba. Mr. Staples then proceeded to read the bill.

"To my knowledge it was never presented to me," repeated the Prime Minister.

"Fortunately," continued Mr. Staples, "we had as Minister of Justice a man who would not allow such an iniquitous and nefarious piece of legislation to pass, but now we have a Minister of Injustice."

Mr. Speaker ruled the expression unparliamentary and it was withdrawn.

The Prime Minister again rose. He explained that all bills introduced by the Government were first discussed by council and if they were not approved they were not brought down. He had no recollection that this bill had been brought before council, but he promised to enquire of his colleagues. If brought before council, certainly it was adopted.

Mr. Staples declared that the bill was drafted by Mr. Sifton, assisted by Liberal lawyers; that it was submitted to Sir Charles Fitzpatrick and he refused to allow any such iniquity to be brought down.

Concluding Mr. Staples announced his intention "to stay here and fight as long as I have the opportunity. We are prepared to stand behind our leader and he is prepared to stand behind us."

Mr. Carvell followed, entering into a long discussion of the Manitoba registration and announcing that he gave support to the bill, which, however, did not go far enough to suit him. He would like to see the principle of registration eliminated from the voters' lists of every province of the Dominion.

In reply to Col. Sam Hughes, Sir Frederick Borden said it was not correct to say that troops were not going to Quebec. It was a fact, however, that the annual camps of instruction would be held throughout the Dominion this year as usual, and not at a central point near Quebec, as had been proposed. The annual drill of the city corps would be held at headquarters as in the past. The railways could not carry the troops and the public at the same time.

Mr. Borden was told by Sir Wilfrid Laurier that he hoped Judge Cassels' investigation into the Marine Department would be completed before Jan. 1.

Mr. Bennett further probed the dredging at Matchedash bay, and claimed to have established that the country was overcharged for the work done. According to Coghill, a witness from Toronto, one Gendron, acted not only as a Government inspector, but as manager of the company whom he was supposed to be watching.

Some further evidence was offered in the charges made by Major Hodgins. The latter took the stand and commenced his evidence.

In the Senate the adoption of the closure was advocated by Senators McMullen and G. W. Ross in discussing a resolution of the former to invite the Commons to consider the advisability of arranging a more equal division of legislation between the two Houses and the adoption of rules governing debate which will limit the time of discussion.

Sir Richard Cartwright thought it would be well if a larger portion of private legislation originated in the Senate. He favored the abolition of the Hansard. Sir Mackenzie Bowell agreed as to Hansard. After others had expressed their views the motion carried.

More Contracts on the T. & N. O. R.R.

Toronto, May 14.—Several important contracts were awarded by the Temiskaming & Ontario Railway Commission yesterday. Several concrete culverts and abutments will be constructed by Demens & Fraser of New Hamburg. H. C. Dunbar of Haileyburg will build the freight shed there, and R. R. Woods of Latchford will build the icehouse at Englehart. About $80,000 will be spent by the commission this season in new buildings and improvements. The work was eagerly sought after by contractors and in all 69 tenders were considered. Besides these over twenty-five tenders were sent in too late.

To Have a City Regiment.

Guelph, May 14.—It is stated in military circles that Guelph is to have a city regiment in the immediate future. Some years ago an agitation was started to similar effect and the names of 400 prospective recruits were pledged, but, owing to the lack of an armory at that time, the project did not come to a head. Now that objection has been removed, two companies of the 30th regiment will serve as a nucleus and the name will be the Wellington Guards. The uniform will resemble that of the famous Coldstreams, with scarlet tunics and busbies.

Woman Suffrage In New Brunswick.

St. John, N.B., May 14.—A large delegation from the recently reorganized Woman's Suffrage Association, appeared before the Government at Fredericton and asked that the franchise be extended to women. A similar request was made ten years ago, when Mr. Emmerson was Premier. He prepared and introduced a bill satisfactory to the Suffrage Association, which, however, met with scant support. Although the Government to-day promised consideration, the movement does not appear promising.

Would Impeach Judge Martin.

Vancouver, B.C., May 14.—A singular deadlock exists with regard to the efforts of the Vancouver Bar Association to secure the impeachment of Justice Martin for alleged refusal to perform judicial duties.

Every Dominion, Parliamentary and Senate representative of British Columbia has in turn refused to present a petition. That the matter will be officially brought to the attention of the Dominion Parliament is unquestioned.

WORK OF TORNADOS

Further Damage Is Reported From Western States.

MANY PERSONS WERE KILLED

Five Towns In Nebraska Practically Wiped Out—Towns In Texas and Louisiana Also Suffer—In Addition to the Killed a Large Number Injured—Loss to Property Is Said to Be a Half Million.

Omaha, Neb., May 14.—Reports which came in slowly from the tornado stricken district south of this city added three victims to the list of dead. The monetary damage is estimated at a half million dollars.

The casualty list continues to grow as communication is partly restored with the five towns which suffered most from the storm and the list of the injured, some of whom are fatally hurt, will reach at least 50. At least three other persons are believed to have received injuries which will prove fatal.

Nearly every one of the five towns in the path of the storm — Bellevue, Papillion, Richfield, Meadows and Louisville—were badly wrecked and the village of Fort Creek and the post at the point suffered heavy damage.

A Dallas, Texas, despatch says: One person is known to have been killed, several others sustained serious injuries and considerable property damage resulted from a tornado which swept through the northern section of this state. At Crandall, about fifty houses were wrecked and several persons were injured.

The town of Gilliam, 30 miles north of Shreveport, La., is reported wiped out and a number of persons killed. A relief train has been sent to Gilliam, which is a village of about 100 inhabitants.

BRITISH COLUMBIA METHODISTS

Opening of Annual Conference at Vancouver.

Vancouver, B. C., May 14.—The Methodist Conference opened yesterday with an attendance of forty ministers. The formal opening was preceded by an address on the attitude of the church towards present day issues by Rev. G. W. Dean. Rev. Dr. Carman also gave an address. Only two withdrawals were reported. One from New Westminster caused considerable discussion, owing to the member having married without leave of the conference. The following members were received into full connection and will be ordained in due course: Charles F. Connor, B.A., J. Wesley Miller, B.A., B.D.; Frederick Odell, B.A.; D. M. Perley, B.A., B.D.

Dominion Steel vs. Dominion Coal.

Montreal, May 14.—A most important announcement is made that the Dominion Steel Co.'s lawyers have applied to the judicial committee of the Privy Council to postpone the hearing of the Coal-Steel case till the month of October. This move is very significant in view of the rumors of settlement which have been in circulation for some time past.

The Dominion Coal Co. will not oppose the application of the other corporation, as it will further ensure them at least the extra price they are now being paid for the coal.

Kaiser to Meet King.

Madrid, May 14.—With reference to the sojourn at Palma Majorca, the capital of the Balearic Islands, of a German diplomatist, it is asserted that the forthcoming visit of the Kaiser and King Alfonso, on the occasion of the celebration of the independence centenary, the King wil visit Palma and other Mediterranean ports, escorted by the whole Spanish navy.

Political circles, therefore, are beginning to discuss the probability of the meeting of the Kaiser and the Spanish King.

A Successful Flying Machine.

Elmira, N.Y., May 14.—A special to The Star-Gazette from Hammondsport says:

Prof. Alex. Graham Bell's flying machine, "White Wings," which he is making for the U. S. Government, made a successful flight near this village. Prof. Bell was accompanied on the aerial voyage by Lieut. Selfridge of the U. S. Signal Corps, who has been detailed to inspect the experiments. The machine is heavier than air.

Conference at Washington.

Washington, May 14.—The White House was the scene of the assemblage of many of the most distinguished figures in the political and industrial life of the United States. The occasion was the conference of President Roosevelt with the governors of nearly all the states and territories to consider the question of conservation of the country's natural resources. The conference will continue until Friday.

May Abolish Subsidies.

Victoria, B.C., May 14.—News was brought by the steamer Tosa Maru, just arrived, that a committee has been appointed by the Japanese Government to investigate the possibilities for reduction of the subsidies to Japanese shipping lines. A total of $6,500,000 is paid in subversions.

Fire Brigade Resigns.

Peterboro, May 14.—As a result of the decision of the City Council to establish a permanent paid fire department, all the members of the volunteer department, including Chief Rutherford, have resigned. The firemen have been persuaded to keep their positions until June 1.

Motto Restored.

Washington, May 14.—The Senate passed the House bill restoring the motto "In God We Tust" on coins of the United States.

Toronto Enterprise Abroad.

Guelph, May 14.—A Toronto man named Hutchinson is talking of establishing a large dairy in this city. Another Toronto man wants to open a meat market that will sell only Canada inspected meat.

TEN THOUSAND DROWNED.

Great Tidal Wave Causes Distruction of Life and Property.

Vancouver, May 14.—News of one of the greatest disasters that China has ever known, a sudden tidal bore in the Yangtse Kiang, which involved the loss of nearly 10,000 lives at Hangkow, was brought by the steamer Titan, just arrived. A bore 26 feet in height flooded without warning down the river, overturning thousands of junks, sampans and small boats and wrecking some large river steamers.

News of the catastrophe had previously come by cable.

Mr. Bell of Yokohama, who arrived by the Blue Funnel liner states that the disaster has caused tremendous loss of life, far greater, it was estimated, than the great typhoon at Hong Kong of 18 months ago, when 10,000 Chinese were snuffed out.

It is usual, said Mr. Bell, to send a telegram down the river when such a freshet occurs. The telegram was delayed, finally arriving about the same time as the wall of water which swept down upon the sleeping river people in the early morning, overturning thousands of Chinese in the torrent that swept seaward. Some 3,000 Chinese were sleeping in sampans and small craft, in sheds and huts by the river side at Hangkow, and were enveloped by the great wave which swept broken junks, splintered sampans and a heterogenous mass of debris with swarms of drowned Chinese mixed with the wreckage.

The scene for many days after the disaster was horrible, the river side being strewn with dead and debris of wrecked craft for many miles.

A SECOND KLONDYKE.

Promising New Gold Field at Findlay River.

Vancouver, B.C., May 14.—The first authentic news from the new gold fields of Findlay River has reached Vancouver, and indicate that the district is likely to become a new Klondyke. Early in February a syndicate of Vancouver and Victoria men sent forth G. Rosenthal and George Barnes to make quick investigation and report.

The men rushed overland to Ingenika river and have now returned to Hasleton. A telegraph states that the new field is very promising. Practically all the gold has been found on McConnell Creek, a tributary of the Ingenika. Seventy men are working and nearly the whole creek is staked. The net return on the best claims averaged $20 per day per man in gold.

Western Insane Asylum.

Edmonton, May 14.—The plans are under preparation in the Department of Public Works for an asylum to be erected at Ponoka, Alberta, at a cost of $200,000. Eight hundred acres of land have been purchased by the Government.

A TRUCE DECLARED IN DEBATE

Will There Be an Immediate Dissolution of Parliament?

FEELING OF UNCERTAINTY

Election Bill Laid Off For a Day—Some Government Bills Disposed of—Letter From Mr. Cyr, M.P., Denying Statements Made by Mr. Foster—Government Will Ask House to Vote Supplies.

Ottawa, May 25.—Yesterday the House was occupied with miscellaneous matters, a temporary truce being signed for the purpose of getting through a few Government bills of a non-contentious nature.

To-day the fight on the election bill will be resumed, and will continue till one side gives way or the Government is forced to ask for dissolution. This was decided at a Conservative caucus.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved the appointment of the following committee to investigate the finances of the Quebec Bridge Co.—Maclean (Lunenburg), Talbot, Galliher, Chisholm (Antigonish), Monk, Barker and Walsh (Huntingdon).

Mr. Foster moved the adjournment "to discuss a matter of urgent public importance," namely, the present condition of the Marine Department in view of the slow progress of the Cassels' enquiry. He discussed the matter at some length when Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he was out of order in discussing a matter that had been referred to a commission.

After Mr. Borden had said a few words the motion to adjourn was declared lost.

On a question of privilege Mr. Jackson asked leave to read a letter from Mr. Cyr, M. P., denying certain statements made by Mr. Foster. After reading part of the letter it was ruled out.

Mr. Robitaille drew attention to certain remarks made by Mr. Hunter, Deputy Minister of Public Works, derogatory to French-Canadians. It was ruled not to be a question of privilege.

A resolution providing a salary of $8,000 to the chief justice and $7,000 each to three justices of the British Columbia Court of Appeal, was passed, and the bill establishing the new court was put through its initial stages.

The House went into committee on Hon. A. B. Aylesworth's bill to amend the Exchequer Court Act, which provides for the appointment of substitutes for judges absent on leave or for a judge who may be interested in any particular case, or for a substitute to obviate delay.

A bill making some changes in the Railway Commission was read a third time.

Replying to Mr. Foster, the Finance Minister said bonds to the amount of £3,200,000 had been guaranteed and issued to date in respect of the western division of the G. T. P. The bonds had been delivered to purchasers and the proceeds remitted to Canada, amounted to $14,559,673. This included interim interest accretions on instalment payments up to date of remittance.

Mr. Brodeur told Mr. Taylor in the House yesterday that the purchase price of the ice-breaker Montcalm was $265,233; repairs for four years cost $119,377, expended for furnishing $6,853 and total expenditure, including salaries of crews, $657,725.

Answering Dr. Roche, the Minister of Customs said rebates of duty paid the Massey Harris Co. in the past three years amounted to, on goods for export, 1905-06, $83,153; 1906-07, $90,554; 1907-08, $142,410. On goods for home consumption, 1907-08, $34,486.

Mr. Brodeur informed J. J. Hughes (Kings) that the contract for the new ice-breaker steamer for Northumberland Straits had been let to Vickers, Sons & Maxim, at a cost of £103,000, the ship to be ready in ten months.

The abstract of insurance companies' business for 1907 was laid on the table. Net amount of life insurance in force $689,324,506, an increase of over thirty-three millions. Fire insurance companies received for premius $8,595,041 and paid for losses $5,894,959.

An attempt will be made to-day to break the deadlock that has arisen over the election bill.

Meanwhile the talk of dissolution is heard everywhere. The Government will renew the request for a supply bill covering one-eighth of the estimates and if this is refused it will rest with the leader of the House to withdraw the objectionable clauses or appeal to His Excellency for a dissolution.

The Liberals are to hold a caucus to consider the situation.

Increased Police and the Lash.

Toronto, May 15.—As a remedy for the increasing prevalence of crime the grand jury in its presentment to Mr. Justice Anglin advocated increased police service in Toronto, shorter sentences and the use of the lash as punishment for all cases of aggravated assaults, and life imprisonment for criminals of hereditary tendencies.

Miners Must Not Drink.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 15.—The H. B. Frick Coke Co., a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, has ordered into effect a new code of rules governing its mines and miners, the most remarkable provision of which is the prohibiting of the company's miners from drinking, whether on duty or off.

Vancouver, B.C., May 15.—At the Methodist Conference, Rev. John Robson of Wallace street Church, Nanaimo, was elected president of the conference by a vote of 62 out of 88.

Will Camp at Goderich.

Ottawa, May 15.—As a result of the conflict between the military and the moral reformers of London, over the sale of liquor at the military camp, the men of District No. 1 will this year encamp at Goderich, instead of at London. There will be 3,500 men in the camp. It had at first been intended to go to London, but the military protested.

LORD ABERDEEN ACCUSED.

He and Mr. Birrell Charged With the Theft of Crown Jewels.

London, May 15.—A warrant for the arrest of Augustine Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, "for the theft of the crown jewels from Dublin Castle," was the demand made by an elderly man before the magistrate of the Westminster police court.

The applicant, who claims to be an Irish barrister, handed up a statement charging that "Lord Aberdeen, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and Mr. Birrell had committed the theft in conjunction." He declared that in support of this charge he had circumstantial evidence of an extraordinary character. The magistrate took the statement and read it, after which he told the applicant that he could, if he desired, proceed through the Attorney-General, the public prosecutor.

The Irishman thereupon commenced to argue in favor of immediate action on the part of the magistrate, but the latter instructed the officials to remove him from court.

UNITED DANISH EMPIRE.

Federal Union of Denmark and Iceland Under One King.

Copenhagen, May 15.—A report on the future relations of Denmark and Iceland has been presented to King Frederick with a draft bill. It must be approved by both Parliaments. The bill constitutes Iceland "a free, autonomous and independent country united to Denmark by a common king and common interest, and forming with Denmark a state federation—the United Danish Empire." King Frederick will be entitled to call himself King of Denmark and King of Iceland. Various concessions have been granted to Iceland giving a greater degree of independence.

Twice Derailed In One Trip.

Moncton, N.B., May 15.—The Maritime express leaving Montreal on Wednesday was twice derailed.

Five miles west of Millstream as the train was running about 30 miles an hour, the locomotive left the rails and was followed by the entire train. The Pullman cars Bellechasse and Gloucester, dining-car Yamaska and locomotive careened into the ditch and lay on their sides; the other cars left the rails, but remained standing. Despite the fact that there was a numbere of passengers in the derailed cars, none were hurt, only Fireman Coulombs being injured.

Bought Large Coal Area In B. C.

Vancouver, May 15.—M. Cohen, representing a Germany company, has arrived after arranging for the purchase of twelve miles of coal lands in Brazean, Big Horn and Saskatchewan Basins, in the foothills of the Rockies. Prospecting on the property is to be carried on this summer under the direction of James McElroy, who lately resigned as geologist of the Crow's Nest Co.

The company intends to build a railway through these fields from Innisfail 100 miles. The entire cost is estimated at three and a half million dollars.

Sensational Scene In Court.

New York, May 15.—A sensational scene was enacted in the Harlem Police Court when a young Italian woman named Michelena Carbisiere, tried to shoot Joseph Negri, who was accused of the betrayal of her sister. She probably would have been successful in her design had it not been for the prompt action of a reporter who stood near her and seized the weapon. The woman struggled so desperately that it required the assistance of several policemen to subdue her. She was placed under arrest.

China Won't Sign.

Pekin, May 15.—Contrary to expectations, China has unexpectedly refused to sign the agreement proposed by Japan for the settlement of Yalu timber controversy. The statement given out that an agreement on this matter was reached was erroneous. This proposal confirmed the creation of a joint stock lumber company of Japanese and Chinese, with a view to carrying on a business of cutting lumber in the forests on the right bank of the Yalu.

London, May 15.—The gates of the Franco-British exposition were thrown open to the public at noon yesterday, and in spite of the threatening weather, a large crowd was present to witness the inaugural ceremonies, which occurred later in the afternoon.

CASABLANCA SEES WAR BEING WAGED

French and Spanish Soldiers Shoot at Each Other.

ONE KILLED; SOME WOUNDED

Considerable Excitement the Result—French Minister Demands Details and Explanations—Was Result of Quarrel Between Spaniards and an Algerian Sharpshooter—Diplomatic Relations Safe.

Casablanca, May 15.—There was an encounter here May 12 between French and Spanish troops quartered in the port. The Spaniards fired first, it is alleged, and the French Zouaves replied in kind. One Spaniard was killed and another was wounded, while the French had two men wounded. At the conclusion of the incident Col. Desmoutiers assumed command over the area reserved under the policing agreement to Spain.

The encounter, which took place at one of the city gates, was the outcome of a quarrel between some Spanish soldiers and an unarmed Algerian sharpshooter. The Algerian was knocked down and beaten by the Spaniards and is now dying. A sergeant of the Zouaves, who was in charge of the gate, rushed to the rescue of the sharpshooter and with the aid of a French subaltern tried to intervene. The sergeant and the officer were without arms. At this point some Spaniards behind a wall opened fire. The interchange of shots continued several minutes. The firing from the French side was done by Zouaves.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs, upon being informed of the encounter at Casablanca between French and Spanish troops, demanded details and explanations from Paris.

The matter has created considerable excitement here. Some newspapers advise the immediate withdrawal of the Spanish troops, saying there is bad blood between them and the French and that a repetition of the trouble is likely if they remain in contact.

Paris, May 15.—It is declared in official circles to-day that the Casablanca incident is not expected to in any way strain the diplomatic relations between France and Spain.

ELECTRICAL REDUCTION PLANT.

Toronto Capital Interested in Smelter at Sturgeon Falls.

North Bay, May 15.—The Northern Ontario Refining & Reduction Co. at Sturgeon Falls is completing its plant and expect soon to be ready for operations. Small furnaces have been operated for some time, and tests have been very satisfactory. The process is electrical and every by-product is utilized. A reorganization of the company, just effected, brings in additional working capital. Mr. George Gillies of Toronto secured the controlling interest and is now in Montreal hastening delivery of machinery and equipment.

The Erindale Murder.

Toronto, May 15.—So positive was the testimony at the inquest at Erindale that the jury returned a verdict of murder against Stephen Swyryda in connection with the death of Olecka Liuteck, the youth who was found on May 3 with his head crushed in at Fasken's bush, near Clarkson's. The jury took less than half an hour to arrive at the following conclusion: "That Olecka Liuteck came to his death on or about the night of April 16, from being struck on the head with a club or weapon of similar character by one Stiffin Swyryda, who did thereby kill and murder the said Olecka Liuteck." Swyryda was arrested here a few days ago on suspicion.

One Man Was Killed.

Montreal, May 15.—When the steamer Ottawa arrived in port the captain reported that when his steamer came into collision a man named John Taylor was killed in his bunk, and four other men injured by the falling of a large quantity of iron on them.

PEAT FOR FUEL.

Great Industry Projected to Exploit Canada's Deposits.

Montreal, May 14.—That peat may be the future fuel of the Dominion is the contention of Charles E. Jenkins of Boston, who is about to organize a company for the exploitation of the Canadian peat industries. He has already purchased a tract of land at Caledonia Springs and has obtained an order from the G.T.R. for three thousand tons per day as soon as the plant is running.

The Grand Trunk will use it for traction purposes and say it is both more economical and more convenient for use on locomotives than coal.

Rural Telephone Lines.

Brockville, May 14.—Permission has been granted to the Addison and North Augusta Rural Telephone Companies to make connections with the Brockville exchange of the Bell Telephone. Both will construct their lines to the corporation limits of Brockville. When the work is completed fully one hundred and fifty farmers will have communication with Brockville.

Kept the Bishop Busy.

London, May 14.—At a meeting in support of the Pan-Anglican Conference, the Bishop of London spoke on the growth of Anglicanism in Quebec, Montreal, Toronto and London, explaining humorously how his idea of taking a quiet holiday across the Atlantic was upset by finding the largest halls in the towns visited crowded with people wanting to hear what is being done in the old country.

Wharves Submerged.

Kingston, May 14.—The wharf at Stella is said to be the only one between Kingston and Picton, a distance of forty miles, that is above water. All the others are submerged, and when boats land, the crew have to wade through six inches and a foot of water.

UNITED STATES INTERESTED.

Prof. Bell and His Flying Machine, "White Wings."

Elmira, N.Y., May 15.—A special to The Star-Gazette, from Hammondsport yesterday, says:

Showers which had softened the track yesterday, prevented the intended flight of Prof. Alex. Bell's aeroplane, the "heavier-than-air" flying machine, in which the United States Government is interested, and which prematurely was reported successful.

Prof. Bell's machine, "White Wings," is equipped with a 30-horse power motor, and great sails which spread between 40 and 50 feet. In form and equipment it is not unlike the "Red Wings" machine with which Prof. Bell had considerable success.

Until such time as the White Wings makes a successful flight, which the inventor confidently hopes will not be long distant, he will not discuss publicly the smaller details of the mechanism.

Lieut. Selfridge of the United States signal corps is here, detailed by the Government to watch the progress of the experiments and report the feasibility of utilizing the aeroplane in warfare. Within the next few days it is expected Prof. Bell will attempt a flight with his new machine.

CARELESSNESS WAS THE CAUSE

How the Accident on Steamer Brockville Happened.

VALVE WAS TAMPERED WITH

Coroner's Jury Lay Blame on Some Person or Persons Unknown—One Safety Valve Had Been Clamped Down, the Other Was Useless—John Dodds, Government Inspector, Gives Evidence.

Toronto, May 14.—"That Adolphe Savageau came to his death by scalding on the steamer Brockville, through the negligence of some person or persons unknown, by interfering ignorantly with the valves on said boilers."

This was the verdict of the coroner's jury, enquiring into the death of the chief engineer of the steamer Brockville, on which the collapse of a boiler tube cost the lives of four men Saturday last.

The evidence showed that the boiler had been cut off from the only guage, which would indicate the rise of steam after one side of a twin safety valve had been clamped down and the second screwed to a point where 260 to 265 pounds' pressure was needed to even start relief, when the rated strength of the boiler was 160 pounds. All this had been done under Savageau's orders.

James J. Conlan, chief engineer on the steamer Kingston and formerly on the Brockville, said he had found a clamp on one safety valve clamped down so that it could not work. The other valve looked all right, but he did not think it could have been in working order or the accident could not have happened.

John Dodds, Government inspector of boilers and machinery, gave evidence as to the boiler and safety valve. The tube which burst should have carried 235 pounds pressure.

Merriton village has decided to construct an electric light plant at a cost of $5,550, to be controlled by the municipality.

Livingstone Mattair of Haileybury, aged 11, died in the General Hospital, Toronto, from a bullet wound in the breast accidentally inflicted by a playmate.

A jury at Toronto after being out nine hours found Findlay guilty on one charge of theft and disagreed on another charge. He had previously been acquitted of a third charge.

Twenty-nine prisoners were killed and thirty wounded in the attempt to break out of the Government jail by blowing a hole in the wall with a bomb, at Yekaterinoslav, Russia.

F. J. Fulton, chief commissioner of crown lands and works for British Columbia, warns the public that Prince Rupert lots advertised for sale are not at the Grand Trunk terminus.

Wreckage found on the west coast of Vancouver Island is thought to be from the German ship Artemis, loaded at Vancouver in April. After she sailed a great storm swept the straits.

Nominations for the Ontario Legislature were made yesterday in the following constituencies: East Algoma, W. R. Smyth, Cons.; N. Waterloo, H. Martin, Socialist; W. Elgin, F. W. Sutherland, Liberal; Port Arthur, Geo. Moorhouse, Labor; S. Toronto, G. E. Gibbard, Liberal, for the second seat the Liberal will unite with the Independent Labor party; E. Toronto, Hon. Dr. Pyne and T. R. Whitesides, Conservatives.

Charged With Illegal Operation.

Toronto, May 14.—The trial of Dr. A. G. Fletcher, at the Criminal Assizes, for causing the death of Jesse Gockl in March, through an illegal operation, commenced yesterday. T. C. Robinette, counsel for the prisoner, submitted to Justice Anglin after the crown witnesses had given their evidence that the crown had not brought forward any evidence connecting his client with the alleged operation. He argued that the story as told by Harry Saunders pointed out that there had been no bargaining as to the price of the alleged operation, and that the doctor had responded to regular call. Judge Anglin decided that the case must go on.

Pacific Mail Route.

London, May 14—(C.A.P.)—In the House of Commons Postmaster-General Buxton stated that if a route more advantageous than the C.P.R. for the far east mails should hereafter become available, its adoption would not be precluded by the proposed contract with the Canadian Pacific.

On the Other Side.

The soldier said, with deep feeling: "Give him something. He helped to save your country."

The child dropped some silver into the beggar's cap, and the old man gratefully replied:

"Merci bien, monsieur!"—London Post.

Pulp and Paper Investigation.

Washington, May 15.—When the wood pulp and print paper investigating committee of the House met yesterday John Norris, the representative of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, placed in evidence a telegram from George Calhoun, Jr., general manager of the Laurentide Paper Mill of Canada, and a letter from Carl Riordan, general manager of the Riordan Paper Mills of Ontario, showing that labor per ton of production is as high in Canada mills as in the United States mills, and in some instances higher, according to Mr. Riordan.

Mr. Norris submitted a copy of a letter which was sent out by the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, to 18,000 publications, in addition to a telegram to 1,300 newspapers, urging a full and prompt reply by newspapers to the printed questions forwarded them by the committee.

Strikers Advised to Go Back.

Montreal, May 15.—There is a split in the ranks of the textile strikers. A circular issued in the name of A. Gignac, general president, advises the strikers to go back to work, and further states that when a vote was taken on May 3 as to whether they should accept the reduction of ten per cent. or go on strike, the vote for accepting the reduction stood 5,960 to 1,450, and that the decision should be to bow to the inevitable, with the understanding that the rate of wages would be increased again as soon as possible. W. Paquette, the general secretary, has gone through the country urging the hands to go on strike.

Attempted Murder and Suicide.

Vancouver, May 15.—Mrs. Lalo Reveira, a Portuguese, was probably fatally stabbed by a countryman named Matsemo, who attempted suicide after he believed he had killed the woman. The latter's husband was absent when Matsemo forced his way into the woman's home.

When the police arrived the place was a shambles. With a pocket knife Matsemo had cut Mrs. Reveira in many places, slashing her breast and back, one cut being two feet long. Then the man cut his own throat. Both may recover, though the woman's condition is precarious.

Building Laws Should Be Enforced.

New York, May 15.—Speaking of the burning of the schoolhouse at Collinwood, a suburb of Cleveland, in which nearly 200 children lost their lives, President Burchell of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, says it is but another of many instances where the interests of the underwriters are linked with the public welfare. "Such examples as that and the burning of the Iroquois Theatre at Chicago, make it nothing short of criminal for municipalities to go on under the old methods when the remedy lies in adequate building laws rigidly enforced."

Plenty of Room at Quebec.

Quebec, May 15.—A careful census of the houses, rooms, etc., to let for the tercentenary just completed shows accommodation ready for at least thirty thousand, and as the tent city with accommodation for six thousand is now assured, not much apprehension is felt as to lack of housing room.

Information just received from Ottawa by local military indicates that at least ten to twelve thousand troops will be here for the fetes.

The One-Cent Drop Letter.

Ottawa, May 14.—The Postmaster-General states no estimate has been made of the decrease or increase in the amount of postal revenue by the proposal to give a one-cent drop letter rate in cities, but he thought it would result in an increase.

Heavy Damages Against a Railway.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 14.—A jury gave a verdict of $34,814.60 in favor of the Cox Coal Co. against the Pennsylvania Railroad as damages for violation of a contract in failing to build sidings in Cambria county.

Had to Jump For Their Lives.

Toronto, May 14.—Fire at the residence of T. H. Bishop, Ontario street, early yesterday morning, assumed such proportions that the occupants were forced to jump 15 feet from a balcony to effect an escape. The three-months-old baby of Mrs. Bishop was tossed from the balcony to a blanket held by the firemen. Sidney Bishop, John Skelton, George Young, Beverley Doucelle, Gordon Wallace and Mrs. Bishop made the leap without injury. Miss Julia Rumsey broke through the blanket and slightly injured her back.

The Ills We Are Heir To.

There are three modes of bearing the ills of life—namely, by indifference, which is the most common; by philosophy, which is the most ostentatious, and by religion, which is the most effectual.—New York Press.

Exporters.

Some very choice cattle, not many, were on sale, and the highest price recorded on this market was paid for one load. Prices ranged from $5.75 to $6.25 per cwt. for steers, and $4.50 to $5.25 for export bulls.

Butchers.

Choice picked lots sold from $5.90 to $6.20; loads of good to choice, $5.60 to $5.90; medium, $5.35 to $5.60; light steers and heifers and good cows, $4.60 to $5.15; fair cows, $4.25 to $4.50; common cows, $3.75 to $4; bulls, $4 to $5; canners, $2 to $3 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

H. & W. Murby report the market active, the demand for choice stockers and feeders being good. Good steers were very scarce, and when a few were found killers pay more than the feeder buyers can afford. Country buyers seem to have an idea that prices will go down as soon as the grassers start to come, and many are holding back. Messrs. Murby did a fair trade and report prices as follows: Good steers, 1000 to 1100 lbs. each, at $4.75 to $5 per cwt.; good steers, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, at $4.25 to $4.75; good steers, 800 to 900 lbs. each, at $3.90 to $4.25; good steers, 600 to 900 lbs. each, at $3.25 to $3.90; light stockers, 400 to 600 lbs. each, at $3 to $3.25.

Milkers and Springers.

Milkers and springers of good quality sold readily to-day at strong rates. Sales ranged from $30 to $60 each, and one extra choice quality cow brought $70; the bulk of the best sold from $40 to $50 each. Light common cows were slow sale at $25 to $30 each.

Veal Calves.

Receipts were liberal and prices easy, at $3 to $4.75, with a few of the picked at a little more money.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts light; prices firm. Export ewes, $5.25 to $5.75; rams, $4 to $4.75; yearling lambs, $6.50 to $7.50; spring lambs, $3 to $6.75 each. A few selected butcher sheep sold up to $6 per cwt.

Hogs.

Receipts moderate; Mr. Harris reports prices unchanged but easy, selects at $6 and lights at $6.75.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, May 14.—Cattle—Good demand and strong; prime steers, $6.75 to $7.25.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 9000 head; sheep, steady; lambs, slow and 10c lower; lambs, $5 to $7.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Beeves—Receipts, 2075; no trading; feeling steady; exports to-day, 2500 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 773; none on sale; feeling nominally steady.

Hogs—Receipts estimated at about 26,000; market 10c lower; choice heavy shipping, $5.45 to $5.50; butchers, $5.45 to $5.52½; best choice, $5.45 to $5.50. Light mixed, $5.40 to $5.45; packing, $5 to $5.45; pigs, $4.15 to $5.15; bulk of sales, $5.40 to $5.45.

Cheese Markets.

Hat Factories Close.

Orange, N.J., May 15.—The eight hat manufacturers in this place have closed their doors, throwing about 2,600 operatives out of employment, because of a failure to reach an agreement as to wages and labor conditions.

Yale "Spoon Men."

For many years down to 1872 the wooden spoon was the most coveted honor of a Yale course. It did not necessarily indicate the highest scholarship, but it was voted by the graduating class to the most popular man. The "spoon man" of a class was its hero, according to the Hartford Courant. The other boys loved him, and he was almost invariably a person who justified that affection. The list of "spoon men" would include some of the most eminent of Yale graduates. There were nine members of each class selected by their classmates, and these were known as "cocks," which is short and English for "cochlearetti." To one of these nine was awarded the spoon, and they all joined in a public performance called the wooden spoon exhibition, at which the ceremony of presentation was gone through with all the wit that a college class could master. The last "spoon man" was Robert B. Lea of Nashville, Tenn., of the class of '71. He died years ago in Paris.

Tricky Maoris.

There was quite a large influx of Europeans at the opening of a public hall in one of the Taranaki villages. The Maoris seemed to have developed a craze for "change." Visitors were approached by a Maori in this wise: "You got two single shillin' and te ikipenny for te half crown?" And the change would be given. Others wanted two sixpences for a shilling, 2 shillings for a florin, and so on. By and by came dinner time. The visitors trooped in and enjoyed their feed. A collection was taken up. Not a soul of them had anything smaller than a 2 shilling piece. That's how the "child of nature" got home on the civilized product.

Mapmaking.

The earliest maps of which we have any knowledge were made in Egypt. They were wooden tablets, on which were traced land and sea, roads, rivers, highways, etc. Marinus of Tyre, 150 A. D., was the first to attempt a map on scientific principles. The maps in use by the Greeks and Romans were fairly accurate, so far as they went, but those in use during the middle ages were alarmingly inaccurate. It is only within recent years, say since the middle of the last century, that it was possible to make a complete and reliable map of the world, and even yet the best map is subject to slight changes.—New York American.

He Saw.

"Fer 2 cents," said the boy with the dirty face, "I'd knock ye down!"

"Here's de 2 cents," said the boy with ragged trousers, tossing the coins at his feet and squaring off belligerently. "Now come on an' try it, durn ye!"

"Wot's de use?" rejoined the other boy, picking them up and backing away. "Ain't no sense in knockin' a feller down w'en ye kin git de mun out'n 'im widout doin' it. See?"—Chicago Tribune.

Looking For Light.

"Do you think Biggins would make a good husband?" asked the conscientious youth.

"Why do you ask?" inquired the girl in surprise.

"Because if you think such a fool as Biggins could manage it I have a good mind to take a chance myself."—Washington Star.

Insomnia.

"Did you try counting 1,000 sheep, as I told you?"

"Yes, doc. But then I got to figuring what I could get for 'em by the pound at present prices, and after that I just couldn't go to sleep."—Kansas City Journal.

His Lead.

Hawkins—How's Henpeck getting on since his marriage? He used to vow that no woman could ever get ahead of him. Hagg—Oh, he's still leading, I suppose, but she's behind—holding the reins.—London Tit-Bits.

A Twisted Answer.

"Don't you ever get homesick, captain?" asked the passenger on the ocean liner.

"No; I'm never home long enough," replied the captain.—Philadelphia Press.

You people who quarrel easily, remember that no quarrel was ever really made up.—Atchison Globe.

BRIDGENORTH OUTLOOK GLOOMY

Mr. J. N. Telford Speaks of the Crop Prospects There.

Examiner Special.

Bridgenorth, May 12.—Mr. J. N. Telford states that the prospects for the farmers are looking very gloomy on account of the backward spring. Considerably grain has been sown on high land, but there are many farmers who have scarcely anything in, and the land is in bad condition now. From May 2 to May 9 inclusive there has fallen on the level 2.60 inches of rain, and it is the low land that is not sowed. With the rain that has fallen the last three days it will be some time before anything will be done on the land. There is no grass, and it is costing more to keep the cows now. A great many farmers have not much feed, as it has been a long, cold winter. It will be some time yet before there will be grass enough for cattle.

FIRST BOAT DOWN

Ajax Arrives at Lakefield From Stony Lake With Scow Load Of Wood---Initial Trip Of The Season.

RAPID CURRENT IN RIVER

The steam tug Ajax, belonging to Mr. J E A Fitzgerald, city, is the first boat to come down from Stony Lake to Lakefield this season. The Ajax brought down a scowload of dry hardwood from Burleigh to Lakefield and would have come down the canal to Peterborough but for the strong current. The wood was shipped to the city per Grand Trunk.

HE WAS WILLING TO GO BACK TO NORTH HARVEY; HAD ENOUGH OF THE CITY

"Let me go back" was the sum total of the plea made by Jonathan Ferguson of North Harvey as he appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning on a charge of being drunk on a public place. Ferguson, who is employed by a lumber firm in Harvey, drifted into town on Wednesday and secured a position unloading schooners, not a waterfront job, however. He admitted to the court that he had been drunk.

"I'll do better in the future," he said, "and will leave town right straight."

The Magistrate allowed him to go, advising him to stay in Harvey, where there was no temptation for him.

"Yes, that's the place for me," agreed the rock townships man, and with an "all right" and "thank you," he took his departure.

INCREASE FOR SONS OF SCOTLAND CAMP IN LAKEFIELD VILLAGE

Mr. Robert Greene, organizer for the Sons of Scotland, was in Lakefield yesterday in the interests of the Munro Camp, Sons of Scotland, there. Mr. Grieve reports good prospects for a large increase in the membership of that camp which has been established for some time.

The Chief of Munro Camp is Mr. John Richardson. Mr. W. Graham is the Secretary and Dr. Frazer the physician.

Mr Grieve returned to the city last night but intends making another visit to Lakefield in a few days.

RIDING ON SIDEWALK IS COSTLY EXPERIMENT AT THE PRESENT TIME

There is no profit in riding a bicycle on the pavement, and cyclists who have been trying the experiment are rapidly finding out the truth of the maxim. One young man who took to the sidewalk on Hunter street between Bethune and Aylmer streets, almost ran over P. C. McGinty and as a result deposited $2 this morning at the police station as a guarantee of good faith. Another rider who escaped the dead yesterday is also out $2, and there is still another case of the same kind to come up to-morrow.

A LOST MANUSCRIPT

Mislaid In Printing Office.

Yesterday's issue of the Examiner appeared without the usual change in Cressman's advertisement, an oversight which means money to many a Peterborough woman, unless she is informed of the contents of the misplaced missive. The advertisement was an announcement of a Mammoth Hand-Emboridered Linen Blouse Front Sale for Saturday (all day). Over one hundred beautiful patterns to choose from. These fronts are a direct import to Cressman's from one of the largest Belfast manufacturers—a firm whose goods they have handled for a number of years and who give them many concessions in the way of underpriced merchandise, especially in linens. These blouse fronts are worth up to two dollars each, but will be sold while they last on Saturday for Forty-Nine cents. They also are placing on sale the same quality of linens by the yard for making the balance of the blouse, at greatly reduced prices—prices that will enable a woman to get the material for an all-linen blouse with hand-embroidered front, at less than one dollar. See Cressman's North Window.

PIONEER SETTLER FROM THE NORTH COMES 800 MILES BY DOG TRAIN

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, May 15.—There has just been before the officials of the Railway and Swamp Lands Branch of the Department of the Interior, William Beech, the first settler in the Fort Churchill district at Hudson Bay. He has come all the way from there, over 2,000 miles, of which 800 were covered by dog train, and gives the Department vitally important information relative to the timber and other resources of the Hudson Bay region. This is specially valuable at present as the Dominion Government is soon, either to build a railway to Hudson Bay, or assist some private company in doing so, and undoubtedly Fort Churchill will be one of the terminals.

Beech has sent the Department a box of Arctic fish which he caught in Hudson Bay several months ago. He brought them on dog sleighs from there to Winnipeg and had them in cold storage there. They reached the Interior Department yesterday and to-day, Friday, were placed in the Dominion Fisheries Exhibit here. Several of them are large salmon. This display of Arctic fish is valuable as it is seldom the officials get any from so far north. As to climate, vegetation, timber limits, the Indians, the Hudson Bay posts, etc., Beech,—the pioneer settler there—was examined and furnished a lot of valuable information. He is now on his way to Winnipeg and leaves there on the 24th inst., for Hudson Bay. He will paddle back the 800 miles that he came to Winnipeg by means of dog sleighs.

Two Lindsay Boys Went Canoeing And Craft Upset

One of Them Could Not Swim—Boat Ran Bow First Into the Landing.

SONS OF G.T.R. EMPLOYEES

Lindsay, May 15.—(Special.) — Two boys had an experience on Wednesday night that they will not forget for a long time. Their names are Archie Gaul and Will Piercy. They were in a canoe on the river above Carew's mill, going down stream with the current sending them along at a pretty fast clip. Whether purposely or not, the canoe ran into the landing, bounding back with a great deal of suddenness. This had the effect of tipping both occupants of the canoe into the deep and cold Scugog, from which they were rescued with some difficulty.

A gang of men, in the employ of Mr. Carew, saw the upset, and, running down, helped the boys out. Young Gaul could swim, but the other lad, Piercy, could not, and it is said he would have had a pretty hard time getting out, had not Jack Winters, one of Mr. Carew's men, taken hold of him and pulled him out.

Besides a bad scare, the boys received a complete ducking, and in consequence, were in some danger of catching "their death of cold." Young Gaul appreciated this, for once he got free he took to his heels in the direction of home. The other lad, Will Piercy, who had gone down a second time, and was in a bad way, was some little time before he felt perfectly well, and stayed long enough to see and express his gratitude to those who rescued him.

Piercy is a son of Mr. Chas. Piercy, one of the despatchers in the local office of the Grand Trunk Railway. Gaul is a son of Conductor Gaul of the Grand Trunk.

THE KEENE BICYCLISTS RIDE ON SIDEWALKS, TOO

Keene street officials are having trouble with bicyclists riding their wheels on the sidewalks, so that this offence is not confined to Peterborough by any means. There is a by-law on the village statutes, stating that the walks of Keene are not for bicyclists, so trouble is promised there. The officials, one of whom spoke to the Examiner about the offence, are on the watch for law-breakers.

S. O. E. Want Local Athletes At Their Bracebridge Meet

Mr. Archie Froude, of the Y.M.C.A. has received a letter from the Sons of Scotland, Bracebridge, asking for the names of local runners from 100 yds. sprinters to five milers. The S.O.S. are making arrangements for holding a big meet in Bracebridge on June 17th. It is in connection with the sixth annual Caledonian gathering, and a large number of visitors are expected in the town that day. Programmes of the meet will be sent to those whose names are forwarded and the committee is trying to make the meet a great success.

Daughter Claims She Was Assaulted In Mother's House

An assault case will be heard in the County Police Court on Monday morning next at 10 o'clock by Magistrate Edmison, which occurred in the county, not far from the city.

A woman of about 60 years has laid a charge against her stepfather, which is somewhat out of the ordinary. The plaintiff went to the home of her mother, who is well up into four score years and was ill at the time. It is stated that the daughter wished to take the mother from the step-father to her own home. A disturbance resulted, which is reported to have ended by the daughter being put out of the house by her step-father. The daughter claims she was maltreated, and the facts of the case will be brought to light in the hearing on Monday.

Musical Examination Monthly For The Salvation Army Band

It is reported on good authority to-day that Bandmaster J M Greene of the Salvation Army Band intends to have a monthly examination of the bandsmen to raise the quality of the music and to have only skilled players with instruments. Those who will be permitted to play with the band must know the musical catechism thoroughly, as well as the terms in use. This new move is expected to have the desired effect of bringing the band individually, and thereby as an organization, to a higher musical standard. The band is practising faithfully, and has a splendid programme prepared for its trip to Campbellford next week.

FARM EMPLOYEE FALLS ON HARROW BREAKING HIS WRIST

Warsaw, May 15.—(Special.) — Escaping with a slight injury after falling on a moving harrow was the experience of Mr. Ellis Simpson, who is engaged on the farm of Mr. Joseph H. Grant, Stony Lake. Mr. Simpson was harrowing the other day, and in turning a corner the implement upset and caught in some of his clothes, causing him to fall on the harrow and to break one of the bones in his wrist. Mr. Grant brought him to Warsaw and had the fracture set by Dr. Monroe. The injured member is now doing nicely, but it will be some time before he can go to work.

FELL OFF THE LOGS

Youth Meets With Accident Near Matthews' Packing House At Noon—Clothing Was Soaked.

HE WAS ABLE TO SWIM

While running the logs below the Matthews' Packing establishment, shortly after noon to-day, a youth about sixteen years of age, whose name could not be ascertained, fell off into the lake. The boy had been warned a few seconds previously about the slippery nature of the floating timbers, but he took no notice of the warning. Fortunately he was able to swim and by getting between two logs he drew himself on top of one, and made his escape in safety. His clothing, of course was soaked and he had to give up his work for the afternoon.

NEWS OF A SERIOUS EARTHQUAKE HOURLY EXPECTED AT OTTAWA

Examiner Special

Ottawa, Ont., May 15.—A destructive earthquake was to-day registered at the Dominion Observatory. Dr. Klotz, Dominion Astronomer, states it was recorded early this morning. The first preliminary tremor arrived at 3 hours 39 minutes and 30 seconds a. m. The earthquake lasted two and a half hours. Disturbed area is about 2,900 miles from here and is probably in Colombia, South America. The disturbance, as recorded on the Seismograph at the Observatory, was quite violent and news of a serious earthquake is hourly expected.

THE BONES FOUND ON HUNTER STREET NOT THOSE OF HUMAN BODY

Considerable excitement was caused yesterday afternoon, when the workmen engaged in excavating to the rear of Mr. Jas. Kylie's shoe store, on Hunter street, dug up what was at first thought to be the bones of a human being.

The men unearthed two shin bones and several ribs and a doctor was shown them for inspection. After a careful examination the medical man pronounced the bones to be those of an animal.

ENGINEER HERE TO-DAY TO INSPECT DOCKS NEEDING REPAIRS

Mr. Ed. W. Penae, an engineer of the Public Works Department of the Dominion Government, was in the city to-day and, accompanied by Ald Phelan, chairman of the Board of Works; Ald. Elliott and Ald. Buller, thoroughly examined the docks at Wolfe street and Mark street with a view to ascertaining the amount of repairs necessary at these points. The Government, as a result of the recent visit of an aldermanic deputation to Ottawa, had decided to expend a considerable amount upon the wharves at Peterborough, and work will be commenced shortly.

GUINNESS FARM DOMESTIC GRAVEYARD GIVES UP MORE EVIDENCE OF THE TRAGEDIES

Laporte, Ind., May 15.—The domestic graveyard of the Guinness death farm yesterday gave up more corroborative evidence as to the extent of the tragedies there.

Two more watches were found in the debris of the ruined house, and these, taken in connection with nine previously discovered, show that at least one more person met death on the place. The bodies of nine male victims have been unearthed, but ten men's watches have been discovered. Sheriff Smutzer announced after the finding of to-day that he will resume digging operations with the hope of uncovering additional skeletons.

A number of globules of metal found in the mining operations are being examined by experts to see whether they are bits of gold used by dentists for fillings or crowns of teeth.

The discovery of the supposed missing left hand on the body of Mrs. Guinness, with two rings that make its identification still more conclusive, leaves little room for doubt that the proprietress of the murder farm paid for her crime in her own house of death. The initials engraved inside the rings show conclusively that they belonged to Mrs. Guinness.

The attorneys for Lamphere are said to be looking for David Havens, who, it is reported, aided in uncovering the bodies of the persons whom Lamphere is accused of murdering.

The attorneys claim that Havens has declared that when the bodies were found in the cellar of the Guinness home on April 28, they were lying on the floor, and that there was no debris under them. They assert that testimony to this effect at the trial will do much to clear their client of the charges against him, arguing that the circumstances show that the bodies had been placed in the cellar previous to the beginning of the fire which destroyed the farmhouse.

First Boat Over The Lift Lock Was The Water Lily

The first boat of the season to go over the Peterborough Hydraulic Lift Lock was the Water Lily. It climbed up the 65 foot ascent shortly after 12 o'clock to-day, and went up the canal as far north as the Warsaw Road to bring down one of the Ottawbee Navigation Company's scows. The lift lock never worked better.

On board were three members of the Board of Works, Ald. Phelan, Elliott and Buller. They were accompanied by Mr. Edward W Pense, a Toronto engineer.

SEATS BEING PAINTED AT THE VICTORIA PARK

Frequenters of Victoria Park are requested not to sit on the seats for the next few days. The reason for such a request is that they are being painted to-day, and the clothing coming in contact with the latter will not only spoil the appearance of the latter, but will also make it unpleasant for the wearers of the former.

ROLLING MILLS FOR CAMPBELLFORD

Organization Meeting To-morrow Having Received Assurances From Railway Companies.

A BUSY LITTLE BURG

Campbellford, May 15.—The meeting of the Canadian Steel Rolling Mills Company was held at the office of Mr. D J Lynch of this town on Saturday, May 2. There was a large number of the shareholders present, and after some discussion it was decided not to proceed with the organization of the company until assurances were received from the G. T.R. and C.P.R. authorities regarding a supply of locomotive tires and rails, and a resolution to that effect and also appointing a deputation to go to Montreal to interview the purchasing agents of both roads with a view of securing an assured supply of scrap steel for the company, was unanimously carried.

Messrs. Marwick, Babcock, Lynch and McKeel accordingly went to Montreal as a committee to interview the railway authorities of that city on Saturday last and obtained satisfactory assurances regarding the raw material necessary for the proposed steel mill.

There seems to be nothing now to prevent the enterprise from being successfully launched, and the work of the organization of the company will be completed at the adjourned meeting of the company to be held here on May 16.

MISLEADING STATESMANSHIP.

Mr. Whitney's reputation for honesty is becoming a good deal frayed. His reputation for boldness is, however, still in evidence. For instance, he was bold enough in his Hamilton address to be distinctly misleading, if not directly dishonest. In an article republished from the Globe, on this page, it is stated that "the greatest fraud in this election is the school book fraud." Mr. Whitney at Hamilton declared upon his responsibility as a Minister of the Crown, and Premier of the province, that by the action of the Government, of which he is the leader, the price of a set of school books had been reduced from $1.30 to 49 cents. The deception in this statement consists in the fact that the public, who do not know the facts, are led to believe that henceforth these books will be furnished the people at this so-called reduced price. This is not in line with the facts. This reduction is only temporary and applies to a lot of practically dead stock. A new set of readers is in preparation, and when these are ready the old will really be dead stock. Therefore, the publisher, whose contract expires in December, is rushing off his present stock at bargain day prices. The books are cheap on this account, and are being worked off at a loss, as far as the cost of production and rates of discount required, are concerned. When the new books come in the old sets will be about as saleable as a last year's bonnet in a millinery shop. The prices quoted by Mr. Whitney—49 cents—which he leads the people to believe, was a boon to provide the people for all time with books at that price, are merely temporary, and when the new school books are issued, they will be of as great, if not of greater, cost than the old sets before the reduction. This is the opinion of the chairman of the School Book Commission, appointed by Mr. Whitney to investigate the matter of school books. Mr. J. A. Cooper, chairman, editor of the Canadian Courier, and a staunch Conservative, recently writing in his magazine, asks and answers this question: "With reference to the cost of school readers, what will the cost to the Province of Ontario be?" He gives the following answer:

"This reduction in price may last one and a half years. What will then happen is only a matter of conjecture. The probability is that if the new set of readers is prepared and the printing and binding brought up-to-date the prices will go back to the old figures, if not higher."

The point to be observed is that in regard to the price of school books, Mr. Whitney led the public to believe that his Government had provided a set of readers permanently at 49 cents; whereas his own commissioner, a practical printer and publisher, who knows what he is talking about, because of his special knowledge and because he investigated the subject, says that when the present stock of remnants is worked off, and the new series brough out, "the price will go back to the old figures, if not higher." Mr. Whitney's reference to the school book question is about as honest as his double shuffle gerrymander scheme for Toronto.

BRIBERY BY WHOLESALE.

Mr. Whitney is fortunate in having lieutenants who will take the unstatesmanlike work of bribing constituencies off his hands. At Hamilton he "bold"-ly asserted that he scorned to bribe a constituency—with the promise of a technical college. Yet his candidates who are stumping in his interests, do the work unreproved. The Conservative candidate in South Brant adds duplicity to bribery when he threatens the electors with the Government withholding a technical school for Brantford, which the Government has no intention of building, if the electors do not vote for the Conservative candidate At a New Liskeard meeting Mr. T. H. Lennox, Conservative candidate for North York, at a campaign meeting, used the following unmistakably plain language:—

"Unless you elect the candidate of my political party the Government which my party supports will reduce or cancel the grants to which you are justly entitled. On the contrary, should you elect a representative pledged to assist in keeping the clique in power, the Government will be generous towards you with the public moneys."

Mr. Whitney loftily scorns "to bribe a constituency," but his candidates make brazen bribes from a platform, on which is seated a Cabinet Minister, who does not, on behalf of his virtuous colleague and leader, repudiate the bribe. Dr. Jekyll, the benignant poseur of the Government, does the virtuous at Hamilton while the wicked Mr. Hyde does the bribing of constituencies on behalf of the Government. Mr. Whitney's declaration in regard to refusal to bribe a constituency takes rank with his 49 cent school books deception. Mr. Whitney has achieved a rather factitious reputation for bluff honesty, but the public is rapidly beginning to feel the need of a salt cellar when digesting his public statements in regard to political questions.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

At Stewart's Settlement meeting last night, a Conservative orator from Peterborough told how the Ross Government was defeated in 1905. He said that "the people rose in their might and, with one mighty sweep, they swept the Government from their path." He must have been a diligent student of Mr. Whitney's cyclonic sweep of eloquence. It is a great satisfaction to know how the thing was done.

Mr. Goldwin Smith, in the Farmer's Sun, has a good word for Mr. Allan Studholme, Labour representative for East Hamilton, and expresses the wish that, in the coming Provincial elections, there could at least be one representative of labour elected. But in East Hamilton Mr. Studholme is being as bitterly opposed as labour candidate as if he were a red, raving anarchist, a public enemy. This is not surprising, for it is quite consistent with the attitude the present Government has held, and still holds, in regard to labour and its interests.

The Toronto News argues that Hon Dr. Pyne is well qualified as head of the Education Department of Ontario because he was educated in the Public and High Schools and took his degree of M. D. from the University of Toronto. A doctor's degree may make him familiar with pills and plasters, but does not necessarily involve the possession of high pedagogic qualifications. We have doctors in Peterborough surpassing Hon. Dr. Pyne in education and educational culture, but none of them would, perhaps, consider himself competent for Minister of Education. None of them, however, can boast of Hon. Dr. Pyne's pull with the License Department—couldn't cut off the head of a license inspector who made himself obnoxious by refusing to recommend a license to a multi-convicted "blind pig" exploiter.

FOOLING PARENTS AND CHILDREN.

The Globe.

The greatest fraud in this election is the school-book fraud. Mr. Whitney boasts that the cost of the set of readers has by the action of his Government been reduced from $1.30 to 49 cents. He leads the electors to believe that this 49 cents is a normal price, and that the children of the Province will enjoy school books at this low rate continuously. He knows that such expectations are doomed to disappointment. On the responsibility of a public journal, which can later be reminded of its assertions, we make the statement that when the new readers are issued the children of this Province will not get their school readers at any lower rate than that which prevailed before the Whitney Government acceded to power. The price which now prevails is not a normal price. The firm which sells them is not obtaining a commercial price for them. It has, or had, a large stock of them on hand, either bound or in sheets, and knowing that they would be superseded by the new readers, it has adopted the 49 cent rate in order to dispose of them before they are rendered worthless by the authorization of a new series. It is, in fact, a remnant sale.

That the price is not a mercantile figure is made clear from the evidence given before the school book Commission by one of the responsible officers of the firm which is now supplying the books, and is under contract to do so until the 21st of December, 1908. In his evidence that gentleman gave a detailed statement of the actual cost of turning out the books. It is not necessary to give the cost of each book. But the total cost was stated at 40.10 cents. Under the contract the firm is bound to sell at 49 cents, but on this it has to allow a discount of 25 per cent., which reduces their actual receipts from the books to 36.75—books which cost to produce, according to the sworn testimony of the firm's expert, 40.10 cents.

But this is not all. Wherever the firm sells assorted lots of the books to the value of $500 another ten per per cent. comes off the contract, entailing a still further gap between the cost and the sale price.

Does this look like a permanent arrangement? It is quite evident the people of the Province are being deluded, and that after the false cry of cheap school books has served its purpose the children of the Province will just pay as much for their school books as ever they did—certainly a higher price than they are doing now. What sort of impression will the children gather of the institutions and public men of their Province when they learn, as they inevitably must, that the cry of cheap school books was fraudulent and was merely intended to help the Whitney Government into power again? There will be generations of young Liberals created when that discovery is made.

Ryerson Ritchie, A Former Local Man, Meets With Success

Leaves Detroit to Accept Position as Secretary of Board of Commerce in Boston.

WELL KNOWN IN PETERBORO

The Detroit Free Press of a recent date pays a tribute to Ryerson Ritchie, former secretary of the Board of Commerce, who has just resigned his position there to accept a similar one in Boston. As Mr. Ritchie was a former Peterborough citizen, and has many friends here at the present time, the following comment from the Free Press will be of interest:

Ryerson Ritchie, of the Detroit Board of Commerce, has decided to accept the position of secretary of the new centralized organization at Boston, formed along the lines of the Detroit Board.

This opening presents an unrivaled opportunity for the carrying on the work of commerce organization and municipal improvement, in which Mr. Ritchie has shown a remarkable genius. It is a field in which he stands pre-eminent in the United States.

Mr. Ritchie has done much for Detroit. His executive ability and genius for organization took the various business associations and changed them from a number of struggling bodies, all useful in their way, to the present board. He has throughout the movement, been the tacitly recognized leader, and while able men as presidents and directors and on the committees made possible by their generous donations of time and labour the great organization of the present with its creditable record of achievement, it was largely his experience, his planning that suggested the lines along which the work has been done and so much accomplished.

Influence on Civic Affairs

To enumerate the benefits conferred upon the city by the Detroit Board of Commerce since it was founded in 1903, would be to print its history. But two things stand out prominently. One is the awakening of a civic pride that now says Detroit is very much alive and the best place on earth in which to live and do business, and the other is the addition of many new manufactories of importance employing large capital and thousands of workers.

Besides these two instances of benefit, the board has had a great influence on civic affairs. Many reforms have been quietly effected that would have been impossible of accomplishment had it not been for the unassertive but strong influence of the Board of Commerce, working for the public good with no axes to grind and no politics to consider.

Mr. Ritchie advocated the policy of letting results talk and discouraged the band wagon methods, which would make a brief and brilliant flare and then die out. For this reason much of the work done in committees and by the officers and employees of the board has never been exploited. During his five years of office, Mr. Ritchie has steadfastly striven to place the organization on a permanent basis, its departments so well organized that each formed a part of a well constructed machine. When he came to Detroit from Cleveland he said it would take five years to place the Board of Commerce upon its feet.

Boston Fine Field

It is a class of endeavour Mr. Ritchie likes. He feels his work is of a constructive nature that will last after he has passed away. Boston at the present time, through the amalgamation of three old and well established business organizations with fine reputations, offers a peculiarly attractive field of work for Mr. Ritchie, and as much as he thinks of Detroit, he does not feel as if he can throw aside the opportunity that is presented to him. The Detroit Board of Commerce, while deeply regretting his departure, does not believe it should stand in the way of his advancement along his chosen line of work.

"We love a man of strong personality and great ability when Mr. Ritchie goes," said Emory W. Clark, vice-president of the First National bank, an ex-chairman of the executive committee of the Board of Commerce, "but we do not think it right to stand in his way. All we can do is to bid him God speed when he goes, and this we will do with sincere regret at his leaving."

Mr. Ritchie made his debut in the field of civic organization work at Kansas City, where he laid out a comprehensive plan for commercial and civic development.

Detroit Success Well Known

This plan has since been strictly adhered to with marked success and the business interests of Kansas City still remember Mr. Ritchie with affectionate regard. His success there attracted the attention of Cleveland, and he was called to the Forest City, where, as secretary of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, and afterward its president, Mr. Ritchie duplicated his Kansas City experience and placed upon its feet one of the most influential business organizations in the United States.

Coming to Detroit, he achieved the same success, making Detroit still more widely and favourably known through its Board of Commerce. In fact, it was largely by reason of his latest success at Detroit that the attention of Boston was attracted to him. He also has a host of friends who will wish him well in his new and enlarged sphere of endeavour.

There is some gossip regarding his successor, but the executive directors will take their time in selecting a new secretary, as the position is an important one.

LEGAL COMMITTEE MEETING

Requests for Damages Were Received—To Contest Action of Miss Brown—To Arrange for Settlements.

THE CELLAR WAS FLOODED

The Legal Committee of the City Council last night decided to fight the action of Miss Brown, who, through her solicitors, Messrs. Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr, has issued a writ against the city for damages for injuries sustained in a fall during the winter at the corner of Hunter and Water streets. It was stated that this locality was kept in the best of condition during the winter season, and that the city was not responsible for the accident.

Ald. Elliott was in the chair, and Ald. McIntyre, Turner and Phelan were also present.

Mr. W. H. Moore appeared before the committee in regard to the damages claimed by Mr. D. W. Morris and Mr. Andrew Graham. Mr. Morris' horse ran away in March last, after an upset at the corner of Lake and Crescent streets, and on account of injuries received thereby, had to be destroyed.

Mr. Graham is the proprietor of a grocery store at the corner of Aylmer and McDonel streets. His cellar was flooded during the spring freshets, it is claimed, by the city's drain overflowing. He presented an inventory of groceries, which Mr Graham said were injured by the water, and unfit for use.

The chairman was authorized to see Mr. Larmonth, of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company in regard to Mr. Morris' claim, and that of Mr. Graham is being considered by the committee.

The "Forward Movement" In Farm Work Is Pointed Out

Many Labour-Saving Devices, Especially Along the Lines of Dairy Work---The Milk Testing Machines---How To Make a Record Start.

From the Canadian Dairyman

People are interested in noting improvement and advancement in all lines of work and in Agriculture as well as in other callings. We take pleasure in watching the "forward movement."

In the fields there is a saving of both time and labor through the using of improved machinery. In the stables, orchard, poultry house, or whatever department we may mention, much has been done to make work more pleasureable as well as profitable.

In the farm dairy many changes have been brought about. The barrel churn and lever worker have taken the place of the dash churn and butter bowl; the cream separator has become the popular method of creaming the milk; the large rolls of butter are now rarely seen, but in their place we find the one pound bricks neatly wrapped in parchment on which is printed the name of the dairy farm.

There is another phase of dairy work that our attention is being very especially called to, and that is the keeping of cow records and testing milk at the farm. Although this work is carried on to a greater or less extent on a few farms, yet the large majority of cow owners are unable to tell—which are the most profitable cows of their herd.

In Ontario to-day we find many unprofitable cows kept, just because their keepers do not know how much or how little they are making for this pocket-book supply. To know this, it is necessary to both weigh the milk and test it for fat. The women as well as the men are interested in knowing how many pounds of butter each cow is producing in a year, and it may be that it will fall to the lot of some of the younger members of our Women's Institutes to take charge of the cow records and do the testing on the farm at home. For those who want to keep an accurate record it is necessary to weigh the milk of each cow at every milking.

To make a record sheet, rule a piece of paper putting the names or numbers of the cows along the top and the dates down the side. These may be made to hold a week's markings or more. Hang this sheet and a pencil near the weigh scales. The more conveniently these things are arranged the less time it will take to do the work.

Some people weigh the milk occasionally and then estimate the amount produced in a given time, thus getting a close estimate of the amount the cow gives—for example, be weighing the milk on the first and the sixteenth of each month, which would be practically every fifteen days, and, multiply the weight of milk given in one day by fifteen, a satisfactory record will be secured.

The work of weighing the milk does not take as much time as some imagine, and perhaps there is nothing that makes a man take more interest in his herd and what it is producing than the keeping of a record. The testing is easy work and very interesting, and the one whose duty it is to attend it will take pleasure in it. Some take samples only occasionally for testing, and get an idea of the amount of butter-fat in that way, while others take a sample at every milking, keeping what are called composite samples, such as are taken at creameries. These may be kept and tested at the end of two weeks or may be kept a month if properly cared for.

In testing milk we must take our samples fairly or the results will be misleading. If we want to take a sample of a cow's milk, we should have all the milk that was given at the milking in the pail. It should then be poured or stirred to get it thoroughly mixed before taking the sample.

Often the first few streams of milk have been taken or the strippings have been used for a sample, and then wonder has been expressed at th extraordinary results. In taking the samples of milk for the test bottle, care should be exercised to have the sample well mixed and the exact amount in the pipette. If the sulphuric acid is of the right strength, by filling the acid measure to the mark we will have the right amount to give the fat a bright golden appearance. If the acid is a little weak use a little more, or if a little strong use less.

The question is asked why do we sometimes have burnt readings and sometimes light colored ones. There are several conditions that would cause trouble. Burnt or cloudy readings may be caused by using too much acid and by using acid that is too strong; by having the milk or the acid at too high temperature; by allowing the sample to stand too mixing, or, by allowing the acid to fall directly over the milk instead of holding the bottle in a slanting position and allowing the acid to flow down the sides of the bottle and underneath the milk. The light colored readings may be caused by using too little acid; by using acid that is too weak, by having the milk or acid at too low a temperature, or by not shaking the bottle sufficiently to thoroughly mix the milk and acid.

If the room is cold or if you have too many samples to read, set the bottles in a pail of warm water (140 deg. to 150 deg. F.) having the water extend to the top of the fat. This will keep the fat in a liquid condition in the neck of the bottle until the readings are taken.

The Babcock tester is useful for testing all dairy products and by-products. It is a help to occasionally test the skim-milk and butter-milk and to watch that there is not an unnecessary loss in the skimming or in the churning. If selling cream for a city trade it is a good plan to test it, as cream should be sold according to quality.

THE ATHLETICS PRACTISE TO-MORROW

Will Play the Y. M. C. A. Team in the Driving Park.

The Athletics will play a practice game with the Y.M.C.A. City League team at the exhibition grounds to-morrow afternoon. For their first game the new Midland League team will have the following line-up:

Quinlan, p.

Graham, 1b.
Warsham, 2b.
Gahill, ss.
Landry, 3b.
Connors, outfield.
Callaghan, outfield.
Sheridan, outfield.

As the Athletics' new uniforms have not yet arrived the players are asked to turn out in their own suits.

Marshall, the well-known catcher of the Galt team in the Canadian League, has been secured to do the backstopping. He and Flaherty are old battery mates and no doubt the two will work well together.

THE RAREST OF TRADES

"Mine is the rarest of trades," said a fat man. "I am a maker of instruments of torture. I suppose that at this moment, in Siam and China, yellow men are bleeding and howling in the clutch of machines of my make."

He lighted his pipe.

"Pleasant thought, eh? But we must all earn our living somehow. In Birmingham, mine's earned. There, for 17 years, I have been turning out racks, hair and nail drawers, thumbscrew, skinners, needle-beds, searing irons, bone-breakers, and what not.

Siam and China have bought their instruments of torture from Birmingham for generations. Some of them contrivances are very costly and ingenious. There is the water-dropper, which works by clock work, that costs $500. There's a ——but that's too horrible to talk about. The [illegible] Japanese."

"Alias the Plumber."

By Olive Roberts Barton.

Copyrighted, 1908, by the Associated Literary Press.

My Dear Mr. Van Norton—Perhaps my inexperience will account for the fact that I do not know how much—or how little—to expect of my fiance. I have been here at my aunt's for three days, as I informed you in my letter before I left home, and you have not given the slightest sign of my existence.

It may be that I expect too much of the man whom I have promised to marry, but if such is the case I am satisfied that my unreasonable demands on your time and attention would make us both miserable.

I beg to return your ring, with many thanks for the honor; also your letters, the scarab and the set of coral you sent me from Naples. Very cordially yours,

NINA DORRINGTON.

Nina threw down her pen and walked to the window of the darkening room. The library was frigid, and the girl shivered as she pulled aside the curtain. It was snowing hard, and the wind had piled the feathery stuff in huge mounds, obliterating steps and curbstones. A small boy headed his way through the storm, looking in vain for the numbers on the houses.

Nina opened the door herself and called him. Then, giving him careful directions about the package and letter, she paid him handsomely and watched the tot in blue uniform trudge down the avenue with the remnants of her happiness under his arm.

She stood an instant in the hallway. Then, realizing that her chill was mostly physical, she rang for lights and went upstairs. The door of her aunt's room was partly open, and the ruddy glow of the log fire tempted her to enter. The mound of shawls and rugs on the couch in the corner indicated that the worthy lady had not wakened from her afternoon nap.

Nina sat down on a hassock and gazed into the fire. Now that she had taken such a radical step, doubts began to torment her. Had she been impatient? Should she have waited a little longer? Indignation gradually gave way to self pity, and tears rolled down her cheeks.

"Nina, is that you? What is the matter, dear? Are you sick?"

She jumped up quickly and dashed the tears from her eyes, but the room was dark, and her aunt could not see her face.

"No, indeed. Not sick, only cold, dear. The house is like ice, and it looked so warm and cozy in here I came in to dream for a few minutes before dressing for dinner."

"Oh, dear, it must be the new furnace, Nina! It has not worked properly since your uncle had it put in. Would you mind calling them up now before you dress? There's a dear. Leave word for them to send some one the first thing in the morning?"

"What is the name of the firm?"

"Let me see. Van Norton & Hemphill, I believe. Yes, that is it, I am sure."

"Why, that is Howard's firm," said Nina unsteadily.

"Is that so? Mercy, child, that draft is unbearable! Please hurry and close the door."

"Hello."

"Hello. Is that Van Norton & Hemphill's?"

"Yes."

Her heart leaped. The voice was Howard's, she was sure. So she had been right, after all. He was back. His only possible excuse was nil. But he would find her note and package when he got home.

"This is the residence of Mr. J. Lambert Brown, Fiftieth street."

"Very well. I have it, thank you."

Yes, it was Howard. She could scarcely speak.

"The house—that is—the furnace is—that is to say—oh!" She shivered and started determinedly all over again. "Hello. Is that Van Norton & Hemphill's?"

"Yes, this is the same place," in an amused tone. "Is there anything I can do for you, madam?"

"The house is freezing. The new furnace is not working right at all. Please send a man the first thing in the morning to fix it. I—we—I am so cold now I can hardly talk."

Hearing a subdued laugh, she snapped up the receiver. The idea! Then it occurred to her that he likely would not dream it was she. There were so many Browns in town; besides, she thought bitterly, he had evidently forgotten all about the address she had sent him.

The small lace handkerchief refused to absorb any more moisture, and a great stamping in the vestibule announced the arrival of her uncle. Nina flew to the icy solitude of her room and after doctoring her tear stained features with cold water and talcum managed to get into some evening clothes plus a warm opera cloak in time for dinner.

That night she slept very little. One minute she blamed herself for being so precipitate; the next she reproached him for his seeming indifference. She had been so sure he would hurry to her the minute he got her letter, but his boat had been in three days and still no sign from him.

At last she fell asleep. It seemed to her that she had been dozing just a minute when she was awakened by a violent hammering in her room. She sat up in bed and shivered. The window pane above the shutters was still black. She reached out and switched on the electric light. It was not 6 o'clock.

Again that awful hammering, then a raucous scraping in the direction of the register. She made a face and covered her ears. Then all was quiet for awhile, and Nina snuggled under the covers. All at once a metallic voice came up through the tube from the cellar.

[illegible] will [illegible] have to come out. The [illegible] about 30 [illegible]

her eyes staring wildly in the darkness. It was Howard's voice. Then followed a few orders about valves, drafts and gauges, which she did not understand in the least, but it was a voice she could listen to forever. She forgot about the cold.

"Now, O'Brien, you go and get the tools and bring Mason along with you. I am going to stay here a minute and look things over. It has to be done right this time. This is a nice condition to find things in the very day I get home. First thing I heard when I got to the office. How many more jobs like this are there?"

Nina did not listen to the explanation that followed. Her heart was in her throat, and she scarcely breathed. His words rang in her ears. Howard just home yesterday! What could it mean? Oh, it was only too plain what it meant. He had come on a later boat, and she had wronged him. She had allowed her petty spite to drive away the person she loved best in the world.

There was no more talking now, only an occasional scraping as though some one was sliding the dampers. Howard was evidently there alone.

Suddenly a flush dyed her cheeks. Her eyes grew very bright, and a little smile hovered around her lips. Her heart was beating fast now, but her lips tightened. She sprang out of bed and threw on a dressing gown. She ran quickly to the wall and stooped, with her lips close to the wrought iron cover.

"Hello!" she called.

"Hello!"

"Is that the man from Van Norton & Hemphill's?"

"Yes, madam."

"Are you fixing the furnace?"

"Yes; it is in pretty bad shape."

"Is there any heat in it at all?"

"No; I am standing inside."

"Can any one hear us?"

"I have closed all the dampers but this one."

"Are you cold?"

"Very. This cellar is like Greenland."

"Why don't you go to the kitchen and get warm?"

"I am happier here."

"That is a very odd place to be happy, inside a furnace, 6 o'clock in the morning, dark, thermometer down to zero. You must feel quite hilarious."

"I am more hilarious and less cold than I was at 6 last night."

"Why last night, may I ask?"

"The cause of the fall in tempera-

[illegible] again,

"Did—did you think so?"

"Didn't you mean it so?"

"Are you quite sure you know who I am?"

"Are you sure you know who I am?"

"Oh, Howard, can you ever forgive me? I am so miserable. I heard your voice, and I couldn't let you go without at least saying 'goodby.' Did you know I was here?"

"Yes, Nina; the addresses were the same. How soon can you be down here and get this ring of yours?"

"Darling, do you forgive me and do you really love me still?"

"Love you, darling? I counted the minutes all the way home. I had just reached the office when you called me up."

"Then you knew it was I?"

"No, dear, but I do now. I was so happy to hear a voice like yours that I fairly laughed out loud. Darling, do hurry down. If I can't see your dear face in two minutes I'll climb up this pipe."

"What did you think of my terrible note, Howard, tell me?"

"What! The sassy little letter you wrote yesterday? Didn't pay any attention to it, saucebox! Are you coming down or are you not? I am going to turn on all the dampers, and every one can hear what you say. Now, will you come?"

"Just one little word more, Howard. What did you come out here so early for?"

"To see you, of course, silly. What else?"

"And all that noise"—

"Did it on purpose to wake you up. You didn't think I was going to wait any longer, did you?" shamelessly.

"Howard, I cried all night."

"You deserved to," severely.

"And, Howard"—

"All right, dear, in two minutes." And something that sounded suspiciously like a kiss wended its lonely way through the crooked tin pipe.

Joking With Handel.

A musical joke of a stupendous nature was played upon Handel when he was the manager of the King's theater in the Haymarket, says the London Telegraph. It was a constant maxim of the great composer, whose sensitive ear abominated the tunings up of an orchestra, that all the instruments should be placed ready tuned at the music stands and that the members of the orchestra should enter like a troop of soldiers, take up their instruments [illegible] when [illegible] began. One evening a practical joker contrived to have Handel engaged in conversation for some minutes behind the scenes while he himself entered the orchestra and quietly altered the tunings of all the instruments. Nobody was a bit the wiser till the baton was raised, and then the crash came—a crash of utter and supreme discord! Handel was exasperated to frenzy. It is on record that he seized his wig and flung it at the leader of the band, kicked the double bass viols to splinters and demolished the kettledrums, with many more amenities of the same description.

A New Fruit Line

Between Savannah, Cuba and Porto Rico Ports

The Cuban Commercial Co.

Capital $3,000,000 Shares $10.00 par value

Fruits and Vegetables direct from the plantation in Cuba to Chicago in 72 hours.

This is what this new line will do in the near future.

Buying on its own account; selling on commission and carrying freight for others will tax the capacity of each ship every trip.

Thousands of dollars worth of choice fruits and vegetables have been wasted every year in Cuba and Porto Rico for want of transportation facilities to bring the stuff to market. Pine Apples could be had at about two cents apiece and other fruit and truck at corresponding prices.

A profit of 100 to 500 per cent. is the common thing.

With the inception of this line there will be an increased production by the small growers whose orders also for American goods must be taken into consideration.

The Company's steamships will be modern, up-to-date, equipped with cold storage and ample accommodation for passengers.

Winter tourists will find this a very popular cruise.

Connecting traffic arrangements will be made with the Southern Railway and the Louisville and Nashville Railroad at Savannah for points north and west and similar arrangements with the Cuban Railroad at Antilla for all interior Cuban points.

The Company has under option a tract of 5000 acres of fine land in Cuba upon which will be founded a model American Colony and this land will soon be thrown open to the public for this purpose. Purchasers of stock will be given an opportunity to exchange stock for land if they desire.

MANAGEMENT

The affairs of the Company are in the hands of an Executive Committee composed of experienced and capable business men of great enterprise and energy

The freight business will be taken care of by one of the best known transportation men in the country.

Each ship will carry a special representative of the Company who will have full power to enter into and carry out contracts and to personally supervise the service extended to passengers, thus assuring both their safety and comfort.

The Company's agents will be found in all the smaller, as well as the larger ports of Cuba and Porto Rico, whose duties it will be to secure business both ways in taking orders for American goods and in buying or contracting for fruits and garden truck for shipment north.

Positions will be open for a great number of good men, and naturally stockholders of the Company will be given preference where such positions are created or vacancies occur.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY

To enable the management to carry out these plans as above outlined the full paid and non-assessable Treasury Stock of the Company is now offered for public subscription as follows:—

10,000 Shares (par value $10.00) will be sold at $2.00 per share— GOOD UNTIL JUNE 1st, ONLY

After June 1st, another 10,000 shares will be offered at $3.00 per share— Good until August 1st, only, at which time the price will be advanced to $4.00 per share, and as fast as the money can be judiciously invested further offerings will be made, but always at an advance of One Dollar per share over the previous offering, up to $10.00 per share.

This stock will eventually be listed upon the different exchanges, but not until it sells at $10 per share, which will probably be within one year.

500 per cent. ADVANCE

Buyers of the stock at $2.00 per share will be able to secure 500 per cent. profit on their investment when the stock sells at $10 per share. The Company should earn and pay 25 per cent. dividends at that time.

Remember all Fruit Companies pay, especially Fruit and Transportation Companies, and with its excellent management and its opportunities this should be no exception.

ADVANCE CERTAIN JUNE 1st

Australian And His Wife On Year's Trip Around The World

VISITING FRIENDS HERE

Mr. Charles Denyer and wife, of Toowanda, Queensland, Australia, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Heal, Dublin street, for a short time, while on a holiday trip which will extend through twelve months and which embraces practically a tour of the world. Mr. Denyer was interviewed by the Examiner yesterday and stated that he and Mrs. Denyer had left Brisbane, Queensland, on March 17th. Crossing the Pacific they arrived at Vancouver, April 8th and have travelled eastward by easy stages, visiting Winnipeg, Chicago, Toronto and other intermediate cities until they arrived in Peterborough. They intend to continue on to Europe where they will visit Mr. Denyer's relatives, and remain for a time at his father's old home.

Their return journey will be made through Europe to the Suez, and thence by steamer, south to Australia, completing a holiday trip which will at least cover a whole year before they are at home again.

A Sheep Raiser

Mr. Denyer is a sheep raiser, and on his ranch at Toowanda thus a flock numbering 6,000. Sheep-raising is one of the main industries of Australia and many large flocks yield handsome returns, principally in the sale of wool. Shearing is continued during the entire year, the flock being divided into batches, which are put under the shears in turn. The price of the wool has been at high figure, although recently it declined slightly, but is expected to return to the former price.

Japan Buying Wool

Mr. Denyer said that Japan was offering a vigourous competition to the English wool buyers, but he believes the time is at hand when large woollen manufactures willl be opened up in Australia.

Wheat grows well in that country, but cannot come up with Canada. Mining is carried on to some extent, particularly in copper. Besides sheep, there is a good cattle market in Australia, and Mr. Denyer says that there are many fine herds of Shorthorns and Herefords, besides the cattle especially adapted to dairying.

Prosperity Reigns

This latter branch of farm work is one of the great assets of the country. There are no severe winters in Australia, and, in fact, they have very little snow.

The country is enjoying good times and Mr. Denyer was surprised at the conditions he has met since landing in America, and says that the Australians have had during the past eight years continued prosperity and as a result the banks and corporations are strong.

The country, he says, is behind in its electrical development, but has begun to waken up in this respect, and the natural facilities are beginning to be utilized.

Mr. Denyer has enjoyed his trip so far, and is much pleased with the hospitality of Canadians, as he has found them

Dr. Fletcher Gives Evidence Saying Operation Was Needed

Was Necessary to Save Miss Gould's Life—Physicians and a Clergyman Testify in Behalf of the Accused.

HAS A GOOD REPUTATION

Toronto, May 15.—Mrs. Lillian Ward, the nurse who took charge of Miss Gould, during her illness was the first witness called by Mr. T. C. Robinette, K.C., in the defence of Dr. Ashton Fletcher, yesterday morning.

She was present at the visit of Dr. Todd, when he administered the anaesthetic, and stated that nothing in the nature of an illegal operation was performed, but only such treatment as was necessary to try to save the patient's life. The closest cross-examination by Dr. Blackstock failed to shake her in her story.

Mr. Robinette called a number of witnesses to establish Dr. Fletcher's reputation.

Dr. Fletcher's Evidence

Dr. Ashton Fletcher, the defendant, was then placed in the witness box, and told a straightforward story in a convincing manner.

"You are a physician in the Western Hospital, are you not?" began Mr. Robinette.

"I am," replied the defendant, "I have charge of the lying-in patients there."

"What was the conversation you had with Saunders in the sleigh in February?"

"He opened the conversation by referring to the Minnie Turner case, and asked what doctors charge in such cases."

"I replied that the men who did that class of work did it for about $20. He then told me there was a young woman who he thought was in trouble, but was not sure. If she were in trouble, he thought he might have been the cause of her trouble, and wanted to marry her. I told him that was the right thing to do, but to make sure she was in trouble."

"Did you see the young lady then?" asked Mr. Robinette.

"No. I heard nothing more of the matter till March. On the Saturday before the death of Miss Gould," continued Dr. Fletcher, "I was called by Saunders and went to the Mutual street house, where I found the girl lying very sick.

"I gave her a prescription to relieve her immediate pain, and told him if she grew better to come to my office next day, which she did, in company with Saunders.

The defendant then gave an account of the treatment given to Miss Gould in his office during the half-hour's stay. His examination convinced him that his patient's condition was as he had supposed.

Nothing Illegal

"In that examination, did you use any instrument?" asked his counsel.

"I did not," was the emphatic reply.

"Did you do anything in any way illegal?"

"Nothing which I would not do again in a similar condition," replied the doctor, quietly.

"When you came downstairs, you made some remark to Saunders, regarding the patient, did you not?"

"I said to Saunders, 'you are right'; meaning that his fear that Miss Gould was in trouble was not unfounded."

The defendant was called again on Monday, and went prepared, with his instruments, to do what was necessary.

"When I got to the house, I saw that I must have another physician to help me, and with which to protect myself, and sent Saunders for one, mentioning several. He brought Dr. Harvey Todd."

Operation Necessary

"The operation you performed then was a necessary one?" asked Mr. Robinette.

"The only course possible to save her life," was the emphatic reply.

"Did you do anything before Dr. Todd's arrival?"

"Nothing but take her pulse and temperature."

The witness stated that he did not perform the exact operation he had intended to do, owing to the serious condition of the patient. He then told Saunders that he must have the girl sent to a hospital. He suggested that Miles' ambulance be used, as he had done business with him before. The girl was removed to the Western Hospital, very nearly dying while being removed.

"Did Miss Gould tell you this history of her case?" enquired Mr. Robinette.

"No, she did not, I did not know she had been ill until coming into court," replied the doctor.

A PAPER ON CLASS MEETINGS

Read by Mr. William Ayres at George Street Methodist Church—Origin Of The Meetings.

DUTIES OF THE LEADER

In the latter end of the year 1739 class meetings were organized in the city of London, England, by the Rev. John Wesley. "They were a company of men having the form and seeking the power of godliness, united in order to pray together, to receive the word of exhortation, and to watch over one another in love, that they may help each other, to work out their salvation."

The condition required of those desiring admission into these societies was, "A desire to flee from the wrath to come, and be saved from their sins." One of the members of the class was appointed the leader.

The office presupposes that the leader enjoys the Divine favour, and is going on to and earnestly seeking a higher and nobler Christian experience. Without this he will be a failure. He should have a knowledge of the work he is expected to do, and the responsibility, the difficulty and danger which he will surely have to deal with.

The office calls for the consecration of the leader to this work in full view of all its responsibilities, its sacrifices and dangers—in answer to God's call voiced by the Church feeling that "Woe is me if I refuse."

It is the duty of the leader to carefully prepare for this work, especially by the study of the Holy Word. The knowledge he may gain from, and the strength he derives from prayerful and constant study of the sacred Scriptures, will be to him a tower of strength in the performance of his duties, bringing him in closer touch, sometimes, with the lukewarmness of a member, or possibly, the wily tactics of an enemy. To deal successfully with such cases, the leader requires good judgment and a large measure of the Spirit and Mind of Christ. How lamentable it is if the leader fails here!!

To gain the confidence of the class, the leader must show a spirit in harmony with the teaching and Spirit of Jesus Christ, then he will love his class. This love is the same in essence as the love of Christ falling short only in degree—God alone is absolutely perfect. Having gained the confidence of the class, let fidelity be the watchword. This is of the utmost importance to success. Difficulties will arise—deal with them on Scriptural lines.

e Matthew, 18; 15, — "If thy brother sin against thee, go and tell him his fault 'between him and thee alone." No accusation should have the smallest countenance till this be done. Even then be careful. The leader's work should be done in view of the day of final account, and he does well to study the examples left us in the Scriptures. (See Paul, 1 Cor. 1-11.) Here Paul gives the Corinthians credit for a great deal of good, but in the eleventh verse he says: "It hath been told me there are contentions among you." I. Cor., 3rd chapter, 1st to 3rd verse, "And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto Spiritual, but as unto Carnal, even as unto babes in Christ." Third verse, "For whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men?"

If Paul did not have the confidence of the Corinthian Church he dare not utter such burning words of reproof, but having shown them that he loved them, and now having given them credit for so much good possessed by them, his words of reproof are words of love, and designed by Paul to help the Corinthians to a higher Christian life.

In all this Paul was following the example left by Jesus Christ — and the closer the leader follows this example, always practising his teaching, the greater will be his success.

The sum of the qualification and the strength necessary for a class leader is summed up in these words. "Full of the Holy Ghost." See Luke, 4th chapter, 1st verse, "And Jesus, being full of the Holy Ghost, returned from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness." Here he Spirit into the wilderness." Here he held communion with God, and vanquished the foe. So the leader, filled with the Holy Ghost, the result of communion with God, taught and impelled by the Spirit Divine, will be a blessing to the class, and if faithful to the end, will come home, bringing his sheaves with him and giving all the praise to Him Who hath loved us and given Himself for a lost world to bring them back to God.

Star Specials

Another Good List for Saturday

Don't conflict these with the ordinary special sales that are commonly held—sales that present job lots, shop worn and second quality merchandise, generally worth no more than the "special" prices at which they are advertised.

Our Star Special Events are worthy of the patronage of prudent shoppers, and to people who do not believe in specials will prove a revelation.

Why we offer such excellent qualities of desirable Spring merchandise below regular prices is the wonderment of every viewer. It's a "stimulator" of business, our only reason. : : : : : : : : : :

Otonabee Society To Hold Field Crop Competition

Open to Twenty-five Members of Society—Five Prizes to be Presented to the Winners.

EXPERT JUDGES PROVIDED

Examiner Special.

Keene, May 15.—At a meeting of the directors of the Otonabee Agricultural Society, held in the Council Chamber on Friday evening, May 8, it was decided to hold a field crop competition this summer, taking advantage of the offer of the Government of a special grant for this purpose. After discussion, it was decided to have the variety of crop in which the competition should be held white oats. The competition will be open to members of the society to the number of twenty-five, and all entries must be made before the first day of June. Competitors must reside within fifteen miles of Keene and must not enter into any similar competition in connection with any other agricultural society. The plot must consist of not less than five acres of white oats.

The prize money will be divided as follows — First, $15; second, 182; third, $10; fourth, $8, fifth, $5. The seed branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture will provide expert judges free of cost to the society. Already the society has a number of entries, and those wishing to compete would do well to get their entries in as soon as possible to Mr. Andrew Shearer, secretary of the Otonabee Agricultural Society, as the maximum number of entries is likely to be made.

The Government grants twenty dollars and supplies the judges, so that the competition will only cost the society thirty dollars. There has been an appropriation of $3,000 made for this purpose, and it is expected that about one hundred more associations will take up the competition. Last year three hundred societies took up this work and it gave universal satisfaction. The farmers who were prize-winners received as high as fifty per cent. over the market prices for their grain last year.

Applicant From Brantford May Be Chosen As Chief

Is Asked to Come to Peterborough to Meet the Fire, Water and Light Committee Regarding the Position of Chief of Brigade.

REQUESTS FOR LAMPS

The Fire, Water and Light Committee took a forward step towards selecting a Chief of the Fire Brigade at their meeting last night, when they decided to ask Leslie G. Finch, of Brantford, to come to Peterborough to meet the committee. Chairman Ald. Johnston presided and Ald. Buller, McIntyre and Turner were around the Board.

A petition was received from residents of the south end, asking for an arc lamp between Romaine street and Princess street. The request was largely signed by ratepayers of that locality and will be looked into by the committee.

It was decided, on motion of Ald. McIntyre and Ald. Buller, to place an incandescent lamp at the north-east corner of King and Bethune streets. Owing to the number of tracks at the crossing it was thought advisable to place a lamp at this corner.

Application for the position of Chief of the Fire Brigade were received from W. Packenham; Leslie G. Finch, Brantford; Thos. Bayes, Thos. Davis, Thos. Sargent, Toronto; W. A. Howard, Owen Sound; and T. W. Sheffield, Lindsay. On motion of Ald. Turner and Buller, it was decided to make a recommendation, instead of leaving the matter with the committee of the Whole Council.

On motion of Ald. Buller and Turner, the clerk was instructed to write to Leslie G. Finch, asking him to come to Peterborough to meet the committee.—Carried, Ald. McIntyre voting against the motion.

Mr. F. W. Doan, of the Bell Telephone Company, was heard in regard to certain poles, which the company wish to remove, and on which fire alarm were were strung. It was decided that the chairman and Ald. McIntyre confer with Mr. Doan and have the changes made to the best advantage.

WORK ON CANAL AT NEWMARKET

Commencement of Section to Connect With Holland Landing—Will Likely Be Completed in Three Years.

TOWNSPEOPLE THINKING

Newmarket, May 14.—Work has commenced on the proposed section of the Trent Valley Canal from Newmarket to Holland Landing, and if it is to be in earnest it means a lot to this section. Labourers have been busy for several days, and the indications are that their numbers will be increased rapidly, as the contractors state that with "all things favourable," the proposed stretch of the canal will be completed within three years.

The undertaking will require an army of men and horses, and the employment of these is one of the problems that must be made workable during the progress of operations between the present and that fortunate day in the future when Newmarket will have gained all of the advantages of a lake port.

Newmarket expects great things of the canal, even before it is completed. The weekly wage list will before long run well into the thousands, and it is reasonable to assume that a considerable portion of it will find circulation locally. Good wages are being paid and there appears to be no excuse for idleness on the part of any man who can wield a shovel with any degree of intelligence.

With plenty of work, satisfactory industrial conditions, a bright business outlook and not a vacant store or house in the village, it looks like Newmarket's growing time.

ARE LOOKING FOR FARM WORK

City Men Beginning to Apply in Hopes Of Bettering Themselves.

While there are many immigrants looking for work among the farmers, it is also noticeable that there is a movement among the industrious unemployed to secure work in the country. A large number of men have remained in the city in hopes of getting work, but the prospects have improved but slightly and they do not wish to be longer out of work.

As a result they are applying for positions with farmers and quite a few have already gone back to the land.

Music and Drama

THE CURATIVE PROPERTIES OF MUSIC

I firmly believe in the curative power of music for insane patients and for those who suffer from nervous diseases, but I do not say that music in itself is a cure. Music is now a regular part of the treatment in this hospital, systematically employed in reaching and stimulating the brain.

Brilliant music has produced good results in one case, while plaintive tunes similarly affected others. Popular airs were useless or injurious in the case of a patient accustomed to the classics, while the classics would be entirely without effect on the brain of an uneducated person. In simple mania, slow, dreamy music seemed beneficial, but in acute mania it has been found to be agitating. In melancholia, stirring airs were productive of the best results.—Dr. E. C. Dent.

THE EXAMINER'S SPORTING PAGE

YANKEE ROGERS IS IN FINE SHAPE FOR BIG MATCH HERE; BEATS FAUST VERY EASILY

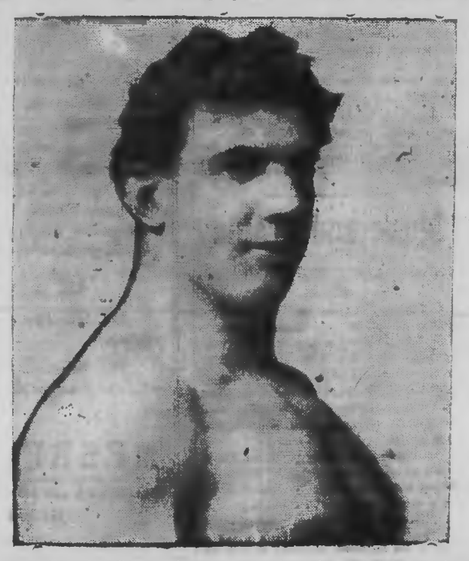
Mr. C G Graham, who is looking after Eugene Hurtubise, was in telephone communication with "Yankee" Rogers at Montreal, and the famous American mat artist, who will meet Hurtubise at the Grand Opera House here one week from to-night, announced that he was feeling in the best of shape. He had just returned from Boston where, on Wednesday night, he won an easy victory over August Faust, the German heavyweight wrestler, taking two straight falls in eight and twelve minutes respectively.

The approaching match is about the most talked of event in local sporting circles just now, and the enthusiasts are busy discussing Hurtubise's chances against the lanky American. No wrestler of Rogers' calibre has ever appeared here before, and whoever wins, the crowd will see a clever exhibition. The Yankee's best performance was probably his match with Frank Goteh, world's champion, in Buffalo last year, when the man who will endeavour to throw Hurtubise three times in an hour stayed with Hackenschmidt's conqueror for one hour and 19 minutes. It took Gotch 47 minutes to get the first fall, and 32 minutes more were consumed before the final fall was secured. Rogers, four weeks ago, won in straight falls of 25 and 29 minutes from Fritz Mohle, ex-champion of Germany, and has many other notable victories to his credit. He is even bigger than Hurtubise, standing 6 feet 1 1-2 inches and weighing 207 pounds.

The articles signed by the two men call for a $200 purse, winner to take all, catch-as-catch-can style, strangle hold barred, and pin falls of three seconds to count. Rogers is to throw Hurtubise three times in one hour, while on the other hand, Hurtubise wins the bout if he takes a fall. A referee is to be agreed upon 48 hours before the match.

The preliminaries will be in keeping with the main event. A. C. Yokome and Bobby Long will wrestle for the featherweight championship of the city, and a splendid bout should develop, as the boys are apparently evenly matched, and are training hard for the contest.

Corney Burns and Buddy Ryan will clash in a three-round boxing bout that should be a clinker. Burns' clever work is well known here, and Ryan is said to be pretty handy with his fists, and will no doubt give the ball player a hard argument for the honours.



"Yankee" Rogers, Famous American wrestler, who undertakes to throw Eugene Hurtubise three times in one hour, at the Grand Opera House on Friday of next week.

DOURO WALKER MADE GOOD TIME

Error in Yesterday's Report--Mr. Town's Made 48 2-5 Miles in 9 1-2 Hours.

Examiner Special

Douro, May 15.—There was a slight error in connection with the report of Mr. P G Towns' walk which appeared in yesterday's issue of the Examiner. Instead of going 47 1-2 miles in 9 1-2 hours, Mr. Towns went 48 miles, 4 laps in that period of time. The reason for the mistake was that during the walk time keepers were changed and 14 laps were forgotten by the second man with the watch.

Mr. Towns started to do a 10-hour walk, but owing to the rain and wind he quit at 9 1-2 hours. He was still fresh at the finish and not the least fatigued. The impression in Douro of those who saw the big Peterborough walk is that Mr. Towns could give the best of them a stiff fight in a 6-day walk similar to the one held in the city. Mr. Towns may, in a few days time, attempt another walk and surprises are expected. On a track like the one used in the rink at Peterborough, it is believed he could have gone 5 or 6 miles farther in the 9 1-2 hours.

As an illustration of how Mr. Towns was feeling towards the finish it need only be said that he covered the 44th mile in 10 minutes. He was timed in this by Mr. Joseph Crowe, the Warsaw stage driver.

LONGBOAT BEAT HORSE BY HALF MILE

Redskin Negotiated Ten Miles in 54.30 Seconds—Pretty Speedy Slipping.

Caledonia, Ont., May 14.—In a special mile and ten race yesterday, between Tom Longboat and Sam McB., a fast local trotting horse, the former won handily. The distance was ten miles, from Hagersville to Caledonia. The Indian did the remarkably fast time of 54.30. A large crowd witnessed the start, and all along the route people were thronging to witness the contest. At the finish, in Caledonia, an immense crowd witnessed the race. Longboat finished a good half mile ahead of the horse, and running like a deer. The Redskin gained almost a quarter mile in the first two miles, and increased his lead to a half mile at the finish.

JACK TAIT WENT MILE IN 4.31

Toronto Mile Runner Made Fast Trial On 'Varsity Track.

Jack Tait of West End Y.M.C.A. is certainly going strong these days. Yesterday at Varsity in a chilly rain with a wind bothering him part of the way, he negotiated a mile in 4.31. With the weather bright, warm, and windless and the cinders light, Tait would have clipped another tour or five seconds off the time. He was paced by Archie Boulton, Jack Rose and a couple more West End lads. Tait's time was a second faster than the championship mile where Tait nosed out Tom Coley.—Toronto Star.

THE FOOTBALL GAMES POSTPONED

Midland League Opening Will be Delayed For Week.

There will be no games in the Midland Football League to-morrow, on account of wet grounds, which have prevented the teams from getting any practice. Oshawa were billed to play at Bowmanville, Campbellford at Hastings, Havelock at Warkworth and Scena at Wirtsay, but all over the circuit there are complaints that there are no grounds fit to play on, and the teams have agreed to postpone the games, making the opening of the league a week later.

Knox will have its own team out and out; Chalmers will play with the English Church and the Roman Catholics with the Methodists. The third round was a bit in favour of Unholz, who landed some good punches.

The fourth round was Gans'. He floored Unholz with a left uppercut, and the Boer was down for the count of five.

Tom Slater is very anxious to get on a handicap race in Peterborough, and the sporting editor of the Examiner is in receipt of a letter to-day from the American pedestrian, in which he renews his offer of walking a relay race against any five Peterborough men. He is willing to go 20 miles while his opponents walk in four mile relays, or else travel 10 miles against relays of two miles each. He remarks, "I do not care who my opponents are. The faster they are the better they would suit me. I am in fine form now for a race."

He states that Howland, the winner of the Peterborough walk, is umpiring in the New York State League this season.

Diamond Dustings

Owing to the wet condition of the Oval, to-morrow's games have have called off in accordance with the wishes of the Trustees of the Park.

The Lakeview Baseball Club is the only one of those who play to-morrow that has completely complied with the rules of the Intermediate League. None of the others have handed in their certificates for entry, nor have they handed in their guarantees, $200. Nothing will be gained by causing any further delay and the conditions required must be fulfilled before any league game is begun. The secretaries are aware of this.

THE BENEFITS OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE IN RELATION TO HOUSEHOLD PROBLEMS

Paper Read by Mrs. H. D. Burnett at Annual Meeting of the Y. W. C. A.

A PLEA FOR ITS STUDY

At the annual meeting of the Y. W.C.A. on Monday night of this week a paper dealing in a comprehensive manner with the question of Domestic Science in Relation to Household Problems was read by Mrs. H. D. Burnett. The paper was as follows:

This paper was originally a report of the Y.W.C.A. School of Cookery work, from January to March, 1908, inclusive, combined with a plea for the study of Domestic Science. The subject has been enlarged to include the discussion of Domestic Science in Relation to Household Problems. Perhaps it would be well to start with a definition of Domestic Science. It includes chemistry, bacteriology, hygiene, household sanitation, physiology, food values, the domestic arts, care of the sick, dietetic cookery, laundry work, plus the art and science of cooking. A liberally educated Domestic Science teacher, is the product of an infinitely complex, special-knowledge regime. It provides her with what the old-fashioned, experienced New England housekeeper, called "faculty," the ability to adapt herself to all circumstances and conditions, and wrest victory from defeat, if necessary. • • • Our study in the Y.W.C.A. work, is one branch of this interesting subject, Cookery. The aim is not to turn out accomplished cooks, but comfortable home-makers, with a little additional training. One Superintendent of a Normal School says he would like to see a college diploma in the hand of every girl who applies for Domestic Science training. • • • All wise girls, who are ambitious, want to learn some specialty, and what could be of more value to the present, and future home-makers, engaged, or about to be engaged in the world's biggest business, than training in household affairs. The happiness of many a home is wrecked because there is so little knowledge of cookery, laundry work, and cleaning, in the management of the routine. This knowledge does not come by instinct, but by patient, enthusiastic study. And how smoothly the domestic wheels go, when oiled by trained intelligence! • • • There is help for all classes of women in our cookery lessons—we are not attempting much science just yet. • • • The experienced housekeeper is sure to learn a new wrinkle, for we are never done learning, and in turn give many a helpful hint to the trained young teacher.

As for the young women and school girls—Miss Arnold, Dean of Simmons College, Boston, says: "It is vitally important that a girl should early have her interest aroused in domestic affairs, should, so to speak, get her mind working that way. Then she will inevitably take notice of a host of household phenomena, to which she would otherwise be blind. You expect her to forget most of the cooking facts you teach, but she cannot rid herself of certain opened brain-tracks, a certain quickening of the mind toward domestic concerns, which will have then strong influence in making the home-maker." • • •

The best time for elementary training is in youth. Cooking should be taught to young girls between the ages of 12 and 14, the last two years of their public school work, not the science of it, but the simple practice, with sugar-coated talks on Food Values. Cooking has been compulsory in the Lynn, Mass., Public Schools for ten years, but it is only now that the Science of it is to be introduced for the High School students. Haste must be made slowly, for the whole subject of Domestic Science is relatively undeveloped. I think that Public School Cookery need in no way interfere with the Y.W.C.A. School of Cookery. • • •

Columbia University, N.Y., is going to give a degree for Domestic Science, on a par with law or medicine. Ruskin says: "Cookery means the knowledge of Medea, and of Circe and of Helen and of the Queen of Sheba." Surely with so much to learn with over 1,000 self-supporting girls in Peterborough, the Public Schools, and even the Normal School, are not going to reach all who would like this training. Besides, the schools place an age limit. I notice, for instance, in the New York Y.W.C.A. Prospectus, the French class is limited to applicants between the ages of, 14 and 35, and the classes for trained attendants upon the sick, are limited to pupils between the ages of 20 and 40. Not that we can't learn anything after 40, but that the best results are obtained by learning new things in youth.

Dr. Fyrode, in a recent talk at the Harvard Medical School, said: "The whole subject of foods is of such importance to every one, that more of it should be taught in the lower schools, as also the art of cooking."

A knowledge of food value is of equal importance in preparing a diet for health and for illness. "Diseases of the stomach are especially adapted for treatment by dieting." In other diseases we know that meat products are undesirable, Charts of food value and food animals are of great assistance in teaching scientific cookery. Prof. Wiley, etc! Again, in this age of horseless carriages and servant-less homes, some knowledge of cookery is absolutely essential to the material well-being and comfort of the inmates. The saying that God God sends meats, and the Devil sends cooks, is 300 years old, so cookery reforms is no new departure. I do not for a moment advocate the teaching of cookery, as a panacea for all our household problems and perplexities, but I do firmly believe a trained knowledge will insure many a primrose path, where now grow thorns. The household-help question gives little promise of growing better. Day service and the dinner sent in, seem the more likely solution of the house-mother's problems. Even then the comfort of the family depends upon properly-prepared cereals, and the dainty, waste-preventing luncheons.

Prof. Wiley, of the United States Department of Agriculture, has given the food subject much study, and he contends that cereals are better none, flesh and blood-makers than meat. He says, "the cereals contain all the elements necessary to the nutrition of the body, having in themselves the types of food, which are represented by the fats, proteids and carbohydrates. In addition they contain the mineral elements of which the bone structure of the body is composed, viz., lime and phosphoric acid." Oatmeal, peas, and rice, are very rich in nutrients. Cornmeal should be used more extensively.

A writer on home economics goes so far as to say, "The preparation of food at home, save in the most limited sense, as for instance, the use of the chafing dish, or the making of fresh tea, does not belong to the advanced civilization of to-day." If we accepted this dictatum, we would have all our meals sent in or go out for them. I think we would speedily tire of either. A lady who has been having her dinners sent to her home regularly, declares the burdens of life seemed to fall off her shoulders. Family life, (and the privacy and daintiness of the home table) is preserved by the plan of having the dinners sent in. But a knowledge of cooking is very necessary for the 730 (more or less) other meals of the year. In the larger cities the janitors will tell you that "all the tenants go out for their meals." That may be very well for creatures who do not wear petticoats, or for "official" feminine folks, who get dressed in the morning for the day, but for the women and children, who remain at home, rainy stormy weather, illness, etc., that's another story. To quote Kipling, a writer in the Mail and Empire, says, "Owing to incompetent servants, the dinner should be sent into the house, leaving the mother hours to herself, or time to devote to her children, might cheat the sanitarium or asylum of more than an occasional patient. People run mad over the consumption scare, but a family well fed and cheerfully surrounded, should smile fear, and be ready to go, with open hands and hearts, to assist, instead of shunning, an unfortunate sufferer.

It is quite safe to say that as long as unhappy homes exist there will be wrongs to make right, and needed reforms, but why, there should be so many unhappy homes is attributable, very largely to the household conditions. The fact is, the wife and mother, is burdened beyond man's conception, with cares and anxieties, and instead of complaining merely grows old, and uncompanionable. The conditions of life make such demand upon her time and strength, that there is no cheer or brightness in her manner, and the result in a gloomy atmosphere, poisonous to husband and children. If one man seeks pastime in the social glass, and the other in ill-chosen companions, who is to blame? The wife. Certainly not. In her devotion to husband and home, she has sacrificed beauty, health, nerves, everything." A proposed help is—a knowledge of cookery dinners sent in, and day-service. The United States Consul at Turin, Italy, reporting to his country on the domestic labour question in Italy, says, "I have known parties to look for domestic help for weeks, in vain. The wages vary from $3 to $6 per week, and even $10. There as in the United States intelligent, ambitious young women seek employment as teachers, or clerks, secretaries, stenographers, type-writers—in factories—in fact, they seem to prefer any kind of employment to domestic work. It seems that they even prefer to drive teams, to pull or push carts on the streets or to become porters, to being domestic servants." So the domestic problem is likely to grow more difficult to solve, instead of easier.

Another writer says; The habit of thought, into what our industrial classes are trained by our public school system is one of discontent with their condition. They are urged to rise above it—to pull door bells, as Ruskin puts it, rather than to sweep them.

The distressed housekeeper cannot maintain the comfort and order of her home unassisted. Domestic service will have to be given an honored place among the most important industries of the world. It must be placed upon an industrial basis with a market for ice Till that millenium comes—knowledge of cookery—and a central kitchen may do much to make possible the home—a haven of rest and comfort.

The mother of the April baby and the May baby in "Elizabeth and Her German Garden says, "The garden is the place I go to, for refuge and shelter, not the house. In the house are duties, and annoyance, servants to exhort and admonish, furniture furniture and meals." Perhaps, she also had not studied Domestic Science!

Science is doing much to solve our household problems. There has just been placed on the market a small, alcohol stove to be used for cooking purposes, with or without the chafing dish, an alcohol flat iron, and lamp burner. The U. S. Government has removed the revenue on alcohol so that the denatured alcohol sells 60 cents per gallon. It costs one cent an hour to run one of these little stoves. Farmers are to be instructed to make the alcohol for themselves from potatoes. Of course they can make it very cheaply. Most of us know about the comfort of the electric iron. Electricity turns the washing machine and the cylinder of the dish-washer, washing dishes as rapidly as one can put them in. It is only the expense of the electricity that prevents the general use of these labor saving devices, and the use of the electric cooking range. But experts prophesy that the next three years will see the prices cut in two. We have seen the vacuum cleaner in operation — a process by which dust and dirt are pumped out of our houses through a tube to a receiver, by means of electricity. It is estimated that a vacuum sweeper can be worked at the rate of two cents per hour. Then the fireless cooker has come to stay. In June, 1907, the U.S. Government issued from the Cornell experiment station a bulletin recommending the fireless cooker. No doubt, most of us are familiar with its appearance from the advertisements in the magazines. In one town where the fireless cookers are made, 1,400 were sold in four months. I see that they are now listed at from $5.50 to $18.00.

Some of the New York apartment houses in the fashionable districts are literally piped with conveniences. The lucky residents breathe cleaned air introduced through a sieve-like arrangement, and passing over a warmed radiator in cold weather. Heat, ventilation refrigeration and electric light can be had by pressing the proper button. The ice troubles in connection with the refrigerators are annihilated by means of pipes in the ice box filled with ice-cold brine, supplied by the plant in the basement. The right button will also provide all the meals, or part of them, as one chooses, from the cafe in connection, and co-operative service is at the disposal of these twentieth century home-makers. A maid by the hour, will be provided for any kind of service you wish. Surely this kind of service you wish. Surely this made possible this revolution in home making methods. Soups, pork and beans, cereals, 57 varieties of pickles, jams, etc., of irreproachable quality, are upon the market to-day. A recent magazine says, "It has remained for the twentieth century to develop the highest art of all, the art of home-making. The women's clubs are studying it. The schools are teaching it. The universities of Wisconsin and Cornell are doing notable work in this line and Columbia University is now, erecting a $400,000 building for a school of domestic science."

The kitchen now is reached across the threshold of the laboratory and the class-room, and by research and investigation, woman is solving the problems that affect the health, health and happiness of the family, and thereby making herself a direct force in the revolution taking place in our methods of living. She can do this because modern means and enlightenment have relieved her of much of the drudgery.

Domestic science also teaches economy. Juliet Corson prepared estimates some years ago to show how the average family, of refinement, say a father, mother, two or three children and one servant, could live on $1.37 per day, this amount providing three good nourishing meals per day without waste for 6 people. The dinner consisted of soup, meat, vegetables, salad, dessert, nuts etc, for each adult, was considered ample. I think these figures are applicable to Peterborough prices.

The Superintendent of the New York schools favors hot, mid-morning school luncheons, on the ground that the dullness of the children of the poor is due to lack of nourishing food. Miss Gould, of the Boston Trade School, figures so closely that for 3-4c. she can offer any one of half a hundred savory things. I was surprised and pleased to note in a certain Women's Club programme for this year, the opening meeting was devoted to a cookery demonstration—a ladies' luncheon by Miss Fannie Merritt Farmer, of the Boston Cooking School. A recent article says:—"Domestic problems appear on a large proportion of the new programme, and women everywhere are talking up the servant question in a scientific and rational spirit. Investigation of employment agencies and the conditions surrounding domestic science are to be prosecuted more effectively the coming year than ever before. There is an Inter-Municipal Committee on Household Research in Boston, New York and Philadelphia, who has made and passed on to the club women, an investigation into training schools, and their success in improving conditions in the domestic situation." to sum up, we believe that the home-maker should be alert, to make progress in her life work, as the business or professional man. We have received letters giving us Y.W.C.A. Domestic Science information from Montreal, Ottawa, Brantford, Hamilton, New York, Cleveland and Detroit, seven letters in all. This symposium of experience is very valuable. The encouraging note runs through all but one of the letters. The experience seems to be that domestic science, instruction, in the schools, does not interfere with the Y.W.C.A. work. The advice is not to be discouraged with small, non-varying classes, at first. Make haste slowly; ascertain from the girls who come here, what is wanted; secure the best trained teacher, in the spring for fall work; advertise judiciously; give public exhibitions of work done, and success is bound to crown the efforts put forth."

Daniel Webster, in a speech delivered in the United States Senate, thus speaks of the vast expanse of the British Empire: "She has dotted over the surface of the globe with her possessions and military posts, whose morning drum-beat, following the sun and keeping company with the hours, encircles the earth with one unbroken strain of the martial airs of England." And may we not affirm, asks Cardinal Gibbons, with equal truth, that wherever England has enlarged her boundaries the Irish missionary has extended the Kingdom of Christ, wherever she has proclaimed her laws he has preached the gospel; wherever England has built a fort or a customs house, the missionary has erected a house of prayer, and wherever England has planted the banner of St. George, the Irish missionary has raised the Cross, the symbol of salvation?

"No, no! I don't want you to do that. They mustn't see me tonight. I know I'm acting strangely and all that, but it's happened so quickly I haven't found myself yet. I'll tell you tomorrow, though, really. Don't let any one see me or it will spoil everything. Wait till tomorrow, please."

She was very white and spoke with eager intensity.

"Help you? Why, sure Mike!" assured the impulsive Dextry. "An', see here, miss—you take your time on explanations. We don't care a cuss what you done. Morals ain't our long suit, 'cause 'there's never a law of God or man runs north of fifty-three,' as the poetry man remarked, an' he couldn't have spoke truer if he'd knowed what he was sayin'. Everybody is privileged to 'look out' his own game up here. A square deal an' no questions asked."

She looked somewhat doubtful at this till she caught the heat of Glenister's gaze. Some boldness of his look brought home to her the actual situation, and a stain rose in her cheek. She noted him more carefully—noted his heavy shoulders and ease of bearing, an ease and looseness begotten of perfect muscular control. Strength was equally suggested in his face, she thought, for he carried a marked young countenance, with thrusting chin, aggressive thatching brows and mobile mouth that whispered all the changes from strength to abandon. Prominent was a look of reckless energy. She considered him handsome in a heavy, virile, perhaps too purely physical fashion.

"You want to stowaway?" he asked.

"I've had a right smart experience in that line," said Dextry, "but I never done it by proxy. What's your plan?"

"She will stay here tonight," said Glenister quickly. "You and I will go below. Nobody will see her."

"I can't let you do that," she objected. "Isn't there some place where I can hide?" But they reassured her and left.

When they had gone, she crouched trembling upon her seat for a long time, gazing fixedly before her. "I'm afraid," she whispered. "I'm afraid. What am I getting into? Why do men look so at me? I'm frightened. Oh, I'm sorry I undertook it." At last she rose wearily. The close cabin oppressed her. She felt the need of fresh air. So, turning out the lights, she stepped forth into the night. Figures loomed near the rail, and she slipped astern, screening herself behind a lifeboat, where the cool breeze fanned her face.

The forms she had seen approached, speaking earnestly. Instead of passing, they stopped abreast of her hiding place. Then as they began to talk she saw that her retreat was cut off and that she must not stir.

"What brings her here?" Glenister was echoing a question of Dextry's. "Bah! What brings them all? What brought the duchess and Cherry Malotte and all the rest?"

"No, no," said the old man. "She'd ain't that kind—she's too fine, too delicate—too pretty."

"That's just it—too pretty! Too pretty to be alone—or anything except what she is."

Dextry growled sourly. "This country has plumb ruined you, boy. You think they're all alike—an' I don't know but they are—all but this gal. Seems like she's different, somehow, but I can't tell."

Glenister spoke musingly:

"I had an ancestor who buccaneered among the Indies a long time ago, so I'm told. Sometimes I think I have his disposition. He comes and whispers things to me in the night. Oh, he was a devil, and I've got his blood in me—untamed, and hot—I seem to hear him saying something now—something about the spoils of war. Ha, ha! Maybe he's right. I fought for her tonight, Dex—the way he used to fight for his sweethearts along the Mexicos. She's too beautiful to be good, and 'there's never a law of God or man runs north of fifty-three.'"

They moved on, his vibrant, cynical laughter stabbing the girl till she leaned against the yawl for support.

She held herself together while the blood beat thickly in her ears, then fled to the cabin, hurling herself into her berth, where she writhed silently, beating the pillow with hands into which her nails had bitten, staring the while into the darkness with dry and aching eyes.

CHAPTER II.

She awoke to the throb of the engines and, gazing cautiously through her stateroom window, saw a glassy, level sea, with the sun brightly agleam on it.

So this was Bering? She had clothed it always with the mystery of her school days, thinking of it as a weeping, fog bound stretch of gray waters. Instead she saw a flat, sunlit main, with occasional sea parrots flapping their fat bodies out of the ship's course. A glistening head popped up from the waters abreast, and she heard the cry of "Seal!"

Dressing, the girl noted minutely the personal articles scattered about the cabin, striving to derive therefrom some fresh hint of the characteristics of the owners. First, there was an elaborate copper backed toilet set, all richly ornamented and leather bound. The metal was magnificently hand marked and bore Glenister's initial. It spoke of elegant extravagance and seemed oddly out of place in an arctic miner's equipment, as did also a small set of De Maupassant.

Next she picked up Kipling's "Seven Seas," marked liberally, and felt that she had struck a scent. The roughness and brutality of the poems had always chilled her, though she had felt vaguely their splendid pulse and swing. This was the girl's first venture from a sheltered life. She had not rubbed elbows with the world enough to find that truth may be rough, unshaven and garbed in homespun. The book confirmed her analysis of the junior partner.

Pendent from a hook was a worn and blackened holster from which peeped the butt of a large Colt's revolver, showing evidence of many years' service. It spoke mutely of the white haired Dextry, who, before her inspection was over, knocked at the door, and, when she admitted him, addressed her cautiously:

"The boy's down forrad, teasin' grub out of a flunky. He'll be up in a minute. How'd ye sleep?"

"Very well, thank you," she lied, "but I've been thinking that I ought to explain myself to you."

"Now, see here," the old man interjected, "there ain't no explanations needed till you feel like givin' them up. You was in trouble—that's unfortunate. We help you—that's natural. No questions asked — that's Alaska."

"Yes, but I know you must think"—

"What bothers me," the other continued irrelevantly, "is how in blazes we're goin' to keep you hid. The steward's got to make up this room, and somebody's bound to see us packin' grub in."

"I don't care who knows if they won't send me back. They wouldn't do that, would they?" She hung anxiously on his words.

"Send you back? Why, don't you savvy that this boat is bound for Nome? There ain't no turnin' back on gold stampedes, and this is the wildest rush the world ever saw. The captain wouldn't turn back. He couldn't. His cargo's too precious, and the company pays $5,000 a day for this ship. No, we ain't puttin' back to unload no stowaways at five thousand per. Besides, we passengers wouldn't let him—time's too precious." They were interrupted by the rattle of dishes outside, and Dextry was about to open the door when his hand wavered uncertainly above the knob, for he heard the hearty greeting of the ship's captain.

"Well, well, Glenister, where's all the brenkfast going?"

"Oo," whispered the old man, "that's Cap' Stephens."

"Dextry isn't feeling quite up to form this morning," replied Glenister easily.

"Don't wonder! Why weren't you aboard sooner last night? I saw you. 'Most got left, eh? Served you right if you had." Then his voice dropped to the confidential: "I'd advise you to cut out those women. Don't misunderstand me, boy, but they're a bad lot on this boat. I saw you come aboard. Take my word for it, they're a bad lot. Cut 'em out. Guess I'll step inside and see what's up with Dextry."

"Well—er—he isn't up yet," they heard Glenister stammer. "Better come around later."

"Nonsense! It's time he was dressed." The master's voice was gruffly, good natured. "Hello, Dextry! Hey! Open up for inspection." He rattled the door.

There was nothing to be done. The old miner darted an inquiring glance at his companion, then, at her nod, slipped the bolt, and the captain's blue bulk filled the room.

His grizzled close bearded face was genially wrinkled till he spied the other gray figure in the corner, when his cap came off involuntarily. There his courtesy ended, however, and the smile died coldly from his face. His eyes narrowed, and the good fellowship fell away, leaving him the stiff and formal officer.

"Ah," he said, "not feeling well, eh? I thought I had met all of our lady passengers. Introduce me, Dextry."

Dextry squirmed under his cynicism.

"Well—I, ah—didn't catch the name myself."

"What?"

"Oh, there ain't much to say. This is the lady we brought aboard last night—that's all."

"Who gave you permission?"

"Nobody. There wasn't time."

"There wasn't time, eh? Which one of you conceived the novel scheme of stowing away ladies in your cabin? Whose is she? Quick! Answer me." Indignation was vibrant in his voice.

"Oh!" the girl cried, her eyes widening darkly. She stood slim and pale and slightly trembling.

His words had cut her bitterly, though through it all he had scrupulously avoided addressing her.

The captain turned to Glenister, who had entered and closed the door.

"Is this your work? Is she yours?"

"No," he answered quietly, while Dextry chimed in:

"Better hear details, captain, before you make breaks like that. We helped the lady side step some sailors last night, and we most got left doing it. It was up to her to make a quick getaway, so we helped her aboard."

"A poor story! What was she running away from?" He still addressed the men, ignoring her completely till, with hoarse voice, she broke in:

"You mustn't talk about me that way. I can answer your questions. It's true—I ran away. I had to. The sailors came after me and fought with these men. I had to get away quickly, and your friends helped me on here from gentlemanly kindness, because they saw me unprotected. They are still protecting me. I can't explain how important it is for me to reach Nome on the first boat, because it isn't my secret. It was important enough to make me leave my uncle at Seattle at an hour's notice when we found there was no one else who could go. That's all I can say. I took my maid with me, but the sailors caught her just as she was following me down the ship's ladder. She had my bag of clothes when they seized her. I cast off the rope and rowed ashore as fast as I could, but they lowered another boat and followed me."

The captain eyed her sharply, and his grim lines softened a bit, for she was clean cut and womanly and utterly out of place. He took her in shrewdly, detail by detail, then spoke directly to her:

"My dear young lady, the other ships will get there just as quickly as ours, maybe more quickly. Tomorrow we strike the ice pack, and then it is all a matter of luck."

"Yes, but the ship I left won't get there."

At this the commander started and, darting a great, thick fingered hand at her, spoke savagely:

"What's that? What ship? Which one did you come from? Answer me."

"The Ohio," she replied, with the effect of a hand grenade. The master glared at her.

"The Ohio! Good God! You dare to stand there and tell me that?" He turned and poured his rage upon the others.

"She says the Ohio, d'ye hear? You've ruined me! I'll put you in irons—all of you. The Ohio!"

"What d'ye mean? What's up?"

"What's up! There's smallpox aboard the Ohio! This girl has broken quarantine. The health inspectors bottled

"I'll put you in irons—all of you."

up the boat at 6 o'clock last night. That's why I pulled out of Unalaska ahead of time, to avoid any possible delay. Now we'll all be held up when we get to Nome. Great Heavens! Do you realize what this means—bringing this hussy aboard?"

His eyes burned, and his voice shook, while the two partners stared at each other in dismay. Too well they knew the result of a smallpox panic aboard this crowded troop ship. Not only was every available cabin bulging with passengers, but the lower decks were jammed with both humanity and live stock all in the most unsanitary conditions. The craft, built for 300 passengers, was carrying triple her capacity. Men and women were stowed away like cattle. Order and a half tolerable condition were maintained only by the efforts of the passengers themselves, who held to the thought that imprisonment and inconvenience would last but a few days longer. They had been aboard three weeks, and every heart was aflame with the desire to reach Nome — to reach it ahead of the pressing horde behind.

What would be the temper of this gold frenzied army if thrown into quarantine within sight of their goal? The impatient hundreds would have to lie packed in their floating prison, submitting to the foul disease. Long they must lie thus, till a month should have passed after the disappearance of the last symptom. If the disease recurred sporadically, that might mean endless weeks of maddening idleness. It might even be impossible to impose the necessary restraint. There would be violence, perhaps mutiny.

The fear of the sickness was on Dextry and Glenister, but of their mine they thought with terror. What would happen in their absence, where conditions were as unsettled as in this new land, where titles were held only by physical possession of the premises? During the long winter of their absence ice had held their treasure inviolate, but with the warming summer the jewel they had fought for so wearily would lie naked and exposed to the first comer. The Midas lay in the valley of the richest creek, where men had schemed and fought and slain for the right to inches. It was the fruit of cheerless, barren years of toil, and if they could not guard it they knew the result.

The girl interrupted their distressing reflections.

"Don't blame these men, sir," she begged the captain. "I am the only one at fault. Oh, I had to get away! I have papers here that must be delivered quickly." She laid a hand upon her bosom. "They couldn't be trusted to the unsettled mail service. It's almost life and death. And I assure you there is no need of putting me in quarantine. I haven't the smallpox. I wasn't even exposed to it."

"There's nothing else to do," said Stephens. "I'll isolate you in the deck smoking cabin. God knows what these madmen on board will do when they hear about it, though. They're apt to tear you to shreds. They're crazy!"

Glenister had been thinking rapidly.

"If you do that, you'll have mutiny in an hour. This isn't the crowd to stand that sort of thing."

"Bah! Let 'em try it. I'll put 'em down." The officer's square jaws clicked.

"Maybe so; but what then? We reach Nome and the health inspector hears of smallpox suspects, then we're all quarantined for thirty days; 800 of us. We'll lie at Egg island all summer while your company pays five thousand a day for this ship. That's not all. The firm is liable in damages for your carelessness in letting disease aboard."

"My carelessness!" The old man ground his teeth.

"Yes; that's what it amounts to. You'll ruin your owners, all right. You'll tie up your ship and lose your job, that's a cinch!"

"My carelessness! Curse you—you say it well! Don't you realize that I am criminally liable if I don't take every precaution?" He paused for a moment, considering. "I'll hand her over to the ship's doctor."

"See here, now," Glenister urged. "We'll be in Nome in a week—before the young lady would have time to show symptoms of the disease, even if she were going to have it—and a thousand to one she hasn't been exposed and will never show a trace of it. Nobody knows she's aboard but we three. Nobody will see her get off. She'll stay in this cabin, which will be just as effectual as though you isolated her in any other part of the boat. It will avoid a panic—you'll save your ship and your company—nobody will be the wiser—then if the girl comes down with smallpox after she gets ashore she can go to the pesthouse and not jeopardize the health of all the people aboard this ship. You go up forrad to your bridge, sir, and forget that you stepped in to see old Bill Dextry this morning. We'll take care of this matter all right. It means as much to us as it does to you. We've got to be on Anvil creek before the ground thaws or we'll lose the Midas. If you make a fuss you'll ruin us all."

For some moments they watched him breathlessly as he frowned in indecision, then:

"You'll have to look out for the steward," he said, and the girl sank to a stool while two great tears rolled down her cheeks. The captain's eyes softened, and his voice was gentle as he laid his hand on her head.

"Don't feel hurt over what I said, miss. You see, appearances don't tell much hereabouts—most of the pretty ones are no good. They've fooled me many a time, and I made a mistake. These men will help you through. I can't. Then when you get to Nome, make your sweetheart marry you the day you land. You are two far north to be alone."

He stepped out into the passage and closed the door carefully.

CHAPTER III.

"Well, bein' as me an' Glenister is gougin' into the bowels of Anvil creek all last summer, we don't really get the fresh grub habit fastened on us none. You see, the gamblers downtown cop out the few sign an' green vegetables that stray off the ships, so they never get out as far as the creek none, except maybe in the shape of anecdotes.

"We don't get intimate with no nutriments except hog bosum an' brown beans, of which luxuries we have unstinted measure, an', bein' as this is our third year in the country, we hanker for bony fido grub somethin' scandalous. Yes, ma'am, three years without a taste of fresh fruit nor meat nor nuthin' except pork an' beans. Why, I've et bacon till my immortal soul has growed a rind.

"When it comes time to close down the claim, the boy is sick with the fever, an' the only ship in port is a Point Barrow whaler, bound for Seattle. After I book our passage I find they have nothin' aboard to eat except canned salmon, it bein' the end of a two years' cruise, so when I land in the States after seventeen days of a fish diet I am what you might call sated with canned grub and have added salmon to the list of things concernin' which I am goin' to economize.

"Soon's ever I get the boy into a hospital I gallop up to the best restaurawnt in town an' prepare for the huge potlatch. This here, I determine, is to be a gormandizin' jag which shall live in hist'ry an' wharof in later years the natives of Puget sound shall speak with bated breath.

SUNSHINE FURNACE
And Coal Economy

COMBUSTION taking place in the dome or top chamber of furnace fire-pot is the result of air and heat mingling with fumes. This combustion produces heat-energy, which the radiating surfaces above and around fire-pot absorb or draw in and then deflect or throw off. Incoming cold air receives this heat-energy, the result being heated air. Now, if the combustion takes place at a faster rate than the radiating surfaces can absorb and deflect, the surplus heat-power will pass up the chimney or into cellar—a waste of coal.

There is no waste of coal in "Sunshine" Furnace. Circuit of radiator is so complete, and air-circulating space so large, that every bit of heat-energy is quickly absorbed and quickly deflected on the circulating cold air, which is thus quickly heated and ascends through the hot-air pipes to rooms above.

The check-draft of a furnace is situated on the smoke-pipe. When this draft is closed—especially on an "ordinary" furnace—heat particles can escape up chimney. When check-draft is opened the incoming cold air from the cellar drives all heat particles back into furnace proper. If the grates and fire-pot of furnace are not constructed properly, there's a clogging and gathering of ashes, and fire does not burn up readily. If no provision is made for gas escape, the check-draft must be left closed indefinitely—a waste of coal.

There is no waste of coal in "Sunshine" Furnace. No clogging can take place in the 4-piece grate, no ashes can gather on the straight fire-pot walls, and the Automatic Gas Damper makes every provision for the escape of gas; consequently, check-draft can be opened shortly after coaling and all heat-energy saved for radiation.

THE GREEN TOKEN.

By TEMPLE BAILEY.

Copyrighted, 1908, by the Associated Literary Press.

Miss Millicent had decided that on St. Patrick's day there should be a special celebration at the settlement. There were so many little Mickeys and Noras in the neighborhood, and it would be easy enough to tie up little sandwiches with green ribbon and serve the ice cream in potato forms.

Miss Millicent's coworker, Miss Faversham, looked dubious when ice cream was mentioned.

"It will be very expensive in forms," she stated.

"I don't have to pay for it," Millicent told her. "Mr. Barry wants to donate the ice cream."

Miss Faversham looked at her friend sharply.

"Mr. Barry has taken a sudden interest in the settlement, it seems to me," she remarked dryly.

Miss Millicent glowed.

"Isn't it fine?" she said. "He's going to give us a picture for the library. I am to go with him to pick it out."

"Hum," was Miss Faversham's retort; "I should think he might select it alone."

"Oh," Millicent told her, "he says he doesn't know anything about pictures. He has lived on the plains, and he says his education along that line is neglected, but he is big and fine, and he is going to help us a lot with the boys. He says he knows what it is to be poor and rough and unloved, and now that he has made his money he is going to give the other fellows a lift."

"How did he happen to get into the work here?" asked Miss Faversham.

"Mickey Doyle brought him here to see the club. Mickey had shined his shoes at the hotel and told him about it. And I was in the office, and I took him over the whole settlement, and he was awfully interested in it, and he has been coming ever since."

"I see," said Miss Faversham, with a quick glance at her friend that noted the trim figure in white linen, the hair that rippled away from the low, broad forehead, the earnest gray eyes, the dimple in the chin that redeemed the rest of the face from seriousness. "I see," said Miss Faversham again. "I don't know that I blame him for coming."

"DO YOU KNOW WHAT THE SHAMROCK MEANS?"

Mr. Barry took an immense interest in the St. Patrick's party.

"My name," he told Margaret, with a smile that lighted his rugged features, "is John Patrick, and my grandfather came from the old country."

Millicent laughed.

"My mother's name was Kate Kearney," she said, "and there is a tradition in our family that we are descended from Irish kings."

"Good," said Barry. "It shall be a feast in honor of the good saint. And you must let me give the kids a dinner, please. No little sandwiches, but hot things."

And, in spite of the protests of the economical Miss Faversham, the evening of the 17th of March found in the gymnasium a long table fairly groaning with good things. There were little pigs simply cracking with richness. There were potatoes mealy and white, and there were green candles and cakes with green icing and the potato forms of ice cream and a clay pipe for each of the boys and a tiny gilt harp for each of the girls. And at the head of the table Mr. Barry presided, and at the foot was Miss Millicent, while Miss Faversham was kept upstairs by a headache.

"For which let us be thankful," said Mr. Barry when Millicent told him.

She looked at him with shocked eyes.

"Oh, how can you be so hard hearted?" she chided.

"I beg your pardon," he amended. "I am awfully sorry about the headache, but I am glad she isn't going to be down."

Millicent looked at him wonderingly.

"Why?"

He laughed.

"Somehow I feel that she is weighing me in the balance, and, besides, I don't believe she would enter into the spirit of it."

"Oh, she likes you," Millicent told him earnestly. "Everybody likes you."

He stood looking down at her for a moment in silence, and then he said abruptly, "Do you like me?"

Something in his tone sent the quick blushes to her cheek.

"Of course," she said hurriedly and turned from him and began to straighten the favors on the table.

"The children will be here in a minute," she remarked, and then she stopped and stared, for at her own place was a favor different from the rest—a shamrock in green enamel, and on one leaf glittered a diamond dewdrop.

"Oh," she said and flashed a glance at him—"oh, did you put it there?"

"Yes." He came and stood beside her. "I put it there, Millicent."

She shook her head.

"I mustn't take it, please," she said. "It is too valuable for me to accept."

"It has no value except the sentiment. Do you know what the shamrock means?"

"No."

"One leaf means truth and one valor, and the other one is love, and all that I have of truth I give to you, and all that I have of valor, and, above everything else, I give you love"—

She was very white as she said, "You must not."

"Why?"

"I am dedicated to my work here. I shall never marry."

He squared his shoulders.

"That is nonsense. I'll dedicate myself to it, too, and we will work together."

"Oh, no, no!" she cried. "I must not listen. If I married you I should care so much that I should forget all this, and I should live for you."

"Dear heart," he said under his breath, "do you know what you are saying—that you love me?"

She caught herself up.

"I didn't mean"— she began.

"But you have said it," he interrupted.

She drew away.

"I must not think of it," she insisted. "My life belongs to these people."

And even as she spoke they heard the children on the stairs, a hilarious, shouting crowd, pushing through the doorway, piling into the seats, fighting a little for a certain place, but good natured always.

Such a feast as it was! And at the end Mr. Barry made a speech.

He told of a lonely boyhood, of his efforts to rise, of his final worldly success.

"And any of you boys may succeed," he finished, "but success isn't everything, for you must value more the love of truth and a brave spirit, and more than all you must value love. And some of you are more fortunate than I, for you have lots of people to love you. You have your fathers and your mothers, and Mickey has his little sister Nora, and I think little sister Nora's love is worth all the money in the world." And he smiled down at the rosy cheeked child by his side.

And Miss Millicent, seeing him thus at his best, was thrilled and touched and almost convinced by his words. After all, why should they not work together? He was a king among men!

And at this moment of her indecision Miss Faversham, somewhat recovered from the headache, drifted in and stood behind Millicent's chair.

"We ought to have Mr. Barry here all the time," she said. "I heard his speech. He has a wonderful way with the boys. After all, men are more effective than women in such work."

Millicent smiled up at her.

"We are going to have him," she said.

"How?" asked her friend, watching the big man, who, with little Nora on his lap, was telling a funny story to the boys.

"I am going to marry him," said Millicent as she pinned her green token to her blouse above her heart.

A Tart Retort.

The plaintiff was undergoing a rather sharp examination from the defendant's counsel. The case was one of damages claimed on account of severe bodily injuries by the plaintiff on a railway, due, the plaintiff claimed, to the negligence of the defendant railway company's servants. Mr. C., the railway company's counsel, was noted for his overbearing manner in examining witnesses and endeavoring to disconcert them. This witness, however, determined not to be confused by his opponent's counsel.

After becoming thoroughly provoked by the attacks of the man of law he remonstrated. "Mr. C.," said he, "I am an invalid. I cannot allow you to question me in this manner. It is a positive injury to my nervous system, which is at best in a shattered condition. I shall have to refuse to answer your questions unless you put them in a different manner. I am troubled on account of the injury received on the railway with sclerosis of the spinal cord. At this minute I can see you double, and you know by experience it is generally enough to upset a man to see you once."

Enterprise.

A Bladensburg merchant was dozing in his store one day when a little girl with a pitcher appeared in the doorway and asked for a quart of molasses. The storekeeper yawned, stretched himself, half opened his eyes and then in an injured tone said, "Ain't there nobody in Bladensburg that sells molasses but me?"

She Was.

He met her in the hallway dark
And very promptly kissed her,
Then answered to her haughty glance,
"I thought you were my sister!"

He found that night that he was right.
His love, alas, had missed her,
For when he asked her for her hand
She'd be a sister.

TOOK HIS OWN POISON.

The Tragedy That Was Enacted In a Lonely French Inn.

A story that reads like a chapter from a sensational novel comes from the Fangeas, in Lozere, southern France. In this out of the way spot dwells an innkeeper named Avignon, with his sister and little nephew, a boy of eight.

On a recent evening an old man who seemed to be sick made his appearance at the inn and asked for accommodation. Avignon invited him in and left the stranger alone with his little nephew while he went on with his work.

When he re-entered the room the boy, childlike, observed that there would be no need to salt the potatoes, as the old man had put salt into the saucepan in which they were boiling during Avignon's absence.

If Avignon had any suspicions he concealed them, but when they sat down to supper and the old man refused to take any of the potatoes the innkeeper acted in a way that must have astonished the guest. Avignon took down his gun and, covering the stranger with it, commanded him to partake of the vegetables, and despite the protests and excuses of the old man he was obliged to eat. No sooner had he done so than he fell to the ground in great agony and soon afterward expired.

Avignon searched him and found in his pocket, besides a revolver and a knife, a whistle. The latter suggested an idea to the innkeeper. With the gun still ready for emergencies, he blew the whistle, and on two men running toward the inn he fired. Neither appeared to be hit, but the unexpected nature of their reception caused them to turn tail, heedless of the fate of their accomplice.

The plot, thus frustrated by the observation of the little boy, seems to have been aimed at the savings which Avignon is generally credited with having. Having poisoned Avignon, his sister and his nephews, they could have possessed themselves of whatever there was worth taking in the inn and have got quietly away.

Influenza Cure.

One of the best cures yet discovered for influenza is undoubtedly that of a certain French doctor who doses his patients with essence of cinnamon. Twenty to twenty-five drops taken three times a day in water is the ordinary prescription. The remedy by the very fact of its mildness will perhaps not tempt the majority of people, who believe in strong and black doses. —London Globe.

It is really a serious matter, this affair of influenza, which we take as lightly as we can, and the worst of it is that we know no more about it than we did when it first became fashionable—and that was long before appendicitis—and no more indeed than the surgeon of H. M. S. Etna knew in the seventeenth century.—London Standard.

A New Lighthouse Plan.

Germany has a new idea in lighthouses. It consists in using a vertical shaft of light instead of a horizontal one.

By this means it is thought it will be visible for a greater distance than at present. At a hundred nautical miles out on the ocean the lights along perhaps a hundred miles of coast will be visible to the navigator, it is calculated.

All the usual devices of dark and light intervals and change of colors can be applied to render the identification of the lights certain. Experiments with the system are to be made at once by the German naval authorities at Friedrichsort.—Washington Post.

THE MAD CHAUFFEUR.

My head is full of whizzing wheels
And wound with slender wires,
I cannot walk because my feet
Are shod with rubber tires.
A sparking plug is in my throat,
A motor in my breast,
And night and day it beats away
And will not let me rest.

My arms are somehow turned to cranks
And greatly bother me.
I must not crank them up too high
Or trouble there will be.
A motor horn in either ear
Keeps up a constant toot.
I used to keep it going so
To see the public scoot.

Ho! Take away the cup of tea
And rinse the vessel clean.
You ought to know my only drink
Is now of gasoline
Since on the day I chanced to meet
(Oh, my unlucky star!)
A man in blue and brass who changed
Me to a motor car.

His Only Resource.

It used to be the rule in the navy that officers were required to defray traveling expenses out of their own funds, and upon reporting at the new station they were reimbursed from the United States treasury after the usual delay incident to "red tape." Unless officers had money put by it proved extremely embarrassing to have to meet the expenses of a long journey. Naval officers tell of an incident that occurred some years ago, when a notably impecunious officer on duty in New York received orders to proceed to Sitka to join one of the ships of the Bering sea patrol squadron. The officer, who had no ready money and could not persuade any of his friends to make him a loan, wrote a long letter to the secretary of the navy asking to be relieved of his orders or to be furnished with money to defray his traveling expenses. The secretary saw in the letter an attempt to get out of unpleasant duty, and a peremptory telegram ordered the officer to proceed at once. He obeyed, first telegraphing as follows:

"Have proceeded in obedience to orders on foot. Next address Harrisburg."

Needless to say, upon his arrival in Harrisburg he found a telegram authorizing him to draw travel money in advance.—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Four Cent Breakfast.

The first meal that I took in the Valparaiso university (Indiana) was a four cent breakfast, served at 6 a. m. in Heritage hall. It consisted of delicious apple sauce, bread and butter, rolled oats, baked potatoes, coffee with milk and sugar and big red apples of the highest market grade. Everything was unlimited in quantity, and I began the day with as good and hearty a meal as any student need desire.—George Kennan in McClure's.

Electrical Voting.

"When I was in Rome," said the senator, "I attended a session of the Italian parliament. What amazed me was the way they voted there. They did it by pushing a button.

"On each member's desk were three buttons, marked respectively 'Aye,' 'No' and 'Abstain.' The man when his name was called, instead of shouting as we do, just pressed a button and [illegible] by an electrical printing apparatus."

The Hissar Emerald.

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

Copyrighted, 1908, by the Associated Literary Press.

Lamson blew a cloud of smoke into the air and, with meditative eyes, watched it dissolve.

"And the emerald," repeated Coleman eagerly as he fingered the contents of his friend's gem cabinet—"I don't see the Hissar emerald. What has become of it? That was the gem of your collection."

Lamson leaned forward and drew out the lower tray of the cabinet. From an assortment of small leather cases thrown carelessly together he took one and gave it to Coleman. "There is the Hissar emerald," he said quietly.

Coleman pressed the spring and as the lid flew up uttered a startled cry.

"Why—why," he stuttered excitedly, "this is not the Hissar"— He paused interrogatively.

"It is the Hissar emerald and none other," returned Lamson, speaking with curious deliberation and distinctness. He took the case from his visitor's hand and shook the huge stone into his palm.

"It is like green glass," muttered Coleman, staring stupidly.

A piece of green stone as large as an almond, oval in shape, cut in a hundred facets that reflected the lamplight dully, rolled about in Lamson's hand.

"You are joking," said Coleman, sitting back in his chair and looking keenly at his host.

"I wish it were a joke," said Lamson ruefully as he replaced the jewel in the casket and laid it upon the table.

"I wish you would tell me about it, old man," remarked Coleman impatiently, lighting another cigarette. "Tell me about the transformation of one of the most famous jewels of the world into worthless glass."

"Of course you know its history, Coleman," began Lamson, settling back in his chair. "You know I purchased it from an old chap in Bombay for a ridiculous price—thirty gold rubles—and the man seemed to be much relieved to be rid of the stone. You know it was in my possession for ten years after my return from India, for you examined it frequently and admired its color and extraordinary brilliancy."

Coleman nodded.

"Three years ago I was in Paris," continued Lamson. "I had the emerald with me. I was considering a setting for it. Several weeks elapsed before I found time to visit a goldsmith. I cannot recollect what did detain me from going immediately on my arrival, but I do remember that one day I suddenly resolved to attend to the matter without further delay. I had been carrying the jewel in a chamois bag which was concealed in a leather belt about my waist. I removed the bag from the belt and placed it in the inner pocket of my coat and proceeded at a leisurely pace toward a certain shop in the Rue de Vignier, where there was a lapidary and goldsmith with whom I had done business.

"As I passed a small cafe I glanced carelessly through the open door, and, upon my word, Coleman, I was never more startled in my life! My gaze encountered that of a pair of the greenest eyes I ever saw, and, strange to relate, they sparkled beneath the snowy turban of a Hindoo!"

Lamson arose and paced the floor with long, nervous strides. As he talked he glanced furtively toward the long windows concealed by velvet draperies.

"Involuntarily I stooped and stared at the man," he continued, "and he returned my gaze calmly, coolly, insolently and with such steadiness and force in the depths of his green orbs that I felt myself drawn toward him by their very power. In less time than it takes to relate it I was seated opposite to him at the small round table with a glass of absinth before me. I looked at the fellow with fascinated interest, and he stared at me in return. He was a fine looking chap, tall, handsome, with clear dark skin in which was set those sparkling green eyes, such an anomaly in a man of his race that I felt the white turban he wore must have been assumed as a disguise. With that exception his clothing was the conventional European dress.

"As I lifted the glass to my lips mechanically he leaned forward and said politely, 'You are the well known artist, Mr. Lamson, are you not, sir?' I admitted the fact and made the usual remark about his having the advantage. He spoke excellent English with a slight accent, and his reply took me by surprise. 'You are the possessor of the Hissar emerald?' he asked coolly, with the air of one who had a right to know. I stared at him and made no reply. After he had repeated the question I found breath to tell him that he might seek that information elsewhere."

"What did he say to that?" asked Coleman, with interest.

"Bowed politely and said that he would take my advice."

"And you didn't favor him with a glance at the stone?" asked Coleman, with a disappointed grimace.

"Hardly! He left me then," continued Lamson, lowering his voice to almost a whisper as he leaned toward his friend, "and I never have passed a moment since then that the fear of death did not hang over me. That green eyed devil has tracked me relentlessly around the world. I know of course that it is his intention to get possession of the emerald—possibly it was once his—and I know that some day he will wear me out and"— He threw out his hands with a hopeless gesture and sat down in the chair and stared into the fire.

"I shouldn't think he'd want it now" remarked Coleman grimly, with a side glance at the dull green stone in the cape. "I can't imagine any one, especially clever chaps like those Indians, bothering over worthless glass."

Lamson sighed impatiently. "I thought you would understand," he whispered. "It's vanished. I hoped to throw them off the track—to make them believe that I had disposed of it. I had an imitation made in Paris and gave them every chance to steal that, but they would have none of it. They know I have the stone, and they are determined to have it. They are getting impatient now."

"But do you mean they are here—in New York?" gasped Coleman.

"I found this on the table when I came in after dinner. The chances are that you might have found me done for when you dropped in a half hour later."

As he spoke he lifted a small round basket woven of wicker and with a lid curiously fastened. He lifted the lid and beckoned the other man to look.

"Heavens!" Coleman stared at the gray, lifeless coils of a tiny snake. There was an odor of chloroform about the basket.

Lamson laughed shortly. "I suspected the contents of the basket. I have seen such things in India. I took precaution to stupefy the inmate—it is a deadly horned viper—before I investigated."

Lamson shrugged his shoulders and looked again toward the window draperies, which stirred slightly as by a sudden draft. "Give it up," he said wearily. He was silent and thoughtful for a moment and then added slowly: "I believe I will let them have it after all. I am tired of the chase. It's wearing on me. Come, let us go into the library." He placed the basket on the table and led the way to a door in a corner of the room.

Coleman followed him with an anxious gleam in his eyes, and as they entered the library and the door closed behind them he grasped Lamson by the arm and began, with affectionate concern in his voice: "Say, old fellow, don't you think that you've sort of got the emerald on your mind? Let it prey upon you, you know, and that you imagine you are being pursued"—

"Look!" Lamson interrupted him shortly. He had drawn aside a heavy curtain and disclosed a carved panel through the interstices of which the interior of the studio was plainly visible. There was the table beside the fire. On it were the gem cabinet unlocked, the emerald in its case and the wicker snake basket. Suddenly the window draperies fluttered, and a long, lithe, black garbed figure glided forward. A white turban flashed in the lamplight, and beneath it was a dark skinned face and fiercely brilliant green eyes. The man hovered over the table for a brief instant and then turned and glided back to the window. Again the draperies stirred and were still.

Coleman rubbed his startled eyes. The wicker basket was gone. The Hissar emerald was gone. He followed Lamson back to the studio and watched his friend as he closed and locked the open window. The artist then stepped to the hearth rug and lighted a cigarette.

"And the Hissar emerald"— began Coleman moodily, when Lamson stopped him with a gesture.

"Is here," he said coolly, snapping open his silver matchbox and displaying within its lid the rich green sparkle and royal splendor of the Hissar emerald.

Locusts are an article of food in parts of Africa, Arabia and Persia of such importance that the price of provisions is influenced by the quantity of the dried insects on hand.

Shamrock and Thistle.

The elder Pliny asserted that no serpent would touch the white clover, and it has been said for ages that nothing can eat the Scotch thistle but an ass. The identity of the real Scotch thistle is as mysterious as that of the shamrock. The saying nowadays is that more shamrocks grow in England than in Ireland and that no thistle ever grew in England.

Suffered From Heart and Nerve Troubles FOR THE Last Ten Years.

The heart has supplied to it two sets of nerves, one set which quickens, the other which slows its action. The proper action of these nerves, so important to the well-being of the heart, depends upon the general condition of the nervous system. If there be nerve derangement of any kind it is bound to produce all the various phenomena of heart derangement.

Knowing the intricate structure of the heart, and being aware how diseases of the nerves affect the heart, we have combined in Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a treatment that will cure all forms of nervous disorders as well as act on the heart itself, and in this is the secret of their success in curing so many cases of heart trouble which have defied all other treatment.

Mrs. John Riley, Douro, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from heart and nerve troubles for the last ten years. After trying many remedies and doctoring for two years, without the least benefit, I decided to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial. I am thankful to say that, after using nine boxes, I am entirely cured, and would recommend them to all sufferers."

Price 50c. per box or three for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A MODERN ZULU CHIEF.

Dinizulu a Strange Blending of Civilization and Savagery.

Dinizulu, "commander of Zululand," as he terms himself, the chief who has been making trouble for Britain, is a strange blending of civilization and savagery. His house at the Black Umvolosi river, which he had built when he was allowed to return to his birthplace, is fitted up with all the conveniences to be met with in a high class English home, and his guest house, where he accommodates any Europeans who may be passing that way, is equally well appointed. The guest who puts up at the chief's place is regaled with such fare as is not to be obtained anywhere else in Zululand. The table is spread with vegetables produced by the exertion of "boys" who have learned the rudiments of gardening at the Trappist monastery in Natal and also, what is equally rare, supplied by fresh bread, also due to "boys." Dinizulu does not eat at the same table as his guests, but joins them as soon as they have finished their repast, fully prepared for and expectant of the expressions of astonishment that they are sure to make as to their reception.

Dinizulu is fond of gin and, besides keeping a supply of this to him necessary beverage in the original receptacles in which it reaches him, always has a reserve stock in a large ice chest which he received with the rest of his household belongings from the gentlemen to whom he intrusted the furnishing of his new house on the latest European principles. This chest is securely fastened and has not been touched for many years, but should necessity arise the supply is there.

Like most South African natives, the chief is very fond of music and has an assortment of musical instruments—which he cannot play himself—for the use of passing travelers. As a rule, the white men who pass that way are equally ignorant of harmony, but they are always asked if they can manipulate any of the instruments, and if the answer is in the negative, as it usually is, the chief produces his battered old concertina and treats them to a tune or two.

Worth Waiting For.

William I. of Germany was noted for his observance of the maxim that punctuality is the politeness of kings. The present emperor tries to follow that good example and expects the same virtue of his military subordinates. To others who lack it he is said to be lenient. Yet even his amiability and patience were sometimes put to a severe test by Adolf von Mensel. The eminent painter was often an invited guest, but he hardly ever came on time. One day when he was over an hour late the kaiser greeted him with the words, "But, master, you have made me wait a long time." Mensel put his hand in his inside coat pocket and pulled out a sketch. "I have been doing this," he said, "and it took all this time." The emperor laughed, looked at it and retorted, "Well, this was worth waiting for an hour and a half."

Latest Black Hand Weapon.

"The latest acquisition in the way of concealed weapons carried by Italians of the banditti or Black Hand class in New York city," remarked a detective who has had much to do with crime along this line, "is one of the simplest that evil ingenuity could devise. It is nothing more than a horseshoe nail. The long, slender nail, with its flat head, is filed to a sharp point. Clasped in the hand, it is invisible, but a quick, vigorous, long stroke with it will lay open a man's cheek from temple to chin or rip his throat with fatal effect if the jugular vein be reached. It is a weapon that costs nothing, is readily concealed even when in use and is more easily disposed of than any other we have encountered. It's hard to keep pace with these Sicilian devils."—New York Globe.

Guarding the Bank of France.

Like the Bank of England, the Bank of France is now guarded every night by soldiers. But within quite recent time the officials at the French bank resorted to a very novel method of protecting their bullion. This consisted in engaging masons to wall up the doors of the vaults in the cellar with hydraulic mortar as soon as the money was deposited each day in these receptacles. The water was then turned on and kept running until the whole cellar was flooded. A burglar would be obliged to work in a diving suit and break down a cement wall before he could even begin to pounder the vaults. When the bank officials arrived next morning, the water was drawn off, the masonry torn down and the vaults opened.—Strand Magazine.

Worm Secretes Camphor.

Professor Cook of Washington reports the surprising discovery of camphor as an animal secretion. The animal concerned is a myriapod, resembling a worm or small slug and scientifically known as Polyzonium rosalbum. It lives in the humus of moist, undisturbed forests. When handled it gives off a very distinct odor of camphor and ejects a milky fluid which possesses the smell, flavor and taste of ordinary camphor. Professor Cook thinks that the camphor is secreted instead of the prussic or hydrocyanic acid found in other myriapods as a means of defense.

Teak Wood.

The teak, which has passed into proverb as the best material for shipbuilding, is superior to all other woods from the fact that it contains an essential oil which prevents spikes and nails driven into it from rusting.

So deeply has civilization permeated the natives of Basutoland that they now lock the doors of their huts before going to bed.

King of Royal Dancers.

Charles II. of England seems to have been the king of royal dancers. He never knew when to stop, for, when every one of his courtiers was dropping from fatigue, he would call for a round of country dances. "Indeed," says Pepys, "he dances rarely."

A Marble Book.

At the Strozzi palace, in Rome, there is a book made of marble, the leaves being of marvelous thinness.

Red Ears.

Red ears, which often proceed from the same cause as does a red nose, may sometimes be relieved by bathing the ears in water as hot as can be endured in which has been mixed a little cologne and borax.

Water and Nerves.

Water is a nerve food. It has a distinctly soothing effect when sipped gradually, as one can test for oneself.

New Zealand Coal.

It is estimated that New Zealand has an available coal supply of 1,200,000,000 tons, of which not more than 20,000,000 tons have been touched. This was the first of the British colonies to try the experiment of state ownership of colliery property.

Bird Wings.

The wings of birds are not only to aid locomotion in the air, but also on the ground and water. One bird even has claws in the "elbows" of its wings to aid in climbing.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

THE DIFFERENCE.

If gain will accrue to the side you espouse
From work underhanded and sly,
You call it a witty and laughable joke
And pass the delinquency by.
But if your opponents their object attain
And win in a brisk double quick
You look on it then as an outrage and quite
A low and contemptible trick.

When you have a grand and delectable plan
To boost yourself on to success,
To win for you money or fortune or fame,
Then everything goes, more or less.
Things do not look shady if profits accrue
Or send the fish into your net,
But wait till another man works it on you—
The shoe pinches then, you can bet.

Self interest silences many a qualm
Of conscience and makes the thing square,
And honor complacently views it as some Legitimate business affair,
And trading a gold brick for something of worth
Is not such an act to deplore
If you, without telling too monstrous a lie,
Can add by the trade to your store.

It makes, as you may have observed in your time,
A difference whose ox gets the gaff.
You know by the profit that comes to your purse
If that is the place where you laugh,
But if at a time when your watchfulness nods
You bite at the other's man's game
You instantly, noisily size the thing up
A mean and contemptible shame.

Oldest English Picture.

The oldest known English picture is one of Chaucer, painted on panel in the year 1380.

The Muskellunge.

So voracious is the muskellunge that it will devour any living thing that comes within its vision. Full grown bullfrogs, good sized ducklings, small aquatic birds, as well as many water mammals, become an easy prey to its yawning sepulcher of a mouth.

Candles in the Commons.

Previous to 1834 the house of commons was lighted by candles, which were affixed to massive chandeliers.

Lead and Tin.

Lead and tin can be obtained very pure. Good brands of commercial lead contain 99.05 per cent lead and are often even purer. Lead is the purest metal which is made commercially. Good brands of tin are 99.08 per cent pure.

An Ancient Exposition.

Perhaps the first industrial exposition on record was held in 1569 in the rathhaus of Nuremberg. A catalogue published at the time thus states the purpose of the exposition: "It shall bring before the public all innovations in the trade of the whole world in modern times, together with domestic art productions."

Mutton.

The woolly taste in mutton is said to be due to slow dressing of the carcass.

East Indian Weddings.

From time immemorial it has been the custom in certain parts of India for the bride and bridegroom to stand in a bamboo basket and throw rice over each other, this being symbolical of children to the woman and material prosperity to the man.

Herrings.

A shoal of herrings is supposed to number from 800,000 to 1,000,000.

Canada's Boundary Line.

The southern boundary of Canada stretches over fully 4,000 miles, along which southern Ontario has the latitude of central Italy, Manitoba and Vancouver that of central Germany.

Where Law Doesn't Reach.

About sixty feet under the surface of the water six miles off the coast of Florida two Greek divers fought desperately for the possession of a big sponge. When one of them attempted to prosecute the other for injuries sustained in the fight he found that no court had jurisdiction over the bottom of the ocean.

A Dear Friend.

"I hear yer frien' Tamson's married again."

"Aye, so he is. He's been a dear frien' tae me. He's cost me three waddin' presents an' twa wreaths."—Dundee Advertiser.

The Circus.

When Johnny Jones beheld the jump
The bareback rider made,
To hurtle through a paper hoop
He yearned, all unafraid.
He tried to do the feat himself
And win such glory pure.
The doctor said he might pull through—
He couldn't tell for sure.

When John Jones saw a million made,
To emulate he burned.
He reeked not of the work that went
Before the trick was turned.
He tried to do the stunt himself,
So tempting was the lure.
Receivers said he might pull through—
They couldn't tell for sure.

Economic Waste.

"The man who shaves himself has a pleasure which is never known by those whose faces are not familiar with the razor or for whom it is wielded by another."

The blade of the "Gillette" is the only new idea in razor blades for over 400 years. This double edged, thin-as-a-wafer blade is held by the Gillette frame in a perfectly rigid manner—thus avoiding vibration—and insuring the luxury of a safe, uniform shave.

IRELAND

May Caldwell had her husband arrested at Belfast for desertion. She swore they had married on eight shillings a week.

The Irish National Teachers' Association opened last week at Killarney. There was a large attendance of delegates.

At Belfast, Joseph Totten was charged with the larceny of a quantity of tobacco, the property of his employers, Messrs. Murray & Company, Limited. It was shown that the accused had been in the employ of Messrs. Murray for about seventeen years. He was in a position of trust. Fourteen days' imprisonment was ordered.

There are few, if any, living educationalists in Ireland better qualified to discuss in all its phases the over-important subject of primary education than Mana Harbison, formerly Head Master of the Model School, Belfast, who entered upon his 79th year. Mr. Harbison might well pose as an authority, for he embarked upon his career in the teaching profession in the year of the Irish famine, 1846.

A remarkable incident occurred at the end of the afternoon service in Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin. A well-dressed woman rose from her seat and went up to the communion cloth. Before she could be prevented she cut the cloth a few inches with a pair of scissors, and managed to leave the cathedral ere the police who were called, had arrived. The affair caused a sensation amongst the congregation.

After lengthened correspondence with the authorities of the Royal Hospital, Chelsea, the pension of Jas. M'Cord, Portadown, has been increased from 1s. to 1s. 6d. per day. Mr. M'Cord enlisted in the famous 95th Foot, of Waterloo fame, at Dungannon in 1853, and is now 72 years of age. He served in the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, and was wounded severely with a storming party in the former campaign. He was awarded several medals.

NO NEED FOR LEAP YEAR

"There are no red-haired old maids," The speaker, a red-haired actress, lighted a fresh cigarette and went on... "The red-haired have an excess of iron in their blood. This causes them to overflow with vitality, animal spirits, activity, wit, charm—but I must not boast, must I?"

She smiled, and smoothing her ruddy locks with a slim white hand, she added...

At any rate, it is a palpable fact that the redhaired girl never gets left. As a rule she marries at twenty. A red-haired old maid is a greater rarity than a millionaire anarchist. This is leap year, but we red- haired girls have no need of it."

THE PHILOSOPHY TAP.

If you do not want it to be known, don't do it.

He who pops the question on his knees stays there for life.

It is no mere typographical error to call woman man's better half.

You can easily flatter a man by telling him he can't be flattered.

Enoch's daughter was 280 years old when she married. Cheer up, girls—and this is leap year, too.

Many a wife would never know her husband was a jolly good fellow if she didn't hear his friends roaring it out every Saturday night while helping him home.

TIMID DIAMONDS

The lapidary was about to cut the tail off a tadpole-shaped yellow diamond.

"The chances are," he said, "that this fellow will turn white from terror when I split him. If he does, his value will go up 20% per cent."

The lapidary set his steel knife in position, he prepared to strike on the knife's back the momentous blow.

"Wish me luck," he said.

And the hammer fell, the amputated tail dropped into the box underneath, and lo, the yellow diamond that had been split was now quite white.

"The yellow taint," the cutter explained, "was only in the tail. Yet the taint was reflected all through the stone, and this made it seem of a uniform yellow throughout. Now the taint is gone, and our yellow diamond is a pure white one."

The miracle happens fairly often.

"SPRING FEVER"
The need of a spring medicine seems to be universal. This is due to the fact that during the winter the blood becomes impure on account of the hearty food eaten. This causes that tired, weary, all-gone, don't-care-to-work feeling which is so prevalent at this time of year.
BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
That Tired Feeling.
Mr. F. H. Leard, Saskatoon, Sask., writes:—"I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a blood builder and think it an excellent remedy. Everyone should take it in the spring to cure that tired feeling that comes to so many at this time of year."
Uses It Every Spring.
Mr. H. Langley, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a spring tonic, and I find it the best thing I can take. It builds me right up and I use it every spring. It is excellent for the blood."

HIS MESSAGE.

It Was Rather Important, but He Was In No Hurry.

"Hello!"

"Hello!"

"Hello, confound you! What do you want?"

"Is this 6445?"

"Of course! Why don't you go ahead and talk?"

"Oh, you needn't get mad about nothing."

"Well, my time's worth money! I can't stand here all day jabbering 'Hello!' to somebody!"

"This is about the first time I ever used a telephone, and"—

"Did you call me up just for practice?"

"No, of course not."

"Did you call me up to tell a funny story?"

"No; I"—

"Well, why don't you go ahead then with your business?"

"You don't give me a chance. As I was saying"—

"There you go again! Say, how long are you going to keep me standing here?"

"You can sit down if you want to!"

"I'll sit down on you if this is supposed to be a joke! Who are you, sir?"

"My name is Brown. I moved in directly opposite you a few weeks ago."

"Well, Brown, I'm sorry I have spoken so harshly to you, but I'm not feeling just up to the mark today. Hope you will pardon me."

"Oh, certainly."

"What was it you wished to say to me?"

"Why, I wanted to tell you that your house is on fire."—A. B. Lewis in Success Magazine.

The Spring Opening.

The dazzling creation of birds and wire in the millinery department was marked $15.

The circle of shoppers gazed in envy, but not one stirred.

Suddenly the clerk reversed the card and displayed the figures $14.49.

Then there was a small riot. Shoppers fought like amazons to reach the counter.

"Ah," laughed the tall floorwalker, "those ladies remind me of olden knights."

"In what way?" asked the meek man who was waiting for his wife to emerge from the crush.

And before the meek man could appreciate the point of the joke his wife came out minus a comb and two locks of hair.—Chicago News.

Bulgaria's Zoghurt.

In Bulgaria the chief article of food is sour milk made into zoghurt. On this diet the people live to rare old age.

Frogs of Belgrade.

In the chief square of Belgrade, Servia, innumerable little frogs hop about as unconcernedly as if they were far away in the country. How they came there and how they survive no one seems to know.

Shetland Wool.

Shetland wool is taken from a breed of small sheep kept entirely for the wool and nowhere else to be met with now. The original sheep were on a ship of the Spanish armada that was wrecked among the Shetland islands. The wool is all hand spun and for softness and lightness, combined with great warmth, has no equal.

Nero's Golden House.

A chronicler says that in Nero's "Golden House," on the Palatine hill, the supper rooms had compartments in the ceiling inlaid with ivory, which, revolving, scattered flowers and unguents upon the revelers below.

British Coal Mines.

The average depth of British coal mines is 800 feet. Four thousand feet is the limit of practical mining.

A Great Victory.

In the battle of Marengo 58,000 men participated, and of that number 13,000 were killed or wounded, about 22 per cent. Napoleon thought Marengo his greatest victory. He always kept throughout life the uniform he wore on that day.

A Good Trick.

The parrot's determination to speak his set phrases under all sorts of circumstances often produces strange situations. The story is told of a sleight of hand performer who kept a parrot that he had trained to say whenever one of his master's tricks had been finished: "That's a good trick. What's the next one?"

One day the juggler, being in a seaport town, gave his performance in a loft on one of the wharfs, which happened to get just over the place where a large quantity of powder was stored in kegs. The juggler was about to perform some feat which required the lighting of a candle. He lighted it and threw the match away without making sure that the blaze had gone out. The match, still burning, fell through a crack in the floor and dropped into one of the kegs of powder, which exploded with great force, throwing the building into the air. The parrot, who was blown up with the rest, did not stop until it reached the pinnacle of the topmast of a great ship which lay off the wharf. There he clung desperately, and, looking down to the world below, he called out in a shrill voice:

"That's a good trick! What's the next one?"

He Was a Philosopher.

A busy merchant who had not taken a holiday for years, in which time every other member of his family had enjoyed many outings, concluded to give himself a rest of a week or two and started for Scotland. When he had been gone a day he received a telegram from his wife to this effect:

Our house was entirely destroyed by fire last night. The children and I escaped unharmed. Come home at once.
MARIA.

To this, after reflecting a moment, he replied as follows:

What is the use of coming home when there is no home to come to? Take the children to mother's. Stay there with them till I join you and don't worry.

Chinese Kites.

Great ingenuity is displayed by the Chinese in the manufacture of kites. Kites of the angular shape, common among ourselves, are never seen, the designers representing at their own sweet will flowers, birds, fish and in fact anything that may be found on the earth or in the waters under the earth. Many of them are extremely beautiful and do infinite credit to the artistic tastes of the people. Human figures representing historical or mythical events are very commonly used, while emblems such as the double fish and characters of felicitous import, such, for example, as shou (longevity) and chi (good fortune), are favorite subjects. On some of them musical strings are so arranged that they emit sounds of melody as they fly aloft. The first ones so constructed are said to have been instrumental in saving an army when in dire distress. The general commanding this unfortunate force, being hemmed in by the enemy, resorted to the stratagem of flying in the dead of night a number of kites with musical strings so arranged as to emit sounds resembling the words, "Beware of Han." Like the Syrians, at the noise of the chariot wheels, the contending host took flight at the sound and were destroyed—horse, foot and dragoons.

Pineapples.

In slicing pineapples it is well to remember not to use the same knife for slicing that has been used in peeling. The rind contains an acid that is apt to cause a sore mouth and swollen lips.

Frog's Skin.

Where Sea Serpents Are Plentiful.

There are certain parts of the bay of Bengal in which sea serpents are often seen in great numbers, and their movements in the clear blue water are agile, graceful and beautiful.

Orange Blossoms.

Orange blossoms were first used for bridal wreaths by the Arabs. The orange branch bears fruit and flowers at the same time and is therefore considered an emblem of prosperity.

HELPLESS AND WORN OUT.
LIFE WAS A BURDEN.

Miss Ella Muriel Wood, of Brownsville, Ont., says: "Two years ago I was going into a decline. I could hardly drag myself across the floor. I could not sweep the carpet. If I went for a drive I had to lie down when I came back; if I went for a mile or two on my wheel I was too weak to lift it through the gateway, and last time I came in from having a spin I dropped utterly helpless from fatigue. My father would give me no peace until I secured PSYCHINE, knowing it was excellent for decline or weakness. I must say the results are wonderful, and people remarked my improvement. Instead of a little, pale, hollow-cheeked, listless, melancholy girl, I am to-day full of life, ready for a sleigh-ride, a skating match, or an evening party with anyone, and a few months ago I could not struggle to church, 40 rods from my home. I have never had the slightest cause to fear any return of the disease."

Psychine regulates and strengthens the stomach, aids digestion, tones up the whole system, and gives a vigor and exhilaration to every organ. It is an infallible remedy for all disorders of Throat, Lungs, Chest, and Stomach.

Of all Druggists and Stores, 50c, $1, and $2. Prepared only by Dr. T. A. SLOCUM, Limited, at their Laboratory, 179 King Street West, Toronto. Dream Book mailed free on application. Mention this paper.

Furniture Stains.

A knowledge of how to make and apply furniture stains and varnishes is valuable to a young housekeeper whose income is limited, for with slight practice it is often possible to make artistic pieces of furniture out of plain white wood chairs, tables, etc.

In making very dark coloring a half pound of madder and two ounces of logwood chips should be boiled gently for an hour in a gallon of water. This should then be strained and applied to the wood while hot. It should be put on evenly with a flat brush. The finish requires a pearl ash solution that is made by putting two drams of the ash into a quart of water. This is not applied until the stained wood is dry.

For a light shade two ounces of bruised dragon's blood are put into a bottle with a quart of turpentine. The jar is corked and placed in a warm spot, near or on a radiator, is shaken occasionally until the blood is dissolved and then applied with a brush.

The other mahogany stain is apt to be understood best by those who know something of mixing colors. Raw sienna is ground and then mixed with beer, thus making a light shade.

Then burnt sienna that has been ground is added in proportion to the tint wished and put on rather thin with a soft brush, wiping it over immediately with a piece of cotton or other soft substance.

When quite dry the surface may be oiled or varnished. Cold drawn linseed oil is a good varnish or polisher. To stain a new piece of furniture is simple work for an amateur, but success is not so certain when an old chair or table is to be renovated. However, doing over an old piece would not be difficult if it were understood that the wood will not take new stain until all the old varnish, whatever it may be, is removed.

The easiest way of getting off the old finish is to put on a saturated solution of sal soda—that is, as much soda as can be dissolved in water. With a stiff scrub brush this liquid should be applied while hot, so it will eat off the surface coat. A stiff scrub brush is best for putting it on with.

Then the article must be allowed to dry before the new finish is applied.

Don't Get Into a Rut.

The woman who sinks into a domestic rut is really the victim of her own sense of duty. She neglects her back hair, wears frayed shoe laces and leaves the pages of the last magazine uncut in her determination to make her house a fit abode for her husband.

Bamboo Pens.

Bamboo pens still retain their hold in India, where they have been in use for more than 1,000 years.

The Stone of the Tortoise.

The brain of the tortoise was supposed at one time to contain a wonderful stone, which was efficacious in extinguishing fire and when placed under the tongue would produce prophetic inspiration.

Chinese Rice Crackers.

The rice flour cracker of China is by far the whitest biscuit product in the world. In comparison with it the whitest American biscuit looks dingy. The cracker, however, is altogether too sweet for most occidental palates, and the Chinese much prefer their black cracker, which differs but little in taste from the American sweet biscuits.

Old Roman Warships.

The men-of-war of the Romans had a crew of about 225 men, of which 174 were oarsmen working on three decks. The speed of these vessels was about six miles an hour in fair weather.

The Carp.

People marvel at the mechanism of the human body, with its 492 bones and sixty arteries, but man is simple in this respect compared with the carp. That remarkable fish moves no fewer than 4,336 bones and muscles every time it breathes. It has 4,320 veins, to say nothing of its ninety-nine muscles.

Candles.

Biblical students have hunted in every possible quarter for the origin of the custom of carrying candles in the Candlemas procession, it is said, without finding any record of it.

AN EARLY TEST.

Harold Quickly Got a Chance to Make Good His Boast.

It was close to midnight, and, although she had yawned a dozen times during the past half hour, he stayed on and tried to get up enough nerve to test his fate. As the clock struck 12 he took a long breath and reached for her hand and said, "Miss Bluntly—Maude—ever since I met you at the picnic last summer I have been madly in love with you."

"Is that so?" she replied, stifling a yawn and looking anxiously at the clock.

"Yes, Maude. Will you marry me? Say that you'll be mine and make me the happiest man in the world."

"Why—er—we haven't known each other very long," she said as she continued to watch the clock.

"Long enough for me to know that you are the only girl I could ever love Say the word and I'll do anything—anything—you may ask."

"You will?" asked the girl, beginning to show some interest in the matter for the first time.

"I will, Maude."

"Anything I may ask?"

"Anything, no matter what. I'd leap into a den of lions for you. I'd throw myself into the raging sea or leap from a balloon were you to ask it. Will you put me to the test, dear?"

"Yes, Harold," she said as she returned the pressure of his hand and uttered a deep sigh of relief. "I promise to be yours, and now please get your hat and make tracks for home. I've got to get up at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning and help mother with the ironing."—A. B. Lewis in Judge.

The Big Find.

"How does it happen that Brown is treating everybody in sight?"

"Why, you see, years ago he presented his wife with a little toy bank in which the children could keep their pennies."

"I see. And now he finds himself the head of a frugal industrious family?"

"No; now he finds the bank."—Puck.

A Dark View of Life.

"However meager our knowledge of the life to come, this one we understand, this we know—better perhaps than we wish we did. I remember to have heard Dr. Holmes say: 'Outside I laugh. Inside I never laugh. The world is too sad. How can the Creator bear the hum of its misery forever in his ears? Oh, the poor women!' he added, with tears starting down his cheeks.

"When all is said, this is our own case. Outside we laugh. Inside we cannot laugh. The world at its best is too sad, and at its worst it is 'too bad and mad' for any but a superficial mind to take a comforting view of it. It was by way of this admitted fact that Longfellow once said, 'No truly sensitive person can ever be perfectly well.' In a state of being like this that is probably true."—Elisabeth Stuart Phelps in Harper's Bazar.

The Hustling New World.

Describing the opening of the new tunnel under the Hudson river, M. Stephane Lauzanne in a cable message to the Paris Matin observes that the tube under the river cost $70,000,000 and was built in eight years by 6,500 men. He inquired of one of the high officials present how much time would be saved by the tunnel. "It will be an enormous saving," was the reply. "Passengers will gain nearly ten minutes." "All the difference between the old world and the new," reflects M. Lauzanne, "lies in that reply. In America they spend $70,000,000 to save ten minutes; in France we would not spend $70 to save a day."

Why Go to Bed?

It seems to me we make a mistake in prescribing special hours for going to bed and for getting up. Why should we thus gorge ourselves with slumber? Why should we not follow the example of the dog and take an occasional nap when we have nothing better to do? Why should we go to bed when we don't feel sleepy? Why should we not take forty winks when inclined thereto? It strikes me there is too much method and regularity about our soniferous arrangements.—Ashby-Sterry in London Graphic.

POST OFFICE ROBBERY IN THE WEST

Extensive Thefts of Money From Winnipeg Postoffice.

THE DETECTIVES BAFFLED

$12,000 Believed to Have Been Stolen —Thefts Have Been Going on For Months — Clerk Suspected But Thieving Continues After His Discharge—Is It an Organized Gang in Postal Service?

Winnipeg, May 16.—The thief who has been operating in the registry department of the Winnipeg postoffice is still undetected, in spite of the most vigorous efforts by Government detectives to apprehend him.

The series of robberies has extended over several months and the sums stolen aggregate a very large amount, it is believed not less than $12,000.

A number of packages containing from $300 to $2,000 have disappeared as mysteriously within the building as though they had sunk into the ground. Suspicion at first rested upon the clerk at the registry wicket, who received and checked off the money and then passed it on to the entry clerk.

It was thought by the officials that sufficient circumstantial evidence had been obtained to connect this clerk with the disappearance of a package containing $800 mailed by the Merchants Bank, although it was impossible to convict him. He was promptly discharged, however, and his father was compelled to reimburse the postoffice department to the extent of $1,200. The discharged clerk left the country shortly afterwards, but the peculation still continues, large sums disappearing as before. The gentleman who was required to pay the $1,200 his son was supposed to have stolen proposes now to take action asking to have the amount returned to him as he is convinced of his son's innocence.

It is thought to be not improbable that an organized gang is working within the postal service.

DR. OSLER'S OPINION.

New York, May 16.—Speaking before the alumni of New York Homeopathic Medical College, at the annual banquet at the Waldorf Astoria, Dean William Harvey King referred to the recent address given in Baltimore by Dr. Osler, in which the doctor declared that it was no longer time for the different schools of medicine to war with one another.

"Osler's utterance was published widely," said Dr. King, "and in reply we invited him to be present at our dinner. We thought he would send a letter to be read here, even if he could not come. He sent a letter, but it is not to be read. He wrote to say that we were a bunch of quacks. His lecture was meant for the public, and his letter for us."

OPPOSITION YIELDED AT LAST

Consents to Voting Half a Million of the Supplies.

LEADERS AGREE TO TRUCE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Borden Come to an Arrangement—Election Bill Laid Over Till Monday—Half a Million of the Surplus Voted—Caucus Instructs Government to Stand Firm.

Ottawa, May 16.—The Opposition have backed down from their obstructive attitude on the election bill so far as to consent to half a million of the supplies being voted.

A Liberal caucus, one of the most largely attended for many months, was held to discuss the situation arising out of the Opposition's refusal either to accept the reasonable compromise offered on the election bill or to grant supply. The unanimous opinion was in favor of accepting the challenge of the Opposition.

"We are right and we have no thought of submitting to any dictation from an unreasonable Opposition, intent only on seeking an opportunity to work an unfair party advantage regardless of the injury and embarrassment that must be occasioned through holding up of supplies." That was the unanimous attitude taken by the Government members.

Items aggregating half a million dollars were passed yesterday afternoon and evening, relating to Manitoba and Saskatchewan public buildings.

It was Government pay-day. Some of the civil servants were paid in full, the estimates for civil government in their branches having been passed.

These were the Governor-General and Privy Council of State, and the Indian, Auditor-General's, Finance, Customs, Inland Revenue, Agriculture, Marine, Public Works, Mines and Trade and Commerce Departments.

Those who received checks for only half were employes in the Departments of justice, militia, printing, interior, mounted police, railways, postoffice and labor.

Before the House went into supply, Mr. R. L. Borden asked when the new treaty between Britain and the United States would be submitted to the House, and the Premier said it had not yet been received. Mr. Fielding was not able to tell Mr. Borden when the civil service bill would be brought down.

The House adjourned at midnight, having passed items aggregating $645,000, including all the public buildings for Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, with the exception of the military buildings.

Just before the House adjourned, Mr. Fielding said the Aylesworth election bill would be taken up on Monday, "and if we get through that," he added, "we will again take up supply."

The Conservatives are being deluged with telegrams from their friends in all parts of the country, urging resistance to the Aylesworth election bill.

Last night the message was received from Premier McBride of British Columbia, and similar words of encouragement have been received from Premier Roblin of Manitoba and many other leaders:

"Congratulation on splendid fight you are making on election bill from opposition to an unjust measure is only course."

QUEBEC HEROES TO BE REMEMBERED

British Memorial to Their Memory to Be Presented.

THE KING'S SUBSCRIPTION

Edward Gives 100 Guineas—Strathcona and Mount Stephen £200 Each —Enthusiastic Meeting at the Mansion House—Prince Arthur, Lord Roberts and the Bishop of London Among Speakers.

London, May 16.—The lord mayor presided at a representative meeting at the Mansion House to support the proposal to present a British memorial of Wolfe and Montcalm to Canada in connection with the conversion of the Plains of Abraham as a national park.

Prince Arthur of Connaught, Lord Roberts, Earl Crewe and the Bishop of London were among the speakers, and those present included Lord Strathcona and Count Lastours, representing the French embassy.

Messages were read from the Premier, Lord Lansdowne, Mr. Balfour and the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec.

Amongst the subscriptions announced were 100 guineas from the King, 50 guineas from the Prince of Wales, £200 from Lord Strathcona and Lord Mount Stephen. It was decided to form local committees to support an influential head committee.

Seven Killed in Wreck.

Muskogee, Okla., May 16.—Seven persons are reported killed in a wreck of a Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train, which left St. Louis on Thursday night for Texas points. The train collided head-on one mile east of Muskogee yesterday with a freight.

Double Tracking the Railway.

Port Arthur, May 16.—The work of double-tracking the Port Arthur end of the street railway has commenced, and, if expectations are realized, the whole of the Port Arthur end will be completed shortly after mid-summer. Sixty-pound rails will be used.

MONTAGUE A. SMITH'S LETTER.

Curious Reason Given For Committing Suicide.

Forest, May 16.—The letter left by Mr. Montague A. Smith, who committed suicide here, addressed to his brother and Mr. Livingstone, the accountant, has been made public. It is written in indelible pencil and reads as follows:

"This will be a severe shock to you. The political campaign has been a worry to me. I feel that I have neither the mental capacity nor the tact to carry it through to a successful issue.

"The result must be only to bring disgrace on myself and the Liberals of East Lambton. The only way out is what I am about to do.

"At times, recurring every two or three months during the past three years I had trouble to worry me all day and caused me to lose sleep at night.

"My business and personal affairs are as you two best know. Everything will be found in first-class condition.

"This will be a terrible blow to my brothers and sisters, but there seems no other way out."

ELECTRIC POWER.

Hon. Adam Beck Promises It at Lowest Cost.

Guelph, May 16.—At a largely attended meeting in the interests of J. P. Downey, Conservative candidate for South Wellington, Hon. Adam Beck spoke on the power question. The power question was not being used as political capital, he said. The Whitney Government had been anxious that this question would not be a political issue, and that was the reason they had not used it as the main plank in their platform.

The Government had made one promise, too, to give the people power at cost. This promise might have been redeemed had the commission accepted the offer of the Electric Development Co., but the Government promise meant that the people were to get power at the lowest possible cost.

Will Seven Feet Long.

New York, May 16.—One of the longest wills ever recorded in Westchester is that of James Daly, the millionaire railroad contractor and horseman, who died a week ago at his country place in Mount Kisco. The will is written on foolscap sheets, pasted together. It is in Daly's own handwriting and is about seven feet long.

Mr. Daly first sets aside $5,000 for taking his body back to Ireland and burying it in the old family grounds at Kilmurry.
